

THE ASHLAND TIDINGS

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1879

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Some moon. Delightful weather. Temperance items plenty this week. The Academy property is to be sold tomorrow.

Don't forget to pay due homage to St. Valentine. Butter, eggs, bacon, lard and onions for sale at Reeser's.

Mr. Chris. Bailey, of Plover, was in town the other day. Wednesday was a day for Phoenix Wednesday evening.

Wm. Bybee, Jr., of Jacksonville was in Ashland this week. The people of Elensburg are awake upon the railroad question.

The doctors complain that it is "dreadfully healthy about Ashland." It will take spring rains to put the farmer in perfect good humor.

Up to last Wednesday over $12,000 of county taxes had been collected. Now is the time to have your job printing done promptly at this office.

Mrs. M. Cally, of Jacksonville, fell and broke her arm on Thursday of last week. P. S. Terwilliger has purchased W. Evans' lower farm at Little Shasta for $6,500.

Alex. Martin, of Jacksonville, will remove with his family to Oakland, Cal., in the spring. There is four feet of snow on the Green Springs mountain, on the Southern Oregon wagon road.

S. B. Ramsey started from Langell valley one day last week with 150 head of cattle for the San Francisco market. Farmers all through the valley are busy plowing and sowing, and are hoping the freezing weather is about over.

Mr. W. S. Hemphill has moved into his new residence on Granite street, which was finished a short time since. Douglas county's pro rata of State taxes, amounting to $14,263.86, has all been paid into the State Treasury.

The revival meetings continue with a good attendance every evening. Many young people have professed religion. The straggling Indians in the Lake country are being collected by U. S. troops and will be sent to the Yakima reservation.

These meeting dental work done would do well to bear in mind that Dr. Jackson will be in Ashland about the first of March. The West Shore for January is full of interesting matter and sustains the assertion that this periodical improves with every number.

The Yreka Journal says petroleum has been discovered near Yreka, but the discoverers refuse to make known just where it is present. Mr. Wm. G. West, of Oakland, Cal., home to Ashland last Saturday to visit old friends. He was a resident of Jacksonville sixteen years ago.

Lucius Biddle, of Yreka, died last Friday morning, of consumption. He was well known in that section and his funeral was very largely attended. A gentleman of Josephine county has furnished us a number of historical sketches, which we shall publish as soon as our space will give opportunity.

Mr. Geo. Hill, who has been clerking for Inlow Bros., at Eagle Point for some time, returned to his home in Ashland last week, intending to remain here for the present. Mr. Rigdon informs us that the emigration people all over the county are much interested in the convention at Plover on the 20th, and there will be a large attendance.

The law which prohibited postmasters receiving anything but treasury and national bank notes in payment of money orders has been repealed, and gold and silver are now received. The work of clearing the channel of the creek in Wagner's meadow has been continued by Mr. Fox, who has been shattering the bowlders and rattling our windows with blasting powder.

It is reported upon good authority that Mr. El. Cawley and wife, who were married but a short time ago, have separated. Mrs. Cawley has returned to the home of her father at Rock Point. Says the Sentinel: Eighty acres of the "Horn's" property, lying on a tract to satisfy a judgment in favor of Abner Dand was sold by Deputy Sheriff Seybert on Saturday. It was purchased by Wm. Hoffman for $150.

Mr. J. D. Fountain has been confined to the house since last Saturday with a severe cold and sore throat, in consequence of which he was unable to attend the funeral of his father on Tuesday last. He has nearly recovered, however, and will be able to attend to business as usual.

The union meeting in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening last, was the largest ever held in Ashland. Every seat was filled and many were standing. Rev. Geo. Nutley delivered the regular sermon, which was followed by brief remarks and exhortations from Rev. W. T. Chapman and J. H. Mayfield.

Remember Gillette is busy making those of his townsmen who are fortunate enough to possess any of this world's goods that are taxable show up their hands, and swear that "to the best of their knowledge and belief" etc. He will finish this week, and in next week's issue we can tell the value of the town.

