

THE ASHLAND TIDINGS.

FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1878

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Horse thieves infest Josephine Co., just now. The frames of our two new churches are raised. S. P. Jones, of Jacksonville, accidentally shot himself last week. A new Catholic church is being built at Eagle Point, in this county. THREE gallons of the most exquisitely delicious blackberries, for one dollar, at Anos Willis'. Miss Ella Prim and other Jacksonville folks are sojourning at Soda Springs this week. We learn from the Times, that Mrs Hawkins, of Butte creek, had her barn destroyed by fire last week. John Collins still remembers the 4th. He was thrown, from his horse on that day and quite severely hurt. Hamilton & Chappell cleaned up a pint of gold dust from their claims, on Applegate, last week. Bishop Morris, who has been expected on a mission to this county, has postponed his visit until the latter part of August. Ashland sold 65 tickets to their 4th of July ball, Jacksonville played 70 and Foot's creek trumped in with 95, and took the trick. The most elegant banquet of dahlias we ever saw, was placed on our table a few days ago, by the boss florist of our town, friend C. O. Hilde. J. W. Hamaker Esq., of Linkville, gave us a call on last Wednesday. He expressed himself much pleased with our little mountain hamlet. Fifty or sixty people took dinner at the Soda Springs House, last Sunday, and it is reported that there was several "baskets full" of provisions left. Where is Wiley H. Parker? formerly of Willow Springs, is what Dr. L. T. Davis, late of Jackson county, but now Sonoma county, Cal., wants to know. PREACHING—Rev. E. Shearer, of San Francisco, Agent of the American Tract Society, is expected to preach in Ashland, next Sunday, at 11 o'clock, A. M. Now is the time to go to the Pioneer store and get a pair of Ladies' or Misses' shoes, for 75 cents, to $1.50. Closing out to make room for Fall stock. A correspondent, writing from Texas, wants to know if Watters & Gaby are "busted." No, their card was only left out to make room for the 4th of July. TELEPHONE—Wm. M. Turner has the agency of the Bell Telephone, for this county, and proposes to erect lines where ever sufficient inducements are offered. Don't forget the lectures of Hon. Isaac Cox, to be given on Saturday evening next. Those who have witnessed his exhibition of Olie Force, pronounced it wonderful. On our outside, this week, will be found the conclusion of Hon. Lindsay Applegate's South Road Reminiscences, and the first chapter of the Port Orford massacre of 1851. KICKED BY A HORSE—We are sorry to learn that Wm. Harst who has been stopping at the Soda Springs for some days past, was kicked by a horse, this week, and severely hurt. Prof. Woods in combination with Gove & Merrill, of the Photo tent, will give a concert and exhibit a grand panorama of scenic views, at Phoenix, on next Saturday evening. Who among the old timers does not remember Dan Cawley, the pioneer stage driver. Well, he's driving again, alternating through Yreka with that other "old whip," Jerry Wood. Mrs. Victor has been engaged as traveling editor for the Resources of Oregon and Washington. Mr. Pearson is fortunate in procuring one so well qualified for that position. We have had numerous calls for back numbers of the TIDINGS, this week, by people who wished to read Mr. Herrin's Var city Store "ad." that was crowded out of the last number. "IT NEVER RAINS BUT IT POURS"—No sooner had our avowed friend, E. B. Watson, been fairly installed in the position of County Clerk, than the position of Agent for the county poor was thrust upon him. Mr. W. Levar, living near Willow Springs, met with a serious accident last week. His horses attached to a wagon in which he was sitting, became frightened and threw him out, giving him a severe bruise on the head.

