TAFT

To find a paralyzed man by the roadside and later for the man to die while being taken to a hospital by good samaritans has taken place here the past week. Mr. John Huhta was found by the roadside near Waley Bone's home last Friday in a paralyzed condition. He was cared for as well as possible by Mr. Bones and others until arrangements were made to send him to a hospital. Messrs Walter Bones and Jack Liswig started to Newport with him. When about ten miles from here the man passed away. But little could be learned of his relatives as he had been at but few places near here for a night each. An arm had been amputated three times to prevent blood poisoning. From meager remarks made where he had been befriended it was learned that his former home had been Bush Prairie, Washington, that he had six children, one daughter in Portland. Telephones were sent to several places in attempts to communicate with children or friends, but all in vain. His former physician had lost track of him. He was cared for as well as the human hands could and on Sunday buried in the Taft cemetery. A large crowd attended the sad ending of a "stranger in a strange land." Mr. Palmerlee spoke appropriate words at the grave.

Constable Frank Numeay was fortunate to "nip in the bud" a fire at his home recently. The roof caught fire from the stove pipe, but was soon extinguished.

An accident at Louis Holton's logging camp resulted in a fractured leg to a man whose name is unknown to the writer. A large pole coming from the hill caused a large pole to strike the logger and fracture his leg and otherwise bruised him up considerably. He was taken to the hospital at Newport.

A school party was given at the school house last Saturday night by the upper classmen of the T. H. S. The festivities were initiated by many original stunts and served a supper. The freshies vow vengeance next year.

Mrs. Mercler, one of the bay's most estimable pioneers, made a trip to Toledo to have dental work performed.

Jasper Luse has been a busy man on bay and river. He has been helping with the mail and freight.

Mr. Russell and family passed thru Taft on their way to Yaquina.

Home seekers and business men are here every week inquiring for land on other means for investments.