We have been informed that Ed. DePeatt, Father Wald and others contemplate making Jacksonville a visit tomorrow, and a prominent church member suggests that it is due to the people of the county seat that they be warned in time to look out for them. We trust they may not be led into temptation.

VALENTINES.—Dr. Cartwood has just received a magnificent assortment of Valentines. The selection embraces every variety of style—from the most delicate and elaborate to the most ludicrous and absurd. He has enough to supply the town. Give him a call.

COMING TO OREGON.—Persons in Portland are in daily receipt of letters from the Eastern States soliciting information about Oregon. The writers say that the immigration this year will be very large and composed of people well to do and who will come to remain.—Herald.

COMING BACK.—Tim Connelly, one of the oldest and most substantial citizens of Jacksonville county, has just returned from San Francisco. He brings information that Hon. Jas. D. Fay, who has been practicing law in San Francisco for several years, intends returning to Salem and engaging in the practice of law.—Standard.

FOUND.—Mr. D. P. Brittain, of Phoenix, called upon us the other day, and left three photographic cards, which he picked up in the road near Phoenix. Two of them are full length, cabinet pictures of ladies and the third is a card photo of a gentleman. They may be had at this office.

APPLES.—Mr. W. C. Greenman, of the firm of Greenman & Rygers, who are farming the Tolman ranch, brought us the other day a basketful of the finest apples we have had the good fortune to meet this year. These gentlemen have about 500 bushels of apples for sale, and those who want to buy would do well to give them a call.

PROBABLY DRUNKEN.—S. Allen, who conducted a restaurant in this city last winter, is supposed to have been drowned. A week ago Monday he borrowed a boat of Dave West, of Garden Station for the purpose of crossing the river. The man nor the boat have not been seen since, although search has been made. It is to be hoped that the supposition may prove unfounded.—Roeber's Star.

BALL ON THE HILL.—Messrs. Zimmerman & Frizer, who have given two successful parties this season, have made arrangements for another on the evening of St. Valentine's Day. Their management insures a pleasant evening to all who may be present, and they will no doubt have a large attendance. Stupper will be furnished by Mr. Honek. For further particulars read their advertisement in another column.

A PANTHER HUNT.—We learn that there was quite a panther hunt at Grider's on the Klamath last week. A panther killed and carried off one of Mr. Grider's hogs, and he and one of his neighbors organized themselves into a posse consisting of five men, and tracked and with the aid of their dogs and killed him. The varmint was a very large one. They also got a wild cat or two while on their hunt.—Yreka Union.

LOSS FLEW.—The Hankley's, of Ailin, Modoc county, Cal., says: "We are creditably informed that a company is soon to be organized, having for its object the construction of a Y. V. line for shipping lumber, wood, posts, and such material from the extensive mill of Mr. G. G. Lupton, to Ailin. The distance is said to be about eight miles, and the cost of construction estimated at about $20,000. The fall of Ash creek in this place is admirable to assist the transit thus desired, and the belt of timber the Bims would tap is inexhaustible."

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.—On last Friday morning, Uriah S. Hayden, one of the old pioneers of Southern Oregon died at his home in Jacksonville at the ripe age of 70 years. From a biographical sketch in the Sentinel we learn he was a native of Connecticut. He came to Oregon in 1850 and settled in Marion county, but remained there only two years, coming to Jacksonville county in 1852. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. A. Williams, and six members of the Pioneer Society, L. J. C. Danan, J. B. Wray, Peter Britt, M. Hanley, S. J. Day and Thos. F. Beall were pall bearers.