Wilbur F. Cornell and Miss Frankie Looney were recently married at Salem. We seldom rejoice at people's misfortunes, but we are really glad to learn that Wilbur has got a little Looney. We are not afraid of Messrs Handy & Roberts of Bonanza; they're too far off. Besides they have lots of goods on hand and are happy; therefore they don't care if their ad. was superceded by news items last week. We have received a pamphlet issued by Department of Agriculture, showing the condition of crops on the 1st of June, current year. It shows the crops throughout the United States to be considerably better than last year. WE'RE HAPPY NOW—We have just found company for our misery. The better half of our cotemporary, Mr. R. H. Nixon, of the Yreka Journal, has left him—yes, left on a visit to Strawberry valley—Hope she'll stay 'till "our'n" comes home. FINE GUNS.—B. F. Reeser has just received a lot of the latest improved Winchester rifles, model of 1876. They are perfect beauties. They take a cartridge of 75 grains of powder and 350 grains of lead; price from forty-five to fifty dollars. How wisely Providence has arranged everything. Trees grow with their roots in the ground, and their tops in the air. If the roots had been put in the air, they would soon have dried out. If the tops had been in the ground, the leaves would rot in a week. This season has been a puzzle to that most intelligent personage, the "oldest inhabitant." Since the early spring the weather has been "singular for the time of year." And now comes the cloudy, drizzly weather of the last few days, to increase our wonder. The Ashland Woolen Mills are crowded to their utmost, in weaving socks, knitting blankets and falling yarn, and now the startling news reaches us, that one of the employes is dying without the benefit of clergy—yes, in consequence of the suppression of the "ad." last week. "Annals of the Cave Hunters," will appear next week, being a graphic account of a recent exploring expedition to the great Josephine county cave, discovered last year. It is from the pen of our esteemed correspondent "F." and will describe new discoveries of axes and chambers hitherto unknown. Hon. L. L. Williams, of Roseburg, who was the most prominent actor in the expedition from Port Orford, in 1851, in the attempt to explore a road through the mountains, a history of which we commenced in to-day's TIDINGS has formed himself into a regiment of one and gone to fight the Indians. A party consisting of B. F. Reeser, Ed. J. Farlow, Elias Miller and G. W. Ford, on last Saturday, braved the dangers of our mountain wilds, by ascending the alpine heights of Ashland peak, and camping on and about the everlasting snows for two nights. During feat requires brave men. Mr. Cox requests us to call attention to the fact that at his exhibition of Olie Force, to be given next Saturday, at Ashland, that it is absolutely necessary that he should have perfect silence. To this end, children under 8 years of age cannot be admitted, and no one will be admitted after the performance commences—viz: half past 8 o'clock. "HELP CATCHEM BY PAPER" is a happy hit on a name given to a new kind of fly paper, manufactured by C. H. Woodard & Co., Portland, Oregon. It is simply a sticky substance spread on paper. It is of a very attractive nature to the great fly family. No fly escapes whose foot ever touches this treacherous truck. The manufacturers send it by mail, to any address, for 6 cents a sheet. The entertainment for the benefit of Prof. Wood, the blind musician and the church buildings of Ashland, was a success. Messrs. Gove & Merrill's scenic views make an excellent entertainment in themselves. As to Prof. Wood, and the "local talent," they are too well known to need comment from us. Messrs. M. L. Alfred, W. W. Watson, J. S. E. Banks, Jr., Miss Luella Willis and Miss Rachel Apple gate formed the choir. Bonanza Item. Our Indian excitement has quieted down. The Kezle family left recently, not scared, but on business. Fourth of July passed through here with a smile. We had candies and cakes, lots of pretty girls, and danced all night till broad daylight, and the girls went home in the morning—but not alone. I see it stated, by a correspondent of the TIDINGS, that the settlers on Lost river were all going into Linkville for safety. This is news to the people of this part of Lost river. I think that correspondent must have been scared into such a statement, and is, therefore, not legally responsible. BACHELOR.

PERSONAL NOTES.

J. Hamilton has left for Walla Walla. Squire Loftan arrived safely at Lake View, with the guns taken from this county. Judon Finley Watson and wife of Roseburg, have gone on a short visit to San Francisco. Mrs. L. J. White of Rock Point, accompanied by her son Charles, was in town last week. J. Q. Latta and E. F. Rockfellow have been rusticated at the Soda Springs this week. Harry Smith returned this week, from the lower country, accompanied by his family, who have been absent on a visit for sometime past. H. M. Thatcher smiled on our town this week. His firm, Thatcher & Worden, of Linkville, have been awarded the freight contract from Redding to Fort Klamath. Capt. O. C. Applegate left "Granite City" on last Monday morning, after a sojourn of nearly a year. He goes to resume a residence among the "sun-browned and bearded cattle men" of the "sage land." My his head never become bald or his feet shorter. Mr. E. H. Loftus has permitted us to make the following extract from a private letter, written by M. H. Drake, from Crane Lake, Lake county, under date of July 8th: "Everything all right. We had seen no Indians since you left, until yesterday. We discovered a troop of the Reds, bearing a white flag, coming over the ridge from Blue creek. The party consisted of Oshio and seven of his warriors. They say that they have been stepping in the mountains over toward Crooked creek for the last ten days. They have been afraid to come out since they heard of the horse burning in Warner valley. They say that it was the Banlocks that burned the horses; that their Indians don't want to fight. They claimed to be on their way to Comp. B. Well. After more than a half hour's talk, they mounted their horses, boosted their flag and started to the eastward." Mr. Drake writes that he thinks there will be no more trouble, unless the Banlocks subdue the country north; in that case, they may want this country also.

