

THE ASHLAND TIDINGS

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1877.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Always good openings for bargains at the Pioneer Store.

Several interesting communications are crowded out this week.

Thanks to Senator Mitchell for important public documents.

A fine assortment of Christmas goods at the Pioneer & Atkinson's.

Elegant new goods at Helman & Fountain's. Give them a call.

A full line of hard and tinware and a great variety of other goods at Reeser's.

W. A. Egli, of Fort Jones, arrived a few days ago to attend the Ashland Academy.

The genial faces of Max Muller and F. Luy, of Jacksonville, were seen in the Granite City on Sunday last.

Rev. J. H. Rook, U. S. Indian agent is in Ashland looking after the furnishing of the wheat lately purchased for the Klamath and Modocs.

The farewell party to Dr. Shrewsbury was a failure not because of any ill feeling toward the Doctor, but through misunderstanding, mismanagement, misdirection or mistake.

Still the work goes on energetically on Capt. McCall's new brick. The store room which will be completed within a few days, will be one of the largest and most elegant in the land.

Dr. Shrewsbury, the skillful dentist, left Ashland yesterday for his home in Santa Barbara Cal. The doctor was kept busy while here, and no doubt when he comes again will find his work to do.

Yesterday morning as J. Crit. Tolman was riding his racer, "Hoodlum," backlock, down Main street, the horse started at a boy and wheelbarrow and threw Crit onto the street, within a few inches of a granite boulder. Why not have a saddle?

Read the letter of Mr McBride which we publish on the outside this week. Considering the brevity of his sojourn here we think he writes Ashland up pretty well. He is in error in stating that Ashland has no lawyer, Mr. Danney being a duly qualified attorney.

There have been so many accessions to the population of Ashland within the last few months, that we believe there is not an empty house in the place at this time. It is said that even the old fruit drier that stands at an angle of fifty-five degrees, in the upper part of town, has an occupant.

Large delegations of the "Original Order of Red-men" arrive almost daily from Klamath and Yainax. They are now packing out the large amount of wheat purchased for them by the Government. A large sum is thus saved for the Indian service which would otherwise be expended in paying freight.

THE SOAP FAT MAN SUSPENDED.—Mr. Wm. Howard, of the Ashland Soap factory, made us a call yesterday. During his late soap-selling campaign in the lower part of the valley he had much difficulty in "soft-soaping" the people whose patience had become threefold through the impertinencies of humping soap vendors. He claims, however, that whenever his soap was tried, it was pronounced a success and brought the shekels.

We acknowledge a pleasant call on Wednesday last from our genial friend H. B. Valpey, who has been for some time past superintending the steam saw mill of Marsh, Valpey and Co. on Big Balte Creek. He returns to his place of business in a few days. From the time of its construction last summer until the rain, the mill did an immense business and will doubtless have to run again up to its full capacity as soon as spring opens. In the mean time all energies will be exerted in getting logs ready for next season's work.

A ROUGH EXPERIENCE.—Mr. Louis Land, of Lost river, who spent a day or two in Ashland this week, informs us that while on his way to Alturas from Clear Lake, a short time ago, a snow storm came on while he was crossing a broad desert-like country, and all familiar objects being shut out, he lost his way, and was two days and a half without a morsel of food. On the third day, if we remember his story correctly, he reached the residence of a crusty old bachelor (evidently a very different man from the generality of Lake country bachelors,) who would not divide his commissary stores with him, and so Louis, though sorely tried by the "emptiness that gnaws," traveled ten miles farther before he found the hospitality he so much needed.

Mr. Stanley and his son John, of Ashland, returned early this week from a visit to Big valley, Modoc Co., Cal. They report that the settlers have raised fine grain there this year, and that the pioneer orchard of the valley, has yielded fruit. This has encouraged the people to plant orchards and Mr. Stanley is under promise to deliver 2,000 young trees in the valley straightway.

ASHLAND PUBLIC SCHOOL.—Report for month ending Nov. 9, 1877. 1st Department—L. F. Willis, teacher. No. enrolled, 59; No. boys, 25; No. girls, 34; average attendance, 46. 2d Department—Frances Myer teacher. No. enrolled, 48; No. boys, 25; No. girls, 23; average attendance, 38. 3d Department—Ella Anderson teacher. No. enrolled, 36; No. boys 19; No. girls, 17; average attendance, 29. Recapitulation.—Total enrollment, 143; average attendance, 113.

JACKSONVILLE.—On Tuesday last, in company with a number of Ashlandites, we made the old historic town of Jacksonville a brief visit. We found things tranquil, business apparently good, and the people as genial and hospitable as usual. The extensive mining operations in the Applegate country have already helped the place no little, and when the big ditch companies raise their flood gates and begin to wash out the metal, as in the olden days, we confidently look for brisk times in Jacksonville.

OFF THE INDIAN TRAIL.—We had the pleasure, last week, of meeting with Sergt. Southerland of Ft. Klamath, who was on his return from the long and tiresome chase after Joseph. Few persons realize what hardships were endured by our soldier in the march of nearly 2,000 miles on the trail of the champion retreater, and Sergt. Southerland's story, told in his graphic style is one of intense interest. He was at hand at the time of the surrender and saw the ragged red-skins hand themselves over as prisoners of war, to grim old Gen. Miles. The Sergt. says the interception of Joseph was the merest accident, he having stopped in the ravines where Gen. Miles found him, to cut some lodge poles, before continuing his march into the British possessions, only about forty miles distant. Capt. Jackson, whom the Sergt. left at Reading, with his company, has probably reached Ft. Klamath by this time. The boys of Company B, have had such a tramp as seldom falls to the lot of our soldiers, and they will doubtless enjoy the rest and quiet which Ft. Klamath will afford them, for some time.

