

ASHLAND TIDINGS.

FRIDAY, APRIL 12, 1888. EDITORIAL NOTES AND NEWS. Col. C. A. Cogswell, of Lakeview, is the Democratic nominee for joint senator for Crook, Klamath and Lake counties.

If St. John and Colonel John could do as well all through the campaign as Col. John did at Pendleton their effort to turn Oregon over to the Democracy will meet with success, but they won't.

Latest reports that Blaine's health has failed are false. He is reported as well as he has been any time in five years.

It is almost time for some of our good friends in the northern part of the state to cultivate the fraternal spirit by the regular annual announcement that all the fruit has been killed by frosts in Rogue River valley.

Governor Penney's candidacy for the Vice Presidential nomination was nipped in the bud at Pendleton. Cleveland for President, and an Indiana man for Vice President is the choice of the Oregon delegation to the St. Louis convention.

Gen. Boulanger, the French soldier and politician who lost his influence with Parisians several months ago, is coming to the front again. He is receiving the cheers of the French people and has been elected to the chamber of deputies.

The settlement of the Great West was celebrated at Marietta, Ohio, with great pomp and display last Friday. Settlement was made at that place on the 7th day of April, 1888.

The Oregon Blade, a new Republican paper published at Baker City by E. G. Hursh, formerly editor of the Roseburg Plaindealer, was issued last week for the first time.

Jake Sharp, who has an established reputation of being the boss "hoodler" and briber of aldermen of the present day, died in New York last week.

The Smith family seems to have cornered the office in Klamath county. George Washington Smith is about winding up his four year's term as county judge; his daughter has just been appointed postmistress, and his son is nominated for county clerk.

It must be the evidence of unlimited skill on the part of certain Democratic editors of Oregon that they attempt to disparage Oregon's representatives in congress on account of the Cascadee looks fund.

The Southern members of the lower house of congress have been filibustering on the direct tax bill, and that branch of congress has been in deadlock for over a week past.

Multnomah county Democrats are disgruntled over the election of Bash, of Salem, as chairman of the state central committee, instead of a Portland man.

Southern Oregon wasn't treated by the Democratic state convention with that "distinguished consideration" which its history and reliable democratic majority would naturally suggest.

The success of Col. John P. Irish's mission to Pendleton fully justifies Cleveland's high opinion of his abilities as a political missionary.

A number of the Jackson county delegates to the republican state convention met the prohibition party leader, St. John, on the cars between Ashland and Roseburg, and found him affable and socially inclined.

Washington correspondence Oregonian: Mention made in a recent letter of a claim presented by the governor of Oregon in behalf of the state, included in the same being a good sized item of interest.

Senator Dolph in a recent interview said: The Mills bill is a conspiracy against the Pacific slope. Nearly forty-three years ago Mr. Fox, the English sea-man, made a speech at the Covent Garden theatre in London, discussing the Oregon controversy.

At least it would have all the effect of a conspiracy against our industries, and it is the effect, not the intent, by which economic measures must be judged.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

The republican state convention met at Portland Wednesday. A large crowd was in attendance. The sentiments of the delegates were unanimous in favor of the policy of protection, and the platform to be adopted will undoubtedly be a strong one.

By a telegram received yesterday we learn that the following ticket was nominated: For congressman, Binger Hornum, of Douglas; supreme judge, Wm. P. Lord, of Marion.

Says a New York dispatch of April 8th: It is reported authoritatively that the membership of the National Republican League has reached 500,000.

Gen. Boulanger, the French soldier and politician who lost his influence with Parisians several months ago, is coming to the front again.

The settlement of the Great West was celebrated at Marietta, Ohio, with great pomp and display last Friday.

Jake Sharp, who has an established reputation of being the boss "hoodler" and briber of aldermen of the present day, died in New York last week.

The Smith family seems to have cornered the office in Klamath county. George Washington Smith is about winding up his four year's term as county judge.

It must be the evidence of unlimited skill on the part of certain Democratic editors of Oregon that they attempt to disparage Oregon's representatives in congress on account of the Cascadee looks fund.

The Southern members of the lower house of congress have been filibustering on the direct tax bill, and that branch of congress has been in deadlock for over a week past.

