

The citizens of San Francisco, who have regarded the vapors of the sand lot rabble with contempt and indifference in the past, have apparently awakened to the realization that while Kearney's threats and mouthings may be mere idle wind so far as any real or great danger to the city from mob violence is concerned, the sand lot agitators have effected great injury to the business interests and prospects of the city. Capital has been frightened away, new enterprises have been nipped in the bud by the general distrust abroad of the safety of investments in the city, and it is evident to even a casual observer that the city has suffered seriously from the disturbances.

At last the substantial citizens have concluded that forbearance is no longer a duty. After some particularly venomous and incendiary talk from Kearney about erecting a gallows on the sand lots for the hanging of certain prominent men, it was thought time to take some measures for suppressing the ravings of the insane leaders of the would-be Jacobites, as well as to take precaution against whatever chance there might be of attempted violence, and a vigilance committee was formed somewhat after the plan of the very effective organization of '56. The most respectable and most respected citizens are numbered among the supporters of this movement, and it is evidently not a mere attempt to frighten the agitators. The respectable portion of San Francisco's population has unquestionably shown great tolerance to the rabble, but we mistake the spirit of the citizens if they do not promptly put down, cost what it may, the dangerous element of insurrection and anarchy.

Upon the issuance of the manifesto of the vigilantes, the infamous demagogue Kallloch, who owes his position as Mayor of the city to the votes of the Kearnyites, to whose anarchic ideas and communistic hopes he has pandered with the most despicable assiduity, published a proclamation in which he asserted that the class which assumes the name of "Workingmen" in San Francisco is grossly misrepresented by the manifesto of the citizens' committee; that the sand lotters are peaceable, industrious citizens, who have refrained from violence under the greatest provocation, out of their respect for peace and order. Indeed, one would think from Kallloch's proclamation that the sand lotters are model citizens, who would be an honor to any city or country. Such villainous demagogism has seldom been equaled. Kallloch is more pernicious than Kearney, for he is more powerful, and possesses the brains and the education to command attention where Kearney would be unnoticed; and if active measures should be rendered necessary on the part of the vigilance committee it is altogether probable that Kallloch would be among the first to receive the justice which the peculiar circumstances seem to have placed just without the pale of the ordinary operation of our laws.

As to the organization of the "Protective Union" of the citizens, the Chronicle says: "As many as 12,000 citizens came forward, the first day after the movement was made public, spontaneously and unsolicited, and offered themselves and their names, and many have been adding their names since. This unexpected movement shows how deep a feeling there is among the hitherto quiet, long-suffering, law-abiding and law-respecting men of this community. The central body of the Union is composed of 200 of the leading business men of this city, with an inner council of twenty, all of them men long connected and identified with the best interests of San Francisco, and bearing unblemished and respected names in every relation of their lives."

The official report of the House called for on the motion of Representative Horace Davis, says the San Francisco Examiner, will make a startling exhibit of the existence of slavery in China, and show that the representation of the Six Companies and others engaged in importing Coolies to this Coast are grossly and designedly false. These coolies are slaves or serfs, and as such they are imported as so many cattle from China, for their labor market to crowd from employment free laboring men and women, boys and girls. This infamous traffic is carried on in defiance of the clause of the Burlingame Treaty, which definitely forbids anything of the kind.

Senator Ben Hill has a scandal case on his hands which is creating much comment.

The Salem Statesman has been figuring upon the cost of the penitentiary to the people of the state under the old administration and under the new. The editor says: "Comparisons are said to be odious, but the friends of the old and new administration have been endeavoring to make each other odious in this way for some time, and the last effort makes a very strong showing in favor of the new administration which started out to be economic, not virtuous." After comparing the expenditures under the different administrations, the result is summed up as follows: "Watkins expended in five quarters with an average of 92 convicts, $47,517 03. Bush for the five quarters with an average of 175 convicts expended $22,971.27, a difference of $24,545.27, in favor of Bush's administration. From the foregoing tables it will be seen that under Watkins' administration it cost $516 48 to keep one prisoner five quarters, while under Bush's for the same length of time it cost only $131.26."

The Senate has passed the bill for the reclamation of arid and waste lands. It authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to contract for the sinking of two artesian wells on the plains east of the Rocky Mountains, said wells to be sunk at such places as the Secretary may designate, and wherever the site of either of such wells shall be designated, the Secretary is directed to declare a reservation of four square miles, with said site as nearly as possible in center thereof, and the lands so surveyed shall not be subject to sale or disposal under the laws of the United States until such reservation has been released. Twenty thousand dollars are appropriated to carry the act into effect.

The New York Commercial, commenting upon the manifesto of the vigilance committee of San Francisco, says: "All this means one thing—one thing only—and that is a fixed resolution to put down hoodlumism and Kearnyism by any means it may be found necessary to employ. California is saved. There is no longer a question about it. Capital is being withdrawn. The mining interest has begun to center in New York and a general feeling of apprehension is growing. The better class of people are at last waking up to a sense of the serious blunder that has been committed."

The bill agreed upon by the House Education and Labor Committee to restrict Chinese immigration has been reported to the House of Representatives and will likely be passed during the session. It is an exact copy of the fifteen-passenger bill passed by Congress last year, except that the section expressly providing for an absolute abrogation of two articles of the Burlingame treaty is omitted. This is the section upon which the President based his veto.

Oliver Dalrymple, the great Minnesota farmer, intends to cultivate 30,000 acres of wheat this year. He will have 20 steam threshers in operation, with 135 reaping machines. Last year he employed 600 laborers, and this year he will increase the number to 700.

The Fitz John Porter bill was tabled in the Senate last week, chiefly by Democratic votes. The Republican members preferred, it is said, that the discussion should continue, as they considered it as making political capital for their party.

All appointments of enumerators made by the Census Supervisors are subject to the confirmation or rejection of the Bureau at Washington. One enumerator to each 4,000 of population is the apportionment aimed at by Superintendent Walker.

A dispatch informs us that the House Committee on Claims has agreed to report favorably on a bill appropriating $3,500 for the relief of A. B. McEacham, for injuries received while in the service of the United States during the Modoc outbreak.

The politicians, with eight years of Grant, the Indianapolis News, Independent, asserts, nearly ruined the Republican party. They want just one more chance to finish their work. They are able architects of ruin.

The Philadelphia Times says: "Up to the present time Blaine has had all the booms and Grant has captured all the delegates. This can hardly be called a fair division."

Grant was to leave Cuba for the United States on the 15th. He will go to Denver and visit the mining regions of Colorado.

In a letter to a Chicago friend Sherman contradicts the rumor that he has retired from the Presidential race.

The New York Herald's Irish relief fund by the middle of February had reached the magnificent proportions of $200,692.56, including its own generous subscription of one hundred thousand dollars.

Secretary Sherman has been assured by the chairman of the Ohio Republican Executive Committee that he may rely upon a solid Ohio delegation to Chicago.

A bill prohibiting the playing of cards, dice and other games, for drinks has passed the assembly of California, and will probably become a law.

Parnell has returned to Europe. He raised two hundred thousand dollars during his visit.
