DUDES IN PERIL.

Many of New York's dudes and swells are nervous just now lest they should shortly find themselves behind prison bars. Evidence is being developed which goes to show that many most fashionable people of the best families have been having their clothes made in London and smuggled in.

The business in this line is now said to amount to $500,000 yearly. Certain crews of the big liners are engaged by merchants to act as their agents, the latter to receive from eight to ten shillings for each receipt they returned, showing that the consignee had received a package which had been sent to him.

All the swell London tailors have their agents who come to this country, put up at the best hotels and solicit orders. The visits of agents occur in the winter to secure orders for spring and summer clothing and in summer to take directions for fall and winter suits.

In summer they go direct to the watering-places, and especially to Newport, Lennox, Saratoga and Cape May. They rent rooms in hotels, prepare fine luncheons, and are all ready to show samples of goods and take measurements. It is stipulated that they will provide clothing at London prices and if the clothing misfits they will pay the expenses of alteration in this country.

By recent seizures on board the big steamers the names of a large number of prominent and wealthy people who get their clothing in this way have been secured by the officials, and there is talk of bringing them up for examination.

Ninety-six Days Without Food.

Dubuque, Ia., June 11.—The death of Thomas Sutton, which occurred this morning, ends a case which was without parallel in the country. A year and a half ago the boy, then a bright lad of 14 years, fell from a butcher's wagon and hurt his spine. For a time he improved rapidly and seemed in a fair way to recover from the accident, but about four months ago paralysis set in, his stomach became affected and for ninety-six days, ending at the time of his death, not a morsel of food has passed his lips. For awhile a glassful of wine was given each twenty-four hours. His stomach soon refused even this nourishment. Then soda water was substituted, and for the last thirty days only pure water had been used to moisten his lips.

During this long fast the boy had lost flesh constantly, and at the time of his death he weighed but a trifle over fifty pounds. His shrunken skin barely covered his bones, and he presented a terrible picture of emaciation. Through all this terrible struggle with death young Sutton retained his consciousness. He recognized his friends and relatives and the Sisters of St. Francis, whose school he formerly attended. He was too weak to speak, but would thrust out a bony little arm to shake hands in welcome. The physicians are astounded at the length of time the little fellow lived without food.

An Atlanta Lady's Sad Condition.

"About two years ago a sore came on my nose. I called in a physician who could arrest it only for a few days, when it would appear as bad as ever. Finally it became permanent, and despite the constant attention of several physicians it continued to grow worse, the discharge from the ulcer being exceedingly offensive. This was my condition when I commenced to take Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) about one month ago, but I am now happy to say that after taking four large bottles of your wonderful medicine my nose is entirely well, and my general health better than it has been in ten years.

Why it Can be Done.

The following, from the publishers of the Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, offered in connection with a year's subscription to the TIDINGS for only $5, explains who we are able to offer a $12 book for $2.50:

The copyright of the edition of Webster's dictionary that we now offer to you having expired, gives us the right to reproduce it. We are enabled to offer this work, which formerly cost $12 and $15, for the above wonderfully low prices, with such Fine Paper, Good Print and Elegant Bindings.

This is the best—no other reprint edition of Webster's dictionary is so complete as is this one. Not only does it contain all the words that Noah Webster ever defined, but 10,000 additional new words added to it.

The appendix of this edition contains much valuable matter that is not in the other cheap editions, as follows: The pronunciation of the principal European languages, quotations, phrases, etc., from Latin, French, Italian and Spanish, abbreviations, seven pages of mercantile and legal terms, etc.

It also contains a table of 15,000 synonyms, eleven pages of a pronouncing vocabulary of Scripture proper names, forty-seven pages of a pronouncing vocabulary of modern geographical names, and 1500 pictorial illustrations.

This great educator and standard work, that we now reprint and offer to you at this wonderfully low price, ought to be in every home in this country. It is strongly and handsomely bound in full library leather and in half Russia, containing over 150,000 words, an appendix of 10,000 new words, and 1500 pictorial illustrations.

Observe that our edition, unlike every other cheap edition, is strongly and handsomely bound, printed on an excellent quality of book paper, and the press work is first-class; our aim being to present a volume that shall be in every respect in keeping with the high character of the work.

NOTES AND NEWS.

Henry H. Villard, the seven-year-old son of Henry Villard, died at New York, June 11th.

W. H. Dickson, of Grant county, Kentucky will succeed John G. Carlisle as member of the House of Representatives.

The Green Hill Presbyterian Church Phila., which has for some time past maintained the largest Chinese Sunday School in the East, has decided to give up the work of teaching these people after July 1st. Stories of Leprosy have frightened the young lady teachers.

London dispatch of June 11th: The wedding of William O'Brien, editor of the Freeman's Journal, and Mlle. Raffalovitch, daughter of the banker of Paris, took place to-day at the Brompton Oratory. The ceremony was preformed by Archbishop Croke, Parnell and other colleagues of the bridegroom in the House of Commons being present. John Dillon was groomsman. Michael Davitt is seriously ill.

