

Scissoring.
Herbert Spencer lately testified before a Parliamentary Commission that he lost $6,000 in fifteen years on his works, though during all that time he lived in the most economical way. It took him twenty-four years to get even again.

Several monster trout have lately been caught in Tahoe. One weighing twenty seven pounds, another weighing eighteen pounds, and numbers of them weighing from ten to twelve pounds. They were caught near McKinney's.

Parties in New York are about to start a floating theatre. It is pretty hard to keep a theatre afloat in these times. Even Noah's floating menagerie, the most wonderful collection of animals the world ever knew, only lasted about forty days, when it ran aground. No opposition out against it either.

There is one thing about a farm, said the granger-looking man from Guthrie Centre, that isn't improved by consolidation. And what is that? asked the young man from Adar. Post holes, young man, said the old party, oraciously, post holes; they ain't good for nothing if you run 'em together or bunch 'em.

To classical student—You ask if At las supported the world, what support ed Atlas? The question, dear sir, has often been asked, but never, so far as we are aware, satisfactorily answered. We have always been of the opinion that Atlas must have married a rich wife and got his support from her father.

Women are admitted this year for the first time to all the examinations and degrees of the University of London without exception, on precisely the same terms as men. At the winter matriculation, two weeks ago, there were nearly 600 candidates altogether, and eleven of these were young ladies. One lady presented herself at the examination for the degree of bachelor of laws. These are the first twelve ladies who have been admitted to the regular examinations of any English university.

GREENLAND COURTSHIP
When the Danish missionaries had secured the confidence of the Greenlanders marriage was made a religious ceremony. Formerly the man married the woman as the Romans did the Sabine women, by force. One of the missionaries, writing in his journal describes the style of present courtship as follows:

The suitor coming to the Missionary, says, "I should like to have a wife."
"Whom?" asks the missionary. The man names the woman.
"Hast thou spoken to her?"
"Yes; she is not unwilling, but thou knowest womankind."
"More frequently the answer is "No."
"Why not?"
"It is difficult; girls are prudish. Thou must speak to her."
The missionary summons the girl, and after a little conversation says: "I think it is time to have thee married."
"I won't marry."
"What a pity! I had a suitor for thee."
"Whom?"
The missionary names the man who has sought his aid.
"He is good for nothing, I won't have him."
"But," replies the missionary, "he is a good provider; he throws his harpoon with skill, and he loves thee."
Though listening to his praise with evident pleasure, the girl answers: "I won't marry him; I won't have him."
"Well, I won't force thee. I shall soon find a wife for such a clever fellow."
The missionary remains silent, as though he understood her "no" to have ended the matter.

At last, with a sigh, she whispers, "Just as thou wilt have it, missionary."
"No," replies the clergyman, "as thou wilt; I'll not persuade thee."
Then, with a deep groan comes "yes," and the matter is settled.

SENATOR GROVER VS. GOVERNOR GROVER.
(Salem Statesman.)

Senator Grover in his explanation speech delivered in the Senate of the United States on the 9th of January said: "Not an acre of the university lands nor of the indemnity common school lands, granted in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections occupied by settlers before survey, had been listed to the State, though these grants were twenty years old. The agricultural college and salt springs grants had been lost by neglect." Gov. Grover in his inaugural message to the legislature of 1870, in speaking of the university lands, on page 11, says: "These lands have been located and many of them sold, and the funds arising from the sales have been invested to use of the university fund, but in what amounts I have not now the means of stating."

On page 12 of the same message in speaking of the agricultural college he says: "This grant has been accepted by the State and provisions for the location of the lands have been duly made, and the lands have been selected and of excellent quality and location." Comment is unnecessary.

DEAD AND ALIVE AGAIN.—Particulars of a very singular occurrence have just come to light. It appears that a Mrs. Owenslagle who lives about five or six miles south-west of Portland was taken suddenly and violently ill several days ago, and in a short time died to all appearances. The remains gave every indication that the vital spark had forever flown. The friends and relatives were convinced that the lady was dead, and preparations were accordingly made for the interment of the remains. Saturday, the body was dressed for burial and placed in a coffin. The friends began to collect at the residence of the bereaved family. Suddenly a slight moan was heard to issue from the coffin in which the body had but recently been placed. This very unexpected noise greatly startled the assembled neighbors and the people were about to rush from the room, when the husband of the supposed deceased lady approached the coffin, was astonished to find the body moist and warm. A closer examination revealed the fact that the woman was breathing. Restoratives were applied and the supposed dead came back to life and was soon able to sit up and converse. It is needless to add that the father and other members of the family were overjoyed to have the wife and mother restored to them. Singular as this circumstance may seem, we are assured that it is true in every particular.—Oregonian.
