

THE ASHLAND THINGS

FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1886

Private School. Mrs. Fee will open her school in the north school house on Monday next, June 24. Tuition $1.25 per month in advance.

Ball at Talent. A grand ball will be given at the U. M. L. Hall on Wagner creek on Monday evening, July 5. Tickets including admittance, supper, $2.00. Proceeds for the benefit of the hall.

The Allen Murder Case. (By Relation to Things.) The case of State vs. Lewis Allen (charged with the murder of Elmore Ducker near the Oregon line) was given the jury at Yreka last Tuesday, and the jury, after being out 24 hours, stood nine for acquittal and three for conviction, and were then discharged.

Debtors. H. R. Alden, M. D., dentist, of Portland, will be in Ashland July 20, 1886, to remain three or four weeks. Anyone desiring his professional services can be accommodated by calling at his residence on Main street. Teeth extracted for 50cts. [11-1]

Blankets to Alaska. The Ashland Woolen Mill is shipped 150 pairs of blankets to Alaska this week, and if they prove satisfactory to the purchasers, an order for 500 pairs will follow. Alaska is a good place for blankets, and Ashland is a good place to buy them. Let the relations between the territory and our town continue.

The Celebration. Ashland is preparing this year for its biggest celebration of Independence Day. Ex-Atty. L. Woods, one of the most polished and eloquent orators in the state, has been secured as the speaker of the day. The railroad company will give special excursion rates and the town will give a few dinners to all who attend the afternoon amusements of various kind—in the evening fireworks and a grand ball.

Dead at Linkville. Alonzo Martin, who has been in Ashland for some two or three years past employed in the saloon business, died at Linkville Wednesday morning of this week from the effects of excessive drinking. On Tuesday about noon he started out of Linkville on foot, suffering with malaria, and he was going to Sacramento. In the evening a party went out after him and found him lying about three miles from town. He was taken back to town and cared for, but died the next morning. He was well known at Chasco, Yreka and other places in California.

Should be Watered. Ashland country could be made a beautiful place, if a little care and money were expended in watering the trees and flowers that have been planted by young folks to beautify the town. The many who have found there the last resting place of earth. Water must be carried two or three buckets from the Wacker ditch, a short distance before last. The cost of laying pipes to furnish what water is needed would not be very light if shared equitably by those interested, and this is an improvement which should be made. The trees purchased and planted in the cemetery by the town two and three years ago have suffered from drought, and many of them have died, whereas all could have been saved and would have been much larger and prettier to day if they had been watered sufficiently during the first year. There should be a new facility for keeping the flowers and trees alive, and the cemetery trustees should take the matter in hand.

Pipe Exploded. The most out-of-the-way man in Jackson county since the election returns have passed into history was Jack McCune last Tuesday afternoon. He was enjoying an after-dinner smoke with a cob pipe in front of Wiland & Eubanks's store when without warning the pipe flew to pieces with a report that was heard several blocks distant. McCune's face was badly torn in several places and Dr. Parson picked several pieces of the pipe out of the wounds. He was not dangerously hurt, but his wounds are painful and may leave some slight scars. John L. Norris, of McCall's store, was standing near the smoker at the time and happened to have his mouth open just far enough to allow a flying fragment to strike the end of his tongue and embed itself in that organ. It proved an extraction to be painful, but the doctor says McCune had been doing some blasting and doubtless had a small percussion cap mixed with the tobacco loose in his pocket. He will run his tobacco through a finer sifter hereafter before filling his pipe.

Fatal Accident. A most shocking fatal accident occurred at the farm of E. K. Anderson near Talent Wednesday afternoon, a young Englishman about thirty years of age, known by the name of McNeil, who had been in the employ of Mr. Anderson for several months, being the victim. He was engaged with others in hauling hay to a stack and was work upon the wagon which had been partially loaded at the stack, when the horses started. The driver was fastened to a pole a few feet in front of the end of the wagon and McNeil was reaching out to catch them when the horse's head struck into the hay and threw him down under the horse's hoofs. He was instantly killed, his skull being shattered and the brain exposed when he was picked up by the hay and thrown into the wagon. They were nearly a hundred yards from him when he fell and did not tell exactly the manner of his injuries, but it is supposed one of the horses kicked him. Justice Eubanks of this precinct went down at once to ascertain if a coroner's inquest was necessary, and upon learning the facts decided not to summon a jury. The burial was in Phoenix cemetery yesterday.

