

THE ASHLAND TIDINGS

FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1878.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

There are moments of life that we never forget, which brighten and brighten as life wears away...

Burnish up your patriotism!

Rev. Charles Hoxie made us a pleasant call last week.

Thanks to Lydia Thompson McCall for a handsome bouquet.

H. C. Hill Esq., chief of the city fathers, is on a visit to Portland.

A superior article of coal oil just received at Chitwood & Atkinson's.

Work is progressing rapidly on the foundation of the Presbyterian church.

See the ad of Daley & Co. of the new furniture factory, and profit thereby.

Methodist quarterly meeting will be held at the Academy on Saturday and Sunday next.

A fine stock of paints, oils and glass just received at B. F. Reeser's, also the Blanchard's.

A very interesting letter from W. C. Myer, the champion horse man, will appear in our next issue.

We are pleased to know that work will be resumed on the Methodist church building in a short time.

Bear in mind that Elder Martin Peterson will preach at the school house on next Sunday, at 11 A. M.

Thomas Wilson and his son-in-law, Mr. McDonald, started on their return to Langell valley on Monday.

A man may have curly hair, red dish cheeks, turn up nose and a sage look and be a "dead beat" after all.

Hon. J. S. Herrio, having recovered from his severe illness, is again at his post, at the Ashland Variety Store.

Don't carry your handkerchief in your breast pocket. "If you do" says Punch, "you press a seiper to your bosom."

A handsome lot of jewelry has lately been received by Waters and Myer. Call and purchase something handsome.

J. T. Arant, of Lake county, who spent the winter at Mount Hood, has returned to the sage brush country with his family.

The President has nominated John C. Fremont of New York, Governor of Arizona, and Geo. P. Hoyt of Michigan, Governor of Idaho.

We learn that a strong force of repairers are putting the Siskiyou Mountain road in splendid order, thanks to the Messrs. Dollarbirds.

Senator Mitchell has introduced a bill in the Senate for the extension of the mail route from Brownborough to Big Butte in this county.

A very entertaining letter from J. M. Sutton Esq. who is taking a ramble in the Rogue River precincts, will have to lie over until the next issue.

Our old friend James Bill and his family are on a visit to their friends in Ashland and vicinity. Their home is at the upper ferry on the Klamath river.

Michael Murphy, formerly a resident of Emigrant creek settlement, but lately of San Francisco, has returned to make his home in Oregon hereafter.

Thos. M. Gale has $40 worth of useful and elegant books, which can be had for half the money. Here is a rare opportunity to start the public library.

The Grubb Bros. left with their teams on Tuesday for Roseburg. They take with them a cargo of wool and will return with freight for our merchants.

M. H. Drake Esq. is en route to his Warner Lake ranch with about 300 head of cattle. These are the cattle received by Mr. D. for his ranch on Applegate.

We hoped to get the official election returns from Josephine, in time for this issue, but have been disappointed. It is understood that the Democratic majority ranges from 50 to 75.

E. DePaat Esq. is erecting a handsome and commodious residence on Main street. The building will be 32x48 feet. H. S. Emery, of the firm of Daily & Co. is the contractor.

Jas. P. Woodson's trunks returned from Reading, with 8,000 lbs of freight, on Monday. Among other articles were five cabinet organs, which are to lift up their voices in Ashland homes.

J. Dunn, repairer of sewing machines, is at the Ashland House and will remain for some time. He shows first class references and is no doubt an expert in his line. He finds work to justify, he may locate permanently in this place. He informs us that he will guarantee satisfaction, else no pay.

Mr. Ramsay, a San Francisco cattle dealer, who purchases extensively in the Lake country, made us a call on Thursday of last week.

Bob Garrett, the tireless and indefatigable, will remove his stock to the Jacksonville and Crescent City route, by the end of the month.

Thanks to the Pine Creek people for their invitation to attend and take part in the State line celebration. We regret that it will be impossible for us to comply. Hope they will have a "grand old time."

