EDITORIAL NOTES AND NEWS.

It will require $80,000,000 more, to complete the Panama canal.

A bill has passed the lower house of Congress increasing the pension of soldiers and sailors who lost the use of both hands from $72 to $100 per month.

State Senator J. W. Watts, of Yamhill, is a candidate for U. S. Marshal for Oregon under Harrison. He was on the stump in New York during the fall campaign, and his friends say he has a strong "pull" upon the prize.

The weather has had things its own way in Oregon for a long time, especially in the Willamette valley, but a bill is now pending before the legislature which, among its other provisions, creates the office of "weather director" of the state.

The cabinet slate of the New York Press includes the following: "Blaine, secretary of state; Allison, secretary of the treasury; Wanamaker, secretary of the navy; Platt, postmaster general; Alger, secretary of war; Warner Miller, secretary of agriculture."

John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, visited Gen. Harrison at Indiana the other day, and the ever vigilant press correspondent plainly tells us in a column dispatch that Wanamaker either is down for a cabinet position, or else he isn't and he (the correspondent,) isn't sure which.

The clerk hire at each session of the Oregon legislature amounts to from $10,000 to $12,000. Half that sum would procure all the clerical assistance needed, but public economy is a spasmodic complaint with our Oregon legislators, and a spasm always comes on when a normal school bill reaches a vote.

At the trial of Wm. O'Brien on charge of conspiracy against the British government, which began at Carrick-on-Suir, Ireland, last Thursday, a crowd of twenty thousand people gathered and rioting ensued. O'Brien escaped from the court room, and is at liberty. Six hundred policemen charged the crowd several times, and a number of people were injured.

The Oregonian's Salem correspondent says a bill introduced by Jennings to amend the law relating to legal voters at school meetings is favorably considered and will become a law. The law now provides that any citizen of this state shall be entitled to vote at a school meeting who is 21 years of age and has resided in the district thirty days immediately preceding the meeting, and has property in the distrinct upon which he or she pays a tax. The bill pending adds to this section the words: "or have children of school age to educate."

The biennial report of the superintendent of the state penitentiary represents the institution to be in a satisfactory condition and a credit to the state. The total expenditures for the two years ending Jan. 1, 1889 were $68,650-41, exclusive of appropriations for new buildings. The cash earnings of the convicts were $41,9-3.80, leaving the net expenses of the state, $26,756., 33. The net cost of maintaining the prisoners was $53.34 per capita per year, or 13.7 cents per day. The lowest number of prisoners in attendance at any time was 204, the highest, (Dec. 31, 1888) 289. Twenty-four prisoners are serving life sentences. Superintendent Downing recommends the appointment of a regular chaplain at a fixed salary, the erection of an addition 100 feet long to the south wing, a portion of which is needed for hospital purposes and the remaining portion could be used for a reformatory school; the erection of a small woolen mill at a cost of $7500 to manufacture cloth and blankets for the use of the prisoners; the purchase of more land in the vicinity of the prison; and the making of an appropriation of $5000 to repair buildings and machinery.

GENERAL NEWS DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—A prominent Republican senator, who has visited the president-elect, remarked to-day that he was convinced that at least five portfolios had been disposed of, as follows: Blaine, secretary of state; Allison, secretary of the treasury; Warner Miller, postmaster-general; Wanamaker, secretary of the navy; John F. Swift, of California, secretary of the interior.

The Irish World, of the fifth instant says: "Never since the evil day, when Ireland's native parliament was destroyed by methods unparalleled for infamy on the pages of history, has British rule employed all its diabolical agencies so openly, brutally, and remorselessly for the extinction of the Irish race as it has in the year just come to a close."

HARTFORD, CONN., Jan. 24.—Insurance circles are excited by the announcement of Col. Jacob L. Green, president of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company, that Joseph A. Moore, general agent at Indianapolis, was a defaulter in half a million dollars. Moore assigned to the officers of the Mutual Life all personal and real property, which may reduce the loss to $400,000. Col. Green says the standing of the company will not be impaired by the loss.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The senate committee on woman suffrage gave a hearing to-day to a number of delegates who were in attendance at the recent woman suffrage convention. Susan B. Anthony, Isabelle Beecher Hooker, of Connecticut, and Virginia L. Minor, of Missouri, explained the difficulties that women experience in attempting to secure suffrage legislation. "In favor of and against woman suffrage in Washington territory," was the subject of Mrs. A. S. Duniway's remarks. When she had put in her plea for amendment to the constitution, she was succeeded by Mrs. Lucy Stone Blackwell, of Boston, who told the story of how the women of Boston saved that city's public schools.