Decayed was a young man of good habits and had won the respect and esteem of those who had made his acquaintance. It is thought that McNeil was a native of England—now in this country.

Lost Path in Physicians. There are innumerable instances where cures have been effected by SOUVENIR SERRAVALLE, OR. BROWN & LIVER SYRUP, for a disease of the above kind, which have been given over by their physicians. It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and is prepared with the greatest care, and is free from all diseases, it is no wonder that it should be more effectual than any other medicine. For a complete list of prepared prescriptions, see the medicine for all diseases arising from impure blood. It is endorsed by leading professional men.

Good Results in Every Case. Dr. J. H. Bradford, wholesale dealer of Chikazanga, Tenn., writes that he has seen a case of the above kind, which has been given over by their physicians. It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and is prepared with the greatest care, and is free from all diseases, it is no wonder that it should be more effectual than any other medicine. For a complete list of prepared prescriptions, see the medicine for all diseases arising from impure blood. It is endorsed by leading professional men.

BREVITIES.

Grand ball July 21. Spring chickens are in market. Only about two weeks till the Fourth. Buy straw hats for 10c. at O. H. Blount's.

Repenters and painters are busy out at Linkville. See our big posters for the Fourth of July celebration.

Ice for sale in large or small quantities at the Red House. Men's summer pants, neat cuts, $1.50 per pair at Blount's.

Fresh candies received this week at Burckhalter & Hasty's. A large amount of hay is being cut in the lower part of the valley.

Prof. Stout will print one more copy of the Student for this season. The City Council appropriated $50 to start the celebration fund.

A bricklayer is to be established at Central Point by Ely & Sons. Prospects are good for a large yield of grapes on the vines in this valley.

A number of Indians from the reservation have been in town this week. Cal land see our new vine of China and glassware. Hunsaker & Dudge. Celebrations enough for everybody in this county on the 3d and 5th of July.

Ashland is expecting to have the biggest 4th of July this year ever seen here. The total value of Klammath county fairs up 506, a gain of 263 since June 1884.

A number of strangers are prospecting in the Skisquoy and tributary mountain spots. Applegate Bros. are offering for sale their ranches and stock in Klammath county.

Central Point is growing. A number of new buildings are in course of construction. Thompson & Stephenson continue to turn their daily stage between Ashland and Jacksonville.

Farmers generally have had the best kind of weather in which to harvest their first crop of hay. The celebration committees should begin work promptly, and allow nothing to drag this time.

Assessor Ashpole is in town this week, making a list of the taxable property in Ashland precincts. There will be a grand Fourth of July ball in Linkville on the evening of the 2d at Smith's hall.

C. B. Miller is burning lime at this place at the quarries of Burrage & Pomeroy near Rock Point. The telegraph line was down some weeks between Ashland and Linkville the first of the week.

The excursion noticed elsewhere offers a cheap trip to Portland and Astoria—$11 for the round trip. Nine carloads of wheat, two carloads of barley and two of wool were shipped from Central Point week before last.

Two freight trains this week. Monday's train brought a large amount of freight and also the p-y master's car. Mr. and Mrs. Bosch, of the Pioneer hotel, will furnish the supper for the grand ball at Granite Hall July 21.

It is fashionable among a number of counties in Oregon to have one Democratic and one Republican commissioner. The gentlemen of the Wagner Creek Mining Co. are much pleased with the prospects recently developed in the Pilgrimage ledge.

Mrs. M. E. Ross, of Applegate, was deared mass last week by an examining board in county court and taken to the asylum at Salem. Large stock of new goods received at the hardware store of Myer Bros. this week—leading place in Southern Oregon for anything in their line.

The U. S. Hotel in Jacksonville is the hands of the present proprietor, J. DeRoban, is kept in better style than it ever has been heretofore. Of 7,000 persons inoculated for yellow fever by a Rio Janeiro physician, only seven died of the disease, although the epidemic was of unusual intensity.

J. O. Hamaker sold a band of fifty head of horses, mares and colts in Klammath county last week to a man from Portland at $40 per head all round. A practice game of baseball will be played at the grounds out of town next Saturday, to prepare for a match between two picked teams on the 4th of July.

E. K. Anderson and F. Roper are interested together in the prospecting of a promising quartz ledge recently discovered near Mr. Anderson's 49 diggings. Residents of Fink's creek and vicinity celebrate the glorious Fourth on Saturday the 2d of July, while Gold Hill does honor to the occasion on Monday the 5th.

