

ASHLAND TIDINGS.

Friday, December 29, 1930
For a good Christmas dinner, go to the Ashland Hotel.

I want $5 here and five cents there. How much more will they cost, delivered?
CLIFF PAVAN, Ashland.

School Tax.
I will be at Mr. Lueker's office each afternoon until January 10, 1931, (except Sunday) to receive the school tax money.

The Holiday Masquerade.
It is a long time since Ashland has "masqueraded" and the indications are that the masquerade ball at Gardner's opera house Christmas night will be well attended.

Don't miss hearing Wm. Jackson Armstrong, one of the really great lecturers and orators who ever lived.

A large stock of new stationery of all kinds can be found in the East at prices lower than ever before.

A Portland dispatch of Dec. 25th, to the San Francisco Chronicle reads: "The greater number of passengers injured in the recent accident on the southern Pacific..."

Tickets for the Armstrong lectures, 50 cents for single lecture, 75 cents for the two.

The militia boys are practicing a little with their rifles at the target range down across Bear creek near the slaughter houses.

Mackerel, white fish and smoked salmon are the specialties of the week.

One of these "presents" the Yvonne Journal told us about last week is a government of stern, cold, un-sympathetic and unpoplar as any.

M. O. Warner, the skillful pianist, has been laid up at Grant's Pass from the effects of an accident met with while playing on the train.

Rehm's Mireole-Killer is now kept for sale at the C. O. D. Emporium of Wilson & Wadsworth, in Beaverton, Ore.

Section foreman Mansell, of Stienman, had a bad fall down a steep track one day last week, and in trying to save himself had his wrist badly cut.

Hockersmith has killed and banded between six and seven hundred logs at his packing establishment in Ashland this fall and winter.

A small sum of money was loaned at only 12 months interest in advance by the Ashland Building Loan Association at the monthly meeting Monday night.

Don't spend your money for dress goods until you go to the Assigues Sale.

G. F. Billings, secretary of the Ashland Board of Trade, has received from Salem a large number of the pamphlets entitled, "Resources of Southern Oregon."

Try our Scotch tea, McColl & Eubanks.

Another Train Through a Bridge.
Albany, Dec. 26. A passenger-bound freight train on the Southern Pacific road, here at 2 p. m., went through a short bridge one mile north of this city at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Excelsent meals, dinner and supper were served each day, and on Wednesday evening the artists remaining un-sold at the various shows were invited to play the important part of antecursor in a style that promises to make him a dangerous rival to Brightman.

Dr. Braden, of Gold Hill, was on Wednesday evening's train, returning home from San Francisco, and he is believed to have a very valuable mining property in the old Swindell and other localities.

Read the Red House ad.

The express from the north due in Ashland at 10:20 Wednesday did not arrive here until 11:30 yesterday.

There are enough English people in Portland to make the mistake of buying a ticket in demand in Christmas decorations, and as the meteorologist's forecast in that part of the state's forecast suggests that some heavy snow will fall, it is suggested by shipping down a lot of the plant.

There are enough English people in Portland to make the mistake of buying a ticket in demand in Christmas decorations, and as the meteorologist's forecast in that part of the state's forecast suggests that some heavy snow will fall, it is suggested by shipping down a lot of the plant.

There are enough English people in Portland to make the mistake of buying a ticket in demand in Christmas decorations, and as the meteorologist's forecast in that part of the state's forecast suggests that some heavy snow will fall, it is suggested by shipping down a lot of the plant.

There are enough English people in Portland to make the mistake of buying a ticket in demand in Christmas decorations, and as the meteorologist's forecast in that part of the state's forecast suggests that some heavy snow will fall, it is suggested by shipping down a lot of the plant.

There are enough English people in Portland to make the mistake of buying a ticket in demand in Christmas decorations, and as the meteorologist's forecast in that part of the state's forecast suggests that some heavy snow will fall, it is suggested by shipping down a lot of the plant.

There are enough English people in Portland to make the mistake of buying a ticket in demand in Christmas decorations, and as the meteorologist's forecast in that part of the state's forecast suggests that some heavy snow will fall, it is suggested by shipping down a lot of the plant.

BREVITIES.

All the city officers of the past year who died last week were re-elected.

A No. 1 fresh milk cow for sale at a bargain. Inquire of L. A. Rose, Phoenix, Oregon.