The San Francisco Chronicle, Jan. 17: The change of rulers in China next month will be watched with much interest by the Western world. The old Empress who has ruled for more than twenty years has given much authority to Li Hung Chong, the Marquis Tseng and other men who are friendly to European institutions. The result has been the establishment of a navy of foreign models, the building of telegraph and telephone lines and the opening of eighty miles of railroad. But the young Emperor may change all this, as he is represented to be wholly under the influence of his tutor, a man bitterly prejudiced against foreigners and all things foreign. The contest between the old and the new will be fought in high places in China, and the Conservative will be worsted. Still, progress will be slow in the land of Confucius, and it may be that this slowness to adopt Western customs and inventions is a good thing for the civilized world. To give the fanatical millions of China any power to cope with foreigners would be a source of danger to the other nations of Asia as well as of Europe.

WAGON ROAD APPROPRIATION.

A bill to appropriate $5,000 for the construction of a wagon road to connect Coos and Curry counties with the Willamette valley and its railroad highways has been favorably reported to the state senate by the committee to which it was referred. The justice of such appropriation is too apparent to need argument. To promote in every proper way the interchange of commerce between different parts of the state is a duty which the legislature should consider imperative. As an economic measure, the appropriation of money for a wagon road such as described has all the facts in its favor. Through the inaccessibility of the coast counties, commerce to the value of many thousands of dollars annually is driven or kept from the metropolis of our own state, and of necessity turns into the tide flowing into San Francisco. A fair appropriation for a good road would likely save more to the state in a single year than the sum expended in the permanent improvement to be effected.

The situation of Lake and Klamath counties is almost precisely similar to that of Coos and Curry, with relation to the commerce of our state. The trade which should flow from those counties to Portland goes to San Francisco. The wagon roads crossing the mountain barriers between the counties of Klamath and Jackson are the key to the situation. People of Klamath county have been spending money to build and improve a road down the Klamath to connect with the railroad in Siskiyou county, California. That point being reached, the difference in shipping rates northward over the Siskiyou mountains to Portland and southward to San Francisco is in favor of the latter city, which, with its other advantages over Portland, secures to it the whole of the trade which reaches the railroad at that point from Southern Oregon. If the wagon haul were made from Klamath county to Ashland now, as it used to be, the difference in rate would be in favor of Portland, and Portland would secure the bulk of the trade. The old wagon road from Linkville to Ashland, by an appropriation of $10,000 or $5,000 could be so much shortened and improved that it would be the route followed by the wagon freighters between Lake and Klamath counties and the railroad. Such an appropriation should be made, as an act of commercial self defense on the part of the state. It is declared by well informed persons that the road could be shortened more than five miles and vastly improved in grade and surface by a small appropriation.

Senator Cogswell has a bill before the legislature to appropropate money for the road which goes down the Klamath river. His bill should be styled, "An act to promote and perpetuate the diversion of trade from the channels of our own state into California." The effect of its passage would be such as cannot reasonably claim assistance from the treasury of the state.

As to the benefits to the people of Southeastern Oregon exclusively, it should be said that a good road to Ashland, such as can be made, would be much preferred by a majority of the citizens of Klamath and Lake counties to the route down Klamath canyon into California.

THE SAMOAN TROUBLE.

The possibility of war between the United States and Germany is one of the topics under present discussion in the newspapers of this country and Europe. While there is little prospect of war, the lack of harmony between our government and that of Germany is a matter of general interest, and is being discussed daily by journalists and statesmen.

The Samoan islands, situated in the South Pacific, something more than 3000 miles from San Francisco, have a population of something less than 50,000. They have a government, with a chief at its head, for each island. England, Germany, and the United States have been granted by the islanders concessions of great value in the way of harbor privileges, etc. The standing of the three powers with relation to the islands has been supposed to be about equal, but now it is charged that Bismarck is intriguing to obtain control of the islands, in view of their increased importance on account of the canal to be opened through the isthmus of Panama. The German government and some of its citizens have valuable plantation and trade interests in these islands, especially in the island of Upolo To further their interests, German representatives have deposed the chief of the island, Malie-toa, and in his place put in power Tamasese, who is but a tool in their hands. An insurrection occurred on this island, and German forces were employed in an attack on natives. American citizens and American interests have been abused, it is claimed, and the right of the islanders, to self-government, which was agreed upon in a conference of representatives of the three powers, has been violated by Germany, it is said.

Secretary Bayard doesn't seem to have managed the matter very satisfactorily thus far, and it will probably make no progress toward settlement till the new administration takes the reins of government.

