

THE ASHLAND TIDINGS

FRIDAY, APRIL 2, 1880.

WEA HER REPORT.

The following is the weather report furnished us by H. C. Hill, for the week ending March 21st. Thermometer recorded at 6 A. M. and 12 M.

DATE	WEATHER	6 A. M.	12 M.
25	Snow, 1 inch.	32	46
26	cloudy.	32	52

FOR RENT.—The house known as the Vining Boarding House is for rent upon reasonable terms. For particulars apply to Mrs. Vining at the Union Hotel.

BACON AND LARD WANTED.—At the Pioneer Store, where the highest market price will be paid for the same.

BUTLER & ROCKFELLOW.—The time to buy—Now is the time to buy woolen goods, gent's furnishing goods, clothing, etc., at a bargain at Butler & Rockfellow's, where they are selling at reduced prices, to make room for the new spring stock.

CHANCE FOR A LOGGING CONTRACT.—The undersigned wishes to enter into a contract with some responsible logger who will get out 500,000 feet of saw logs for his new mill, a few miles above Ashland. For particulars, apply to JOHN CHANDLER, Ashland, Ogn. 40-41.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.—Rev. F. X. Blanchet, of Jacksonville, gratefully acknowledges the receipt of the sum of $42, which the generous citizens of Linkville, Lake county, kindly donated to the Irish Relief Fund. The amount has been forwarded to the Bishop of Galway.

BARGAINS.—For the next sixty days Fountain & Farlow will give you bargains in all kinds of merchandise as they wish to make room for new goods—and they would prefer to sell goods very low to moving them to their new store, which they expect to occupy within the next two months. They mean business.

NOTICE.—All water dues owing to the West Ashland Ditch Company to date, if not paid within thirty days to Eugene Walrad, Collector, will be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. By order of the Board of Directors. 40-41. A. V. GILLETTE, Secy. ASHLAND, March 1st, 1880.

WAGON ROAD SURVEY.—The Crescent City Courier of April 24th says: In a few days a petition will be circulated for the purpose of raising Del Norte's share of the amount necessary to survey the route for the new wagon road. The total cost of the survey is estimated at $700, and this county is expected to furnish one-third of that sum. One firm has signified its willingness to give $50 of the amount.

COLUMBIA RIVER BAR.—This subject is agitating the minds of the people of Oregon to a great extent, and reminds one of the time when Capt. Eads constructed the jetties in the Mississippi river. But all those topics of the day are thrown in the shade since the introduction of the celebrated Oregon Kidney Tea. The first case it has failed to cure in complaints of the kidneys and bladder, is yet to be heard from.

INCORRECT.—The report in the Northern California papers that Chas. Davis, of Minersville, had thrown his son out of a window and killed him, and also caused the death of another son by driving him out in the cold, proves to be incorrect. Davis was in Shasta valley at the time it is reported the crimes were committed, and the son reported killed was there at work with him. The boy who died had been sick, and exposed himself, thus causing his death.

VERNELLES.—The Vernelle dramatic troupe gave an entertainment in Houck's Hall on Thursday night, and, notwithstanding their late arrival, which caused the impression to spread that they would not play on that night, they had a good audience. The members of the company were all tired by their rough trip over the Siskiyou, but gave a lively performance, which was well received, and elicited frequent applause. The troupe went to Jacksonville, and, returning, gave a second performance in Ashland on Wednesday evening, having a much larger audience than at their first appearance. They are on a tour through Oregon.

SHEEP LOST.—Maj. Barton counted his sheep one day last week, and discovered that he had lost during the winter about 1,800 from his band of 3,100. This was a surprise, as he had no idea the loss would be so heavy. The sheep had been given a good deal of attention and feed, and it was supposed they were wintering much better than the count has shown. The severity of the winter, although it has been much commented upon is just being fully realized, and it is safe to say that no previous winter since settlement here was first made by the whites was worse upon stock.

CATTLE DRIVE.—Col. Joe. Teal expects to drive 10,000 head of cattle from Eastern Oregon and Washington to Cheyenne this season. He will require about 40 herders and drivers. Teal is in Wasco county now, making purchases. Oregon cattle are greatly sought after by eastern dealers, and is estimated that nearly 100,000 head will be driven from the state, including those purchased in the John Day and Harney valley country to be sent to California. Fully one-half of this number has already been secured for the eastern market, and buyers are still in the field gathering up every hoof they can find.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Republican primaries to-morrow. Snow is over three feet deep at Fort Klamath.

