ROLLER FLOURING MILLS.

What is this Disease that is Coming Upon Us?

Like a thief at night it steals in upon us unawares. The patients have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint, all gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and clammy. After a while a cough sets in. At first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish-colored expectoration. The patient feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become constipated; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high-colored, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms.

It has been found that physicians have mistaken the causes of this disease. Some have treated it for a liver complaint, others for kidney diseases, etc., but none of these kinds of treatment have been attended with success; for it is really constipation and dyspepsia. It is also found that Shaker Extract of Roots, or Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, when properly prepared will remove this disease in all its stages. Care must be taken, however, to secure the genuine article. IT WILL SELL BETTER THAN COTTON. Mr. John C. Hempstead, of Clatskanie, Clatskanie Co., Ala., writes: "My wife has been so much benefited by Shaker Extract of Roots or Seigel's Syrup that she says she would rather be without part of her food than without the medicine. It has done her more good than the doctors and all other medicines put together. I would ride twenty miles to get it into the hands of any sufferer if he can get it in no other way. I believe it will soon sell in this state better than cotton. TESTIMONY FROM TEXAS. Mrs. S. E. Barton, of Warner, Ripley Co., Mo., writes that she had been long afflicted with dyspepsia and diseases of the urinary organs and was cured by Shaker Extract of Roots. Rev. J. J. McGuire, merchant, of the same place, who sold Mrs. Barton the medicine, says he has sold it for four years and never knew it to fail. SHE WAS ALMOST DEAD. I was so low with dyspepsia that there was not a physician to be found who could do anything with me. I had fluttering of the heart and swimming of the head. One day I read your pamphlet called "Life Among the Shakers," which described my disease better than I could myself. I tried the Shaker Extract of Roots and kept on with it until to-day I rejoice in good health. Mrs. M. E. Tinsley, Bevier, Muhlenburg Co., Ky. For sale by all Druggists, or address the proprietor, J. ASHLAND TIDINGS. FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1888. Blasting Stumps. (Clatskanie Reville). The following is the modus operandi for blasting stumps with dynamite: Make a hole an inch in diameter near the stump, inclining at an angle of about forty degrees, so as to reach underneath the body of the stump. This hole may be made with a crowbar through the soil, but if there be a large stump to be removed it will be necessary to continue the hole into the body of the stump by means of a long auger. A cartridge containing three or four ounces of dynamite is then inserted to the bottom of the hole, and a slow match having a peculiar percussion cap on the end is inserted in the cartridge. The hole is then tamped with earth, and when all is ready the center end of the match is lighted, and the operator retires to a safe distance. The explosion usually not only extracts the stump from the ground, but tears it into pieces small enough to handle easily. The dynamite costs about 40 cents per pound, so that a three or four-ounce charge will cost about 10 cents, making the cost of blowing up a stump about 10 cents, besides the labor.

Death of W. W. Corcoran. W. W. Corcoran, the wealthy philanthropist and well known art patron of Washington, D. C., died at his home in that city last Saturday, in his 93rd year. A Washington dispatch gives the following brief biographical sketch: W. W. Corcoran was born at Shelburne, Vermont, December 27, 1798. He laid the basis of his great fortune under the firm name of Corcoran & Riggs, bankers, by floating Government bonds during the Mexican war. He is best known as a public benefactor and philanthropist. In 1847 he purchased the site of Oak Hill Cemetery, Georgetown, expended about $120,000 in improving it, and presented the cemetery to his native town. The Corcoran Gallery of Art is established in 1857, spending about $300,000 in fitting it up, and in addition establishing a permanent fund of nearly $1,000,000 for its benefit, and transferred his entire collection of paintings, statuary and works of art. Another of his gifts is the Louise Home, founded in memory of his wife, intended as a home for aged women of refinement and education, who, by reverse of fortune, had been reduced from affluence to poverty. The building cost about $250,000 and has an endowment fund of about $300,000. Corcoran also made a large gift to the Washington Orphan Asylum, Columbia University and many institutions in the South. He also gave $100,000 to the Church of the Ascension in this city. To the University of Virginia he made gifts amounting to $200,000, besides a library of about 4000 volumes. He conceived the idea and paid the expenses of bringing to this city the remains of John Howard Payne, in order that the body of the author of "Home, Sweet Home," might rest forever in an alien land.

WAYSIDE GATHERINGS. The King of Siam is thirty years of age and has thirty children. Chang, the famous Chinese giant, has set up in Shanghai as a tea broker. Senator Cockrell is credited with having used three gallons of ink in his private correspondence last year. The state of Sonora, Mexico, levies a tax of $2 on every baby born within its limits. The Rev. Mr. Baehus is the strangely inappropriate name of a preacher who is carrying on a crusade against drinking in Laurel, Del. Kentucky will vote on prohibition next autumn. It seems funny that the question of prohibition should ever get into honor on Kentucky. The United States has $240,000,000 invested in Mexico in mines, railroads and ranches; England has $80,000,000. Two young women of Millidgeville, Ga., have engaged in the insurance business and are agents for a number of companies. There are 60,000,000 people in this country, and only 1,000,000 have their lives insured. The life insurance agents need to make a good thing out of this.

The mineral council of Paris has expelled the Sisters of Charity who acted as nurses in the charity hospital. They will soon be driven out of all the city hospitals. There is an endeavor being made to introduce paper dishes for table use. The man whose wife is in the habit of throwing plates at him will be in favor of this. The duke of Argyle is in very feeble health. His death will make Princess Louise of Levee an English peeress as duchess of Argyle. Within the past twelve years the great coal companies have imported 20,000 unnecessary laborers into the coalfield regions. They are now expending their heaviest output of regret. There are less curtains in the parlors of Robert Garrett's $1,000,000 Baltimore mansion which cost $2,000,000. Some of the carpets on the floor are actually worth their weight in gold. Ex-Governor Paul Billingsham, of Vermont, now in the ninetieth year of his age, has just been elected president of a bank in Waterbury. There are more things than waltzes in Waterbury that don't wind up readily. An old gentleman, said to be one hundred and three years of age, has just purchased eighty acres of land in Pasco county, Fla., and proposes to break it in and farm it himself. He is well preserved and a native of Florida. Pin statistics prove that each inhabitant of the United States consumes one pin per day. This makes necessary the daily manufacture of 60,000,000 pins. If we use two pins apiece there will be a pin famine of the deepest dye. David Henning, "the Michigan apple king," began his career as a journeyman cooper. He is the most distinguished man in his line in the world, and frequently buys and distributes as many as 125,000 barrels of apples in a season. The Mikado of Japan is described as a dark-skinned, black-haired, thick-lipped man, dressed in the uniform of a European general and with nothing remarkable in his make-up or appearance, although he is the absolute monarch of 90,000,000 people. Millionaire Fay, the eccentric American Croesus who is building himself a veritable castle in the air in Mexico, says that when completed his Sembrana palace will be a more wonderful construction than the legendary suspended gardens in Babylon. Prof. Wiggins, the Canadian weather prophet, in a white-headed clerk in a government department at Ottawa, and he first sent out his predictions as a joke. After he predicted earthquakes the minister told him to shut up or leave the service, and he shut up. The Duke of Newcastle, now in New York, is only five feet high, wears a cork leg, limps badly when he walks and is altogether very unimpressive in appearance. But he has an income of a million a year, owns the famous blue diamond, which is worth $150,000 and is considered a great "catch" in society.
