

THE ASHLAND TIDINGS

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1878

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Then be this truth the star by which we steer...

Onion sets wanted by J. M. McCall & Co.

Chopped barley and chopped wheat at the Eagle Mill.

There is a letter in the Yreka post-office for Jesse Applegate.

Several very interesting communications lie over till next week.

Born, in Ashland, Feb. 1st, to the wife of — Capper, a daughter.

BORN—On Feb. 7th, 1878, to the wife of Wesley Mitchell, a girl.

Grant and Vesuvius are reported to have had a friendly smoke together.

Many thanks to the subscribers who settled up their arrearages this week.

L. B. Applegate, of Swan Lake, returned to Lake county, by stage, on Monday.

A wise man says a woman's heart ought to be like the moon, which has but one man in it.

On Saturday last, John and Newton Shook left us for their homes in sage land. Come again.

Rev. J. H. Rook and Lieut. H. DeW. Moore started on their return to Klamath, on Wednesday.

We neglected to mention last week that they have some new and elegant dry goods at the Pioneer store.

A wise man says the happiest man is the benevolent one, for he owns stock in the happiness of all mankind.

We call attention to the notice of Andrew McCullen announcing his readiness to pay Lake Co. warrants.

Thanks to a friend for a branch of magnolia in bloom. We shall soon expect the regular spring crop of poetry.

The letter from J. M. S. bears rather an odd date but as the subject is a fresh one we know our readers will enjoy it.

Miss Ella Anderson was quite unwell last week, and Miss Della Howell presided over her department of the district school.

Prof. West, the musician and minstrel, started for his home at Bonanza, on Wednesday's stage. Our Duck failed to accompany him.

Chas. K. Krum Esq. has removed his elegant assortment of saddlery and harness into the building lately occupied by J. M. McCall & Co.

Mr. William Chase has proved the champion teamster on the Klamath road. He has continued to make regular trips to Lake county all winter.

J. Q. L. of Dardanelis says our Rock Point Corte-pendant was mistaken—Miss Kate Parker is not married though such a report was current for some time.

William Mayfield, James K. Leabo's successor in the barber shop, near the bridge, announces his readiness to do anything in the tonsorial line in the very best style. See his ad.

Mrs. J. Ewing, last week, slipped and fell on the floor of her porch, hurting herself quite severely. She is recovering, though very slowly, and probably will be as well as ever, ere long.

Dr. Inlow informs us that Mr. W. C. Daley, who returned from Eagle Point yesterday, reports little Eddy McCord recovering rapidly, being already able to walk about the house.

Capt. A. D. Helman is making rapid progress on the post-office addition to his building on Main street. The post-office, when completed, will be one of the neatest and best arranged in all the land.

Preparations are being made for a grand ball to occur at Miller's Hall on Friday evening the 15th inst. The best of music has been secured and a No. 1 supper will be given at the Ashland House.

We acknowledge a call from Mrs. Dr. Colvig of Rock Point. She proposes to remain at Mr. H. S. Emery's for a week or so. Mrs. C. is one of the old pioneers, and always finds many friends in Ashland to welcome her.

TEMPERATURE REPORT.—H. C. Hill, Esq., furnishes us the following temperature report for the first week in February, from observations taken at 6 A. M., each day:

Table with 2 columns: Day, Temperature. Friday, Feb. 1, 39 degree above zero; Saturday, 2, 43; Sunday, 3, 50; Monday, 4, 46; Tuesday, 5, 31; Wednesday, 6, 36; Thursday, 7, 34.

We learn that Judge Tolman writes from the Middle creek mines that the high water there damaged the big ditch considerably. They expect to have everything in shape again for active operations in a week or so.

We acknowledge a pleasant call, on Wednesday, from Mr. Hanford of the Seattle Intelligencer. Mr. H. was on his return from the Bay city to "The Sound," traveling most of the time on foot on account of stage irregularity.

Quite a glowing description of Crater Lake and other places of interest in Southern Oregon, written by our old friend H. V. Grubb, appears in the last Plaindealer. Mr. Grubb calls Ashland "The Floral city of Oregon."

Perhaps capture and desecration would be good enough for the individual who "capped the climax" of impudence by carrying away our new cap from Miller's Hall, on Tuesday evening, under the impression perhaps that it would be a capital joke.

The San Francisco Argonaut comes to us elegantly printed on Miller & Richards celebrated Scotch type. It is one of our best literary journals, ably and spicily edited by Frank Pixley, and is well worthy the continued patronage of the people of the Pacific States.

On Friday night S. B. Grubb's horse which was left tied on Main Street while S. B. was attending the lodge, broke his halter and ran away to Salmonville, leaving his master to patronize "Foot & Walker's line." The next morning they picked up the saddle, etc., on the road. No material damage done.

PEITION.—The Yreka Journal says: The citizens of Surprise valley are circulating petitions to have that portion of Mohave Co., annexed to Koop Co., Nevada, which, if accomplished may probably induce the remainder of Modoc to petition for annexation to Lake Co., Oregon.

THAT LIGHT.—From Mr. Stanley just arrived from the Lake country we learn that on Sunday night an immense fire swept over the timber lands of Lower Klamath Lake. We think this will account for the light seen in that direction and which occasioned so much excitement on this side of the mountains.

The entertainment given at Miller's Hall on Tuesday evening, by the Ashland Amateur Musicians, under the leadership of John West of Bonanza, was quite a success. Two suspicious exhibitions by W. H. Harrington was one of the most entertaining features of the programme, and the social dance which followed was highly enjoyed.