Chicken thieves are annoying the people about Yreka.

J. C. Durkee offers for sale his house and lot on Granite street. Particulars in another column.

What little hay is left in Lake county is worth $40 per ton.

We should be glad to hear from more of our correspondents.

C. H. Williams has started a brick-yard near Jacksonville.

Lucien B. Applegate returned from Lake county last Friday.

Douglas county will spend about $10,000 for bridges this season.

Mr. Casto, one of the Phoenix School Directors, was in Ashland on Tuesday, in the interest of the school.

Douglas county has 60 school districts and 3,780 persons of school age.

J. R. Bailey has sold his place on Foot's creek to A. Koster for $400.

The Good Templar's entertainment will be given on Friday evening, April 23d.

There is talk of removing the Willamette University from Salem to Portland.

Maj. Fox, U. S. Paymaster, paid the boys at Fort Klamath a visit last week.

Benton county and Washington county have nominated full tickets for county offices.

The last storm caught a number of our farmers with their fields plowed and ready for the sowing, but with the grain not yet sown.

The Misses Anderson are having a handsome awning built in front of their millinery store.

W. C. Myer's handsome young horse, "Arabian Boy" will make the season in Douglas county.

B. F. Myer was in town last Thursday, the first time since his accident. He uses a crutch still.

Ladd Savage and Dan Cardwell, of Jacksonville, were in Ashland last week, and made us a short call.

A good many trees were blown down on the road between Ashland and Linkville during the last storm.

Morris Baum and wife went to Jacksonville last Friday to spend a week with their relatives in that place.

Miss Millie Vining will teach the Van Dyke district school for a term of three months, beginning next Monday.

The fifteen puzzle is among us, sowing the seeds of insanity, we suppose. It may be seen at the Ashland Drug Store.

A very pleasant little social party was given at Mrs. Vining's last Saturday evening, in honor of Miss Cora Linn, of Jacksonville.

Mark Armstrong will build a dwelling house on his brother's lot on Factory street, as soon as he can obtain the necessary lumber.

O. R. Myer is building for rent a store on his lot next to Houck's hotel. The building is to be 20x36 feet, and will be nearly finished.

Stages on the Overland route are still running as they have been, the recent storm having prevented the contemplated change in time.

Jesse Dollarhide & Son have been repairing and improving their Siskiyou Mountain toll road, and will put it in the best condition possible.

The heaviest taxpayer in Douglas county is the O. & C. R. R. Co. It paid this year $2,970. Fendal Sutherland comes next, paying $816.

The storm which left seven inches of snow in Ashland last Saturday dropped rain chiefly, instead of snow, at Phoenix and further down the valley.

J. Q. Willis has taken the Union-town school for a term of six months. The people of that section are fortunate in securing so good a teacher.

Lost—On Friday evening last, a red coral cuff pin. The handsome finder will be rewarded providing it is left at this office, or with Miss Froeline Erb.

New mines have been discovered on Cow creek, this county, which are said to promise well. The snow has prevented working prospecting up to this time.

John Holt has begun work on the foundation of the new Presbyterian church at Jacksonville, and it is expected the building will be ready for use by August.

The Plainsdealer says: "Several prominent wool-growers of this vicinity have contracted with Roseburg merchants to deliver their wool for thirty cents per pound."

The Sentinel says J. B. Wrisley and Enoch Walker have sent for enough seed of the amber cane to plant twenty acres, and have also purchased machinery for sugar making.

A young man named Kinser, was killed by a base ball from the hands of the pitcher in a match at Red Bluff, Cal., on the 21st ult. The ball struck him in the temple.

The largest bridge in Oregon will be finished shortly at Vancouver. It will be 3,300 feet long; the roadway is 18 feet in width, and the turn in the center is 24 feet wide.

The Yakima Record estimates that the losses of stock in Yakima county, W. T., will not exceed ten per cent. of the whole. A remarkably good showing considering the severe winter.

The following beautiful stopping places are said to be on the route to the Skagit mines: Death Canyon, Jacob's Ladder, Frozen Hell, Skeleton Pass, Sepulchre Swamp, and Sour Dough Mountain.

W. F. Powell was shot and killed by A. M. Farrier at Lebanon, Lin county, last week. Farrier delivered himself to the authorities. There had been trouble between the men about Powell's wife.