A new deep drain of tile being put in the rear of the Ashland Hotel.

Mr. J. M. Jones, from Roseburg, is conducting a series of meetings at the Ashland Baptist Church.

Engineer D. McCarthy is having a number of acres more of tract set aside on his place near Talent.

Marshall Mayfield gives notice that the city tax is now due and payable to him at the city council room.

Wm. G. Will go out on Klamath county with a load of the fine team and team put up by Hockersmith.

Don't miss hearing Wm. Jackson Armstrong, one of the really great lecturers and orators who ever lived.

This time last year Ashland was in the midst of a genuine, old-fashioned winter - not very cold at any time, but with a few snows and a few frosts.

The friends of Marshall Mayfield took up the town with an annual election Tuesday night after the voters had been out for some time.

A large stock of new stationery of all kinds can be found in the East at prices lower than ever before.

Farmers are complaining that this year's grain crop is the worst since the grain moved several weeks ago.

Work in the mine of the Ashland parties who have been prospecting in the Meadows has been shut.

Tickets for the Armstrong lectures, 50 cents for single lecture, 75 cents for the two.

The militia boys are practicing a little with their rifles at the target range down across Bear creek near the slaughter houses.

Mackerel, white fish and smoked salmon are the specialties of the week.

One of these "presents" the Yvonne Journal told us about last week is a government of stern, cold, un-sympathetic and unpoplar as any.

M. O. Warner, the skillful pianist, has been laid up at Grant's Pass from the effects of an accident met with while playing on the train.

Rehm's Mireole-Killer is now kept for sale at the C. O. D. Emporium of Wilson & Wadsworth, in Beaverton, Ore.

Section foreman Mansell, of Stienman, had a bad fall down a steep track one day last week, and in trying to save himself had his wrist badly cut.

Hockersmith has killed and banded between six and seven hundred logs at his packing establishment in Ashland this fall and winter.

A small sum of money was loaned at only 12 months interest in advance by the Ashland Building Loan Association at the monthly meeting Monday night.

Don't spend your money for dress goods until you go to the Assigues Sale.

G. F. Billings, secretary of the Ashland Board of Trade, has received from Salem a large number of the pamphlets entitled, "Resources of Southern Oregon."

Try our Scotch tea, McColl & Eubanks.

Another Train Through a Bridge.
Albany, Dec. 26. A passenger-bound freight train on the Southern Pacific road, here at 2 p. m., went through a short bridge one mile north of this city at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Excelsent meals, dinner and supper were served each day, and on Wednesday evening the artists remaining un-sold at the various shows were invited to play the important part of antecursor in a style that promises to make him a dangerous rival to Brightman.

Dr. Braden, of Gold Hill, was on Wednesday evening's train, returning home from San Francisco, and he is believed to have a very valuable mining property in the old Swindell and other localities.

Read the Red House ad.

The express from the north due in Ashland at 10:20 Wednesday did not arrive here until 11:30 yesterday.

THE CITY ELECTION.

The annual city election of Ashland was held on Monday, December 28, 1930.

A small fire at the Arlington hotel near the depot caused some commotion in that part of the city Tuesday evening.

A No. 1 fresh milk cow for sale at a bargain. Inquire of L. A. Rose, Phoenix, Oregon.

A new deep drain of tile being put in the rear of the Ashland Hotel.

Mr. J. M. Jones, from Roseburg, is conducting a series of meetings at the Ashland Baptist Church.

Engineer D. McCarthy is having a number of acres more of tract set aside on his place near Talent.

Marshall Mayfield gives notice that the city tax is now due and payable to him at the city council room.

Wm. G. Will go out on Klamath county with a load of the fine team and team put up by Hockersmith.

Don't miss hearing Wm. Jackson Armstrong, one of the really great lecturers and orators who ever lived.

This time last year Ashland was in the midst of a genuine, old-fashioned winter - not very cold at any time, but with a few snows and a few frosts.

The friends of Marshall Mayfield took up the town with an annual election Tuesday night after the voters had been out for some time.

A large stock of new stationery of all kinds can be found in the East at prices lower than ever before.

Farmers are complaining that this year's grain crop is the worst since the grain moved several weeks ago.

Work in the mine of the Ashland parties who have been prospecting in the Meadows has been shut.

