PENSION BILL BEING CONSIDERED

The President Will Settle Controversy Over Agencies.

The pension appropriation bill was reported to the Senate Feb. 20th carrying $156,688,000. This is $72,000 in excess of the amount of the bill as it passed the House, the difference being represented by salaries and expenses of the 18 pension agencies throughout the country, which the House proposed to abolish.

There have been controversies between the Senate and House over the pension agencies for the last seven or eight years. It is understood now that this fight will be settled by President Taft, who proposes to abolish all but six of the agencies and consolidate the work in large districts that now exist. Under this understanding the Senate amendment probably will be allowed in the bill.

Aviation Correspondence.

One hundred pupils have already enrolled in the world's first correspondence school for aviators at Chicago sending their names from all parts of the United States and Canada.

"JOY WAS UNCONFINED"

Washington Birthday Social by Young Men's Improvement Club.

Residents in the vicinity of the Plaza and the Hotel Oregon were slightly disturbed by sounds of revelry emanating from the G. A. R. Hall Tuesday night. Subsequent inquiry revealed the fact that the gale was occasioned by the social session of the Young Men's Club. Twenty-one couples were present, each member bringing a girl friend.

The club colors, old rose and cream, were much in evidence, eighty yards of ribbon having been provided especially for the occasion. The fair guests wore the colors looped over their shoulders and from the ribbons depended a toy hatchet, in the handle of which was concealed a red white and blue fan, while on the blade appeared the well known words of Washington, "I cannot tell a lie." Upon the other side of the blade was written the club initials, date and name of guest. The boys wore a bow of colors on the lapel of their coat and two miniature toy hatchets.

After the opening grand march "progressive pit" was indulged in until supper was ready. The wildest excitement that ever prevailed in the wheat pit at the Chicago Board of Trade was a tame affair compared to the trading in cereals by these forty odd young people Tuesday night. Every ten minutes the scores were punched in the pastboard hatchets and the couples changed positions. Judging by uproarious roars which leaked out of the hall one would think that fortunes were being won and lost every few minutes. The excited merry makers frequently refreshed themselves with bon bons and fermented juice of the grape. When the scores were counted up it was found that Miss Irma Snerd had won the first prize for ladies, a fine box of candy, and Alvin Wheeler was similarly rewarded for skillful playing. Miss Gertrude Engle and Ambrose Criss were consoled with a broken hatchet and a mustard spoon, respectively.

RECEPTION AND SMOKER TO DYER

Trainmen and Citizens Unite in Honoring Superintendents.

A combined reception and farewell smoker were given in Dunsuir to J. W. Metcalfe and J. H. Dyer, the superintendent and ex-superintendent, respectively, of the Shasta division, at the Hotel Weed dining room, last Wednesday evening by a party of representative business men and railroad employes, says the Dispatch. A banquet of numerous courses was served. The town council, headed by Mayor Levy, attended in a body.

The staff in the Dunsuir Southern Pacific offices presented Supt. Dyer, who left Wednesday for his new field of operation at Tucson, a beautiful gold watch and fob. The case was of plain gold, with no engraving except the initials, "J. H. D." On the inside of the case were engraved the words, "Presented to J. H. Dyer, superintendent Shasta division, by his fellow workers." The fob consisted of an elk tooth ornament. The presentation was made in the office of Mr. Morrison by J. W. Fitzgerald, assistant superintendent.

ASHLAND AGAIN AHEAD

Wins Over Medford at Basketball, Monday Night

Admitting that their "regular" team showed the same lack of training that has characterized most of its games, and further that the line up was absolutely devoid of team work because of the fact that none played a match game together, Medford acknowledges its defeat at the hands of Ashland's city team, the score at the end of the first half standing 25 to 6 in favor of the Granite city contingent, and at the game's conclusion the score stood 39 to 18 against the Medfordites.

The line up for the two teams follows: Ashland—Herdon and Eastman, forwards; Shaw, center; Robertson and Fogarty, guards. Medford—Strang and McKay, forwards; Childers, center; Hill and Crews, guards. Referee, Hall; umpire, McGee.