Multnomah county Democrats are disgruntled over the election of Bash, of Salem, as chairman of the state central committee, instead of a Portland man.

Southern Oregon wasn't treated by the Democratic state convention with that "distinguished consideration" which its history and reliable democratic majority would naturally suggest.

The success of Col. John P. Irish's mission to Pendleton fully justifies Cleveland's high opinion of his abilities as a political missionary.

A number of the Jackson county delegates to the republican state convention met the prohibition party leader, St. John, on the cars between Ashland and Roseburg, and found him affable and socially inclined.

Washington correspondence Oregonian: Mention made in a recent letter of a claim presented by the governor of Oregon in behalf of the state, included in the same being a good sized item of interest.

Senator Dolph in a recent interview said: The Mills bill is a conspiracy against the Pacific slope. Nearly forty-three years ago Mr. Fox, the English sea-man, made a speech at the Covent Garden theatre in London, discussing the Oregon controversy.

At least it would have all the effect of a conspiracy against our industries, and it is the effect, not the intent, by which economic measures must be judged.

THE CAMPAIGN IN OREGON.

[San Francisco dispatch, April 8th.] This evening's Bulletin, in commenting on the apparent fact that the democratic party will make one of the strongest fights this year that has ever been made to carry Oregon, has a long editorial on the same subject.

By a telegram received yesterday we learn that the following ticket was nominated: For congressman, Binger Hornum, of Douglas; supreme judge, Wm. P. Lord, of Marion.

Says a New York dispatch of April 8th: It is reported authoritatively that the membership of the National Republican League has reached 500,000.

Gen. Boulanger, the French soldier and politician who lost his influence with Parisians several months ago, is coming to the front again.

The settlement of the Great West was celebrated at Marietta, Ohio, with great pomp and display last Friday.

Jake Sharp, who has an established reputation of being the boss "hoodler" and briber of aldermen of the present day, died in New York last week.

The Smith family seems to have cornered the office in Klamath county. George Washington Smith is about winding up his four year's term as county judge.

It must be the evidence of unlimited skill on the part of certain Democratic editors of Oregon that they attempt to disparage Oregon's representatives in congress on account of the Cascadee looks fund.

The Southern members of the lower house of congress have been filibustering on the direct tax bill, and that branch of congress has been in deadlock for over a week past.

Multnomah county Democrats are disgruntled over the election of Bash, of Salem, as chairman of the state central committee, instead of a Portland man.

Southern Oregon wasn't treated by the Democratic state convention with that "distinguished consideration" which its history and reliable democratic majority would naturally suggest.

The success of Col. John P. Irish's mission to Pendleton fully justifies Cleveland's high opinion of his abilities as a political missionary.

A number of the Jackson county delegates to the republican state convention met the prohibition party leader, St. John, on the cars between Ashland and Roseburg, and found him affable and socially inclined.

Washington correspondence Oregonian: Mention made in a recent letter of a claim presented by the governor of Oregon in behalf of the state, included in the same being a good sized item of interest.

Senator Dolph in a recent interview said: The Mills bill is a conspiracy against the Pacific slope. Nearly forty-three years ago Mr. Fox, the English sea-man, made a speech at the Covent Garden theatre in London, discussing the Oregon controversy.

At least it would have all the effect of a conspiracy against our industries, and it is the effect, not the intent, by which economic measures must be judged.

PROFESSOR MILLER'S SPEECH.

Prof. G. M. Miller, of Portland, who still holds the position of candidate for Congress upon the Prohibition ticket, delivered a speech at Granite Hall in this place last Saturday evening.

By a telegram received yesterday we learn that the following ticket was nominated: For congressman, Binger Hornum, of Douglas; supreme judge, Wm. P. Lord, of Marion.

Says a New York dispatch of April 8th: It is reported authoritatively that the membership of the National Republican League has reached 500,000.

Gen. Boulanger, the French soldier and politician who lost his influence with Parisians several months ago, is coming to the front again.

The settlement of the Great West was celebrated at Marietta, Ohio, with great pomp and display last Friday.

Jake Sharp, who has an established reputation of being the boss "hoodler" and briber of aldermen of the present day, died in New York last week.

The Smith family seems to have cornered the office in Klamath county. George Washington Smith is about winding up his four year's term as county judge.

