The Indias War of 1853 Affair of Lieut. B. B. Griffin on Applegate.

On receipt of the news of the murder of Edward Edwards, on the 4th of Au gust, a volunteer company was found in the apper part of Rogue River Val lay, consisting all, of twelve men under the leadership of Isaac Hill, with head quarters at the house of Alberding & Durn. (Fred. Alberding and Pat Dunn), owned at present by Gen. J. C.

Tolman. In order to ascertain the intention of of the Indians, Capt. Hill on the 6: of Aux., proceeded with his command to the Indian Camp, situated on Bear Creek, about five and a half miles above the present site of Ashland. It was intended by the volunteers, if po-sible, Shaving Shampooing, Dyeing, to have a friendly talk with the Indians, but if they showed signs of hostility to attack them as they were standing menace to the upper settlement, and were, without doubt, interested in the mur der of Elwards, on the 4 h of August. The volunteers divided their forces into three parties, one going down the creek, one up, and the other, going di rectly across in the direction of the In dian camp. The object of this move was to prevent their escape in case they attempted to do so. The party going up the creek, consisting of Pat Dann. Capt. Thos. Smith, Wm. Taylor and Andrew B. Carter, arrived at the In dian camp a little in advance of the others, and first attracted the attention of the Indians. The latter immediately Repairing promp by and the apply done.