We call your attention to the advertisement of Mr. Reeser in another column. Mr. Reeser is one of the reliable merchants of the town and will give you full weight and measure for your money.

A black substance, resembling coal, was brought to The Dalles by J. W. Allen. It was found on Mill creek, a short distance back of town. It burns freely, and is thought by many to be the outcroppings of a coal ledge.

Madam Holt, of the Franco-American in Jacksonville, has bought the hotel business of G. M. Coburn in that place, and will continue to give entertainment to the public in the same satisfactory manner that she has in the past.

Lieut. C. B. Backus, who takes Lieut. Shelton's place in L. Co., 1st Cavalry, passed through town this week, on the way to Fort Klamath. His wife accompanied him as far as Jacksonville, where she will remain until the roads are better.

The "Congressional Record," containing full reports of the proceedings of Congress, including the speeches of members, now comes regularly to the Ashland Library, for which the members of the Association are indebted to Congressman Whiteaker.

By inadvertence on our part, Mr. Richardson's card last week was made to contain the assertion that the stalk of the sugar cane after the juice is expressed is as good feed as corn fodder. Mr. Richardson meant us to say that the leaves and the seed, or grain, are as good as the common corn.

Ashland lays claim to the distinction of holding the champion philosopher. We have a man in town who contemptuously rejects the theory that the earth is a sphere, and offers to wager $5 that he can convince any college professor in a half-hour's argument that the earth is flat.

Howlah Wampo, the old chief of the Cayuse Indians, died at the Umatilla reservation last week. He was peaceable and friendly to the whites, and preserved the lives of the white settlers in Oregon in early days. His funeral was attended by over one thousand people, including many citizens of Umatilla county.

Samuel J. Newsome, assessor of Wasco county, states that the stock on Ochoo, and the western part of Wasco county, has gone through the winter in tolerable condition, but on the higher lands of Wasco, Grant and Baker counties, east and southeast, the loss of stock has been very great, sheep and cattle suffering the most.

The courtmartial at Vancouver trying the charges against Capt. Riley ended its labors last week, and the witnesses who were called from Fort Klamath have been returning, a few at a time. Col. Whipple has gone to Ft. Lapwai, to assist in another courtmartial, we understand, and will not return to his post for two or three weeks.

The plastering of the M. E. Church has been completed, and it is expected that the opening services will be held in the building one week from next Sunday. In appearance and comfort the church has been greatly improved since it was last used, and the arched ceiling will doubtless make it the best auditorium in Southern Oregon.

Captain Connor, commander of the steamer Oregon, died in his state room on board the steamer on the 23d inst. Capt. Connor has long been in command of a steamer on the route between Portland and San Francisco, and by his gentlemanly deportment and skillful seamanship had become a great favorite of the traveling public.

The Pacific Coast Postal Index is the name of a new monthly publication by L. P. McCarty, San Francisco, devoted exclusively to postal affairs. It will be issued on the 16th of each month, and will report all changes and new regulations. A complete list of the postoffices of the Pacific coast is given. Subscription price is $1 a year; single copies, 15 cents.

The wreckers who are searching for the sunken steamer, Brother Jonathan, which went down some years ago near Crescent City with about a million dollars on board, think they have found the wreck in eighteen fathoms of water. Pieces of wood and other evidences of wreck were brought up by the grappling irons but divers have not yet been able to go down, because of the roughness of the sea.

We are safe in saying that O. Coolidge has the best apples in town. He has just treated us to a basketful of as fine ones as we ever saw at this time of year. They were buried last fall (he has about 50 bushels in the same condition) and have just been uncovered as fresh, plump and juicy as when picked from the trees, without the slightest trace of the shriveling that occurs in apples that are exposed to the air.

We have received the first number of the Golden Days, an illustrated weekly newspaper for boys and girls, published in Philadelphia. It is filled with interesting stories and other articles of the best character, and it is the aim of the publishers to furnish a journal which will aid in improving the literature for the youth of the country. The subscription price is $3 per year. Address, Jas. Elverson, S. W. Corner Locust and Eighth Sts., Phila.

COUNTY DELEGATES.—The Democratic County Convention to elect delegates to the State Convention at Albany next Wednesday met at Jacksonville last Saturday, and the balloting for delegates resulted in the choice of the following: C. Nickell, John Carlwell, W. M. Colvig, H. Klippel, R. A. Cook, T. F. Beall and Wm. Simpson. The delegates were instructed to vote for P. P. Prim for Supreme Judge, H. K. Hanna for Superior Judge, and T. B. Kent, District Attorney, 1st Judicial District.