The Meador marble works formerly owned by Shely & Jacobs have been bought by J. W. Whipp of Jacksonville, who will run both shops with headquarters at Jacksonville. A large three-year-old steer belonging to Maj. H. F. Barron was killed by a grizzly at the head of Sasquop creek, some 12 or 15 miles east of Ashland, last Saturday night.

A rain last week would have counted many thousands of bushels of grain for the Rogue River valley, and it is not entirely to late yet for an improvement of the yield in that way. Byars & Guerin beat the building record in town by putting up a brick house in one day—a large addition for a workshop at the back of the store occupied by Wiland & Eubanks.

It was a mistake when we stated that Capt. Ferris had the mail contract from Linkville to Ft. Klamath at $2,200. Dr. Watten of Illinois has secured it at $900 per year.—[Examiner.] Dr. Warren, the contractor on the mail route between Ashland and Linkville, expected to arrive here about the last of the month, and intends to put the mails through, it is said.

C. G. Farr, recently of Spencer, Iowa, has bought ten acres of land near Grant's Pass, and has built a house and made other improvements upon it. He will raise prairie on a large scale. The Granite Hall Association are making arrangements for a grand time at the ball and supper to be given by them on Friday, the 2d of July—two weeks from to-night. Secure your tickets early.

The best dancing hall in this part of the state, the best management and the best music and supper will be combined to make the celebration ball at Ashland a social event long to be remembered. As the greatest pin-cure, St. Jacobs Oil is recommended by public men of America and other countries. Hon. Bills Flint, Life-Saver of the Dominion of Parliament, Canada, found it to act like a charm. All goods sold strictly for cash at O. H. Blount's, and no money loaned. This accounts for his low prices, which never fail to suit purchasers. See Tacoma 12 or 13c, plus 35c cents at the Red House or 5 for $1.

PERSONAL.

Messrs. T. Smith and G. H. Lynch, who recently bought the McConnell place on the coast, on Wagner creek, have been digging a line of water for a large house of water for their little guest.

A party of Ashlandites will make a trip to the last of the month, for a few days camping and hunting experience. The game law permits the killing of deer after the 30th inst.

Some difference having arisen between the Jacksonville citizens and L. D. Brown over the quartz mill located there, the mill has been moved by Mr. Brown to Gold Hill, to make a test run on rock from the Swinden ledge.

L. H. Adams, who has charge of Miller & Co's warehouse in this place, is agent for the Sugar Pine Flour and Lumber Co., of Grant's Pass, and all orders for lumber of any kind will be promptly filled by him. [10]

Says the Grant's Pass Courier: We are credibly informed that O. J. Callery, surveyor of Salt Lake City, Utah, who has a contract to carry a daily mail between town and Crescent city will put the service on July 1st and no mistake.

The citizens of Linkville met at the school house last Saturday and voted to build a $5000 school house on which work will commence as soon as plans and specifications can be had and accepted by the school trustees.—[Star, June 25.]

There will be so many chances to celebrate the Fourth this year that our patriotic citizens may be sure of having as much glory as they want. From Friday night until Monday night the celebration will be carried out at the different places in the valley.

Ex-Mayor Latrobe, Baltimore, Md., says the best cough medicine is Red Star Cough Cure. Dr. Samuel K. Cox, D. of Washington D. C. after careful analysis, pronounced it purely vegetable, and most excellent for throat troubles. Price, twenty-five cents a bottle.

Says a Portland exchange: The O. & C. Railroad is now doing a very large freight business, which shows a revival in trade. Wholesale merchants state that payments are being promptly made by country dealers, and the prospect for a prosperous season are good.

Dr. A. C. Gelsa has bought H. H. Beecher's fine ranch of 400 acres, near the Sprague River valley, Klammath county; consideration $4,000. The Dr. has a large band of valuable head horses in his ranch in Klamath valley, and will drive them thence to Sprague river this summer.

Grant's Pass will celebrate on the 5th, and is preparing for a grand time. The affair is in the hands of the cornet band of that place. Judge Brown has been sent to deliver the oration. There will be a full programme for the day, including national salutes, afternoon sports and a grand ball in the evening.

The need of merit for promoting personal esthetics is due to J. J. Ayres & Co., whose Hair Vigor is a universal beautifier of the hair. Harmless, effective, agreeable, it ranks among indispensable articles of the toilet, and it gives locks it gives luxuriance, and withered hair it clothes with a glow of youth.