Tickets for the Armstrong lectures, 50 cents for single lecture, 75 cents for the two.

The militia boys are practicing a little with their rifles at the target range down across Bear creek near the slaughter houses.

Mackerel, white fish and smoked salmon are the specialties of the week.

One of these "presents" the Yvonne Journal told us about last week is a government of stern, cold, un-sympathetic and unpoplar as any.

M. O. Warner, the skillful pianist, has been laid up at Grant's Pass from the effects of an accident met with while playing on the train.

Rehm's Mireole-Killer is now kept for sale at the C. O. D. Emporium of Wilson & Wadsworth, in Beaverton, Ore.

Section foreman Mansell, of Stienman, had a bad fall down a steep track one day last week, and in trying to save himself had his wrist badly cut.

Hockersmith has killed and banded between six and seven hundred logs at his packing establishment in Ashland this fall and winter.

A small sum of money was loaned at only 12 months interest in advance by the Ashland Building Loan Association at the monthly meeting Monday night.

Don't spend your money for dress goods until you go to the Assigues Sale.

G. F. Billings, secretary of the Ashland Board of Trade, has received from Salem a large number of the pamphlets entitled, "Resources of Southern Oregon."

Try our Scotch tea, McColl & Eubanks.

Another Train Through a Bridge.
Albany, Dec. 26. A passenger-bound freight train on the Southern Pacific road, here at 2 p. m., went through a short bridge one mile north of this city at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Excelsent meals, dinner and supper were served each day, and on Wednesday evening the artists remaining un-sold at the various shows were invited to play the important part of antecursor in a style that promises to make him a dangerous rival to Brightman.

Dr. Braden, of Gold Hill, was on Wednesday evening's train, returning home from San Francisco, and he is believed to have a very valuable mining property in the old Swindell and other localities.

Read the Red House ad.

HERE AND THERE.

All manner of toys at Red House.

S. H. Hall and C. G. Bagdale will go into the grocery business at Medford.

Men's Nailed Boots, $2 pair at O. H. Blount's.

The next meeting of the Jackson county teachers' association will be held at Medford, Oregon, on Friday, Dec. 31.

Four more mortgages on Oak street at Red House, north of the S. P. depot.

Dr. F. C. Horsley, of Canyon City, Grant county, a prominent resident of Yreka in the early morning days, died on Dec. 28.

O. H. Blount is offering bargains in stock to make room for holiday stock.

The Medford depot of the Jackson county railroad is to be located near the S. P. water tank, north of the S. P. depot.

Complete stock of tobacco and cigars at McColl & Eubanks.

A California exchange says the first full carload of raisins that ever left Shasta county started for the east Friday night.

Men's new underwear, 50 cents up, at O. H. Blount's.

The wife of Fred Winder, of Baker county, has been killed by a train.

Largest line holiday goods in Ashland at the Red House.

The crank, Edward S. Miller, who is now in Washington nursing the flu, says that it is necessary that he should bill President Harrison, was at one time quartermaster clerk at Vancouver, Wash. - (Welcome).

A beautiful line of cheap suits in stock at the Red House.

A little three-year-old son of Mr. Baldwin at Grant's Pass fell into a well one day recently, but was brought up by the father, who was a ladder down the well and went after him.

Make home pleasant by buying a rug at the Red House.

R. S. and W. F. McLean, proprietors of the Witholt shops about 25 miles from Portland, Ore., were at one time quartermaster clerk at Vancouver, Wash. - (Welcome).

A beautiful line of cheap suits in stock at the Red House.

A little three-year-old son of Mr. Baldwin at Grant's Pass fell into a well one day recently, but was brought up by the father, who was a ladder down the well and went after him.

Make home pleasant by buying a rug at the Red House.

R. S. and W. F. McLean, proprietors of the Witholt shops about 25 miles from Portland, Ore., were at one time quartermaster clerk at Vancouver, Wash. - (Welcome).

A beautiful line of cheap suits in stock at the Red House.

A little three-year-old son of Mr. Baldwin at Grant's Pass fell into a well one day recently, but was brought up by the father, who was a ladder down the well and went after him.

Make home pleasant by buying a rug at the Red House.

R. S. and W. F. McLean, proprietors of the Witholt shops about 25 miles from Portland, Ore., were at one time quartermaster clerk at Vancouver, Wash. - (Welcome).