PROLIFIC VIEW.

July 7, 78. Haying begun. The weather changeable. The "American eagle crows" in an appropriate manner, at Pine creek, on the Fourth. A lofty time at the dance in the evening. The "Indian scare" has subsided, and all the settlers from Crooked creek and vicinity have returned to their homes. The report that all the houses and barns in Warner valley, were burned, is untrue. Only five buildings were burned. No one was killed or wounded. There was no rumor at all here, last evening, that the redskins had taken Harney. Think it needs confirmation. Mr. William Hyde, an old pioneer of Southern Oregon, is in this valley, buying beef. Capt. Barnes has sold his cattle and ranches in this valley, to Mr. John Jackson, consideration, $7,000. Some two or three couples have committed matrimony since my last and more will, soon. PRIDGAL.

Items from Langells Valley.

May 10th 1878. Weather warm. Hay harvest in full blast. A wedding contemplated next Sunday, for he has gone after license now. The season has been a little too dry in this part of the country for the grain to do well. On account of the Indian excitement, our Fourth of July sports were almost a failure. Some horse racing at Alkali on the Fourth. Some of our men are preparing to go to Lake View, on annual swamp land trials. Through mistake in range numbers, some of our settlers have taken claims where they "aint," and got patents for the same. Hands' wages in hay harvest are from one dollar to one dollar and a quarter per day, in Langells valley, and few can get to work at that. Mr. Isaac Wilson, a beef driver from Langells valley, was in Reno quite ill, when last heard from. Our last mail was one day behind time from some cause. A good many people in this section of the country are getting most of their dry goods and all light articles from Montgomery Ward & Co., Colosago. We learn that Mr. William Luckie is going into the merchandising business this fall. Where is our supervisor? He must look to the bridge at Bonanza, for it is wrong side up. HUMPHREY.

Items From Yreka Papers

Lots of Indian half breeds and squaws helped celebrate the 4th... Yreka is beginning to put on old time airs. Business is buoyant... Grain on dry land in Scotts valley, is better than ever known... Hail stones as big as marbles, thunder and lightning, sizes not stated, and a rain storm is what cooled the weather off at Yreka on the 9th inst... John Churchill, an old resident of Savyers bar, was killed on the 6th inst, by the falling of rock in a drift... Mr. J. W. Young of Ora Feno has just cleaned up 130 ounces, being all he made for his seasons work. The Wright Bros. also cleaned up, and they only got the pitiful sum of $18,000.

Jacksonville Items.

JACKSONVILLE, July 12, 1878. Ed. TIDINGS:—A young lady, whom I presume was absent-minded, walked down street the other day with a towel around her neck instead of a collar. Many improvements are made in our city, and several new buildings being erected. The City Cigar Store can be found at the corner of California & Oregon streets; lately moved. S. B. Both has rented the ranch of H. P. Deskins near old Fort Lane, and taken his fine stock there to perfect. Freightage has commenced to Fort Klamath, and government contracts are being filled. Are you going to the Christian picnic last Sunday at Heber grove? A good place for the Pioneer. Rennon, would be at the site of Fort Lane, or on Haskell Amy's place, where several old government buildings yet remain standing, and tend to recall many thrilling incidents of hardships and adventure, wherein our old pioneers were engaged in carving out the salivation of the primitive inhabitants of this country, and the wilderness itself, and where even now the howl of the coyote can occasionally be heard. We have heard of temples dedicated to pursuits of knowledge, for the propagation of sociability and exaltation of the human race; for the quiet converse of warm-hearted and sympathetic friends; that constitute great brotherhoods, but ye know not whereof ye speak, until ye gaze into the portals of the "Temple of Fashion" and drink in, with open-mouth and protruding eyes, the wondrous art there displayed in whole gaires and Reams. Step into Orth's market and look at his new Murray chopping machine. It has two cranks, four knives and revolving box, weighs 475 pounds and costs $125. Mr. A. Fisher will not move his family to San Francisco, as intended. He will probably drift into business here again. Have you seen Mrs. Stephens? Do you know Mrs. Jenis? I saw a "Strong" man reclining in the arms of a friend, on California street, entirely overcome by the weight of responsibility resting upon him in waiting for the termination of the Indian war, to resume business. I have since learned he has gone to the front with a few Gatling guns and a small arsenal. The battle is not always with the "Strong."
