All persons owing said firm are expected to come forward and make settlement before his MILLER & Co. Ashland, Or., Jan. 8, 1886.

Rumored Change.

There is a rumor afloat in this cityon what foundation is not known-that the railroad company intend changing their time soon, making the night passenger run on this end of the road. The new time card, it is said, would bring the mail train from Portland to Salem at 11 P. M., and the north-bound at 2 A. M. The Lebanon express would then pass south at 5 P. M. and north at 8 A. M. -[Salem Statesman.

Dancing Club.

Messts. J. E. Niles and A. Yeago, of the Henley band, have arranged for a series of dancing parties in Ashland during the winter. They have rented Myer's hall, and will give a dance every Saturday evening, in addition to such other social parties as may be demanded. The music furnished by these gentlemen just suits the dancers here, and their parties will be popular. The price of tickets will be 50 cents for single evening, or $5 for season ticket of 13 nights. Messrs. Niles and Yeago contemplate giving a series of dances at Medford and Phoenix, also.

A Youthful Horse Thief.

Joel Hubbard, a boy only thirteen years old, was convicted of horse stealing in Eastern Oregon recently and sentenced to a term of one year in the state penitentiary. A Portland exchange says: "He seems a bright boy in manner and appearance. Gov. Moody and others who saw him on the train to-day will interest themselves in his behalf and it is possible the boy will be sent to some industrial school. Hubbard came from Mollala."

A later report says he has been par doned by the Governor and will be placed under the care of someone intereated in his reformation.

New Mining Campany.

The Timber Gulch mine first located by D. L. Curtis and Frank Krause has been turned over to a company of twentyfive citizens of the town and the new & Eubanks'. All tinware at bottom company proposes running a tunnel 200 prices feet in length to strike what is known as the old Bowden ledge. #### A Flattering Opinion.

J. T. Eldridge, a mining expert in the employ of one of the wealthiest mining companies of Montana, has been in Southern Oregon during the past fortof the Walsh & Bragdon mines on Wagner creek. In speaking of the mines af-terward to Mr. Willerd of this place, Mr. Eldridge said he considered them the best he had seen in Oregon. One other ledge in this county was probably equal-ly as good rock, but the ledge was much smaller, while in these mines the ledges are of unusual size. Mr. Eldridge suggested that a prospect cut be run into the ledge from a point lower on the hill than where work has been in progress, and this will be done. Within a few weeks he will visit the mines again. So encouraging an opinion from a mineralogist of the judgment and skill which must be possessed by a man in the position occupied by Mr. Eldridge cannot fail to urge on the development of this and neighboring mining property.

"Down by the Sea."

The I. O. G. T. amateurs had a good house last Saturday evening on the presentation of their play, "Down by the Sea." They had made a good selection in the drama, and the performance gave entire satisfaction. The majority of the young people taking part in it appeared then for the first time "on the boards," cation left. Apply at once to G. F. Reducing the Mail Service. A Washington dispatch of Jan. 4th says; "The Postmaster General contemplates more sweeping reductions in mail service in small towns in the West. He is already advertising bids for carrying mails on the stage lines. In most cases he has asked bids for reduced service. If a small frontier town is getting a daily mail, the Postmaster Gen-eral has asked the contractors to bid for tri-weekly and bi-weekly next year, so the reductions he proposes are much greater than those already put into effect. Protests are arriving daily, and the most prominent men in the West complain of the changes, stating that a