A beautiful line of cheap suits in stock at the Red House.

A little three-year-old son of Mr. Baldwin at Grant's Pass fell into a well one day recently, but was brought up by the father, who was a ladder down the well and went after him.

Make home pleasant by buying a rug at the Red House.

R. S. and W. F. McLean, proprietors of the Witholt shops about 25 miles from Portland, Ore., were at one time quartermaster clerk at Vancouver, Wash. - (Welcome).

THE CITY ELECTION.

The annual city election of Ashland was held on Monday, December 28, 1930.

A small fire at the Arlington hotel near the depot caused some commotion in that part of the city Tuesday evening.

A No. 1 fresh milk cow for sale at a bargain. Inquire of L. A. Rose, Phoenix, Oregon.

A new deep drain of tile being put in the rear of the Ashland Hotel.

Mr. J. M. Jones, from Roseburg, is conducting a series of meetings at the Ashland Baptist Church.

Engineer D. McCarthy is having a number of acres more of tract set aside on his place near Talent.

Marshall Mayfield gives notice that the city tax is now due and payable to him at the city council room.

Wm. G. Will go out on Klamath county with a load of the fine team and team put up by Hockersmith.

Don't miss hearing Wm. Jackson Armstrong, one of the really great lecturers and orators who ever lived.

This time last year Ashland was in the midst of a genuine, old-fashioned winter - not very cold at any time, but with a few snows and a few frosts.

The friends of Marshall Mayfield took up the town with an annual election Tuesday night after the voters had been out for some time.

A large stock of new stationery of all kinds can be found in the East at prices lower than ever before.

Farmers are complaining that this year's grain crop is the worst since the grain moved several weeks ago.

Work in the mine of the Ashland parties who have been prospecting in the Meadows has been shut.

Tickets for the Armstrong lectures, 50 cents for single lecture, 75 cents for the two.

The militia boys are practicing a little with their rifles at the target range down across Bear creek near the slaughter houses.

Mackerel, white fish and smoked salmon are the specialties of the week.

One of these "presents" the Yvonne Journal told us about last week is a government of stern, cold, un-sympathetic and unpoplar as any.

M. O. Warner, the skillful pianist, has been laid up at Grant's Pass from the effects of an accident met with while playing on the train.

Rehm's Mireole-Killer is now kept for sale at the C. O. D. Emporium of Wilson & Wadsworth, in Beaverton, Ore.

Section foreman Mansell, of Stienman, had a bad fall down a steep track one day last week, and in trying to save himself had his wrist badly cut.

Hockersmith has killed and banded between six and seven hundred logs at his packing establishment in Ashland this fall and winter.

A small sum of money was loaned at only 12 months interest in advance by the Ashland Building Loan Association at the monthly meeting Monday night.

Don't spend your money for dress goods until you go to the Assigues Sale.

G. F. Billings, secretary of the Ashland Board of Trade, has received from Salem a large number of the pamphlets entitled, "Resources of Southern Oregon."

Try our Scotch tea, McColl & Eubanks.

Another Train Through a Bridge.
Albany, Dec. 26. A passenger-bound freight train on the Southern Pacific road, here at 2 p. m., went through a short bridge one mile north of this city at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Excelsent meals, dinner and supper were served each day, and on Wednesday evening the artists remaining un-sold at the various shows were invited to play the important part of antecursor in a style that promises to make him a dangerous rival to Brightman.

Dr. Braden, of Gold Hill, was on Wednesday evening's train, returning home from San Francisco, and he is believed to have a very valuable mining property in the old Swindell and other localities.

Read the Red House ad.

THE CITY ELECTION.

The annual city election of Ashland was held on Monday, December 28, 1930.

A small fire at the Arlington hotel near the depot caused some commotion in that part of the city Tuesday evening.

A No. 1 fresh milk cow for sale at a bargain. Inquire of L. A. Rose, Phoenix, Oregon.

A new deep drain of tile being put in the rear of the Ashland Hotel.

Mr. J. M. Jones, from Roseburg, is conducting a series of meetings at the Ashland Baptist Church.

Engineer D. McCarthy is having a number of acres more of tract set aside on his place near Talent.

Marshall Mayfield gives notice that the city tax is now due and payable to him at the city council room.

