Railroad Rumor. On Wednesday morning the rumor reached here that there is likelihood of work being resumed upon the O. & C. R. R. extension south of Ashland within sixty days. It was reported that Manager Kohler, of the O. & C., and D. P. Tompsom, the well known contractor, were both to start for New York this week, and it is supposed they go on railroad business. Not ing definite was the impression prevails in railroad quarters that work will be resumed this spring.

Immigration in February.

During February 653 passengers arnived in Portland by steamers from San Francisco, 360 in the cabin and 293 in the steerage. In the same time 206 firstclass passengers and 479 immigrants passed Heron, on the Northern Pacific, bound for this city, and 177 first-class sizing passengers and 358 immigrants passed ers. Huntington, on the Oregon Short Line, en route here. The total number of arrivals was 1,873 as compared with 1,797 | a candidate for sheriff in Klamath for January. - News.

Shoulder Dislocated.

-Ad Graham, who is working in hydraulic mine near Henley, slipped and fell upon a steep bank last Friday morning and struck the ground in such a manner as to dislocate his left shoulder. An attempt was made by his companions there to reduce the dislocation, but without success, and he made the trip to Ashland Saturday, reaching here in the afternoon. Drs. Parson and Songer took the matter in hand and, with plenty of nonscular assistance, brought the shoulder into proper position again.

Mail Service Restored. Among a number of other mail routes which were stricken by Reformer Vilas's perverted economy, that between Ashland and Linkville has been at last ordered restored to its former reasonable service-six trips a week. A Washington dispatch of Feb. 28th says: "Congressman Hermann, of Oregon, after much labor, has secured restoration of the mail service between Ashland and Linkville, Or., to six times a week, and also the establishment of service between Cleveland and Looking Glass, Or. Hermann says if the people of the West who have been injured by having the service cut down would petition for restoration of the service, it would probably be done.'

Escaped from Jail.

The young half-breed, Tommy Moore, Linkville since his bold attempt last January to steal several boatloads of barbed wire and provisions from the warehouse of Reames, Martin & Co., made his escape last Tuesday night, by burning a hole through the wooden floor of the jail and digging out through the foundation. His plan displayed much ingenuity and shrewdness. After building a fire on the floor he placed over it a large oil can with open botton and a hole at the top, and on top of the can a joint of stove pipe, to create a draft. It is not known what time he succeeded in getting out, and no trace of his whereabouts has yet been discovered. Some time ago he had burned the lock out of his door and was quartz industry-in putting up the mill, just about ready to go when discovered. Since then he has caused considerable trouble by breaking shackles and trying to give the sheriff the slip on several oc

A New Business Block.

One of the important improvements in Ashland which has been referred to as contemplated for some time, is the building of a new brick business block on block to and including the northwest corner of Oak street. Mussrs. G. S. Butler and G. F. Billings have for some time owned the lot between Reeser's and the corner lot, owned by R. Hatfield. Last week they bought the Hatfield lot for $1000, and have now made arrangements to build a brick block of a large basement and upper story, to occupy about the entire frontage of the property on both Main and Oak streets. The block will contain three fine stores and an office, the latter for the use of Mr. Billings. There are two wooden buildings now on the lots, They will be removed, the larger one to the opposite side of Main street, above the Pioneer store. Work will be commenced about the middle of the present month. This is one of the most substantial improvements planued in Ashland for sometime. Another brick block is talked of, but not yet finally determined upon.