On the night of the 25 ult., the store of J. J. Fowler at Glencoe, Washington county, was entered by burglars and robbed of about $175 worth of goods. The thieves have not yet been discovered.

Where is William Chase, the boss teamster? After making regular trips over the mountains to Lake, all winter, he ought not to retire to private life just as the road is getting in good shape.

COTTONWOOD.—Our typo, J. Clarence Eubanks, made a flying trip to Cottonwood (Healey) Cal., the other day. He reports mining prospects good but crops looking badly in that section.

Geo. Q. Latta, long and favorably known in this section, has gone to Lake land to "seek his fortune." John is a worthy young man and we hope he may succeed in finding what he seeks.

On Thursday last, a little son of L. B. Tucker was kicked by a horse, on the side of the head, and was unconscious for some time. We are pleased to know that he is about as well as ever again.

Mr. S. A. Scott informs us, by letter, that he will be able to deliver his photographic pictures, in Rogue River valley, during the latter part of the present month. They are now in transit from Reading to Yreka.

On Friday, Maj. James Jackson and Capt. Geo. Q. Adams, of Fort Klamath, arrived in town, and, on the same day, went on to Jacksonville. They are on business, and will return to their post in a few days, via Yreka.

Elgar Eubanks aged 12 years, entered as an apprentice, in the TIDINGS office, on June 10, 1878. Historiographers will please observe this, as we confidentially expect, Sir Elgar to make his mark in the news paper world.

On account of a superabundance of matter, George Nutley's ad. did not appear last week. We insert again, in this issue, and call attention to the fact that Mr. N. is always prepared to supply all kinds of boot furniture, cheap for cash.

After this week, Mr. Sutton is to be the recipient of strawberries green corn and other good things, calculated to tickle the editorial appetite. He is also the individual who must be subjected to the importunities of book agents, soap venders and lightning rod men.

Work is going ahead on the granite buttresses for the new bridge, which is to span Ashland creek, on Main street. The bridge will be 24 feet wide, and is to be constructed in the most substantial manner. That restless spirit, Wesley Mitchell, our road supervisor, is superintending the work.

W. C. Myer's Shetland mare, Mollie, stepped onto the scales with her colt the other day, and made the old Fair banks groan under 460 lbs of horse flesh. Mollie is five years old, weighs 416 1/2 lbs and stands 3 feet 5 1/2 inches high. The colt was two days old, 20 inches high and weighed 42 1/2 lbs.

Messrs. Levison & Arrington, agents for the celebrated Faber & Packard organs, yet remain in our valley. They intend canvassing Ashland and vicinity for these instruments. All those desiring these excellent organs, should not fail to see them. Second hand organs taken in exchange for pianos.

Mr. Geo. Howell, who some time ago, while snuffing too near the machinery of a steam saw mill, in Big valley, got his arm badly broken and severely bruised otherwise, will have to suffer amputation of that limb. His condition is critical, and serious apprehensions are reported concerning his recovery.

The 11th inst. was our birth day. We are now a good deal more than 18 The day came unheralded, consequently very little preparation had been made in the village for a celebration, yet, those interested, properly observed the important anniversary. The people generally conducted themselves with perfect propriety—no drunks, street fights or other unpleasant proceedings occurring to mar the enjoyment of the occasion. Such performances were quite too common a few years ago, on great days, but, happily, the world is getting "beyond that groove."

The following is the report of the Public School of Ashland, for the quarter ending May 31st, 1878: No. enrolled, 135; average number belonging, 76; average daily attendance, 67.

ELLA ANDERSON, FRANCES MYER, Teachers.

Weather Report From observations taken at sunrise: June 7, 56, clear; 8th 50, clear; 9th 48, clear; 10th 47, clear; 11th 44, cloudy; 12th 45, clear; 13th 48, clear. The figures after the dates indicate the temperature above zero. H. C. HILL.