It must be the evidence of unlimited skill on the part of certain Democratic editors of Oregon that they attempt to disparage Oregon's representatives in congress on account of the Cascadee looks fund.

The Southern members of the lower house of congress have been filibustering on the direct tax bill, and that branch of congress has been in deadlock for over a week past.

Multnomah county Democrats are disgruntled over the election of Bash, of Salem, as chairman of the state central committee, instead of a Portland man.

Southern Oregon wasn't treated by the Democratic state convention with that "distinguished consideration" which its history and reliable democratic majority would naturally suggest.

The success of Col. John P. Irish's mission to Pendleton fully justifies Cleveland's high opinion of his abilities as a political missionary.

A number of the Jackson county delegates to the republican state convention met the prohibition party leader, St. John, on the cars between Ashland and Roseburg, and found him affable and socially inclined.

Washington correspondence Oregonian: Mention made in a recent letter of a claim presented by the governor of Oregon in behalf of the state, included in the same being a good sized item of interest.

Senator Dolph in a recent interview said: The Mills bill is a conspiracy against the Pacific slope. Nearly forty-three years ago Mr. Fox, the English sea-man, made a speech at the Covent Garden theatre in London, discussing the Oregon controversy.

At least it would have all the effect of a conspiracy against our industries, and it is the effect, not the intent, by which economic measures must be judged.

REDFIELD ITEMS.

Emigrants coming to stay. The Empire House is sold. Improvements are being continued.

By a telegram received yesterday we learn that the following ticket was nominated: For congressman, Binger Hornum, of Douglas; supreme judge, Wm. P. Lord, of Marion.

Says a New York dispatch of April 8th: It is reported authoritatively that the membership of the National Republican League has reached 500,000.

Gen. Boulanger, the French soldier and politician who lost his influence with Parisians several months ago, is coming to the front again.

The settlement of the Great West was celebrated at Marietta, Ohio, with great pomp and display last Friday.

Jake Sharp, who has an established reputation of being the boss "hoodler" and briber of aldermen of the present day, died in New York last week.

The Smith family seems to have cornered the office in Klamath county. George Washington Smith is about winding up his four year's term as county judge.

It must be the evidence of unlimited skill on the part of certain Democratic editors of Oregon that they attempt to disparage Oregon's representatives in congress on account of the Cascadee looks fund.

The Southern members of the lower house of congress have been filibustering on the direct tax bill, and that branch of congress has been in deadlock for over a week past.

Multnomah county Democrats are disgruntled over the election of Bash, of Salem, as chairman of the state central committee, instead of a Portland man.

Southern Oregon wasn't treated by the Democratic state convention with that "distinguished consideration" which its history and reliable democratic majority would naturally suggest.

The success of Col. John P. Irish's mission to Pendleton fully justifies Cleveland's high opinion of his abilities as a political missionary.

A number of the Jackson county delegates to the republican state convention met the prohibition party leader, St. John, on the cars between Ashland and Roseburg, and found him affable and socially inclined.

Washington correspondence Oregonian: Mention made in a recent letter of a claim presented by the governor of Oregon in behalf of the state, included in the same being a good sized item of interest.

Senator Dolph in a recent interview said: The Mills bill is a conspiracy against the Pacific slope. Nearly forty-three years ago Mr. Fox, the English sea-man, made a speech at the Covent Garden theatre in London, discussing the Oregon controversy.

At least it would have all the effect of a conspiracy against our industries, and it is the effect, not the intent, by which economic measures must be judged.

RED HOUSE COLUMN.

List of Prizes GIVEN AWAY. No. 1. China Toilet Set, hand painted, set in silver stand.

By a telegram received yesterday we learn that the following ticket was nominated: For congressman, Binger Hornum, of Douglas; supreme judge, Wm. P. Lord, of Marion.

Says a New York dispatch of April 8th: It is reported authoritatively that the membership of the National Republican League has reached 500,000.

Gen. Boulanger, the French soldier and politician who lost his influence with Parisians several months ago, is coming to the front again.

The settlement of the Great West was celebrated at Marietta, Ohio, with great pomp and display last Friday.

Jake Sharp, who has an established reputation of being the boss "hoodler" and briber of aldermen of the present day, died in New York last week.