AN INTERESTING FAMILY.—We have an old pioneer in Jackson county, Mr. James Savage, of Rogue river, who has raised a family of thirteen children, and we challenge Oregon to match it for musical and mechanical talent. The boys, four in number, are between the ages of fourteen and twenty-three, and have manufactured by their own unaided labor three violins and a bass viol, all of exquisite tone and finish, and on which they execute difficult music, having been without an instructor. The instruments are made of Oregon cedar and maple, and but recently one of the boys was offered forty dollars, which was refused, for his violin. The boys can make a rick or a wagon, shoe a horse, mend a clock or watch, work out an algebraic problem, saw a pick in the middle or follow a reaper with equal success. The girls of the family, nine in number, have the same musical talent and are not ashamed to wrestle with the kitchen work nor afraid to mount a bucking horse or row their skiff across the river even when it is dangerously swollen. They are a specimen of Oregon "Savages" that ask no aid from their government—they can paddle their own canoe.—Sentinel.

SHOT BY INDIANS.—We learn that on Friday the 17th inst., James McGarvey who lives about twenty-two miles up the Klamath from W. S. Tucker's place, was shot by an Indian in the back. The shot, it is thought, will prove fatal. The particulars of the affair, as related by two Indians who came down from there on Saturday to Tucker's place is as follows: Two white men were stopping at McGarvey's, and one of them had a revolver and offered the Indians a reward of five dollars to find it. When the weapon was produced they refused to pay the five dollars which caused a quarrel. Mr. McGarvey who was not a party in the affair, thinking to lighten the Indians' hand, drew a revolver and fired several shots, when one of the Indians fearing he might get shot, threw him self down and rolled over a bank near by, which caused the others to think he was shot, who thereupon drew a revolver or gun. Mr. McGarvey the ball taking effect in the back and passing through the abdomen. On Saturday when the Indians who brought down the news left Mr. McGarvey still alive, but thought to be near his end. Mr. McGarvey was formerly a resident of this place and favorably known.—Crescent City Courier.

LAKE VIEW LETTER.

Our regular correspondent sends us the following under date of January 28th: The Sunday law is rigidly observed in Lakeview, though the motive that prompts this obedience originates more in the fear of civil law than in pious inclination. We very seldom have any one to administer spiritual consolation to us on this day, and as the weather is unsuitable for outdoor exercise, the monotony of the fireside is only relieved by reading, and occasionally listening to long narratives of adventure such as are characteristic of the frontier.

Many of the boys of this place have evidently, at some time, been dwellers in a colder climate, as they are proficient in the art of skating. That amusement, however, has terminated for the time, and probably for the season, the ice on the lake being partially broken up and the remainder covered with snow. Stock in this vicinity does not appear to be doing very well. However, no serious losses are yet reported.

The numerous failures in regard to the arrivals and departures of the WESTERN MAILS. Have for sometime been one of the main topics of conversation and the cause of great dissatisfaction, and from our knowledge of the matter we are under the impression that the people have just cause for complaint. Rumors are current to the effect that the postal authorities of the state have been notified of the condition of affairs Mr. Colwell is a veteran in the mail service, and is evidently aware of the duties and responsibility of the position he occupies. The force that is placed on this end of the route is wholly insufficient to render the services needed to bring us a daily mail through on schedule time, there being but one carrier between this place and Gearhart's station on Sprague river, a distance of about fifty miles. Consequently, we have no assurance of a daily mail until additional force is placed on the route.

Our own, as one might predict, is quite bad, though there is occasionally an occurrence productive of FUN FOR THE BOYS. The other evening, two young men who occupy rooms on Main street, were about to store themselves away for the night when the rattling of chains commenced at the window in a manner that would almost suggest the presence of an evil genius. After a repetition of the noise a search proved the intruder to be a town cat, who was just taking a nocturnal ramble and at the same time serenading the town with a bundle of chains.

The editor of a local paper not a thousand miles from here deserves much credit as a news gatherer, and not long since meeting a friend who had recently visited a neighboring town, he "sneak" him for an item, which was written and handed in in due time and found to be a lively one, and was headed: A SHOCKING REVENGE!