BABE DEAD.—On Wednesday morning Wm. H. Roberts and wife awoke to find that their babe, but two or three months old, which they had taken to bed with them apparently entirely well, had died during the night unknown to them. Dr. Chittwood was called in at once, but he found that the life had fled far beyond the reach of human skill. The cause of death is not known.

ANTIDOTE FOR WILD PARSNIP.—Considerable stock is being poisoned near Roseburg by what is supposed to be wild parsnip, says the Plainsdealer. Several farmers have lost some valuable milch cows, mainly from their not knowing how to treat cases of poison of this kind. We are furnished an effective remedy, which is simply this: Feed the poisoned animal a few quarts of flour or shorts mixed with water; it is known to be a good remedy.

TO IMPROVE ROBERT'S HILL.—The business men of Roseburg and the farmers living south of that place are subscribing to a fund for the improvement of the road between Roseburg and the summit of Robert's Hill. The money is to be paid in coin whenever the County Court shall have appropriated a sum for the same purpose equal to the aggregate of the subscriptions. It is thought the Court will not hesitate to make the appropriation.

DIED OF CONSUMPTION.—The sad intelligence was received here last week of the death of Robert Rea, of San Diego, Cal., on Thursday, the 25th ultimo. Mr. Rea was a son-in-law of J. S. Eubanks, having married his second daughter, Pauline, in February, 1878. His death was not unexpected, as the ruthless destroyer, consumption, had marked him for a victim many months ago, and he awaited the last hour with quiet resignation, disturbed only with grief for the sorrow-stricken wife and the two lovely babes from whom he was called away.

GROUND SLEICING.—J. A. Bagley, who sometime ago bought a small piece of land from B. F. Myer's upper farm on Bear creek, which prospecting pretty well, has been ground sleicing a portion of it for several weeks, and is about making a clean-up. We have not learned just what he has realized, but understand that he has made at least good wages. The pay dirt begins at about four feet below the surface, and considerable ground prospects well. Whether the tract is large enough to warrant the expense of undertaking any extensive mining operations, has not been ascertained.

DEEP SNOW.—Old hunters tell us that there is more snow in the mountains of this neighborhood than they have ever seen before at this time of year. There have been one or two winters since the advent of the whites when as much, or nearly as much, snow fell, but in the course of the winter warm rains at different times carried off much of the snow. This winter we have not had a single warm rain—it has cleared up cold after every storm, and as a consequence the northern slopes of the mountains are covered with an extraordinary depth of snow—snow that will melt slowly, too, as it is very compact and icy.

FROM LAKE COUNTY.—Sikes Worden came in from Linkville last Saturday evening, and spent several days in the valley. Mr. Worden has, perhaps, done as much, or more, riding over the western portion of Lake county this winter as anyone, and he gives it as his candid opinion that the loss of cattle in this country will be nearly fifty per cent. That is, counting the calves that have been lost from every cause, as well as the cattle that have actually died, there will not be more than half the cattle in the country this summer that there would have been if the winter had been a favorable one for stock. Horses have come through very well, with the exception of the Indian cayuses, on the reservation. These Indian ponies generally winter very well, but many have died this winter. Mr. Worden says that the old Indians, with whom he has talked about the winter, tell him it is the worst they have ever seen. The hillsides were quite bare, and considerable range was available when Mr. W. left, and it was hoped the stock would soon begin to gather flesh and strength. The results of the winter have proven that in most cases it is better not to feed stock at all, if a rancher has only a little feed, many of the cattle left to themselves having done better than others that were fed for a short time.

OUT IN THE STORM.—Last Saturday two Ashland boys, Bird Saltmarsh and the Merriman, started out with their rifles for a hunt in the mountains west of the valley. They probably expected to return in triumph, with the trophies of their skill in the hunt "dangling at their belts," or words to that effect, but they didn't return that way. Undaunted by the threatening storm clouds, they climbed ridge after ridge till they were just far enough away from home to get lost easily, and then the snow came down so fast that they couldn't see the brims of their hats, and they found that their hunt had begun—the hunt for home. They had not the slightest idea of direction as far as east, west, north and south were concerned, but knew the difference between up and down, and concluded that if they kept going down they would eventually reach the valley somewhere. So down they came, and finally struck the waters of Wagner creek. Down this they followed, and as the shades of night were "coming down swift," they camped at the comfortable farm house of Mr. Goodland. On Sunday morning a dozen horsemen set out from Ashland to scour the mountains for the lost boys. About the middle of the forenoon the boys came into town, and at different times in the afternoon the searchers returned. W. C. Daley had succeeded in tracking them all the way around, from their start to the Goodland place. Next time they hunt, it will be in July or August.