The Smith family seems to have cornered the office in Klamath county. George Washington Smith is about winding up his four year's term as county judge.

It must be the evidence of unlimited skill on the part of certain Democratic editors of Oregon that they attempt to disparage Oregon's representatives in congress on account of the Cascadee looks fund.

The Southern members of the lower house of congress have been filibustering on the direct tax bill, and that branch of congress has been in deadlock for over a week past.

Multnomah county Democrats are disgruntled over the election of Bash, of Salem, as chairman of the state central committee, instead of a Portland man.

Southern Oregon wasn't treated by the Democratic state convention with that "distinguished consideration" which its history and reliable democratic majority would naturally suggest.

The success of Col. John P. Irish's mission to Pendleton fully justifies Cleveland's high opinion of his abilities as a political missionary.

A number of the Jackson county delegates to the republican state convention met the prohibition party leader, St. John, on the cars between Ashland and Roseburg, and found him affable and socially inclined.

Washington correspondence Oregonian: Mention made in a recent letter of a claim presented by the governor of Oregon in behalf of the state, included in the same being a good sized item of interest.

Senator Dolph in a recent interview said: The Mills bill is a conspiracy against the Pacific slope. Nearly forty-three years ago Mr. Fox, the English sea-man, made a speech at the Covent Garden theatre in London, discussing the Oregon controversy.

At least it would have all the effect of a conspiracy against our industries, and it is the effect, not the intent, by which economic measures must be judged.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Oregon & California R. R. And Connections. THE MT. SHASTA ROUTE! California Express Trains Run Daily BETWEEN PORTLAND & SAN FRANCISCO.

By a telegram received yesterday we learn that the following ticket was nominated: For congressman, Binger Hornum, of Douglas; supreme judge, Wm. P. Lord, of Marion.

Says a New York dispatch of April 8th: It is reported authoritatively that the membership of the National Republican League has reached 500,000.

Gen. Boulanger, the French soldier and politician who lost his influence with Parisians several months ago, is coming to the front again.

The settlement of the Great West was celebrated at Marietta, Ohio, with great pomp and display last Friday.

Jake Sharp, who has an established reputation of being the boss "hoodler" and briber of aldermen of the present day, died in New York last week.

The Smith family seems to have cornered the office in Klamath county. George Washington Smith is about winding up his four year's term as county judge.

It must be the evidence of unlimited skill on the part of certain Democratic editors of Oregon that they attempt to disparage Oregon's representatives in congress on account of the Cascadee looks fund.

The Southern members of the lower house of congress have been filibustering on the direct tax bill, and that branch of congress has been in deadlock for over a week past.

Multnomah county Democrats are disgruntled over the election of Bash, of Salem, as chairman of the state central committee, instead of a Portland man.

Southern Oregon wasn't treated by the Democratic state convention with that "distinguished consideration" which its history and reliable democratic majority would naturally suggest.

The success of Col. John P. Irish's mission to Pendleton fully justifies Cleveland's high opinion of his abilities as a political missionary.

A number of the Jackson county delegates to the republican state convention met the prohibition party leader, St. John, on the cars between Ashland and Roseburg, and found him affable and socially inclined.

Washington correspondence Oregonian: Mention made in a recent letter of a claim presented by the governor of Oregon in behalf of the state, included in the same being a good sized item of interest.

Senator Dolph in a recent interview said: The Mills bill is a conspiracy against the Pacific slope. Nearly forty-three years ago Mr. Fox, the English sea-man, made a speech at the Covent Garden theatre in London, discussing the Oregon controversy.

At least it would have all the effect of a conspiracy against our industries, and it is the effect, not the intent, by which economic measures must be judged.

REAL ESTATE COLUMNS.

100 Cents on the Dollar REAL ESTATE! G. F. BILLINGS!

By a telegram received yesterday we learn that the following ticket was nominated: For congressman, Binger Hornum, of Douglas; supreme judge, Wm. P. Lord, of Marion.

Says a New York dispatch of April 8th: It is reported authoritatively that the membership of the National Republican League has reached 500,000.

Gen. Boulanger, the French soldier and politician who lost his influence with Parisians several months ago, is coming to the front again.