Facts About Alaska.

The last report of Gov. Swineford, of Alaska, is very voluminous. The governor first enters into an elaborate review of the territory and estimates the annual resources at about $9,000,000, divided as follows: Fisheries, $4,000,000; minerals, $2,000,000; all other resources, $3,000,000. He urges the development of the territory mines, especially of coal, which he claims exists in large quantities.

Considerable space is devoted to the charges against the Alaska Seal company, and he states that those heretofore published gave only a portion of the story. He criticises the company severely and charges them with ill treating Indians and making them slaves and of completely demoralizing business in the territory. He attacks the congressional investigation of the charges, and says it will not amount to anything. In conclusion he recommends the entire re-organization of the territory and urges that the Indians be given a better civil government.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, fo children teething, is the prescription o one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never failing success by millions of mothers for thir children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child from pain, cures dysentery and diarrhœa, griping in the bowels, and wind colic. By giving health to the child it rests the mother. Price 25c a bottle.

Lessons in painting and drawing will be given by C. M. Osborn, at his residence on the side-hill above the normal school. [13

THE LEGISLATURE.

The state is asked to establish a weather bureau and appropriate $2000 to co-operate with the U. S. Signal Service in weather observations and bulletins.

The Senators wanted a rest last Thursday, and adjourned at 11 A. M. on that day till Monday of this week. The house adjourned Friday morning till Monday.

Cogswell has introduced a bill authorizing county courts to declare unnavigable streams public highways for the floating of logs, etc.

Stanley has introduced a bill to aid Jackson county in the construction of a railroad between Jacksonville and Medford.

A proposed amendment of the legislature, which will be voted upon for the first time at next general election if it pass both houses, provides that members of the legislature shall receive $5 per day, instead of $3, as now, and that the biennial sessions may last for fifty days at such pay, but no more. The Constitution now provides that only forty day's pay shall be drawn at any regular session.

A bill to provide for the purchase of the half block of land east of the capitol building, and appropriating $5000 therefor, or so much thereof as may be necessary, has been introduced in the house.

The first bill to go to the governor was sent from the house Thursday afternoon of last week. It was Watts's bill authorizing the narrow gauge railroad company to construct a bridge over the Willamette at Rays landing between Marion and Yamhill counties.

A bill is before the legislature for the creation of a new county out of Grant. The proposition is to divide the county of Grant about equally by a line running east and west, the southern half being the new county, the name of which is to be Harney, after the large valley and lake of that name which it will contain.

A bill to consolidate Portland, East Portland and Albina in one city corporation will occasion a contest in the legislature, as will also the Bull Run water bill. The latter passed the senate Tuesday.

A bill has been introduced by Chamberlin, of Marion to provide for a state reform school—a most worthy object.

A memorial to Congress urging that the United States constitution be so amended that senators shall be elected by direct vote of the people instead of by state legislatures was voted down in the house Tuesday—the vote being ayes, 28, nays, 31; and Jackson county's representatives all voted for the memorial.

Naturalization Laws.

[Washington dispatch, Jan. 24]

Representative Oates of Alabama is endeavoring to modify the naturalization laws, of the country and to make them more strict and severe. For this purpose he has prepared a bill which a sub-committee of the House Judiciary Committee has approved and which the Judiciary Committee of the House will consider on Saturday.

The following are the features of the bill: No alien shall be naturalized by any court who has ever been convicted of felony or any other infamous crime, or any crime involving moral turpitude, or who has emigrated to the United States in violation of any of the laws, thereof, or who cannot speak the English language or read the Constitution of the United States in the English.

The bill gives a form of petition which must be filed in any court which has jurisdiction after the petitioner has resided five years in the United States and also over one year in the State where the petition was filed.

The bill provides that upon the filing of such petitions the clerk of the court shall enter the case upon a docket to be kept for that purpose, and give notice in writing to the United States District Attorney, if in the United States Court, to the Solicitor of Public Prosecution, and these petitions shall be heard in preference to other cases, and upon the hearing the District Attorney shall appear and defend against the petition, and if, upon hearing all the evidence, the Court is satisfied that all the allegations of the petition are proved he shall enter a judgment of decree declaring the petitioner a citizen.

Biographical.

The Salem "Capital Journal" is publishing sketches of members of the legislature. Following is what it tells of Representative Price of this county:

"Hon. W. K. Price is another of Oregon's native representatives. He was born at Albany, Linn county, in 1850. He passed his youth at Albany and received his education there. After arriving at the age of maturity he went to Crook county, where he was engaged extensively in stock raising for ten years. Four years ago he went to Jackson county, and again continued stock raising, at which occupation he has succeeded in accumulating a neat and comfortable fortune. In 1872 he was married at Albany to Miss Pauline Hacklen, and their home is now made happy by two boys. The oldest is now attending school at Jacksonville. Mr. Price's father was one of the first settlers and founders of Albany. Mr. Price is serving his term as a democratic representative from Jackson county.

