

THE ASHLAND TIDINGS.

FRIDAY, MARCH 5, 1886.

PARAGRAPHIC MIXTURE.

An Eastern exchange says: Eastern Oregon people will import cats to exterminate the jack rabbits.

The Knights of Labor are taking a prominent part in national legislation this season. Rather more prominent than Congress, in fact.—[Ex.]

John Sherman will be 63 in May. John A. Logan is at least a year older, but does not appear to be much over 50, while Sherman looks about 70.

When Congress runs out of expedients for delaying legislation it can fall back on the telephone tangle and spend any number of months in straightening it out.

Gen. Hancock is dead, and the man who was set aside in his favor at Cincinnati in 1850, on the plea of physical decrepitude, still lives.—[Courier Journal.]

A directory of Parisians who were likely to go abroad has been seized in Paris. It was compiled and published by an old and well-posted beggar for the benefit of younger members of the profession.

The Irish party will hold a meeting at the Cannon street hotel in London, on St. Patrick's day. Parnell will preside. The object will be to issue to England the ultimatum of the Irish people concerning home rule.

Kate Field found at Decatur, Ill., a club of women engaged in discussing creation, prohibition and similar topics. In answer to their appeal for a topic for future discussion Miss Field suggested "Cooking."

The North German Gazette says: The prosecution is imminent of numerous Germans, who style themselves doctors, on the strength of diplomas purchased in America. There are 3400 such doctors in Berlin alone.

At the Big Bend, seventy miles north of Farwell, on the Canadian Pacific, wonderfully rich gold discoveries have been made. They are reported as being wintering within easy reach, ready to go in when spring opens.

Within a month nine Senators and fifteen Representatives have insured their lives in suits ranging from $10,000 to $50,000. Miles, of New York, took the larger sum. Call, of Florida, took $25,000. Five Representatives took $20,000 each, and ten took $10,000 apiece.

St. Louis and New York are both thinking about trying the electric motor for street railways. It is a rival to the cable system, but has not yet proved to be a dangerous one. In fact, the perfect street car motor, like the perfect street pavement, is still waiting to be invented.

A large establishment for fattening cattle has been started near Omaha, in which the cattle will be fed with food placed before them through a system of pipes and cooked in an enormous steam vat having a capacity of 1,000 barrels of feed per hour. Over 5,000 stalls are to be erected.

On the 23d, the forfeiture bill of the unearned land grant of the Atlantic & Pacific Railroad company was taken up, and on motion of Holman an amendment was adopted providing that the forfeiture land shall be subject to settlement under the homestead law only. The bill passed as amended.

The millionaires from the Pacific coast continue to gravitate towards New York. The latest one to establish a home in Gotham is Mr. Charles Crocker, of San Francisco, who has just purchased for $250,000 the five-story blue-stone house No. 4 West Fifty-eighth street. The lot is 40 by 100 feet.

So far, Mr. Cleveland's career for a re-nomination has been limited to two main points. It appears to the Republicans on the ground that so few of them have been dismissed from office, and to the Democrats on the ground that so many of them have been appointed.—[Philadelphia Bulletin.]

Gen. Hazen, chief signal service officer, is now suing George Jones, proprietor of the New York Times, to recover $100,000 damages for alleged libel, it being charged that the newspaper published libelous statements concerning plaintiff's character as signal service officer, and also concerning his connection with the recent Arctic expedition.

The House Committee on Postoffice and Postroads unanimously agreed to report adversely all bills before it for the purchase or construction of telegraph lines by the government. On March 3d and 4th the committee will hear argument from all persons who desire to address the committee on the subject of government contracts with telegraph companies.

A good joke is told on the Mayor of Creston, Ia., who was one of the delegates to the recent convention of Iowa Mayors. There were ten saloons in Creston, and the Mayor went up to the convention holding that the prohibitory law could not be enforced. While the Mayor was absent the people went to work, established the saloons and enforced the law. When he came back he no longer had a grievance.

Gov. Swineford, of Alaska, who re-lives the monotony of his official life by publishing and editing the lively Ashland, presses much space in his paper to the zoological advantages of the region. March and April showers alternating with heavy, unending rains in January, which are the most obnoxious invitation to immigrants, have sparsely settled territory. The Alaskan Florida will make a name.—[New York World.]

The stock papers say that the sales of the Oregon Exchange since the inauguration of the new directors in 1885 aggregated 1,000,000 bushels. This is an amount three times the average crop of the United States during the past two years. In Chicago the sales of imaginary wheat were even greater than in New York. Very probably, for each bushel of actual wheat grown in the United States, ten bushels or more of imaginary wheat are bought and sold.

A member of the Kansas legislature from one of the western counties introduced a bill to set ground hog day up a month and make it come on January 21, instead of February. By so doing, "we will bring," he said, "six weeks of winter so often produced by this pestiferous little animal in a season of the year where we can stand it, and also where it will be over in time for an early spring. And then, Mr. Speaker, consider the great boon when this intelligent little animal concludes to remain out side his hole and let winter cease. Think of a January thaw that doesn't freeze up till next December. All this may be had by the passage of this bill." The member's remarks were received with great applause and his bill was referred to the committee of the hole.

A Stock Country.

Lake county is undoubtedly as thoroughly reliable a stock country as there is, including a summer and winter range. While stockmen in Klamath and other counties have been obliged to feed their cattle for the past month, stockmen here have not thought of such a thing.