The settlement of the Great West was celebrated at Marietta, Ohio, with great pomp and display last Friday.

Jake Sharp, who has an established reputation of being the boss "hoodler" and briber of aldermen of the present day, died in New York last week.

The Smith family seems to have cornered the office in Klamath county. George Washington Smith is about winding up his four year's term as county judge.

It must be the evidence of unlimited skill on the part of certain Democratic editors of Oregon that they attempt to disparage Oregon's representatives in congress on account of the Cascadee looks fund.

The Southern members of the lower house of congress have been filibustering on the direct tax bill, and that branch of congress has been in deadlock for over a week past.

Multnomah county Democrats are disgruntled over the election of Bash, of Salem, as chairman of the state central committee, instead of a Portland man.

Southern Oregon wasn't treated by the Democratic state convention with that "distinguished consideration" which its history and reliable democratic majority would naturally suggest.

The success of Col. John P. Irish's mission to Pendleton fully justifies Cleveland's high opinion of his abilities as a political missionary.

A number of the Jackson county delegates to the republican state convention met the prohibition party leader, St. John, on the cars between Ashland and Roseburg, and found him affable and socially inclined.

Washington correspondence Oregonian: Mention made in a recent letter of a claim presented by the governor of Oregon in behalf of the state, included in the same being a good sized item of interest.

Senator Dolph in a recent interview said: The Mills bill is a conspiracy against the Pacific slope. Nearly forty-three years ago Mr. Fox, the English sea-man, made a speech at the Covent Garden theatre in London, discussing the Oregon controversy.

At least it would have all the effect of a conspiracy against our industries, and it is the effect, not the intent, by which economic measures must be judged.

WOODBURN NURSERY. Keeps the Largest Stock of FRUIT, SHADE, ORNAMENTAL and NUT TREES, VINES and SHRUBBERY, In the Northwest.

By a telegram received yesterday we learn that the following ticket was nominated: For congressman, Binger Hornum, of Douglas; supreme judge, Wm. P. Lord, of Marion.

Says a New York dispatch of April 8th: It is reported authoritatively that the membership of the National Republican League has reached 500,000.

Gen. Boulanger, the French soldier and politician who lost his influence with Parisians several months ago, is coming to the front again.

The settlement of the Great West was celebrated at Marietta, Ohio, with great pomp and display last Friday.

Jake Sharp, who has an established reputation of being the boss "hoodler" and briber of aldermen of the present day, died in New York last week.

The Smith family seems to have cornered the office in Klamath county. George Washington Smith is about winding up his four year's term as county judge.

It must be the evidence of unlimited skill on the part of certain Democratic editors of Oregon that they attempt to disparage Oregon's representatives in congress on account of the Cascadee looks fund.

The Southern members of the lower house of congress have been filibustering on the direct tax bill, and that branch of congress has been in deadlock for over a week past.

Multnomah county Democrats are disgruntled over the election of Bash, of Salem, as chairman of the state central committee, instead of a Portland man.

Southern Oregon wasn't treated by the Democratic state convention with that "distinguished consideration" which its history and reliable democratic majority would naturally suggest.

The success of Col. John P. Irish's mission to Pendleton fully justifies Cleveland's high opinion of his abilities as a political missionary.

A number of the Jackson county delegates to the republican state convention met the prohibition party leader, St. John, on the cars between Ashland and Roseburg, and found him affable and socially inclined.

Washington correspondence Oregonian: Mention made in a recent letter of a claim presented by the governor of Oregon in behalf of the state, included in the same being a good sized item of interest.

Senator Dolph in a recent interview said: The Mills bill is a conspiracy against the Pacific slope. Nearly forty-three years ago Mr. Fox, the English sea-man, made a speech at the Covent Garden theatre in London, discussing the Oregon controversy.

At least it would have all the effect of a conspiracy against our industries, and it is the effect, not the intent, by which economic measures must be judged.

ASHLAND STATE NORMAL SCHOOL. J. S. SWEET, Principal, J. M. GOODYEAR, Superintendent, J. M. GOODYEAR, English Grammar, Rhetoric and Latin, C. P. NEESE, Penmanship and Executive Work, MRS. G. C. EDDY, Instrumental Music, MRS. LOTTIE D. WILLIARD, Voice Culture, EMMA TOLMAN, Drawing and Painting, J. A. McCALL, Calligraphy.