Let party issues and numerous other "bones of contention" divide the people during 364 days of the year, if they must, but on the national birth day let us lay them all aside and "be Americans all and nothing but Americans." See the report of the meeting, held to make arrangements for a 4th of July celebration.

On Saturday last, the engagement of B. H. Klippel, as foreman of the TIDINGS office, a place he had long filled with credit, terminated, and Richard left us for Jacksonville. Dick is a good typo and a very capable young man, and we wish him success in life. Be good to yourself, Dick, and may the world deal kindly with you.

The Ashlands.

There are twenty-three post offices in the United States bearing the name of Ashland, and eight of these have attained to newspaper dignity, one—Ashland, Ohio—having two papers. We find the Advertiser in Massachusetts, the Argus in Mississippi, the Times in Nebraska, the Press and Times in Ohio, the Press in Wisconsin, the Tidings in Oregon, and the Record in Pennsylvania—Ashland (Ky.) Review.

Many thanks to Mrs. A. G. Rockfellow, for the finest lot of strawberries we ever saw. We measured what appeared to be the smallest berry, and found it not less than three inches in circumference, while many of the large ones were over four. Since this splendid fruit can be grown, in such perfection, in the warm granite soil of our foothills, we wonder that any of our people should undertake to enjoy themselves without the luxury of strawberries and cream.

We have received a pamphlet, handsomely printed by A. G. Walling Portland Ogo., entitled "Howard's campaign against the Nez Perces." The author, Thomas A. Sutherland, a graphic and entertaining writer, was himself in the heat of the campaign, as a volunteer aid to Gen. Howard, and the little book before us is a collection of his articles, published in the Portland Standard, during the long and arduous chase after the great retreat, Nez Perces Joseph.

The Ashland Woolen Mills are now a-days kept running quite up to their full capacity, by James Thornton, the energetic proprietor. We are glad to know that the business of this old standard institution is good, and yet it has never received the patronage it deserves. Thousands of dollars might be saved, for home circulation, if our people would decide to clothe themselves in these substantial woolen fabrics, instead of showing their old time weakness for cotton mixtures and shoddy.

As usual, there is a vast deal of trav over the road from Rogue River valley, via the Soda Springs, to the Lake country. We think it would pay Jackson, well, to make a liberal appropriation for the improvement of the road, since the trade of the Lake region is of incalculable value to the people on this side. A few hundred dollars, judiciously expended in taking out rocks and roots, cutting trees, etc. would doubtless prove a splendid investment, in the encouragement it would give to the wagoning public.

A Sunday or two ago, two pairs of young people from Ashland, went to Maj. Barron's on a visit, and when the time came to return, one pair took their position in the back and pretended to be going to return without the other pair. This caused the afore said "other pair" to experiment a little, which they did by saying to the pair in the back to go ahead, of course not dreaming that they would do so. The result was that the "other pair," aforesaid, prolonged their visit at the Major's until the next day's stage.

The Pioneer Meeting.

Thanks to Wm. Hoffman, secretary of the Pioneer Society of Southern Oregon, for a report of the proceeding of the annual meeting, held at Ashland, on the 6th inst. On account of the crowded state of our columns, we cannot publish the full report until next week. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Lindsay Applegate; Vice President, Thomas Smith and David Linn; Secretary, Wm. Hoffman; Treasurer, U. S. Hayden. The objects of the Society are commendable and it deserves the hearty support and encouragement of all the "old timers."

Latest State Election News.

In answer to the despatch, "Telegraph us the majorities of the State nominees, as they now stand," we received the following, just before going to press:

PORTLAND, June 13, 1878. 11:35 A. M. O. C. APPLIGATE, Ashland; Earhart, 400; Hirsch, 800; Carter, 600; Powell, 200; Whitaker, 500; Thayer, 20; with Grant, reported small Democratic, to hear from. W. S. CHAPMAN.