Says the Sentinel of last Saturday: "A despatch was received here yesterday, announcing the death of Mr. F. H. MacCrimmon, after a brief illness. Mr. MacCrimmon was the eldest daughter of Mr. Adam Kippel of Portland, (formerly of Ashland, Jacksonville), and had attained the age of 29 years, 2 months and 2 days.

The Cal. Ozn. and Idaho Stage Co., are now running an every other day line from Gilboa's to Strawberry, leaving Gilboa's every Tuesday. They start Saturday nights, and Strawberry every Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. They are running on this line four horse stage and small wagons, and go through in same time as regular stage.—[Journal.]

Avery & Taylor, traveling dentists from the Willamette, who went out to Klammath county the first of the week, beat a fine horse from their matched team through an excellent course by their expert against a stump in driving from Medford to Jacksonville one dark night recently. They talked of suing the county for damages, but have not done so yet.

Excursionists to San Francisco to attend the coming G. A. R. national encampment will be via Yaguna from Corvallis 816 the round trip providing the excursion numbers are many as 75. Should it number 125 or over then the tickets will cost $14. We understand that tickets will soon be placed on sale, and that there is but a short time to the requisite number of excursionists will go.

Four miners, Messrs. Kendrick, Black, Hurd and Owens, have struck a rich deposit of coarse gold near the summit of the ridge some three miles north-west of Jacksonville, close to the old Black claim. The gold is in a kind of cement and gravel conglomerate, and their claim is so rich that they are worth about $4,000 to every wheelbarrow they wash out. They now have a small mill set up near the claim to reduce the hard cement, and will no doubt have big returns to report soon.

Dr. Wm. Miller of Salt creek in this county, an old pioneer and well known as a cancer doctor, died at his home last week after a short illness. He had remarkable success in his treatment of many cases of skin cancer, and a number of residents of Jackson county and other places in Oregon have been cured of that disease by a remedy furnished by him. He kept secret the nature of his powder he furnished for cancer cure, but whether or not he imparted the secret to anyone before his death, we have not heard.

Says the Yreka Journal: This Honorable, while moving in Humboldt county, had one of his fingers stung by a scorpion, and expected to have a severe time, as it has been claimed that the sting of a scorpion was very dangerous. He placed a quid of tobacco over the sting, and has suffered no trouble whatever, which indicates that a scorpion's sting is not so bad as supposed, although it is said scorpions are much more numerous in Southern California and Arizona.

"On Thursday of this week," says the Sentinel, "Castro and Nelson struck a four foot vein of quartz, lead sulphurates, in the Timber Gulch near Grant's Pass. The tunnel is now about 150 feet long and over 130 feet under ground. No assay has yet been made of the new discovery, but it will be done next week. The rock and sulphurates look exactly like that taken from Green River, ledge at Galice creek and the stockholders in the mine feel confident that they will wind up with a bonanza.

The Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons met in Portland last Monday and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Wallace Baldwin, G. H. P.; R. F. Gibson, deputy G. H. P.; Seth L. Pope, King; George Humphrey, Secretary; Christopher Taylor, Treasurer; B. E. Barrett, Secretary; H. W. Hill, Lecturer; Enoch Hill, C. H. The Grand A. M. convened last Tuesday, and a Grand A. M. convention the next day, instead of on Thursday, as had been announced.

Safe insurance of all kinds at lowest rates. G. F. Billings. "Orange" bulk uncolored tea at Hunsaker & Dudge's.

SERIOUS ATTACK OF HEART DISEASE.

The Portland Oregonian of the 15th has the following: Gen. John E. Ross, of Jackson county, a pioneer of 1847, arrived here by the East Side yesterday afternoon, and just as he alighted at the East Portland depot was prostrated by severe pulmonary fever, and was thought to be paralyzed. He was speechless and unresponsive and thought to be dying. The general hospital placed under the personal charge of Dr. Keene. The attack was of a paralytic nature, and the symptoms were the most alarming. He died at 9 o'clock last night, and heart beats were 120 per minute, and consciousness had returned, though the patient was still speechless. It is thought he would have recovered, but the attack had been so severe that he died.

Gen. Ross has suffered in years past from heart trouble but never until this time had an alarming attack. His visit here was for the purpose of attending the grand fair of the horses to be run at the reunion at Oregon city to-day. Probably the excitement of the trip brought on the attack. His daughter, Mrs. E. Ross, and son-in-law, Mr. W. H. Ross, and he has very attentive that loving hearts and skillful hands can provide.

