SMOKERS FOR THE APIARY.

A Good Smoker Described—When to Use and What to Burn in It. A good smoker is one of the essentials in a beeyard, while a poor one is a nuisance.

A writer in The Farmer's Advocate thinks it pays to use the smoker every time one opens a hive, although he is careful not to overdose the bees with smoke.

As regards the fuel to be used in the smoker, the correspondent quoted employs dry planer shavings, not those from a large planer used in dressing lumber—those are too coarse—but those from a buzz planer or molding machine are just right.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

A College President writes: "For ease with which the eye finds the word sought, for accuracy of definition, for effective methods in indexing, for comprehensive statements of facts, and for practical use as a working dictionary, Webster's International exceeds any other single volume."

STAGE GLINTS.

Richard Mansfield is negotiating for a long lease of Harrigan's theater, New York.

Professor Herrmann, the conjurer, and Manager George W. Lederer have at last settled amicably all their differences.

John T. Kelly, the Irish comedian, will not star this season, but will stay at home to write songs and get a good piece for next year.

In all probability Mrs. Langtry will take Lillian Russell's time at Abbey's theater, New York. The engagement will begin on Nov. 4.

The arena scene in Robert Downing's production of "The Gladiator" is an exact reproduction of Jerome's celebrated painting of the gladiatorial combat.

James G. Blaine, Patrick Egan and Admiral Gherardi are impersonated in "Old Glory," the new play by Charles T. Vincent, which A. Brady has produced.

It requires more electrical apparatus to produce "Off the Earth," in which the American Travesty company is playing, than is carried by any other organization on tour.

Thomas Canary will build a theater in New York. It will be situated on Broadway on the northeast corner of Forty-second street. It will be completed by May 1, 1895.

It is worthy of note that Nat C. Goodwin has never known a failure in his life, and he has played in more pieces and made more productions than has probably any other actor of today.

Fred C. Whitney manages more light opera singers than does any other manager in the world. There are to be 80 people in the Rob Roy company, 67 in support of Louise Beaudet in "Clicquetto" and 65 in "The Fencing Master."

GEMS OF THOUGHT.

A man's conduct is an unspoken sermon. The golden age is not behind but before us. A happy fireside is better than a big bank account. Of all combats, the sorest is to conquer ourselves. The honest man never stops to inquire if honesty pays. Though thou hast never so many counselors, yet do not forsake the counsel of thy own soul. A man who puts off his enjoyment too long will find it mislaid by the time he goes to get it. Modesty is to merit what shading is to a figure in a picture. It makes it stand out in strong relief. The wealth of a man is the number of things which he loves and blesses, which he is loved and blessed by. No true work since the world began was ever wasted; no true life since the world began has ever failed. It is not so much the being exempt from faults as the having overcome them that is an advantage to us. Man and wife are like a pair of scissors so long as they are together, but they become daggers as soon as they are disunited.—Popular Magazine.

When persons are weak and languid from sickness or overwork, feel debilitated and depressed, it is an indication that the blood is out of order, and they need help to throw off the miserable feeling. The best remedy for this purpose is Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It restores lost strength, gives vigor to circulation, promotes good appetite and a flow of cheerfulness. Price $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Ashland Drug Co.

SAVED A LITTLE GIRL'S LIFE.

Harvard Student Rescues a Child From Death by an Electric Car in Cambridge. A signal instance of courage and quickness of thought, which undoubtedly saved the life of a little child, occurred in Cambridge on Friday evening.

Shortly before 7 p. m. a Tremont House electric car was passing along Main street at a very rapid rate. Near Windsor street a little girl, apparently about 3 years of age, ran from the sidewalk toward the track. The motorman quickly shut off the current and put on the brake. Then the child paused, and the motorman released the car.

Just as the car had regained its momentum the child, through some strange impulse, darted forward to cross the track. The motorman was almost breathless with horror. There was no time to stop the car, and the toddling infant seemed doomed.

Suddenly a tall, athletic young man sprang from his seat at the end of the front row, and grasping the curved handle on the dasher of the car with his right hand swung himself out on the fender. Just as the car was about to crush the little girl under its wheels he seized her firmly by the waist.

