HADLEY IS OBJECT OF WILD DEMONSTRATION.

CALIFORNIANS START PARADE

"We Want Teddy" is Cry of Delegation—Other States Follow and Pandemonium Reigns—Feeling Between Factions Grows Keener.

Convention Hall, Chicago, June 19.—When at 11:15 o'clock this morning the second day's session of the national republican convention began, Senator Root announced the unfinished business of the day—the motion of Watson that the convention proceed to the appointment of regular committees and the substitute motion of Governor Hadley that the Roosevelt list of delegates be substituted for the temporary roll.

It had been agreed in advance that there should be no preliminary points of order against the Roosevelt motion, the Taft forces agreeing to fight the matter out before the delegates.

Governor Hadley began an explanation of the situation confronting the convention. He reviewed the events of yesterday leading up to the ruling of National Committee Chairman Rosewater, which quashed the Hadley motion to purge the temporary roll.

"We could have met immediately and forcibly this arbitrary and unconstitutional ruling," said Hadley, "and he would have been forced to yield."

Governor Hadley did not attempt to go into details of the various contested cases, saying he would leave that to other speakers. He read the indictment of the national committee as uttered by Colonel Roosevelt in his Monday night speech and it called out a big cheer.

He then read a statement from 14 members of the national committee protesting against the action of the majority in seating many of the delegates, particularly in the California, Texas and Washington cases.

The delegates burst into wild cheering which presently brought the delegates up standing. Then began a series of impromptu parades. California began to shout, "We want Teddy," and in a moment the whole auditorium was a moving mass of men with banners, yelling at the tops of their voices, the galleries aiding in the noise.

After three-quarters of an hour of demonstration Watson moved to refer the Hadley resolution to the credentials committee.

Governor Deneen of Illinois moved as an amendment to Hadley's resolution that no man whose seat was contested should participate in the judgment on his own case.

Watson moved to table the Deneen motion. Chairman Root said he understood the Deneen motion to mean that none of the delegates named in the Hadley resolution could vote on any contested seat.

The roll call on the motion to table the Deneen amendment began at 4:15 and resulted in favor of the Taft men by a vote of 564 to 519, four not voting.

Conference Here in September. The date for the assembling of the Oregon Methodist conference, which is scheduled for Ashland this fall, has been announced for September 18.

HARDMAN EXONERATED. Shooting Affray in Roseburg Settled by Jury.

Exonerated by the coroner's jury, Ben Hardman, who shot and killed his brother-in-law, J. W. Adams, at Reston last Friday noon, walked out of the county jail Tuesday morning a free man and went back to his mountain home. In no longer time than it required to write it out and affix the signatures, the jury filed its verdict, following the introduction of evidence in addition to that presented Monday. After finding that Adams came to his death from peritonitis from a gunshot wound inflicted by Hardman, the jury adds: "That said shooting by Ben Hardman was justified under all circumstances, according to the evidence presented."

"I shall abide by the verdict of the coroner's jury," said District Attorney Brown. "It was composed of representative citizens, and I placed before them every scrap of evidence that I could gather. It has always been my custom, however, to present such matters to the grand jury, and I shall not deviate in this case. All of the testimony will be presented to the grand jury in written form, and that body may act in the matter as it sees fit."

LAMPMAN SELLS. Gold Hill Editor Turns Over Plant to His Brother.

Rex Lampman, guiding star of the Gold Hill News, poet laureate of the Rogue and principal prop of the Scott banking plan, has forsaken the journalistic tandy and will hereafter trod other paths to glory. Unlike most poets, Mr. Lampman writes some real poetry, and whether he follows the forge or the plow, his pen will be busy in the future.

Lampman has been editor of the Gold Hill News for about two years and his paper was always well edited and widely read. An article regarding a school scandal in which a boy was spanked and the side he took in the fracas caused several Gold Hill merchants to boycott him. The boycotters threatened to make him walk out of town, and to forestall any such proceedings the fighting scribe bought a whole block of Gold Hill property with the proceeds of his newspaper sale. Ben Lampman, brother of Rex, is the new editor.

WILL PUMP OUT MINE Shaft West of Ashland to Be Prepared for Extensive Operations—Machinery Being Installed.

Prospects are good for extensive operations in the old Ashland mine one mile west of this city, according to development now going on in that vicinity. Pumping machinery is being installed and the work of emptying the old shaft will be pushed rapidly to completion. The Boston-Montana Company and the English Exploration Company of London are the companies interested and they have experts on the ground now who are looking after the development of the project. Mr. Henley, who is in charge of the work, has had much experience in mining and is confident the properties will be put on a paying basis very soon.