By a telegram received yesterday we learn that the following ticket was nominated: For congressman, Binger Hornum, of Douglas; supreme judge, Wm. P. Lord, of Marion.

Says a New York dispatch of April 8th: It is reported authoritatively that the membership of the National Republican League has reached 500,000.

Gen. Boulanger, the French soldier and politician who lost his influence with Parisians several months ago, is coming to the front again.

The settlement of the Great West was celebrated at Marietta, Ohio, with great pomp and display last Friday.

Jake Sharp, who has an established reputation of being the boss "hoodler" and briber of aldermen of the present day, died in New York last week.

The Smith family seems to have cornered the office in Klamath county. George Washington Smith is about winding up his four year's term as county judge.

It must be the evidence of unlimited skill on the part of certain Democratic editors of Oregon that they attempt to disparage Oregon's representatives in congress on account of the Cascadee looks fund.

The Southern members of the lower house of congress have been filibustering on the direct tax bill, and that branch of congress has been in deadlock for over a week past.

Multnomah county Democrats are disgruntled over the election of Bash, of Salem, as chairman of the state central committee, instead of a Portland man.

Southern Oregon wasn't treated by the Democratic state convention with that "distinguished consideration" which its history and reliable democratic majority would naturally suggest.

The success of Col. John P. Irish's mission to Pendleton fully justifies Cleveland's high opinion of his abilities as a political missionary.

A number of the Jackson county delegates to the republican state convention met the prohibition party leader, St. John, on the cars between Ashland and Roseburg, and found him affable and socially inclined.

Washington correspondence Oregonian: Mention made in a recent letter of a claim presented by the governor of Oregon in behalf of the state, included in the same being a good sized item of interest.

Senator Dolph in a recent interview said: The Mills bill is a conspiracy against the Pacific slope. Nearly forty-three years ago Mr. Fox, the English sea-man, made a speech at the Covent Garden theatre in London, discussing the Oregon controversy.

At least it would have all the effect of a conspiracy against our industries, and it is the effect, not the intent, by which economic measures must be judged.

ROPER, GALEY & HELM. BOOM, BOOM, BOOM! Fruit, Farming and Stock Lands IN SOUTHERN OREGON Bought and Sold on Commission. OFFICE NEXT DOOR TO BANK OF ASHLAND Special Bargains.

200 acres in lots to suit purchasers in the city of Ashland are offered for sale at fair prices and on easy terms. 200 acres. Good stock ranch. Twenty miles from Ashland. $3 per acre. 150 acres. Good farm. Improved. Four miles north of Medford. Price, $25 per acre.

That fruit growing, including peaches, pears, prunes, apples, cherries and berries in and about Ashland is more profitable than in the favored sections of Cal. That an orchard of these fruits can be made to yield a crop worth from $100 to $500 per acre within three to five years after planting.

WOODBURN NURSERY. Keeps the Largest Stock of FRUIT, SHADE, ORNAMENTAL and NUT TREES, VINES and SHRUBBERY, In the Northwest.

By a telegram received yesterday we learn that the following ticket was nominated: For congressman, Binger Hornum, of Douglas; supreme judge, Wm. P. Lord, of Marion.

Says a New York dispatch of April 8th: It is reported authoritatively that the membership of the National Republican League has reached 500,000.

Gen. Boulanger, the French soldier and politician who lost his influence with Parisians several months ago, is coming to the front again.

The settlement of the Great West was celebrated at Marietta, Ohio, with great pomp and display last Friday.

Jake Sharp, who has an established reputation of being the boss "hoodler" and briber of aldermen of the present day, died in New York last week.

The Smith family seems to have cornered the office in Klamath county. George Washington Smith is about winding up his four year's term as county judge.

It must be the evidence of unlimited skill on the part of certain Democratic editors of Oregon that they attempt to disparage Oregon's representatives in congress on account of the Cascadee looks fund.

The Southern members of the lower house of congress have been filibustering on the direct tax bill, and that branch of congress has been in deadlock for over a week past.

Multnomah county Democrats are disgruntled over the election of Bash, of Salem, as chairman of the state central committee, instead of a Portland man.

Southern Oregon