

The state senate will stand, Republicans, 20; Democrats, 10. The House will probably be Republican by two majority.

Judge Webster's majority in the district was 528, as follows: In Jackson county 34, Klamath 269, Lake 143, Josephine 82.

The Oregonian seems to think the next question in state politics to be solved is whether or not the liquor business shall control the government of Oregon.

Brother Bell reports over the success of the Democratic ticket in Douglas county; says prohibition campaigns are the proper thing, and he will continue to work for Democracy and prohibition.

Robert McLean is elected joint representative of Klamath and Lake counties by a majority of 24 over Geo. John F. Miller. McLean's majority in Klamath was 126, and Miller's majority in Lake was 112.

Prospects seem to be encouraging for a revocation of the order for the abandonment of Fort Klamath. There is little doubt that the War Department will be induced to retain the garrison there if the facts are properly presented.

A San Francisco dispatch of the 12th says: The California railway to-day announces a reduction of one-eighth of a cent a pound on all grades of sugar. By this reduction the price of cane sugar is 55 cents, the lowest ever reached here.

The latest official canvass of the state vote shows that Strahan is elected supreme judge by a majority of about 250 over Wadsworth. McBride (Rep.) for Sec. of State, has about 400 majority. Penney's majority is between 2000 and 3000.

The senate committee on public lands has ordered a favorable report on the timber bill to repeal the prohibition, timber culture and forest land acts, with an amendment submitting the provisions of the senate bill on the same subject for those contained in the house bill.

The impression among railroad circles in Oregon now is that work will not be resumed on the extension of the C. & O. R. E. south of Ashland this summer. The California & Oregon is to be pushed northward as rapidly as possible, and next season a large construction force will be set at work on both sides of the Siskiyou to close the gap in short order.

King Ludwig, who was recently deposed from the Bavarian throne, committed suicide Sunday. He had gone out for a promenade in the park of Berg castle, accompanied by Dr. Gudden, his physician. The king suddenly threw himself into Starbuck lake and was drowned. The physician jumped into the water to rescue the king and was also drowned.

The report of the vote in this county published last week gave Walton (Dem.) of Merrill a majority of 43 over Conant (Rep.) for county commissioner. This was an error, as was disclosed Friday evening by the county board of canvassers in making the official count. Conant has twelve more votes than Walton, and is therefore elected—the only republican chosen to a county office.

Secretary Bayard recently received a cable message from Minister Cox at Constantinople, saying that the sultan of Turkey desired to send a present to Cleveland, and asking if it would be received. The president wrote that while he appreciated the motive of the sultan, he felt that its acceptance would be a violation of the spirit, if not the letter, of the constitution, and accordingly telegraphed his declination of the proposed compliment.

Five of the annual appropriation bills, namely, the District of Columbia, the post-office, the consular and diplomatic, the agriculture and the army, have passed both houses of congress and await the action of the conference committees. Three, the pensions, the military academy and the river and harbor, are in the hands of senate committees; and five, the legislative, the naval, the sundry civil, the fortifications and the general deficiency, have not yet been passed by the house. Only one, the Indian, has reached the president.

To the Democratic party of Oregon belongs the honor of having elected a woman to a salaried public office. Their forward step in nominating a woman for Superintendent of Schools in Multnomah county has received a hearty endorsement from the voters, and they doubtless realize that a party of progress can count upon recognition by discriminating citizens. The election of Mrs. A. C. Cove will bring under consideration the whole subject of woman's relation to the state, and should Mr. Gladst contest the case in the courts, we shall have a definite statement as to woman's political rights under the Constitution. We shall then know just how great a crime it is, under the law to be a woman.—[New Northwest.]

A New York correspondent says: By the death of John Kelly Richard Crocker becomes the leader of Tammany hall. Crocker is a veritable political Colossus. He has a good brain, clear conceptions and extraordinary executive force. He is a keen judge of men. He keeps his own counsel, and is extremely reticent. He makes no speeches and very few promises. These few, however, are fulfilled to the letter. He has the strongest of friends and the bitterest of enemies. He is as positive, but not obstinate, as was Mr. Kelly. Like Kelly, he was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth. He came from the humblest source, and hard strokes are told on him in his youth. But, like John Morrissey, he has won the confidence of a great political leader. Tammany will have few defeats under his rule. He is strongly introduced in the Tammany society, which is the fortress of the party, that he could hardly be blown out of it by the use of dynamite.