The Ashland and Lakeview Mail.

Everyone in Jackson and Lake counties has been more than satisfied with the way the mails have been put through on this route this winter, and the contrast with the miserable failures of the sub-contractor last winter has drawn attention with peculiar frequency to the faithful manner in which the service has been performed by the present carriers. In ordinary winters the snow and bad roads make travel over the mountains between this place and Linkville not only very difficult and unpleasant, but often precarious and almost impossible. This winter has been the worst that has been known since a mail route crossed these mountains and yet we have seen the mails put through with unfailing regularity, in spite of obstacles which it was expected by everyone would cause temporary interference with the mails. To perform this service, however, it has required indomitable pluck, and has cost no small sum in the matter of broken vehicles alone. Indeed, when the roads were very muddy it was unusual for a day to pass without an axle being broken on one of the mail wagons. Too much credit cannot be given to Mr. Phillips for the faithful manner in which the service has been performed; but we have recently learned something concerning the government contractor which is not so creditable to him. Huntley, who holds the contract, among a number of other larger mail contracts, put in a bid for this which is some $3,000 or $4,000 a year less than the mail can be carried for without loss, but he doubtless fully recouped his loss by the income from some of the other contracts, which are known to be decidedly "fat." Last fall Huntley's agent came to Ashland, and entered into a written contract with Ferree & Worden to pay them so much per year (about $3,500 more than he receives) to carry the mails for two years and a half. These gentlemen took Mr. Phillips into partnership with them, and the result has been eminently satisfactory to the people and to the government. A short time ago Huntley coolly informed Ferree & Worden that after the 31st inst., he would no longer pay them what his written agreement promised. The reason was, he thought he could have the mail carried for less. After the winter work was over, he thought the present sub-contractors would rather carry it for a little less than give it up. But Mr. Huntley doesn't know this country as well as he appears to understand the manipulation of the strings that tie the government purse. This is the worst possible time of year he could have chosen for such a move. Roads will be bad for some time; there is no grain or hay on the route, except that hauled to the stations and owned by Mr. Phillips, and none can be taken thither. Mr. Huntley could not possibly have found anyone who would take the contract at this time at a figure even considerably in advance of what he is paying, and the idea that it could be carried out for less is wild indeed, and could only have found lodgement in the brain of one profoundly ignorant of the country. Mr. Worden came in from Linkville last week, and after a short telegraphic correspondence with Huntley and his agent, led them to see the case as it is, and they hastened to announce that they would continue to pay what they had agreed to. Must be slippery fellows, those government contractors, when they don't scruple to disregard a plain contract in writing.

TO HORSEMEN.—Among our new advertisements will be found that of W. C. Myer, who again calls attention to his superior horses. He has fine specimens of animals of Arabian, Shetland and Percheron blood, the latter being, of course, of the most general interest to stockmen. The great demand for fine, large horses is turning attention to the Percherons more and more every year. We hear reports frequently of the good prices and ready sale which the half-blood Percherons command in the Northern part of our own state, and this is the favor they are meeting with all over the country.

COLD WEATHER.—In the crowd about the postoffice the other morning the conversation turned upon the hard winter, and one gentleman from Northern Illinois said we didn't know anything about cold weather here. In a log house in Illinois, mud-plastered inside and out, in the winter of '46 he had seen the water freeze in the glasses on the table between two roaring fires, the one in a large fireplace on one side of the room, and the other in a large cook stove on the other side of the room; and the dish-cloth would freeze when hung up on the jamb of the fire-place to dry. Another man undertook to tell what he knew about cold weather, and said that one night when he went to blow the lamp out in his room he found the flame frozen stiff. The gentleman from Illinois said that was "too thin."