The Commercial Reporter, published at Portland, Oregon, by J. F. Atkinson, subscription price $3 per annum, is without doubt one of our most useful publications. We consider the issue of Jan 25, with its valuable statistics, its excellent map of Western Oregon, and vast amount of information relative to the resources of our state, well worth a year's subscription.

STATE CONVENTION.—The Democratic State Convention is called to meet at Portland on Wednesday, April 10, 1878, at eleven o'clock A. M. for the purpose of nominating candidates for Congress and the various State offices. The Convention will consist of 140 delegates, of which Jackson will send 8, Josephine 2 and Lake 2. It is recommended that the primaries be held on March 23 and county conventions on March 30.

PERCHERON SOLD.—W. C. Myer informs us that he has negotiated the sale of a White Prince colt to Mallory Brothers of Umatilla county; the animal to be delivered at Roseburg on the 13th inst. This is the fourth horse of Mr. Myer's stock purchased for the Upper country. The first was taken up there about three years ago, since which time the people of that part of the State have learned to appreciate the good points of this useful breed of horses.

I. O. G. T.—At a regular meeting of Unity Degree Temple held at Ashland on Wednesday evening, Feb. 6, 1878, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year: J. D. Fountain, D. T.; Mary McCabe, D. V. T.; Richard Klippel, D. Sec'y; B. L. Applegate, D. Treas.; G. H. Gillette, D. F. Sec'y; J. S. Eubanks, jr., D. M.; J. C. Tolman, D. I. S.; J. K. Helman, D. O. S.; E. A. McCloud, D. R. H. S.; Frances Myer, D. L. H. S.; F. M. Howell, D. A. Sec'y; E. Hargadine, D. D. M.; T. O. Andrews, P. D. T.

DEATH OF THOMAS MULHOLLAND.—A letter received by Frank Swingle from his brother Oliver in Arizona, states that Thomas Mulholland, late a prominent and much respected citizen of Lake Co., Oregon, while traveling in company with another man lately, was killed by the accidental discharge of a double-barreled shot-gun in the hands of his comrade. This will be sad news for Mr. Mulholland's many friends and relatives in Oregon. We hope to furnish further particulars in our next issue.

Attempt to Burn the Planing Mill.

On Friday night last, an ineffectual attempt was made to fire the furniture factory and planing mill of L. S. P. Marsh, on Granite street. It seems, from appearances, that the incendiaries must have entered at the front door, by the use of a duplicate key perhaps, as the side door, where they evidently made their exit, had been securely fastened on the inside. Foot-prints in the loose sand near this door indicated that there were two men and that, after passing out, they made their way into the road, which leads down the creek towards Main street. All the shavings in the third story had been cleared away during the day, so that they must have carried those, which they used so lavishly there, from below. Shavings were piled upon each step of the stair way leading from the middle to the upper floor, so as to form a continuous line of them all the way up the stairs, and from the head of the stairs into the office and thence to various parts of the room where there were piles of dry lumber. Turpentine and oil had been lavishly distributed along the lines of shavings, and several thin pieces of lumber, saturated with turpentine, were so placed as to lead from the shavings, on the office floor, up into the book case, which was open, having evidently been unlocked by the incendiaries. During the day, operatives had been engaged in planing larrel and cottonwood lumber, on the lower floor and a large quantity of these hardwood shavings had been carried from the planer to the head of the stairs, in the third story, and ignited. After burning over an area of perhaps two feet in diameter, the fire went out. If it had burned but a few inches farther the pine shavings, saturated with oil, would have been reached and the whole building would doubtless have soon been in flames. Perhaps the incendiaries feared to fire the pine shavings, lest they might not have time to escape before the fire should be discovered. The whole town was startled by the announcement of this bold effort to burn one of the most valuable institutions of the country, and though all sorts of conjectures have been indulged in as to who the parties could be who thus sought to turn the fire-flood loose among us and what motive could have inspired the effort, the whole affair yet remains, so far as we know, a profound mystery. Mr. Marsh's ledger for 1877 and his time book were taken away, for what reason no one can form any rational conclusion.

LINKVILLE ITEMS. Feb. 4th, 1878. Snow all gone; weather warm and pleasant. No snickers yet, but plenty of trout and line duck shooting. Linkville has got a barber shop. No excuse now for unkempt hair and shaggy beards. So far as our knowledge extends, we have had a mild winter in the entire Lake country, and as a consequence the stock men are jubilant. Our farmers are all going to sow wheat this spring on the strength of our prospective grist mill. We confidently expect to be able to procure our flour for next winter at greatly reduced prices. The saw mill is almost ready to run; the boom across the river is completed and logs coming down rapidly. We discovered on going down Main Street, the other morning, what we at first supposed to be the remnant of Andrew Walls historic team, but on closer inspection it proved to be a foraging party from Louis Leads logging camp, with a detachment of his logging team.

Uncle George has been having some more town surveyed out, and an entire new town plat made, which looks quite cityfied. Quite a number of town lots have been selected recently by parties who contemplate building the coming season. There is a dearth of news items here, but we have a couple of new items as follows: Born, Jan. 27th, 1878, to the wife of C. C. Dixon, a daughter. Also, on the 30th, to the wife of J. W. Hamakar, a son. So you see our population is increasing. There is reason to expect a serious outbreak of the matrimonial fever in this locality ere long; "they say" that one of our merchants is exhibiting symptoms of an attack. As the time for holding election draws on, candidates begin to come to the surface like whales to blow; they are not very numerous about here as yet, but we hear of a number in the vicinity of Lake View. Verily it is astonishing how many men are willing—nay, anxious—to lay aside their own legitimate business in order to serve the idle people.