D. O. Yarbrough this time informs us that a few weeks ago the remains of two O-haho's braves were found in Warner Valley, pierced with rifle-balls, evidently the work of some enraged ranchman. But as the Indian is noted for his vigilance and never ceasing efforts to avenge a wrong committed upon one of his tribe and kindred, on Tuesday of last week the lifeless body of one J. A. R. Abbit, was found on the road leaving from Camp Bidwell to Warner Valley, so mangled and mutilated as to be almost beyond recognition by his most intimate friends. This is indeed the time when the protective arm of the state should be thrown around the isolated and unprotected settler. Will the governor still persist in his efforts to wrast from the frontiersman, his only means of defense? The editor seemingly somewhat amazed, and after being wrapped in meditation for a moment, exclaimed: "I'll be 'tally raminquized!" and jumped up and started to place the item on the hook when his attention was called to the orthography. Just at this time the reported business in some other part of town. We, of course, expected to see the item in the next issue of the paper but it failed to appear.

MORE SOLDIERS.—Mr. Brown, of the firm of Brown & Harris, who have the contract for furnishing the live consumed by the boys in bids at Fort Klamath, informs us that another regiment is expected at the Fort about the 1st of March. This with those boys there will make the whole number stationed at that post about 1,200. If this report be correct, Fort Klamath will be the headquarters for military operations in the eastern country.

ASHLAND WOOLLEN MFG CO.—On the first of February Messrs. J. S. Thornton, W. H. Anderson, Jacob Wagner and E. K. Atkinson associated themselves together for the purpose of prosecuting the business of the woollen mill in this place. The firm is styled "The Ashland Woollen Manufacturing Company," and as it is composed of men who have the capital, energy and ability to carry on an extensive trade, we look for a very material increase in the amount of the business done at the mill.

ANOTHER TELEPHONE.—Mr. M. Bunn now has a telephone connecting his home with the store. It is one of the Acoustic telephones, like that of Mr. Kemp, of which we gave a description some time since. It took but a few hours to put it up, and it will be of great service, saving Mr. Bunn much inconvenience. We interviewed him in the store the other day while he was finishing his noonday pie at the other end of the line, and could hear the rattling snicker as he brought his molars together upon them.

PHOENIX, Jan. 28, 1879. EDITOR TIDINGS:— Will you once more permit me to say a few words to your numerous readers on the subject of intemperance? It is a subject that will bear much repetition, and although it is almost next to impossible to say anything entirely new, still it is by constant repetition alone, by keeping the matter ever present to the minds of the people, that any good can be accomplished. And is there not a need that something be done? Can any one look abroad; and see the amount of crime and degradation, want and misery, caused by the use of intoxicating drinks and not wish that the mighty arm of Omnipotence itself, might be invoked to stay at once and forever the use and traffic of this deadly poison. But, I am sorry to say, human nature is proverbially selfish, and is not apt to go out of the way or trouble itself with the woes or wants of others. But there is one part of the subject that will appeal directly to those whom appeals for suffering humanity may not touch. This is the pecuniary part. There are many persons of whom it may be said: You touch their pocket which is their only valuable part. Do these persons ever think how much they are paying yearly for their spathy? Do they know how many millions of dollars are paid out every year for the support of orphan asylums, homes for the destitute, and kindred establishments, made necessary by the use of intoxicating drinks? Do they know how many millions are paid annually for support and prosecution of criminals, made so by the use of the stillhouse poison? Only a short time ago the people of our county were shocked by the news that one of our fellow citizens, while under the influence of liquor, had, in cold blood and unprovoked, shot down a fellow man. Count the cost of his incarceration and punishment and see if you like it. You who would not put your hand in your pocket and give that man a dollar to buy bread, will be compelled to pay for his crime. And you say you do not care! Let those drink who like. You do care; and if once brought to a realizing sense of your interest in the matter you would never rest until you had so remodeled the laws of our country that the manufacture or sale of ardent spirits would be impossible. And you would soon be seen working shoulder to shoulder with your brother, whose very soul turns sick, as he thinks of the misery and crime caused by the use of intoxicating drinks and whom you now deride. Now I wish to be understood. I am speaking to no one