Ashland Building and Loan Association.

Pursuant to call a number of citizens of Ashland met in the city council chamber Monday, Jan. 28th, at 10 o'clock a. m., to consider the matter of organizing a building and loan association.

Dr. J. S. Walter was called to the chair and W. H. Leeds was chosen secretary.

The object of the meeting being presented, the question of proper proceedure was discussed, and on motion the chair was instructed to appoint a committee, himself being one member, to proceed to incorporate. The committee, who are themselves the incorporators, met in same place Tuesday and adopted the following articles, which will be duly filled for record in the office of the county clerk and secretary of state, as required by law:

Articles of Incorporation of the Ashland Building and Loan Association of Ashland, Oregon.

Know all men by these presents: That we, the undersigned, J. S. Walter, W. H. Atkinson, George Engle, J. M. McCall, W. H. Leeds, O. H. Blount, A. W. Scott, M. L. McCall, H. B. Carter, J. M. Luark, J. W. Hockersmith, and A. S. Hammond, have this day associated ourselves for the purpose of forming a private corporation under the general laws of the State of Oregon, and to that end do hereby make and subscribe, in triplicate, the following articles, to wit:

Article 1. The name of this corporation shall be The Ashland Building and Loan Association. The duration of said corporation shall be perpetual.

Article 2. The enterprise or business in which said corporation proposes to engage is:

1. To accumulate a fund from the contributions of its stockholders, and from profits from investments.

2. To loan money to stockholders, upon proper security, in amounts not exceeding one hundred dollars for each share of stock owned by the stockholder borrowing.

3. To buy, improve and sell such real property as may be deemed necessary in the business of the corporation.

4. To receive money on deposit, and allow interest therefor.

Article 3. The said corporation shall have its principal office and place of business in the City of Ashland, in the County of Jackson, State of Oregon.

Article 4. The capital stock of said corporation shall be One Hundred Thousand Dollars, divided in to one thousand shares.

Article 5. The par value of each share shall be one hundred dollars.

In Witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals, in triplicate, this —day of —1889.

[Names of incorporators as signed above.]

Subscriptions to the stock will now be received and upon 500 shares being subscribed, the stockholders will organize, elect directors, adopt by-laws, etc. Each of the incorporators is a committee of one to explain the character of the association to inquirers.

A New Telephone.

Hartford Times.

A telephone is in use in the Adjutant-General's office at the Capitol which may become instrumental in breaking up the present monopoly on that useful invention. The wire employed, and which rises to the third floor of the building, is composed of six strands of steel wound around a cord covered with a preparation of paraffine, which prevents induction. No battery is required and the voice of a person standing in the room at a distance of twenty feet from the instrument can be distinctly heard at the other end of the lines. By means of this remarkable invention the Adjutant-General and his associates can carry on a conversation with those connected with the other departments without leaving their desks. The new telephone has been used with great success in other cities. The limit is five miles, but the inventor hopes to exceed this in the near future.

Does It Pay?

Three-fourths of our people are troubled with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint in some form or other, which by nature of the disease has a depressing influence on the mind or body, preventing them from thinking or acting clearly in any matter of importance. Indigestion, coming up of the food after eating, dyspepsia, sick headache, acidity of the stomach or any derangement of the stomach or liver (upon which the whole action of our system depends) are speedily and effectually overcome by the use of Green's August Flower. The most stubborn cases have yielded to its influence, as thousands of letters received will testify. The immense sale of this medicine is another guarantee of its merits, (over a million and half bottles sold last year.) So we ask, will it pay to suffer from any of the above diseases when you can have immediate relief in the August Flower. Three doses will prove its worth. It is sold by all druggists and general dealers in all parts of the world.

WHAT WE DO.

Every day people living in the country are learning more and more to get their things of dress and personal need of the city merchants. It is they who have the greatest variety of goods, the freshest styles and the lowest prices—the three things necessary to the most successful buying.

By means of SAMPLES and ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUES and by aid of long experience and skill in filling orders, we are able to place the advantages offered our city trade equally within reach of out of town customers.

As to cost of sending goods to and fro, we might add that transportation charges have been so reduced that they hardly figure in the handsome saving usually gained.

Have you doubts as to the merits of this system of trade? Try it!
