fight for the independence of his country.

The sword of Islam alone could not have maintained the Ottoman Empire, and its sins against Christianity and humanity should be charged up against the enlightened Englishman. There is a question if the Armenians are worth all this is also of the truth of many of the recommotion in the civilized world as there ports of horrible brutalities practiced upon them. We suspect that the sympathy extended to these people from all Christain lands could be expended in a better cause and nearer home for the promo tion of Cuban independence and the ex-contrary, suave and plausible, without affection or regard for anyone, and immoral where immorality does not cost him anything; an obedient and hard-working clerk, a merciless and grasping master, and often marvelously clever withal. The Turk, on the contrary, is very different. Except those who fill official positions, where intrigue is part and parcel of their being, the Turk is straightforward, enjoying his life, as immoral as the Armenian, a lax Moslem, moral or physical, can hold him back.

"It has been said that the massacres in Armenia were due to religious persecution.

This is not a fact, and there is no doubt belief. On the contrary, it is the Christians who are attempting to persuade the Moslems to change their religion, though in the case of the Turks their absolute failure has led to their abandoning them.

Christian missionaries are allowed to reside, and do reside, in most of the larger towns of Asia Minor. The Americans especially have opened schools and churches, and are doing good work among the native Christian children.

Let one thing be clearly understood with regard to the eastern Christians, and that is this-that their fanaticism and hatred toward the Turk are a hundred times greater than that of the Turk toward them. In talking to Moslems of Armenians during my travels, I heard not one curse or opprobrious epithet used; in talking to Armenians about the Moslems, no name was too bad, no insult

The New York Weekly Tribune Astounding in its Effects in the cure

OF NOVEMBER 4th, 1896. Public interest will steadily increase, and the question how the men whose votes turned the scale at the last election are satisfied with the results under the administration they elected, will make the campaign the most intensely exciting in the history of the country.

The New York Weekly Tribune, the leading Republican family newspaper of the United States, will publish all the political news of the day, interesting to every American citizen regardless of party affiliations.

Also general news in attractive form, foreign correspondence covering the news of the world, an agricultural department second to none in the country, market reports which are recognized authority, fascinating short stories, complete in each number, the cream of the humorous papers, foreign and domestic, with their best comic pictures, fashion plates and elaborate descriptions of woman's attire, with a varied and attractive department of household interest. The "New York Weekly Tribune" is an ideal family paper, with a circulation larger than that of any other weekly publication in the country issued from the office of a daily. Large changes are being made in its detail, tending to give it greater life and variety, and especially more interest to the women and young people of the household.

A special contract enables us to offer this splendid journal and the

"She entertained frequently. John Wilkes Booth was a frequent visitor at the house, he being very intimate with my mistress' son, John Surratt. Booth, a kind of a helpless fellow, required a good deal of waiting on, and from him I received the first money I could say was mine.

About two months before the taking off of President Lincoln Booth was at the fore the shooting of the president Mrs. Surratt and I went into Washington, and she bought 9 or 12 pistols at a gunsmith's.

They were put in a little coffin, which the

How They Telegraph In Persia.

Telegraphic communication in Persia is said to work fairly well in dry weather, but in times of rain and damp it is unfortunately far otherwise. This arises from the fact that the insulators are not fixed to poles of wood or iron, as with us, but are driven into trees that have branches growing round the hooks and touch the wire, thus intercepting the current. When a large tree is not available, country needs a rest. It certainly needs small one is resorted to, which often a gun in Texas occasionally. We are inclined to the belief that the country breaks, or the shaking of the slender tree by the wind dislodges the insulator or hook on which it is fixed, and the wire trails on has had too much rest to be healthy. It needs a shaking up. It needs a tonic. It needs an infusion of fresh blood and Mrs. Chas. A. Russell, who is favorably known throughout the Northwest, says:

"For fifteen years I was a constant sufferer from asthma without any relief, except that obtained by constant change of locality. Two years ago I tried Moore,s Revealed Remedy and the benefits received from it were the most gratifying. It gave me relief from the first, and prevented the terrible distress peculiar to the disease that made life almost unbearable. Any one who has ever had asthma can understand the gratitude I feel toward this remedy. I have not hesitated to recommend it to all like sufferers, and always with the same happy result.
