

THE ASHLAND TIDINGS

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1878

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Daily Mercury is a thing of the past.

Gwin Butler passed through Ashland on Monday, en route to Plevna.

BORN—On January 30th, to the wife of H. True, a fine boy.

A wise man says: Never trouble trouble till trouble troubles you.

An observing man says that fast men like fast rivers are usually shallow.

The follies of youth are drafts on old age payable forty years after date, with interest.

We regret to see that Mr. H. F. Phillips is yet suffering considerably from erysipelas in the face.

Col. Potter informs us that he was twelve days en route from San Francisco to Fort Klamath.

Miss Mary McCabe is authorized to canvass for subscribers and to collect moneys due the Tidings.

For iron, tin and sheet iron ware go to B. F. Reeser; also for a "numerosity" of articles in the dry goods line.

Blessed is the neighbor who is so busy with his own affairs that he has no time to pry into yours, says a philosopher.

Capt. J. M. McCall has so far recovered from his late severe illness as to be able to walk down to the store on pleasant days.

Mr. Thos. M. Gale of this office has been quite unwell for some days but expects to be able to resume work in a day or two.

Rev. A. Miller, of the Old School Baptist persuasion, will preach at the school house in Ashland, on next Sunday, at 11 o'clock A. M.

We fear there is trouble brewing on the street. If there be a man adrift, designated a Bill Howard, he had best be on the alert.

Father Eving has brought us a load of the bark and we are happy we can not divide with the gentleman who is out of stove wood.

ACCIDENTAL BAPTISM.—Peace—the lord of Bear creek, near S. Unionville; time—about Monday last; subjects—D. Walker and H. C. sey.

"Beware of 'self-inflamation.'" An honorable man is more likely to gain the confidence and esteem of his fellow men than an Ocellus one.

Capt. A. D. H. man is making an addition to the building of H. man & Fountain, for the post-office. It will be finished up in elegant style.

In the late freshet, the bridge across Bear creek, near Salmonville, between the residences of Judge Tolman and Samuel Grant, was carried away.

The weather has been so changeable of late that our common place weather prophets have given up in despair. Where is the "ground-hog philosopher!"

Our town Marshal gave an exhibition of "high and lofty tumbling" on Main street on Tuesday last. An obstrepeous bay horse represented the "flying trap z's."

Hon. E. F. Walker, of Mazineta, was in Ashland a few days ago. He reported things quiet and tranquil in his part of the valley, after the fence-lifting wind subsided.

Mr. Thomas G. Watters, jeweler and real estate agent, has just received a splendid regulator from San Francisco, which can be seen at the new drug store of Inlow & Farlow.

We are informed that Lindsay Applegate and Applegate Brothers have disposed of their land on the hills, north-east of Ashland, to Marshall & son. Consideration, $2,000.

Mr. Watters' persistent tramp over the sharp foot-hills of the Siskiyou in search of mouseth, on Saturday, was a bootless enterprise. Put Coolidge on a trail and see what he can do.

Silas W. Kilgore and Charles H. Hargadine, both pleasant gentlemen and expert salesmen, are always on hand at the Pioneer store, ready to attend to the wants of customers.

Messrs. O. Coolidge and Isaac O. Miller were up on the Siskiyou, west of Ashland, Tuesday last, on a hunt. As usual, they were successful, killing two thirds of all the deer they saw.

Rev. Jno. H. Rook, U. S. Indian Agent at Klamath Agency, and Lieut H. DeW. Moore, of Fort Klamath, came out on Tuesday stage to attend to business in Jacksonsville and Ashland.

Col. Potter, U. S. Paymaster, accompanied by his clerk, returned by stage from Fort Klamath on Tuesday last, en route to Department Headquarters at San Francisco. The Col. is a veteran in the service and has long been in a position which enables him to make glad the hearts of the soldier boys.