AN UNUSUAL PROPERTY EXCHANGE.—We made quite a growl last week about buying a few papers, but, after all, the circumstance which aroused us and perhaps filled the whole village with apprehension of impending danger, was nothing as compared to the experience of Prof. Skidmore. It seems he had the proprietor of a wood-saw, which had been a treasured implement in the family for years; a saw which was prized, not only as an old familiar friend and reliable helper, but because of the excellent quality of its metal. Well, in course of time the saw needed some dental work, and the Professor submitted it to Mr. Kentner, who put it in the very best of order. The evening of the same day it was returned to its owner, but it was "too good to keep," and the next morning when the boy undertook to get the breakfast wood, the saw failed to do its duty. On examination, he found the old familiar handles in their place, but they no longer held between them the trusty old blade, but instead, a twisted and half toothless piece of metal which looked as if it might have been the first crude implement of the saw kind that mankind ever saw saw. Verily, verily, I say unto you,

Or all seen things since the day of the fall, We think this thing was no mere sham; The soul of the man who did this deed, Would have plenty of room in a man's mind.

Weather cold and stormy, with some snow. This is the day for those who can, to haul out one dollar for the poll tax man.

The Bonanza Academy is under full blast, with Miss Fanny Van Riper as teacher.

Mr. Henry Conn, Deputy Sheriff of Lake Co. passed through Bonanza the other day after a murderer from Lake Co., California. Also two men from Shasta Co. Cal. passed through after the same boy.

J. D. Carr of Modoc Co. Cal. and A. Langell of Langell's valley, are driving about, 600 head of cattle to Harney Lake valley, where they intend to winter them.

A Handy of Bonanza intends to put in forty acres of grain this fall and we hope he may have good luck and that it will prove this a grain growing country. A great many think we cannot raise grain here, but all ye unbelievers have patience; time will tell.

The sun is shining for the first time to-day.

BACHELOR.

LINKVILLE ITEMS.

Nov. 9th, 1877. Plenty of rain and mud. Freighters from over the mountains, make use of a numerosity of adjectives in referring to the present condition of the roads.

Mrs. W. S. Moore and family, arrived from Salem, Wednesday eve., and have become domiciled as actual residents of our burg.

Work is progressing finely in the construction of the new saw mill; the machinery will be here now in a few days.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, nearly all the youth and sparkling beauty of the country, gathered at the hotel, Monday night, and tripped the light fantastic, to the sound of Mr. Kegel & Co.'s instruments till the "wee sma' hours."

J. W. Hamaker is erecting a new dwelling, and Dr. Allen is making the necessary arrangements to put up a dwelling. Also several other parties contemplate building as soon as the weather settles.

L. B. Applegate of Swan Lake was in town during the week. He reports stock looking well in that vicinity, which is certainly encouraging, in view of the inevitable hard winter which our numerous weather oracles are predicting.

C. B. Watson has been among us the greater part of the week, attending to legal business, but left on the stage Thursday to escort "Job" over the rocks and chuck holes, between here and Ashland.

Our usually quiet and peaceful village, was the scene of quite a serious disturbance one day last week. Mr. David P. Shook of Alkali valley, was violently assaulted on the street by one Nat. Williams, an employe on the mill race, who struck Shook a number of times with some stones, cutting his head and face severely. A warrant was issued for Williams, and he was arraigned before Justice Hamaker, who mulcted him in the sum of $50 for the benefit of the school fund.

ROCK POINT ITEMS.

Nov. 12, 1877. Fall plowing under headway. Miners getting ready for work.

The bridge across Dogue River at this point, is being repaired.

"Squire Hayes" new residence is about finished.

The Good Templars of Dogue River Lodge held a public meeting, on the 4th inst., on which occasion the following officers were installed, viz: Alex. Orme, W. C. T.; Miss Adie Colvig, W. R. S.; Miss Annie Savage, W. L. S.; Miss Jane Bailey, W. V. T.; G. M. Savage, W. S.; C. Schiefflin W. F. S.; Miss A. Birdsey, W. T.; Charlotte Schiefflin, W. C.; G. D. Owings W. M.; J. T. Robinson, W. D. M.; Miss E. Schiefflin W. L. G.; Miss L. Orme, W. A. S. After the installation ceremonies were concluded, brief addresses were made, by Bros. Schiefflin, Carr and others. X.

FROM LAKEVIEW.

Nov. 3. Cold and blistering—the mountains are covered with snow.

William Newland was killed last week while hauling lumber from Joseph's mill to his place in Chewaucan. While descending a hill his break gave way causing him to fall where the wagon wheels passed over him. Deceased lived only a few hours after the accident. Leaves a family.

Two bears came down from their mountain fastnesses in the neighborhood of Kelly creek, passing through Mr. Contar's field, but being peaceably inclined they were not molested.

An aborigine puzzled a pale face by inquiring for "wheat medicine." It was vitriol that he wanted.

Our town presents a lively appearance; the sound of hammer and saw on all sides indicates that its buildings are rapidly augmenting.

The National Gold Medal was awarded to Bradley & Robinson for the best photographs in the United States, and the Vienna Medal for the best in the world. 429 Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

As Low as the Lowest, and only one price at the EAGLE MILL. All reports to the contrary are false. G. F. BILLINGS.