SHOULD BE ENCOURAGED.

Mr. C. Schamba, of San Francisco, who has been engaged extensively in the business of cracker making in Illinois, has been corresponding for some time with parties in Ashland, to ascertain what encouragement there is here for the opening of a business of that kind, and on Saturday he arrived on the California stage to make further investigation. He is apparently much pleased with the town and considers the location favorable for the enterprise, as it is a good point from which to reach a large territory both in Oregon and California. With sufficient encouragement and co-operation on the part of our citizens Mr. Schamba could not doubt be induced to remove hither the plant of his factory and establish a business which would give employment to a number of hands and add materially to the resources and business of our city. If he should open a cracker factory it would be one which could be prepared to turn out first-class products, equal in every respect to those of the city factories, and able to compete with similar institutions in San Francisco and Portland upon the territory either way from here, now covered by the railroad. It would furnish a home market for flour, butter and eggs—something greatly to be desired—and would be of practical and direct benefit to the people of the whole community, both in and near to us. Ashland people know the value of manufacturing industries and can be depended upon, without doubt, to give every encouragement possible to this project if it be shown to them that it rests upon a sound basis. A factory of this kind located here, and successfully operated, would undoubtedly, in connection with the success of the manufacturing industries already established here, do much toward attracting hither still other manufacturing plants. Ashland should become one of the prominent manufacturing centers of the coast. We have water-power, railway facilities and can offer to mechanics a good wholesome, plain living as cheap as, or cheaper than any other place in the United States. There is no reason why there should not be factories of many kinds in successful operation here.

THE CORPORATION SENATORS.

A correspondent, signing himself "Not a Corporation Lawyer," writes to the New York Herald that it is not the wealth of certain senators that makes the United States senate an odious body to the people, but the fact that the senate has become the stronghold of the great railroad and other corporations of the country. For instance: Cameron and Mitchell, of Pennsylvania, and Sewell of New Jersey, stand for the Pennsylvania railroad. Gorham and Wilson, of Maryland, and Camden and Keena, of West Virginia, are for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. Payne, of Ohio, and Canalen, of West Virginia, are for the Standard Oil company. Fry for John Roach.

Dobbs and Mitchell, of Oregon, for the Northern Pacific railroad and the Oregon Transportation company. Withall and George, of Mississippi, and Morgan, of Alabama, for the Gulf and Ship Island railroad.

West, of Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad, and the cattle syndicates. Stanford for the Central Pacific, with Edmunds to help him.

Plumb and Blair for Jay Gould and all his corporate interests.

Sawyer and Spooner for the North-western railroad system.

Morgan, Pugh and Call for southern land grants which ought to be forfeited.

Harris for Pan-Electric.

Dwight, of Georgia, for Georgia railroads and convict labor.

Wilson, of Iowa; Edmunds and Everts are corporation attorneys, and take the views of corporation attorneys when corporation interests come up in the senate.

This correspondent in conclusion says: The corporation senator simply holds that the public domain is better in the hands of corporations than in that of the government; that the railroads have developed the land and ought to own it; that land syndicates can manage and develop an estate better than the people going on them as small settlers, and that all the talk about land forfeitures and about reserving the public domain for actual homestead settlements by the people is sentimental boah.

They hold that the railroad corporations are the benefactors of the country and on that account have all sorts of privileges, and ought never to be held to the strict enforcement of their contracts; and as most of the corporation senators are lawyers, and have besides the advice of other corporation lawyers not yet in the senate, they know how, by shrewd and cunningly drawn amendments, to stultify and cripple any honest legislation which they dare not openly oppose, and how in many curious ways to protect corporations and prevent the people's rights from being established.

Now, to serve how the senate committee having charge of land questions is formed. It contains nine members. Of these nine you will find five in the list of corporation senators I have made for you above, namely, Plumb, Blair and Dolph, republicans, and Morgan and Withall, democrats.

President Cleveland has accepted the honorary presidency of the American exhibition to take place in London in May, 1887. Geo. Goshens, president of the general council of the exhibition, has decided that the main office in the United States shall be in Philadelphia. President Cleveland will open the exhibition from the White house, and start the machinery by telegraph—land lines and the cable. A committee of over one thousand prominent men in Great Britain has been selected to give a hearty welcome to American exhibitors and visitors during the period when Queen Victoria will celebrate her jubilee year or the fiftieth anniversary of her reign.