Elsewhere will be found the ad. of H. F. Phillips, who has leased the Ashland livery stables. He is an experienced horse man and knows just what is required to satisfy customers.

Rev. J. S. McCain, Presiding Elder of the M. E. Church, for Jacksonsville district, called yesterday. Mr. McCain is one of the most enthusiastic workers in the ministerial harness. Prosperity to him.

L. B. Applegate of Swan Lake, came in by stage on Tuesday. He reports the snow about all gone from the Lake basin, the people tranquil and happy, and the suckers hourly expected up Lost river.

Remember that James D. Fountain is now "padding his own canoe" in the mercantile line, and that he always has on hand a vast number of articles which are indispensable in every well regulated family.

At a regular meeting of the Ashland Literary Society, held at the Academy a week ago last Thursday, W. W. Watson, of this office, resigned the presidency and W. A. Wilshire was chosen to fill the vacancy.

We are informed that Geo. A. Denny had a knee thrown out of joint the other day while engaged in practicing with the boxing gloves. The bones were soon re-adjusted and George is now in his normal shape.

By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that Watters & Galy, Real Estate Agents, have advertised several tracts of land for sale. Here is a chance for bargains. Call on the Agents for particulars.

Mr. T. O. Andrews, long an efficient employe in the Ashland Woolen Mills, has retired from that establishment and proposes, we believe, to exercise his brain and muscle in some other line of business for a time.

We are informed that William H. Roberts of Plevna, has contracted with capable parties to put a bridge across the Klamath river at his place. This is an important enterprise and we hope to see it successfully carried out.

These are the days of heroic stage driving and have proven that Ab. Goding, Joe Clow, Mito Matthews and the irrepressible Garrett, are not the individuals to "throw up the sponge" as long as there is a possibility of making time.

Mr. Barron, one of the Pioneer settlers of Rogue River valley, informs us that the wind, which swept down through the valley with such fury last week, was undoubtedly the heaviest ever known since the country was first settled.

Geo. Chan announces his safe arrival at Lake View, on the 19th inst. He reports the weather warm and pleasant, the snow all gone from the Goose Lake valley and the new Lodge of Good Templars "flourishing and doing a good work."

Johnny West, of Bonanza, the musician, remains in Ashland for a time. He has been engaged during the week in training some talented youths for an entertainment to be given to-night in the Good Templars' Hall "for the good of the order."

A wise man says: Another day has come and gone, leaving us older and wiser; but as yet no communication has been received indicating that any one has discovered a man who can drink out of a spring without getting his nose wet.

On Sunday night last, the road in the horse shoe bend below the Eagle Mills was under water, and the stage driver who came from the north in the evening, thinking it unsafe to venture around the point in the night, waited on the north side till morning.

Perhaps no more able temperance publications are issued in the United States than the National Advocate and Temperance Banner; the first for adults and the second for children. John B. Rigdon, agent, will perhaps call upon you in the interest of these journals.

Our old friend John H. Neil, who proved to be good metal in the Lava Beds, in "the days that tried men's souls," is maturing his arrangements to begin butchering at Phoenix, at an early date. We earnestly hope his new enterprise will prove a profitable one.

Mr. John Coleman, who resides near the old Forty-Nine diggings a few miles from Phoenix, made us a call on Monday. He informs us that the late rains, have furnished water enough to encourage the miners considerably and that they are commencing work on their claims.

We do not believe the report that two prominent Ashland gentlemen, who have lately gone into the stock business, followed the track of a swine up Main street as far as John Walker's the other day, under the impression that a lamb had gone astray from Butte Creek.

We understand that Chapman & Neil have rented their Ashland Livery stable to Mr. Phillips for a term of years. Mr. P. is an energetic man, well posted in the livery business and will no doubt give satisfaction to the public. What are you going to do now, Leander?

Among the notable personages who arrived in Ashland this week were Dave Hill and Charley Preston of Klamath. They came on Wednesday, and are to drive out the work oxen purchased by Agent Rook, for the Indian service, from J. D. Hawks of Rock Point.