Mischief makers are said to be at work in Samoa trying to breed dissension between Malietoa and Mataafa, but it is doubtful whether they will have any success. Mataafa probably counted on the old King retiring in his favor but dissappointed ambition ought not to be powerful enough to induce him to play the part of rebel. The fact is the Samoans have had enough fighting during the past two years to last them for a generation.—[Chronicle.

Frank Smith says the hog law is responsible for the scratching at the recent election. He spent the whole of election day, in Jasper precinct, trying to stop the scratching, but could'nt do a thing beyond Thompson, for whom they voted straight. They drew the line at Thompson, and would nt give an inch down the column. When the boys took out their pencils to scratch the hogs, as soon as they passed our "Dave," they scratched right down the ticket in a terrible manner, so it was hard to tell whether it was Republican or Democratic. The next time our legislators provide for voting on hogs they had better put it into a special election, and not turn the hogs loose among the candidates. They muddle things and make bad work.—[Eugene Journal.

Says a recent cablegram: The Buddhist Congress, soon to be held in Paris, attracts attention. The congress is to have the importance of the great Ecumenical Council convoked by Pope Pius IX twenty years ago. Buddhist delegates are to come from all parts of the world, and intense interest is manifested in Paris. In France alone there are about 30,000 Buddhists. It is now generally known that Richard Wagner was a fervent Buddhist. But the European thinkers do not practice the doctrines of Buddhism. That is why the young Viennese student, Halsmeyer, has caused such consternation in the church. He is an ascetic, fasts or eats only fruits and vegetables, envelopes himself in a hempen bag and already treats with indifference physical suffering.

Freedom for the press and speech in Russia does not appear to be of a very substantial nature. A special police for press censorship is one of the institutions of that country, and so close is the ruling of that official that the editor of the leading daily paper at Warsaw has just been severely reprimanded by the local authorities for permitting an article to appear in which the Pope was referred to as the "Viceroy of Christ." It was pointed out by the censor that the title of "Viceroy" had been abolished in Poland since the insurrection of 1863, and that the title of "Governor-General" had been substituted in its stead. It was more proper, therefore, declared the censor, to describe Leo XIII as the "Governor General of Christ." At St. Petersburg an order has been issued from the censor's department to the effect that no press telegrams can be either received or delivered between 6 in the evening and 8 o'clock in the morning. The sole reason given for this arbitrary ukase is that the officials of the Censor's Bureau object to remain on duty at night-time.

The results in thirty-nine of the forty-four states in 1892 can as well be told now as later, says the Cleveland Leader. They will vote as they did in 1888. The doubtful states are New York, New Jersey, Indiana, Connecticut and West Virginia. New Jersey would not be doubtful were it not for the fact that huge frauds were perpetrated in Jersey City to throw her votes to Cleveland in 1888. On an honest vote and count the fight would be close and the result doubtful. Without any of these states the republicans will have 201 electoral votes in 1892, or ten less than a majority. Indiana, which gave Harrison 3,392 plurality, would be enough. New York, which gave Harrison 13,074 plurality, would be a good deal more than enough. Connecticut and West Virginia, which gave Cleveland 336 and 506 plurality respectively in 1888, would together supply the ten votes lacking and two to spare. There are, therefore, three separate and wholly independent combinations without New Jersey, any one of which would enable the republicans to win in 1892, and every one of them is hopeful. The democats have only one winning chance before them. The must carry the solid South, New York and Indiana, or lose.

Crop-Weather Bulletin No. 13.

[For week ending Saturday, June 7, 1890.]

Weather—The fore part of the week was cool and cloudy, with rain, hail and snow in the mountains. The rainfall was poorly distributed, and there was not the benefit derived from it that was expected. The latter part of the week was cloudless, dry and warm; on Friday and Saturday the temperature was above 90° in many sections of the state. More rain is needed. Rain and cool weather will yet produce good crops. Delayed reports from Eastern Oregon show that on May 28th, 29th and 30th, frost occurred that did damage to vegetables, especially potatoes, tomatoes and pease, corn, rye and barley were also injured.

Crops—The month of May had a high average temperature, and the rainfall was very light, as a result, the crop prospects are not so encouraging as might be desired, especially hay and late sown grain. The fall and early sown wheat, continue to have a favorable outlook. The fruit prospects are good. Strawberries are plentiful. Cherries are ripe and the trees are loaded with them. General reports indicate a light hay crop. Crops in Tillamook county are all promising. Throughout the Willamette valley rain is badly needed. Wheat fields are burnt in places. Much of the spring sown grain did not come up. In the Umpqua and Rogue valleys, the prospects are brighter. The coast counties are especially promising for good crops. The Grande Ronde and Walla Walla valleys, and a greater portion of Umatilla county, as well as the minor portion of Union county, have the best prospects for crops in Eastern Oregon. In the valleys of Wallowa county, wheat, oats barley and rye are doing very well. Wasco, Sherman and sections of Gilliam county, appear to be the worst affected by the dry weather. In Crook, Grant, Baker, Lake, Harney and Klamath counties, the frost of May 28th, 29th did the most damage, and in those counties the grass is rapidly drying up.

