LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

LOCAL BREVIETIES.

The weather still retains the brilliant loveliness of last week.

Don't forget to have your picture taken by one who is able to do a good job.

It is estimated that forty buildings have been put up in this place during the last season.

Rev. J. H. Skidmore preached a Thanksgiving sermon at the academy on last Thursday.

The moon's silvery beams still furnish new themes for lovers' out late, as they swing on the front gate.

SCHOOL REPORT.

Following is the report of Ashland Academy for the week ending November 24. Those who have whispered without permission are marked "d" and those who have been tardy morning or noon, "t"—the number of offenses being indicated by a figure before the letter:

F. Bowles, 1 d, C. McPherson, 1 d, H. Native, 1 d, W. P. Landes, 1 d, G. G. McCloud, 1 d, M. Jones, 1 d.

A YOUTH SPEAKS.

EDITOR TIDINGS.—I see in your "Notes from Grant's Pass," last week, that your correspondent warns the girls of this vicinity to beware of a certain individual possessed of "Fourth of July" notoriety, who is around again, advising them to "steal their hearts," etc. Now I assure the young ladies that they can rest perfectly easy, for I am not of the same opinion with my friend of the Lipsey Queen. They are rather too full for me. Yours,

A YOUTH OF FORTY.

SUMMIT AND PILLOW CASE PARTY.—It came off on last Thanksgiving day, including a part of the day following. We were there—we enjoyed it—we partook of the very excellent supper prepared by Mrs. Luban for the occasion. But dear readers if you were not there in your own proper person you can never appreciate it; we, for one, own our inability to do it justice short of a two column article. Now they stood around the room grave, weird and terrible, like a confection of "Sheeted and hooded spectres," again they joined in dances wild as Tam O'Shaun saw. So much absorbed were we by the performance that had not the fate of Tam O'Shaun been brought so vividly to our mind by the scene before us, we should have been tempted to sing out "Weel done!" We can truthfully say that never did the pleasure seekers of Ashland enjoy a better time.

The gate hinges had not been oiled. The happy couple were too much absorbed in the beauties of the bright moonlight night and some other subjects of still deeper moment to observe the harsh discordant creakings of said gate hinges as they swung to and fro beneath their double burden—she inside, he outside. A slight snapping sound was heard and they parted, unconscious of the fact that they had left the gate open and that morning an old hump-backed and impoverished bald faced specimen of female bovine would get in and eat up the chrysanthemums, upset a barrel of soft soap and founder herself on cabbage and Golden Raisins.

GONE EAST.—Our P. M., A. D. Helman, has gone East on a flying visit to his friends in Ohio, where his wife has been spending the Summer. He is no doubt at the present time lingering among the scenes that were familiar in other days as his head was bald or his beard gray. We wish him unabated pleasure in his visit, and a safe return to the emerald hill of his long adopted Oregon.

NEW COACH.—Garnett & Hutton have just put on their stage line from this place to Linkville an elegant new Concord coach. It is much lighter than their old one and especially adapted to the comfort of Winter passengers. The roads on their line are quite muddy at present, but they always come in ahead of time.

SAUSAGE MEAT.—Messrs. Wagner, Anderson & Co. have placed us under obligations for a fine lot of fresh sausage meat which, after the proper test in such matters, we can pronounce excellent. They are now manufacturing a large amount of this most delicious article. Try it.

BONANZA ITEMS.

No snow yet.
Weather fine.
Roads dusty around town.
Farmers still busy plowing and sowing rye.

Grass is better than it has been for years at this season.

There are now and have been for the last six weeks from sixty to one hundred diggers from the reservation hunting in the range between here and Lake Lake. They are killing off the deer by wholesale, passing through the settlements with their horses laden down with venison. The attention of the agents have frequently been called to the matter, and requested not to permit the Indians to hunt on the South side of Lost River, and they have frequently promised to prevent it. But the sequel shows that the agents are either careless of the performance of their promises or powerless to fulfil them—a bad enough state of affairs in either case. Not satisfied with killing and driving out our game, they have now put a dam in Lost River, at the Upper Gap, which effectively prevents the fish from coming up. No white man would be permitted to do this, as the law expressly forbids it. Wagon load after wagon load of fish are hauled away from this dam, and the people are powerless to prevent it. There is a growing bitterness among settlers here and a general feeling of indignation at the way those Indians are permitted to impose on them. Foreboding threats are heard in every direction, and unless some step is taken to abate this nuisance I fear there will again be a war of races, as there are some thoughtless white men who cannot bear repeated insult and injury without retaliation, especially when they have exhausted all resources of legitimate redress.