We have had the pleasure of seeing the fine horse "Nat," purchased by the Shook Brothers of Lake Co., from Mr. Cardwell of Jacksonville. He is claimed to be a son of Old Lexington of Kentucky and is said to be one of the best blooded horses in the State. He is to be taken to Lake Co.

Call on J. S. Eubanks, at the old Mike Melchison shop, and see his elegant Sarven-wheel wagon. He is just now completing four of them which have already been sold. Mr. Eubanks is prepared to put up an unlimited number of these popular vehicles, on short notice, and in the very best manner.

NOTICE—A special communication of Ashland Lodge, No. 23, A. F. & A. M., is called for Tuesday evening, Feb. 7th. The Deputy Grand Master will be present. The members are hereby notified to attend; also, all brethren in good standing are invited to be present. W. H. ATKINSON, W. M.

Jno. S. Shook of Bonanza and Isaac N. Shook of Alkali Lake, yet remain with us. If their long experience in manipulating the coffee-pot and frying-pan in Sage Brush land, has not long ago convinced them that it is not good for man to live alone, we would rejoice to see them converted to that belief without delay.

ABSTINANCE AND SOAP.—Jno. B. Rigdon having returned to Ashland, the soap business will be resumed with energy. J. B. is not only determined to purify the inner man by making a relentless war on King Alcohol but proposes to furnish everybody, cheap for cash, the means for a speedy and satisfactory purification of the outer man.

James Purves, the pioneer settler of the Jennie Creek country, and Orson L. Stearns, who also resides there, were in town on Monday. These gentlemen live about 24 miles east of Ashland on the road to the Lake country. There is getting to be quite a settlement in the Jennie Creek highlands and there is yet room for a "few more."

Our young friend J. Howard McBride, who lately emigrated from Kansas, left us on Monday last to try his fortune in the Applegate country. We confidently expect much metal to be brought to the surface over there through the operations of the big mining companies, and we hope Howard may succeed in pocketing a liberal share of it.

RECOVERING.—We are pleased to learn that little Eddy McCord, who met with the accident on Butte Creek last week, is getting along nicely and that he is almost sure to recover. The accident was a very serious one, and Dr. Inlow, who has charge of the case, in common with other persons who saw the child soon after the accident, had little idea that he could ever survive.

FINE WHEAT.—J. Crittenden Tolman left on our table a few days ago, some heads of Cutli wheat which surpass anything in the wheat line we have ever seen. The heads are nearly six inches long and well filled with large, plump grains. Such wheat would certainly make an immense yield to the acre. We design sending a portion of it to the Lake country for trial on the sage brush lands.

ELECTION.—At a regular meeting of Ashland Lodge, No. 189, I. O. G. T., held on Friday evening, Jan 25, 1878, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: F. Walter Myer, W. C. F.; Miss Mary McCabe, W. V. T.; Richard Klippel, W. S. J. C. Eubanks, W. F. S.; Miss Irene Chitwood, T. r. a. s.; J. S. Eubanks, Sr., W. C.; J. Crittenden Tolman, W. M.; Miss Ida McCabe, W. I. G.; J. S. Eubanks, Jr., W. O. G.

Election of Officers.

LINKVILLE, Jan. 28, 1878.

EDITOR TIDINGS.—The following is the list of officers elected for the ensuing quarter, for Linkville Lodge I. O. G. T.: C. H. Dyer, W. C. T.; Mrs. W. S. Moore, W. V. T.; Nat Williams, W. S.; Samuel Parker, W. F. S.; Miss Frankie Moore, W. T.; Dr. Boyed, W. C.; Mat Williams, W. M.; Miss Hattie Ferree, W. I. G.; Geo. Harris, W. O. G.; Miss Viola Lewis, W. R. H. S.; Miss Ella Cranston, W. L. H. S.; Miss Etta Moore, W. D. M.; Dennis Crawley, P. W. C. T. VACQUERO.