Bold Stage Robbery.

The south-going stage was robbed on the Siskiyou, near the summit, at about eight o'clock on last Tuesday evening, by two men. The express box was broken open and contents taken. It was known to contain $300 from Ashland and $400 from Jacksonville. The mail was also robbed. In the Ashland stage were two registered packages, one from Yainax and the other from Bonanza. As yet, no clue to the robbers.

Jacksonville Items.

EL TIDINGS.—The editor of the Sentinel says he had no reference to any choir in Jacksonville, in his commentary last week.

Spring chickens are ripe, so are new babies.

I heard a young lady hurrah for Mr. Beckman to day. Perhaps she may expect an appointment on his staff.

Major Jackson and Capt Adams have been in town this week parading horses for the cavalry service. They scan limbs very circumspcctly and are good judges.

Some of the politicians have gone skooting, bottom upside.

"Lets go and soda with Savage," is popular with the "next" county officers.

A crowd rushed into Howard's to day, thinking there was an auction, but they were mistaken. The flag was a pair of ladies' long red hose swinging gracefully in the breeze.

It is so; Mr. Arthur Langell is after the stockings. They are Allred too.

The Marshal arrested a man to day who was trying to get into the residence of a widow lady. When taking him to the jug, he suddenly turned up on the Marshal and seized his baton and by the collar of his coat, evidently intending an assault or escape. People hurried to the rescue, and soon securely caged him.

Mr. Rath, upon whom the amputation was performed last Tuesday, died the following Friday.

I don't know. We may celebrate or we may not—I don't know. I'll consult the horoscope. Hold your breath till we decide. I'll guess you two bits.

Rev. L. H. Wells had services here, the last two Sundays, to large congregations, and baptised one young lady and two children, according to the rites of the Episcopalian church. Mr. Wells is a careful thinker. His lectures evince sound logic and great research. The theory of Darwinism is exploded and the missing links are never to be discovered, because they never existed. The largest brain of the ape, yet measured, was 34 cubic inches; the smallest of man, 68 cubic inches.

Sharpen up your eye-teeth, for some wedding cake before harvest.

Items of interest, scattering like the votes on the Greenback State Ticket KENNETH.

Latest From Lake.

Up to the moment of going to press, full returns from Lake had not been received. Nine precincts gave Thayer 80 majority, and it is considered certain that the remaining precincts will swell his majority to 140. Democrats elect entire county ticket, with the exception of one commissioner.

On account of the large quantity of matter on hand to-day, we have left out a column and a half of ads. We will make it O. K. with the ads.

THAT SELF BINDER.—The Osborne self binder, lately received by B. F. Reeser, has attracted no little attention, and is universally acknowledged to be a perfect triumph of mechanical ingenuity. Those who have seen it tried say it is almost marvelous how it wades into a grain field, gathers the grain into bundles of any required size, binds them with a little wire, twists and cuts off the wire and tosses the bundles aside, as if it knew as well as the farmer himself what is required in the premises. If we had been told a score of years ago that such an invention were practicable, we would doubtless have scouted the idea as absurd and visionary. Such a marvel of mechanical ingenuity and skill cannot long be kept out of the fields of intelligent farmers, and we doubt not will soon be in general use. Mr. Reeser is prepared to furnish these valuable machines for $375 each. Call and see the self binder for yourself.

It is rumored that the new Ashland magistrate had hardly recovered from the excitement consequent upon his election, before a stray swarm of bees settled in the vicinity of his office, and he, being an expert in the bee-swarming business, captured them. Next appeared a claimant to the bees, in the person of the P. M., and demanded the insects. Of course this brought the case at once before the magistrate, who feared he could not, under the circumstances, render an impartial decision. So far as we have been able to learn, the case is still undecided, yet, it is thought the Justice is so mixed up in the affair himself that a jury trial will be necessary to settle it.