Found the Valley. Israel Patton of this place, and a cousin of the same name who recently came out from the east, had an unpleasant experience in the mountains last week. They started to cross the Skisquoy from Ashland to Grant's Pass, and they found the trail that leads directly from this place toward the summit of Ashland butte. They found so much snow on the mountains that they could not follow the trail, and were soon bewildered and lost. After wandering about for a day or two they came to a point where a beautiful view was opened to them, and they were then rescued by a party of men who were on their way to the summit of Ashland butte.

That Historic Hack. GRANT'S PASS, June 12, 1886. Editor Tidings:—Dear Sir: I am not much of a newspaper writer, but I would like to say a word in regard to the item in your issue entitled "the historical hack." I was the driver of that hack from the large hotel in Jacksonville to the summit of Ashland butte, and the hack did not operate between Ashland and the Lava Beds, but was under the General's special order, and I was with him all the time until he was killed, and then I went with the body to Yreka, and from there I came back to Ashland, and I did not follow the trail. Mr. Colver at that time, but as to where the hack is now I do not know. But I do know that if there are any bullet holes in the seat they have been there three months, and I have a better remedy than a hot fire at me or the hack while I was out there. Yours, W. J. CUNNINGHAM.

Something New in Fancy Work. An exhibition of fancy work upon the White sewing machine at Blount's store Tuesday afternoon created a flutter among the ladies of Ashland, and it was the company's general agent for the introduction of the machine on the coast, advertised an exhibition to occur at that time and had exhibited specimens of the work done by the ladies of a large and interested audience of ladies called to see the exhibition. They were surprised and pleased to see work done on the machine which they had never dreamed could be done in any other way than by hand stitching. Ornamental designs in leaves, flowers, vines, birds and animals were quickly spun up on silk, satin and other fabrics in Arraine and tinsel and done not only much better, but in less than a hundredth part of the time it would take to do it by hand. This machine and its attachments for this work will certainly be popular among the ladies here.

Low Fare to Portland and the Sea. The Christian Church at Portland give a big excursion to the sea from all points on the O. & C. R. R. and return going from Portland to the ocean and return on the magnificent steel steamer City of Portland, leaving Ashland June 29, June 30, and July 1, tickets good to return up to and including July 7, for all the small uniform sum of $11 from all stations north of Roseburg. A special trip of 110 miles to the Cascades on the Wide West may be taken on July 21, by those going on this excursion, for 60cts. extra. Return your nearest station account at once and see their mammoth circular and get particulars. If this doesn't draw, nothing will.

Races at Linkville. There will be two days of races at G. W. M. M. race track in Linkville, July 21 and 22. Following is the speed programme: July 21—Race No. 1, running, free for all saddle horses, single dash, one-quarter mile. Race No. 2, trotting, free for all untried horses, best 2 in 3, mile heat. July 22—Race No. 3, running, free for all saddle horses, one-half mile dash. No. 4, trotting, best 2 in 3, free for all horses owned in Klammath county. Entrance in all the above races, $10, payable by 9 o'clock on the day preceding race. Entrance money, gate receipts and subscriptions to be equally divided between the four races. Each horse's race each race takes all the purse.

For constitutional or scrofulous catarrh, and for consumption induced by the scrofulous taint, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the true remedy. It has cured numberless cases. It stops catarrhal discharges, and removes the sickening odors—indications of scrofula. July 2d at Granite Hall.

Undigested Food. In the stomach develops an acid which causes the upper part of the throat and palate, causing "heartburn." It also causes a gas which produces "wind on the stomach," and a feeling of nervousness or dizziness that often arises after eating. For lack of acidity and swelling, Hester's Stomach Bitters is a much better remedy than alkali salts, like hartshorn and carbonate of soda, a stimulating and tonic. Bitters, after or before dinner, will be found to act as a reliable corrective or preventive. This fine specific for dyspepsia, both in its acute and chronic form, also prevents and cures indigestion, constipation, liver complaint, kidney troubles, nervousness and debility. Persons who observe in themselves any of the above symptoms should use this fine tonic without delay.

At Simons Liver Regulator will rid you of dyspepsia, purify your system, enable you to sleep well, prevent malarial diseases and give you brisk and vigorous feeling. It acts directly on the liver and kidneys, cleansing, purifying, invigorating and fortifying the system against disease. It will break up chills and fever and prevent their return, and is a complete antidote to all malarial poison—yet entirely free from calomel or quinine.