NEARLY AN ACCIDENT.—We learn that as the Linkville stage was coming in on Tuesday evening it came near upsetting in fording Bear Creek near Judge Tolman's tannery. It was quite dark at the time so that Mr. Garrett did not observe that he was driving too near a deep hole, until the leaders went into it. He succeeded in stopping the stage and unhooking the leaders in time to prevent what might have been a very serious accident.

Hon. E. L. Bristow for some three years and a half, editor and publisher of the Salem Mercury, has disposed of the establishment to Cornell & Moss. Mr. Bristow is in every sense a gentleman, and we regret to see him retire from a place which he has filled with so much credit. Messrs. Cornell & Moss are both experienced newspaper men and the Mercury will no doubt maintain its respectability under their management.

A LITTLE SINGULAR.—O. Coolidge says that while up on the Siskiyou, west of Ashland, on Tuesday last, he found no evidences to show that either rain or snow has fallen there to amount to anything since the storm of two weeks ago. It would seem that the storm which has been raging so fiercely along the stage route, has closely adhered to the course of the late heavy wind through the low mountain passes, leaving the principal part of the Siskiyou wall above the storm.

THE RAIN.—On Saturday night last and all day Sunday it rained almost continuously, and by Sunday evening every little rill had taken on the airs of a "raging canal." Ashland Creek rose with such rapidity that Mr. Sayer's tall tower was thought to be in danger, and Baptiste quietly awaited his opportunity to open a bakery in his granite park. On Monday morning the sun came out, the waters gradually subsided and all fears of an overflow were dispelled.

OVER THE CASCADES.—During the many news-hungry days consequent upon the storm blockade, both north and south, the Lake country stage never once failed to make its regular trips, notwithstanding the oft repeated assertion that it is not practicable to keep this route open during severe storms. We think it will become evident, one of these days, even to the most sceptical, that it is quite as practicable to keep this route open at all times, as some portions of the long established one from Roseburg to Reading.

GLOVE FACTORY.—On Saturday last we visited the Glove Factory of John B. R. Enchings, on Granite Street, about a mile up the creek from Main Street, and found it quite an interesting institution. Mr. Enchings is an expert in tanning deer hides for gloves, boots and shoes, clothing etc., putting the skins through different processes to fit them for the various uses required, as also in making gloves. He employs considerable help in the glove department, and is ready at all times to fill orders, great or small, in the most satisfactory manner.

THE WOOLEN MILLS.—No institution in Southern Oregon is more deserving of patronage than the Woolen Mills, and the people will do themselves a favor by giving the establishment a more liberal patronage than they have ever done in the past. The material used in the mill is genuine, the work is done in the very best manner, and the prices are very reasonable. Were these lasting fabrics more extensively worn the people would find more comfort in them than in the mixed goods which come from abroad, more of "the needful" would be kept in circulation at home, and far less time would be lost in repairing rents and in locating patches.

JANUARY WEATHER RECORD.—H. C. Hill, Esq., of the Ashland Academy Boarding house, furnishes us the following recapitulation of his weather record for the month of January: At six o'clock A. M. on the 1st the mercury stood at 26 degrees above zero; on the 21 at 21; 31 at 29; 4th at 19; 5th at 22; 6th at 26; 7th at 44; 8th at 48; 9th at 45; 10th at 36; 11th at 27; 12 h at 29; 13th, at 46; 14 h, at 44; 15 h, at 47; 16th, at 47; 17th, at 30; 18th, at 44; 19h, at 33; 20th, at 44; 21st, at 52; 22d, at 48; 23d, at 38; 24th, at 48; 25th, at 34; 26th, at 42; 27th, at 40; 28th, at 43; 29th, at 47; 30th, at 44; 31st at 38.