It was a trying moment to the nerves of the passengers and motorman. It seemed for an instant as if both man and child would fall in front of the fender. But by an almost convulsive effort the rescuer lifted the little girl from the track and laid her on her back at one side out of the reach of the wheels.

So great was the strain upon him that as soon as the child was released he himself fell forward on the fender, and only an unusual degree of agility enabled him to scramble up on his knees and back to his seat in the car.

The whole thing was done in an instant. The motorman, pale with fright, was only able to look his thanks.

The hero of the affair was the most composed person on the car. He at once sought a rear seat to avoid attention, merely remarking to the motorman as he passed: "God! Why don't you get out of this?"

A passenger said that the young man was a Harvard student who resides on Sacramento street, Cambridge.—Boston Herald.

Salt Lake.

"During a trip through Utah," said A. C. Levering of Kansas City, "I witnessed a most convincing proof of the weight of the salt laden waters of the Great Salt lake. A strong gale of wind was blowing over the lake and driving its surface into low, white capped ridges, while along the shore the foam lay like flat banks of new fallen snow. If as strong a wind had passed across a lake of fresh water of equal extent, it would unquestionably have produced such an agitation of its surface that navigation in small boats would have been difficult if not highly perilous. The waves there and rose only to a slight elevation. Yet there was an immense momentum stirred up in those low, heavy, slow moving waves. I ventured into the water at a point where the depth did not exceed three feet and found that it was impossible to stand against them, as their sheer weight swept me resistlessly along. I was told that it was impossible to dive through an oncoming wave after the manner practiced by bathers along the Atlantic coast."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

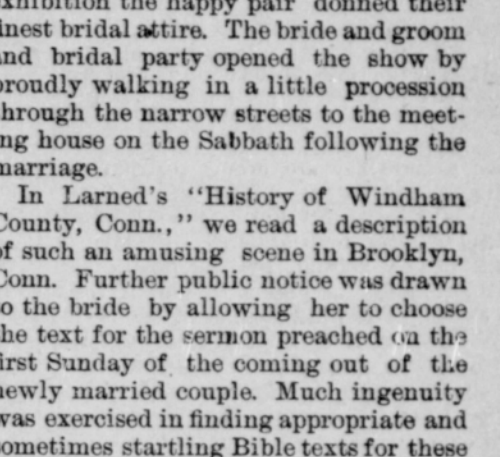

BLANCHED HAIRS.

Dr. Herbert tells of a woman, a witness in the celebrated trial of Lovell, whose hair blanching to pure white in a single night.

THE DRESS OF A ROYAL BRIDE.

It is only outside of Russia that it is possible to publish certain details of the splendid fetes attending the marriage of the czar's daughter. It is contraband to print in Russian newspapers the fact that at the wedding ceremony the empress of Russia was dressed in blue moire antique thickly embroidered with silver. Her majesty's jewels were sapphires and diamonds. The dress of the bride was entirely of silver cloth, with a train of crimson velvet bordered with ermine. On her head was a large diamond tiara, behind which was a bridal wreath, and then on top of the head was the small diamond crown worn by all imperial brides at their weddings.

A MARTYR TO INDIGESTION

Cured by Using Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For years, I was a martyr to indigestion, and had about given up all hope of ever finding relief, as the complaint only seemed to grow worse instead of better, under ordinary treatment. At last, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and I hereby testify that after its use only three bottles, I was cured. I can, therefore, confidently recommend this medicine to all similarly afflicted.

"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a specific for croup. It is very pleasant to take, which is one of the most important requisites where it ought to be intended for use among children. I have known of cases of croup where I knew the life of a little one was saved by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." — J. LaGrange, druggist, Avoca, Neb. 50 cent bottles for sale by Ashland Drug Co.

"The hair of both Mary, queen of Scots, and Marie Antoinette whitened within a few hours of the time of their execution." — St. Louis Republic.

The jet black locks of Oscar Pfeiffer, who died at Vienna in 1887, were suddenly changed to pure white through fright at falling into a deep well.

The beard and hair of the great Duke of Brunswick whitened within 24 hours upon learning that his father had been mortally wounded in battle. Cassell's "World of Wonders" cites several prominent cases of this kind, one being King Ludwig of Bavaria, whose "hair became almost suddenly white" upon learning that a person whom he had put to death was innocent of the crime charged.
