Boulon & McGinley.

The Boulon & McGinley Comedy Co. had a good house at Granite hall last Wednesday evening, and without doubt a larger andience on the second appearance (lust evening.) Their entertainment is an excellent one, and gave great satisfiction to all present. Everyone praises Boulon, by all odds the finest violinist who has ever delighted an Ashland audience. His violin solos were a surprise and a revelation, and the double playing of Boulon and McGinley was not less entertaining. The ladies of the company all did well, also, in the charadter sketches and farces that varied the programme of the evening. The company is one of the best in its specialities that ever traveled through here, and deserves the liberal patronage everywhere given it.

They will appear at Medford this evening, June 11th, at Jacksonville on the Is there any hope of Ashland recovering 12th, at Medford again on the 15th and at Engle Point on the 16th.