Sheep men are in from the desert early this year, and report their flocks in fine condition, having no snow left to bother them.—[Examiner, Feb. 1.]

Where the Bang Came From.

(Boston Times.)

The most formidable of the animal kingdom is the much-dreaded gorilla. This beast, among other attractions, carries a head of short, bristly hair, and one of the animal's preparations for battle is to pass the paw rapidly down the crown of the head to the eyes, thus bringing the front hair straight out and giving it an aspect of ferocity that never fails to inspire the utmost terror. So well understood is this custom that among the gorilla's fellow-anthropoids it is the usual signal for an instantaneous and headlong scamper from the spot, and the female gorilla in defense of her young is even worse than the male, certain African dialects have an expression, "a female gorilla with her front hair down," to indicate the extremity of ferocious bearing.

In time it came to pass that when African ladies were abused by their husbands they adopted the same gesture and, so far as the hair was concerned, with the same result. Then certain wives, to indicate their readiness for battle at all seasons, took to wearing their hair down over their foreheads, and the fashion speedily spread to young ladies, who were their hair in this style as insuring the greatest respectability. Hence, social topics, and even the monstrosities of female costume are shown to have their origin in intelligent action; for nothing is more reasonable than that, as one animal taught man how to build his house and another how to catch his dinner, his wife from a third should learn how to dress her hair.

A Reliable Stock Country.

We clip the following from a letter to the Yucka Journal from Silver Lake: Right here we would say to what a stock country this is. If we were to tell some of the good old grazers down in Siskiyou that there are men here keeping their two, three and four thousand head of cattle and horses, who do not cut their thirty or forty tons of hay, they would probably smile, yet such is the fact. This range has never failed, and even the hard winter seven years ago, when the loss was considerable, the old settlers say, could have been avoided if they had known how to handle their stock as they do now, claiming that they got frightened and killed more running than around than if they had let them alone. Silver Lake never in settling up very rapidly. I tell you boys of Siskiyou, you missed it by failing to come out and take up ranches last fall. Giving settlers the right to file on swamp lands, or rather called swamps, opening up a vast body of the finest land in the world, and the boys have been making good use of this privilege, there being, we understand, twenty districts located for the month of February, before the receiver of the local land office at Lakeview. So far, every contest has been decided in favor of the settler, but there is still room for a few more, energetic young men who won't get homesick.

The Monarch of the Glen.

A monster elk was sighted in the Wind River Mountain by a hunter, says the Salt Lake Tribune, and the hunter sent after him. A long and weary chase of two hours led to the base of Sage Mountain, one of the loftiest of the range, up which the monarch dashed as his final refuge. The ascent was steep, but the hunter and the dogs followed. Soon the elk was brought to bay. As the foremost of the dogs sprang full at the throat, the monarch turned and shot him in the keen time pierced from side to side, and the stanch hound was thrown high in the air, and fell far down the steep incline. Nothing daunted, the remaining hound, too, made its first spring, and shared the fate of its comrade. The animal then rushed at the hunter, who fired, but the next instant was whirled by the stanch hound. His stanch buckskin hunting shirt turned inside the sharp prongs, and he bade fair to be thrashed to death. As for a second time the elk dashed his teeth at the hunter, he managed to catch hold of a bunk and kept his grasp long enough to draw his revolver and send a ball crashing through the brain of his gallant foe.

Major Thomas Redington, acting chief clerk in the office of commissioner of railroads, was unceremoniously "bonused" by Secretary Lamar in consequence of his connection with a set of railroad speculators.

T. K. Bolton & Co would call the attention of their friends and the public to this excellent preparation, made in Australia and San Francisco, California, from the leaves of a peculiar variety of the Eucalyptus or blue gum tree of Australia. It has no sickening property to disturb the stomach, and is most reliable for curing bronchitis, croup and any tendency to consumption. Sold by T. K. BOLTON, City Drug store, agent for Ashland.

An Unprofitable Suit.

It takes a millionaire to defend his character or pay for slander in England. Richard Belt, the capitalist, who got $25,000 damages for libel from Charles Lewis, another sculptor, was bankrupted by his law expenses, and Lewis is impoverished by the loss of the amount he paid Belt. The only satisfaction they get out of it is that in the battle Belt won the belt and Lewis got more law than he wanted.

TAKE—

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

For all Diseases of the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Spleen.

This purely vegetable preparation is celebrated as a Family Medicine, originated in the South in 1838. It acts gently on the bowels and kidneys and corrects the action of the liver, and is, therefore, the best preparatory medicine, whatever the disease may prove to be. In all common diseases it will, assisted by any other medicine, effect a speedy cure.

The Regulator is safe to administer in any condition of the system, and under no circumstances can it do harm. It will improve like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage to lead to intemperance or any other evil habit. It relieves the system of all impurities, dispels headache, and generally tones up the system. It does a small, but important, and its virtues abound.

No loss of time, no interruption of business while taking the Regulator.

Children complaining of Colic, Headache, or Sick Stomach, a teaspoonful or more will give relief.

If taken occasionally by patients exposed to MALARIA, it will expel the poison and protect them from its return.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.

I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have used here and there a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively cure the Liver, and at the same time aid in the evacuation of the bowels, and give power to the system. I. M. HIRSH, M. D. Washington, Ark.

SEE THAT YOU GET THE GENUINE.
