The Royce & Lansing Company.

The Royce & Lansing Music and Comedy company were preceded to Ashland by complimentary reports of their performances at places north of here, and on their first appearance, Monday evening, they were greeted by a full house. Their entertainment is inique, and consisted on the first night of a pleasing variety of musical renditions, and a series of most amusing character sketches, the whole being fitted together upon the plan of a farce, the thread of which was only distinct enough to give smoothness to the programme.