The expense of pumping out the shaft is estimated at $4,000. There is at present 700 feet of water in the shaft, the total depth of which is 1,000 feet. With the water entirely removed a splendid showing of ore is assured by those who formerly worked in the mine. Mr. Thomas Hill, who knows the prospect thoroughly, says he has no doubt of the outcome and that the mine will very soon be pouring out pay dirt in large quantities. Years ago the mine was operated and was found to be rich in ore. The present company became interested in it last winter.

Chautauqua Park Club. A special meeting of the Chautauqua Park Club will be held in the park at 2:30 next Friday afternoon.

MRS. JENNIE FAWCETT, President. July 4th Dinner.

The Woman's Relief Corps will serve dinner in the G. A. R. hall from 11:00 to 2:00 p. m. Price 25c. 6-4t.

LEAVES IT TO OTHERS. Chicago, Ill., June 20, 2 a. m.—"So far as I am concerned," declared Colonel Roosevelt to his delegates in an address to his delegates and advisors this morning, "I am through. If you are voted down I hope you, the real and lawful majority of the convention, will organize as such, and you will do it if you have the courage of your convictions."

Call for Premiums. Winners of premiums in the recent rose carnival, who have not already received the prizes, may have them by calling at the Granite City Savings Bank. The ladies of the civic club acknowledge with thanks the return of prizes won by Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Veighte.

BRONCO BUSTING TO BE A FEATURE COMMITTEE HAS SECURED SOME OF THE HARDEST BUCKING ANIMALS TO BE FOUND IN THE COUNTRY

Committees for the monster celebration that is to be pulled off in Ashland July 4 are hard at work and every event is sure to be a hummer. The executive committee report the most hearty support ever accorded an enterprise of the kind, both from a financial standpoint as well as from the standpoint of service. Everybody is working hard to make this the greatest event of the kind ever pulled off in southern Oregon.

The bronco-busting contest promises to be one of the big features of the day. Six of the worst horses in the country have been secured and three others are virtually promised. A number of fearless riders have signified their intention of participating in the event and others will be sure to come. The contest will be held on the ball grounds and the committee plans to make the bucking contest and the ball game a double event to which a single admission will be charged.

The sham battle will take place on the railroad grounds north of the round-house, the local company meeting the new Medford company in the contest.

Pedersen's orchestra has been secured for the ball in the evening and decorations galore are provided. It is the intention of the committee to make this feature one of the big things of the day. Clarence Lane will serve soft drinks and ice cream.

It is understood that the races scheduled for the day in Medford will not be pulled off until late in the afternoon, thus giving the Medford people an opportunity to attend a greater part of the events in Ashland.

The committees appointed are as follows: Barbecue—H. Mitchell, C. E. Lane, John Hughes, Ray Brown, Jack Newlin, Frank Lowery, E. E. Miller. Machine Races—M. E. Briggs, H. Pellet, F. L. Camp, J. E. Thornton will be marshal of the day.

Bronco Busting—George Hargadine, Fred Herrin, Murray Murphy, Homer Barron, Bert and Ivan Dennis. Miliga Sham Battle—George Spencer, George Watson, Music—Will Loomis, Clark Bush, Light—C. A. Malone, H. G. Butterfield, Guy Good, Jordan Brothers, Beecher Danford.

Dance—Nate Bates, E. R. Grieve, Jr., Sylvan Provost. Speaker—E. J. Kaiser, G. F. Billings, R. P. Neil. Decorations—A. R. Chaney, George Watson, J. S. Moyer, Melvin Emery, H. Provost, Guy Jacobs, M. C. Edgington.

Parade and Store Decoration—Mrs. Emil Peil is working up a committee of ladies and with them a men's committee consisting of George Watson and Lynn Purdin will also work.

Best Rooms—J. S. Moyer and H. Provost. Shooting Contest—H. V. Richardson, O. O. Helman, Charles Christensen.

LADY TO REST. Friends Pay Last Respects to William Patterson.

A large crowd of friends gathered at the family residence on Pine street at 10 o'clock this morning to pay their last sad respects to the memory of William Patterson, a public servant, whose departure from the activities of life is a matter of universal sorrow. The services were conducted by the Christian Science church at the house, and by the A. O. U. W. and Knights of Pythias at the grave in Ashland cemetery.