FINE PICTURES.—The people of this vicinity are just beginning to appreciate the fact that Mr. Abell has but a short time to stay and are improving their opportunity to procure pictures. We make some claims to be an expert in matters about pictures, and we will assure the people that the day is far distant when they will have another opportunity of obtaining pictures of equal excellence. If you desire a picture patronize a good artist while he is with you.

LARGE PAPER.—The West Shore announces a sixty four page edition for the holidays. It will contain some fifty fine engravings and it is claimed that it will be the largest newspaper ever published on the Pacific Coast. Single copy 50 cents; annual subscription $1.50 per annum.

If you want some dark calico or any other kind of calico go to McColl & Baum's. They received a fresh lot this week—twelve yards for a dollar, cash; also an invoice of waterproofs and the very latest styles of Winter dress goods just received; also, just received, an invoice of ladies' calf shoes, all cheap for cash.

BRICK KILN.—Mr. Scott has burned a large kiln of brick about one mile north of town. The brick is to be used in the construction of J. M. McCall's new brick store, next Summer. There are, however, a few thousand for sale at the kiln.

LIBERAL SOCIETY.—There is a movement on foot to organize a liberal society in Ashland for the benefit of all who desire truth by examining both sides of any subject on which men and women differ with a view of arriving at the truth.

STRANGE PHENOMENON.—Within two rods of our sanctum stands a small cherry tree on which the frost has killed the leaves; yet there is a bunch of bloom which has opened out since the frost, with all the beauty of Spring blossoms.

GRAND BALL.—A rare opportunity is offered to those who wish to enjoy the holidays. Mr. Dan. Lavenburg will give a grand ball at the Colver Hall, in Phoenix, on Christmas night. A general invitation is extended to all.

THE GOOD TEMPLARS.—This order is making rapid strides in Ashland by way of accession to its membership. They are now making arrangements to give entertainments at their regular Lodge meetings.

NEW BOOKS.—Helman & Fountain have received a large lot of school and holiday books, nice mags and divers other notions. Call and see them and take a chance in the elegant painting of Crater Lake.

"WHAT IS THIS THAT STEALS UPON MY FRAME?" as the carpenter said when he found that the cats had climbed up on the house he was building and eaten up the meat-skin he had used to grease his saw.

MAKES IT BAD.—The Oregonian would confer a favor on its numerous readers by pasting the address tag on the margin instead of on the most interesting portion of the telegraph news.

SUSPENDED.—We are sorry to note the demise of the Daily Albany Democrat. After a brief existence of one year the publisher finds that it will not pay.

We had a pleasant call from our old newspaper friend L. W. Fenton this week. He is doing for the San Francisco Chronicle these days.

A TEN INCH TURBINE WATER-WHEEL, in good order, for sale at the Ashland Foundry.

A VERY PRETTY THOUGHT IS THE ONE MADE BY SOMEBODY THAT "THE PARKS ARE A LOVELY QUOTATION FROM THE COUNTRY."

THE LATCH OF WOMEN.

A woman has no natural gift more bewitching than a sweet laugh. It is like the sound of flutes on the water. It leaps from her in a clear, sparkling rill, and the heart that hears it feels as if bathed in the cool, exhilarating Spring. Have you ever pursued a fugitive through trees, led on by a fairy laugh—now there, now lost, now found? We have, and we are pursuing that wandering voice to this day. Sometimes it comes to us in the midst of care or sorrow, or irksome business, and then we turn away the evil spirit of mind. How much we owe to that sweet laugh! It turns prose to poetry; it brings sunshine to flowers, over the darkness of the wood in which we are traveling; it touches with light even our sleep, which is no more than the image of death, but is consumed with beams that are the shadows of immortality.

THERE'S NO BOSH HERE!

ALL PERSONS INDULGED TO THE UNDESIRABLE, either by nose or account, are hereby given timely notice to call in and settle up between now and the first day of January next, and thereby save cost and bother.