Rivers—The cool weather stops the melting of the snow in the mountains, as a result, all rivers are rapidly falling. The present warm weather may cause them to rise again.

Observer U. S. Signal Service, and Assistant Director of Weather Bureau.

Work will soon be commenced at Hedge creek to clear off the ground where the Catholic college is to be built. It is a beautiful location, with fine mineral springs, and in time will become a favorite resort for Catholic families to spend the summer months. —[Mott Star.

A young man named Wm. Hickey, of Portland, was drowned at Oregon City a few nights ago, by falling into the river from an excursion steamer. Two men saw him fall overboard, and gave the alarm to two of the officers, but the latter paid no attention to it, aside from one of them saying, "Well, he is out of his trouble."—Statesman.

C. F. Miller, who has been down at Coos Bay for the past week or two looking after the interests of the Coos Bay and Roseburg railroad, will return to this city Saturday and complete arrangements here. Coos county has raised and guaranteed the full amount of her portion of the required subsidy and there is every prospect that the road will soon be under way. —[Roseburg Plaindealer.

The child of Mrs. Hugh Glencross, of Astoria, born on Sunday, May 25, and which weighed barely eighteen ounces when 24 hours old, died Thursdoy, having lived just eighteen days. At the time of its death the midget measured thirteen inches in length and weighed just two pounds. It was a boy, and was christened George Washington. A common finger ring was easily slipped over the child's arm up to the shoulder, and the same could have been done on the leg if the kneecap had been smaller.

The Plaindealer of last week tells of the following accidents in Douglas county: Last Friday Ed. Galvain, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. Galvain, recently from Knoxville, Tenn., met with a very serious accident. He was out hunting just north of town and while leaning on his gun, both hands over the muzzle, the gun was accidentally discharged. The index finger and a part of his left hand was blown off and his right hand badly shattered. About a dozen shots were also lodged in his forehead just above the right eye. Mr. Miller has the injured lad in charge, and though suffering greatly, the boy bears his misfortune with heroic fortitude and is getting along as well as could be expected. * * * * — John Clements, one of our townsmen, got badly hurt Monday near Dillard by falling from a train in motion. He struck the ground upon his neck and shoulders with such force as to break one of the cervical processes of his spinal column. His recovery is hoped for soon.

Disastrous Storm at Rockford. Ill.

[Rockford, Ill., dispatch, June 15.]

Never since 1857 has such a disastrous flood visited this section as last evening. It is estimated that the damage to property will reach half a million dollars. Rain fell in torrents for three hours. In a short time every street was a river, and soon devastating floods were sweeping through Kent and Keith creek valley, down Keith creek district the flood swept everything before it. Water spread over the low lands filling cellars, creeping up into first stories of houses, and driving people from their beds. The fire department and police worked hard all night conveying people from the flooded district to places of shelter. Many fled from houses when the water began to run into their cellars, fearing that they were about to be carried away. So far as learned no lives have been lost. The city this morning presented a scene of desolation. The entire lower portion was a lake, covered with floating debris. The Illinois Central and Milwaukee railroad companies are the heaviest losers. Many cattle and sheep were drowned. The waters receded to-day almost as quickly as they had risen.

Japan and Corea.

San Francisco, June 14.—A correspondent of the associated press in Tokio, Japan, writes as follows under date of June 1st:

The excitement following the recent depredation of students of Tokio has decreased since they apologized to Rev. W. T. Embry, the New Jersey missionary who was cut and bruised by them two weeks ago. The Seshi are becoming more bold day by day, and insults offered to foreigners are increasing. Sailors coming from Yokohoma are armed with revolvers.

The distress among the thousands of starving people of Tokio and other large cities is being ameliorated to a great extent by foreigners as well as by Japanese noblemen. One nobleman is feeding 1000 people a day out of his own funds. The price of rice is higher than ever before, both in Japan and Corea.

There are many vague rumors afloat concerning the reported taking of Corea by Russians. All that is surely known is that the British men-of-war are lying in the harbors with steam up, and under orders to sail at a moments notice. Several of them have already gone. The American naval force, under Rear Admiral Belknap, is also expecting orders to sail for Corea.

"Hello! Hello!! Hello!!!"
"Well; what is it?"
"How is your mother, this morning?"
"Very much better; and a real restful sleep last night; she is almost rid of her night-sweats, cough and nervousness, and is growing quite cheerful. How grateful we all are to you for that bottle of medicine."
"Don't speak of gratitude. What does the doctor say?"
"He says he never saw so wonderful a change in such a serious lung trouble. He still thinks we are giving his medicines. I don't like to tell him."
"That's right. He's an old friend, you know. I'm sure your mother will get well now; but you won't forget the name of the medicine, will you?"
"Never! Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are household words already, and it has come to stay. Do come and see what sunshine it has brought already."
"I will. Good bye."