William Patterson was born near LaFayette, Ashland county, Ohio, May 19, 1845. He was the fourth in a family of 14, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Patterson of Ashland county, Ohio. In 1862 the family, consisting of the parents and eight children, moved to this valley and settled on a farm north of this city and near to Talent. William lived on the farm with his father until 1866, when he began sawmilling on his own responsibility, erecting a mill on Wagner creek, and later conducting a similar enterprise on Big Butte creek. Subsequently he removed to the North Umpqua river in Douglas county and ran a mill for a couple of years, then sold out and came to Ashland, where he followed the carpenter's and builder's trade for several years. He also became interested in mining in Siskiyou county, California, giving up these combined interests to become superintendent of the Ashland waterworks in 1900.

Mr. Patterson was married to Miss Annie E. Cliff in Jacksonville March 11, 1874. He is survived by a widow and six children, one child having died in infancy. They are: Mrs. R. R. Robley of Portland, Mrs. Jessie Percival of Independence, Mrs. Elsie Churchman, Mrs. W. C. Mitchell, Harold and Margaret of this city. He also leaves two sisters and six brothers, three of whom reside in this vicinity, Mrs. James Thornton and Sylvester Patterson of Ashland and Joshua Patterson, formerly county commissioner, of Talent.

In the death of Mr. Patterson the community loses a valuable servant. During the twelve years that he has been superintendent of the Ashland waterworks he has given eminent satisfaction and to him is largely due the present excellent water system that Ashland enjoys. Under his control the works have been enlarged, new machinery placed, and additions made that have been invaluable for the equalization of water distribution. Kind, genial, always ready to lend a helping hand for the betterment of his fellow-man, Mr. Patterson commanded a host of friends. Devoted to his duty, careful and painstaking, he administered the affairs of the city placed in his hands in a way that made him almost indispensable to the system. His position was a responsible one and he gave it the best possible service. In an official capacity, in his home and on the street he will be greatly missed, as a man devoted to duty and universally popular. He was a member of the Christian Science church, of which organization he was treasurer. The Knights of Pythias and A. O. U. W. named him among their membership. In the former he was a past chancellor and in the latter past noble workman.

Resolutions of Respect. Ashland, Ore., June 18, 1912. At a regular meeting of the city council, held Tuesday evening, June 18, 1912, the following resolutions were adopted:

WILL TEST LAW. Angler to Sell Salmon Caught With Hook and Line.

Following a recent decision of the attorney general in which he held that it was lawful to sell salmon caught with a hook, the first fish dealers peddling salmon of Rogue river appeared in Medford Tuesday. Bert Rippey, an angler of some fame, arrived on the morning train Tuesday with some hundred pounds of salmon which he promptly began selling from door to door at the price of 10 cents a pound. Needless to say, they went fast.

It is understood that the game wardens will make a test case out of the matter in the near future, but Rippey is not in the least alarmed, stating that he believes he is within the law and will stand trial on the matter.

Conductor Breaks Ribs. Tom Book, S. P. freight conductor, had two ribs broken and another fractured at Avers Spur Sunday evening. His train stopped there to take on a car of lumber and while shifting he was struck by a heavy timber that some one had carelessly left projecting too near the track. He will be laid up for at least six weeks, the physician says.

WILL COLONEL BOLT? Borah and Others Refuse to Leave Convention—Teddy Men Withdraw From Committee.

Chicago, June 19.—The long-expected crash in republican ranks came tonight. The Roosevelt forces, acting, they said, under the personal direction of the colonel himself, began to lay plans for independent action in the national convention. As a forerunner of the more drastic action expected tomorrow or Friday in the convention, the Roosevelt members of the committee on credentials withdrew from that body and in effect withdrew all of the Roosevelt credentials which had been sealed from 92 to 78.

Colonel Roosevelt was in the midst of a series of conferences tonight and busy flurrying on loyal delegates whom he could expect to carry with him out of the convention, or rather into the separate convention on the Coliseum floor in the event a crisis is reached.

Persons who talked with the colonel tonight said there was no longer any doubt of his attitude. Convinced that the credentials committee was against him and would retain the contested Taft delegates in their seats, Colonel Roosevelt decided to go no further with the futile fight in the regular convention. Colonel Roosevelt would not issue a formal statement as to his warlike intentions, but it was said to have made his position clear to his followers.