The bill forfeiting the unearned lands of the Northern Pacific land grant passed the Senate last Monday. It declares forfeited so much of lands granted that company as are co-terminus with that part of its main line which extends from Wallula junction to Portland, and that part of the Cascade branch which shall not be completed at the date of the passage of this bill, and makes the right of way in territories subject to taxation. Nothing in the act is to be construed to waive any right of the United States to forfeit any other lands granted to it for failure, past or future, to comply with conditions of the grant.

THE CITY OF VANCOUVER, B. C.

The city of Vancouver, B. C., the western terminus of the Canadian Pacific R. R., was totally destroyed by fire last Friday afternoon. Ten or twelve persons lost their lives and some three thousand people were left homeless. The total loss is estimated at $100,000; insurance, $10,000. The fire spread from burning brush upon the newly cleared townsite. The city was built entirely of wood and the buildings were hastily and cheaply constructed. Not a single house escaped destruction, and many people while trying to save their goods were so hard pressed by the flames that they were compelled to flee for their lives and narrowly escaped death. It was found especially necessary to compel many women to relinquish their efforts to save their effects. In some cases there was only just time to place them on improvised rafts, which were pushed from the shore beyond the reach of the flames, which literally seemed to fill the air.

Railroad Items.

Chief Engineer Hood of the R. R. Surveyors, says the railroad route will be located within six weeks to the summit of the divide, near the Diaz place, this side of Strawberry Valley, which indicates, that the company intend going right on to Oregon boundary with the railroad work.

Quite a number of railroad surveyors and others are now in this county, as the advance workers, preparing the way for the main body of workers soon expected in this county. The road could be pushed along very rapidly, were it not for the length of time required to put up several bridges at and below Bailey's.

When the cars carry passengers to Bailey's there will be greatly increased travel overland between California and Oregon, as the distance will then be only 100 miles for the journey.

Delta is now the eating station on railroad in place of Keddling, for supper and breakfast, since trains commenced running up to Gibson's.

The railroad company contend that they will reach Bailey's by the 1st of August, but outsiders think it will be six weeks later before the bridges can be completed to make the connection to that point.

Quite a number of railroad men are now in this county, between Bailey's and Strawberry Valley, and the right of way force will cross the line in a few days. Delta is now the eating station on railroad in place of Keddling, for supper and breakfast, since trains commenced running up to Gibson's.

The Sacramento Bee is informed by railroad men recently from "the front" that work on the Oregon extension is being pushed forward with all possible dispatch. White men who are willing to work are wanted, and will be paid good wages. It is thought that there will be constant employment through the summer for all who may apply. Wood-choppers are going from Truckee to join the clearing force, which are now at work at Lower Soda Springs. The country there is heavily timbered. The clearers are closely followed by the graders. Lower Soda Springs is about 77 miles north of Redding. The track will be laid to Southern's 12 miles this side of the Springs, by the 20th inst. The road is ready for trains to run as far as Gibson's. It is believed that by January next trains will be running to Sisson's, which is 70 or 80 miles from the Oregon line. The work has been very heavy and costly, but the most difficult portion of the extension has gone over, and the remainder of the road will be comparatively easy to build.

Report of O. & C. R. Committee.

A New York dispatch of the 15th says: "The report of the Oregon & California railroad committee concerning negotiations with the Central Pacific company has been issued. The principal difference in the advantages which certificate holders were to receive were the plan approved by them, and those which they are to receive under Huntington's proposals, are these: First, interest on the new bonds under the new proposal is to commence on the 1st of July, 1886, instead of the 1st of April, 1886, and the principal is repayable the 1st of July instead of the 1st of April, 1896. Second, the option which the plan secured to the London committee of requiring for certificates holders either 22 per cent of the alternate right to subscribe for a further amount of new bonds, without the option of claiming the cash price of a subscription, is somewhat increased under the new proposal. The old bonds are to be surrendered at once, and in certain contingencies nothing but script of the Southern Pacific company may, for some time, be obtained without submitting to onerous engagements. And lastly, there is substitution of the Southern Pacific company for the Central Pacific company, which is to guarantee the new bonds. The committee is making inquiries into the legal and commercial position preparatory to laying the new proposals before a meeting of certificate holders, for them to decide on the course to be taken with respect to."