Wm. G. Will go out on Klamath county with a load of the fine team and team put up by Hockersmith.

Don't miss hearing Wm. Jackson Armstrong, one of the really great lecturers and orators who ever lived.

This time last year Ashland was in the midst of a genuine, old-fashioned winter - not very cold at any time, but with a few snows and a few frosts.

The friends of Marshall Mayfield took up the town with an annual election Tuesday night after the voters had been out for some time.

A large stock of new stationery of all kinds can be found in the East at prices lower than ever before.

Farmers are complaining that this year's grain crop is the worst since the grain moved several weeks ago.

Work in the mine of the Ashland parties who have been prospecting in the Meadows has been shut.

Tickets for the Armstrong lectures, 50 cents for single lecture, 75 cents for the two.

The militia boys are practicing a little with their rifles at the target range down across Bear creek near the slaughter houses.

Mackerel, white fish and smoked salmon are the specialties of the week.

One of these "presents" the Yvonne Journal told us about last week is a government of stern, cold, un-sympathetic and unpoplar as any.

M. O. Warner, the skillful pianist, has been laid up at Grant's Pass from the effects of an accident met with while playing on the train.

Rehm's Mireole-Killer is now kept for sale at the C. O. D. Emporium of Wilson & Wadsworth, in Beaverton, Ore.

Section foreman Mansell, of Stienman, had a bad fall down a steep track one day last week, and in trying to save himself had his wrist badly cut.

Hockersmith has killed and banded between six and seven hundred logs at his packing establishment in Ashland this fall and winter.

A small sum of money was loaned at only 12 months interest in advance by the Ashland Building Loan Association at the monthly meeting Monday night.

Don't spend your money for dress goods until you go to the Assigues Sale.

G. F. Billings, secretary of the Ashland Board of Trade, has received from Salem a large number of the pamphlets entitled, "Resources of Southern Oregon."

Try our Scotch tea, McColl & Eubanks.

Another Train Through a Bridge.
Albany, Dec. 26. A passenger-bound freight train on the Southern Pacific road, here at 2 p. m., went through a short bridge one mile north of this city at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Excelsent meals, dinner and supper were served each day, and on Wednesday evening the artists remaining un-sold at the various shows were invited to play the important part of antecursor in a style that promises to make him a dangerous rival to Brightman.

Dr. Braden, of Gold Hill, was on Wednesday evening's train, returning home from San Francisco, and he is believed to have a very valuable mining property in the old Swindell and other localities.

Read the Red House ad.

THE CITY ELECTION.

The annual city election of Ashland was held on Monday, December 28, 1930.

A small fire at the Arlington hotel near the depot caused some commotion in that part of the city Tuesday evening.

A No. 1 fresh milk cow for sale at a bargain. Inquire of L. A. Rose, Phoenix, Oregon.

A new deep drain of tile being put in the rear of the Ashland Hotel.

Mr. J. M. Jones, from Roseburg, is conducting a series of meetings at the Ashland Baptist Church.

Engineer D. McCarthy is having a number of acres more of tract set aside on his place near Talent.

Marshall Mayfield gives notice that the city tax is now due and payable to him at the city council room.

Wm. G. Will go out on Klamath county with a load of the fine team and team put up by Hockersmith.

Don't miss hearing Wm. Jackson Armstrong, one of the really great lecturers and orators who ever lived.

This time last year Ashland was in the midst of a genuine, old-fashioned winter - not very cold at any time, but with a few snows and a few frosts.

The friends of Marshall Mayfield took up the town with an annual election Tuesday night after the voters had been out for some time.

A large stock of new stationery of all kinds can be found in the East at prices lower than ever before.

Farmers are complaining that this year's grain crop is the worst since the grain moved several weeks ago.

Work in the mine of the Ashland parties who have been prospecting in the Meadows has been shut.

Tickets for the Armstrong lectures, 50 cents for single lecture, 75 cents for the two.

The militia boys are practicing a little with their rifles at the target range down across Bear creek near the slaughter houses.

Mackerel, white fish and smoked salmon are the specialties of the week.

One of these "presents" the Yvonne Journal told us about last week is a government of stern, cold, un-sympathetic and unpoplar as any.

M. O. Warner, the skillful pianist, has been laid up at Grant's Pass from the effects of an accident met with while playing on the train.