Senator Borah, it was reported, asserted as he left the Roosevelt rooms that he would not bolt. The Missouri delegation in the convention had a caucus tonight for the purpose, it was declared, of formally launching a boom for Governor Hadley. A remarkable demonstration was given the Missouri executive in the convention today, which, together with the sudden turn in affairs, was said to have strengthened their belief that the time was ripe for bringing forward a compromise candidate.

NOTICE, EVERYBODY.

All ladies, lodges, societies and business men interested in the big Fourth of July parade scheduled for the coming celebration, are requested to meet in the library rooms tonight at 8 o'clock. If you are not interested, get interested. The ladies at the head of this feature of the celebration have some excellent ideas. Come and get them and offer your own.

OPENING DAY IS STORMY

BITTER FEELING EXISTS BETWEEN FACTIONS.

ROOT IS TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN

Every Step Bitterly Contested by Rival Camps—Hadley's Motion for Amendment of Temporary Roll Call Lost.

The opening day of the republican convention in Chicago was one of stirring scenes and bitter feeling on the part of rival contestants for the honors. The fight was for temporary chairman, Senator Elihu Root being advanced by the Taft adherents and Governor McGovern of Wisconsin by the Roosevelt crowd.

Police men at every corner, at every door and in every aisle were distinguishing features of the scene at the Coliseum in the early hours before the doors were opened to ticket holders. A nervous tension, due to a general expectation for tumultuous scenes, "from the drop of the hat" at the opening of the convention, was apparent on all sides, the police as nervous as any one else. It was difficult even for people with the proper tickets, including newspapermen, to get into the hall. Outside a tremendous mob of people gathered, making difficult the progress of ticket holders toward the door. People began streaming into the Coliseum several hours before the convention opened. The band got to work and the first tune played was, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

Immediately after the invocation, Governor Hadley of Missouri, the Roosevelt floor leader, rose to a question of information, taking the platform amid great cheering. Watson of Indiana followed to the platform and Barnes of New York rose to a point of order. Hadley asked if the temporary roll had been prepared. Watson raised the point of order that no business is in order until the convention is organized. Loud cheers greeted this statement. Chairman Rosewater ruled Watson's point well taken.

Hadley then moved that the temporary roll be amended by removing the names of certain delegates and substituting other names.

Watson raised the point of order against his motion.

Chairman Rosewater sustained the point and stated he would allow each side twenty minutes for debate. Hadley took the floor in support of his motion. He declared that any candidate named by the convention unfairly will have a tainted candidacy. Loud cheers from many sections of the hall greeted the statement. He went into details of the work of the national committee and closed amid shouts.

Chairman Rosewater, after the debate was concluded, again ruled out of order Hadley's motion to amend the temporary roll. His voice was scarcely audible in the din. Hadley appealed from the chairman's decision and Watson moved to lay the motion on the table. Both of these motions were declared out of order and Rosewater presented the name of Elihu Root as the choice of the national committee for temporary chairman.

Cochens of Virginia presented the name of Governor McGovern of Wisconsin. Joe Hedges seconded the nomination of Root. There was great cheering, the delegates rising and waving hats and applauding vociferously as Hedges quoted a complimentary tribute of Roosevelt to Root, causing great amusement.

Governor Hadley followed Hedges to second McGovern's nomination. There was loud and prolonged cheering.

Governor Johnson of California seconded McGovern. Johnson stated that California serves notice that 28 votes will be cast on every question. There was hissing and cheering. Houser of Wisconsin got to his feet and said Wisconsin and La Follette did not present any candidate for temporary chairman. He said that McGovern's candidacy was not representative of La Follette.

Houser's announcement, as La Follette's manager, created great excitement. McGovern's nomination was evidently a plan of the Roosevelt forces to get support from the Wisconsin man's following without first securing his endorsement.

Chairman Rosewater, at this point, ordered the roll call amid great confusion and the secretary began to call the states alphabetically, with the result that Root was elected with a substantial majority.

Scenes of riot and confusion characterized the session, hisses, groans and cheers being mingled almost incessantly. Each attempt on the part of adherents of either side to present the name of his candidate or to speak in support of him was greeted by a din of commingling shouts and hisses. Many speeches were almost completely drowned in the din, so keen is the feeling that exists between the rival factions.

A New Hat for the Celebration.

Ashland's celebration merits a new Fourth of July hat. One hundred beautiful hats sacrificed at Madame Dilhan's millinery store, 261 East Main street.