Californians Visit Us. The Etina team, champions of Northern California and as yet undefeated this season, will be in Ashland for two games, Friday and Saturday of this week, the alignment being Ashland First Team vs Etina tomorrow evening, and Ashland High School vs the visitors, Saturday evening. ## GOVERNOR WEST EXERCISES VETO

Over a Score of Measures Meet With His Disapproval.

Yesterday Gov. West vetoed fully a score of measures with the prospect that more will follow. Among measures meeting his disapproval are: House bill 184, by Eggleston, prohibiting sale and shipment of fish caught in Rogue river.

Senate bill 252, protecting salmon in Klamath river. House bill 184, by Eggleston, to prohibit sale of fish caught in Rogue river, was considered meritorious, but was vetoed for the reason that it conflicted with the duties prescribed in the bill creating the fish commission.

These bills were vetoed on the ground that the creation of the board of game and fish commissioners have charge of the different districts in whose interests the bills were passed and hence were unnecessary additions to the session laws. Although the governor has not reached the bill repealing the initiative law prohibiting fishing in Rogue river with other than hook and line, it is said he will support the repeal.

Fear an Extra Session.

Fearful of business disturbance if an extra session of congress is called, agents of the money kings are bringing the greatest possible pressure to bear on President Taft to induce him to forego his declared purpose, no matter what the action of congress on reciprocity and his other pet projects.

"Let us have a rest," is the plaint to the president. "We don't want an extra session. It will keep business in a turmoil, because the democrats are apt to start anything when they get hold of the reins of government. We want a tariff rest until December anyway."

Not only anglers directly interested, but many others sympathizing with sentiment of fairplay, as endorsed by the people at the November election, are signing protests against the enactment of the Pierce fish bill. These protests have been circulated in Ashland this week, and are meeting with a liberal number of signatures.

JOLLITY AT THE TEMPLE

Another Fine Entertainment on Washington's Birthday.

Apparently unmindful of the fact that a normal ten cent admission fee would overwhelm them with guests on the occasion of their celebrating Washington's Birthday, at the Temple of Truth last evening, the management went ahead nevertheless and conducted one of the most successful "dime socials" on record.

In the first place a substantial supper was served. The attendance was not only large but it was overflowing. Supper was supplemented with a varied program—literary, musical, and theatrical. Young and old were cut for a jovial time and they found it. An especial patriotic feature was the marching and countermarching of a bevy of fair young girls who went through the evolutions with remarkable proficiency in every detail. All sorts of costumes were in evidence when the fun began, from those of medieval times to the hobble skirt of the present, and there was a carnival of the sombre, the grotesque and ridiculous, combined in proportions just about right to please everybody.

Musical accompaniments were not overlooked, and a mirth-provoking farce as the grand finale was along with more than the price of admission. Candy booth stocks were cleared out in short order, and measured by the success of last evening's venture, success of future entertainments at the Temple of Truth are more than ever assured.

Without individualizing as to names of all those who so acceptably entertained the multitude on this occasion, Mrs. A. B. Easterly's colored impersonation, and the trials experienced by the census taker were two features which especially convulsed the house. Arnold Lamb's burlesque on tragedy was a bit of realistic acting very cleverly done.

Want Delivery Service Extended.

Residents of the eastern section of Ashland are very desirous of securing the benefits of free mail delivery and are hoping that some means will be devised to secure an extension of the present service. It is claimed that there are now four hundred people in one group in that section within the city limits who have to call at the postoffice for their mail who would be served by an extension of the carrier limits eastward.

MILITARY BOYS' SOCIAL AFFAIR

Co. B, Fourth Regiment, Gives Customary Annual Hop.

Ashland's local military contingent was at home to its numerous friends among the younger element, last evening at the Natatorium, the occasion being the annual military ball which is one of the chief events of the Washington Birthday social season. The big Nat. made an ideal dancing floor and it was utilized to the fullest extent, the score of numbers on the program keeping the merrymakers on the qui vive until past the midnight hour.

Program, invitation, decorating, music, and floor committees attended to every detail, and the annual anniversary event passes into history as being one of the most successful ever given under local military auspices. The elaborate gowns worn by the ladies and the full dress uniforms of their gallant escorts were in keeping with the general decorative effects. The program cover represented an eagle, the national colors, and liberty bell. Musical accompaniments were by the local military orchestra.