JOSEPHINE COUNTY REPUBLICANS.—The Republicans of Josephine county met in mass convention at Kerbyville on Saturday, March 20th, for the purpose of electing two delegates to the State Convention which meets at Portland April 21st; and W. A. McPherson and Alex. White were unanimously chosen as such delegates. Without a dissenting vote, a resolution was adopted expressing the belief of the convention that the nomination of Gen. Grant for a third time to the office of President, would be alike fatal to his own fair fame, the unity and success of the Republican party and the best interest of the nation, and instructing the delegates to oppose the election at Portland of any delegate to the National Convention who would favor the nomination of Grant. A second resolution, instructing the delegates to favor a Blaine man as their first choice was adopted by a small majority.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—As per announcement, E. W. Ryan, Grand Lecturer of the Independent Order of Good Templars, gave a lecture in the Presbyterian church in this place last Friday evening. The lecture had been carefully prepared and occupied about an hour in delivery. As an essay upon the subject of temperance abstractly considered, it was highly commendable, but as a temperance lecture of to-day, in a temperance community, to a temperance audience, it was a little lacking in that freshness and interest which a more practical dealing with the temperance question would have had. After the lecture was concluded, remarks were made by Messrs. T. O. Andrews, L. L. Rogers and J. H. Mayfield upon the matter of liquor selling in our town, and the sentiment that no lawful means to prevent it should be neglected was received with enthusiasm and applause. Mr. Ryan has long been connected with the Grand Lodge of Good Templars in this state, and is well versed in the history of the order, which he states has a larger membership than all the other temperance organizations combined.

Charley Stanley, who came up from Shasta valley last week, says times are dull in that section, and the people rather blue over poor crop prospects. A scorching north wind had dried up the fields, to the great detriment of the growing grain, just before he left.

Religious Notices.—There will be no preaching in the Ashland Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. In the evening services will be conducted by Rev. L. L. Rogers.

DIED.—ABBOTT.—On Wagner Creek, March 20th, Ralph, son of John Abbott, aged 7 years, 1 month and 7 days.

The funeral services were conducted at the family residence by Elder W. E. Howe, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a large congregation assembled to pay the last tribute of respect to the departed boy.

So fades the lovely blooming flower, So smiles the soul of an angel, So soon our transient comforts fly, And pleasures only bloom to die.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Huose and Lot for Sale at a Bargain.

The house and lot of J. C. Durkee on Granite street, opposite Prof. Nichols' property. The best of garden land, covered by the West Ashland Ditch. A good, roomy house and outbuildings. For sale at a great bargain for cash. Inquire of J. C. Durkee, at his ranch on Bear creek. 42-2m.

Notice to the Public!—To all whom it may concern: As my wife, Debrey Ann Galbreath, has left my bed and board without just cause or provocation, I warn all persons against trusting her on my account, and hereby give notice that I will not pay any debts of her contracting after this date. R. G. GALBREATH. LINKVILLE, Ogn., March 19, 1880.

Sharp Ranch For Sale!—The undersigned offers for sale upon reasonable terms his sheep ranch situated on Dry creek, about six miles from Phoenix. It consists of 600 acres of deeded land, warrantee title, 300 acres under fence, with the advantage of a large outside range; one of the best watered places in the country; pretty good buildings, and a peach and plum orchard in bearing. The place will be sold at $2.50 per acre. For particulars apply to J. M. McCall, Ashland, or at the ranch to W. OLIVER.

Notice of Dissolution.—The partnership heretofore existing between J. M. McCall & Co., of Ashland, and C. S. Sergeant, of Phoenix, under the firm name of C. S. Sergeant & Co., has been dissolved by mutual consent, C. S. Sergeant is authorized to make collections and settle the business of the late firm. C. S. SERGEANT, [41-41] J. M. McCALL & Co.

Notice of Dissolution.—The partnership heretofore existing between L. S. P. Marsh, A. F. Squires and J. R. Burk, under the firm name of Marsh & Co., is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts due said firm are to be paid to L. S. P. Marsh, and all debts owing by said firm will be paid by the same. L. S. P. MARSH, A. F. SQUIRES, J. R. BURK, ASHLAND, Ogn., March 1st, 1880.

Dissolution Notice.—The copartnership heretofore existing between J. M. McCall and Morris Baum, under the style of J. M. McCall & Co., is this day dissolved by mutual consent. J. M. McCall will carry on the business at the old stand. Morris Baum will make it his special business to collect and attend to the settling of the business of the late firm. Either party, however, is authorized to make collections and receipt for the same in the name of the firm. J. M. McCALL, MORRIS BAUM.

Thanking the public for past patronage and good will, we ask a continuance of the same for the future. J. M. McCALL, MORRIS BAUM. ASHLAND, March 1st, 1880. [40-4]
