BEAR ON CLOVER CREEK. Timber Cruiser Reports Numerous Signs of Bruin.

FRANK C. HENDERSON. Well Known Oil Man, Third Husband of "Lady Betty" Faulkner.

BEAR ON CLOVER CREEK. Timber Cruiser Reports Numerous Signs of Bruin.

"Lots of bear in the Clover creek region." This is the message received from William Lashua, a timber cruiser, who is in that region. Others who have been in that part of the county, which is some twenty miles west of Klamath Falls, confirm this report. They declare that signs of several large fellows can be found along the Clover creek region any time. District Game Warden Carey M. Ramsby says that in many places throughout the woods of the Klamath country he has run onto bear sign and indications of more of these animals than the country has had for some years. Mr. Lashua is the only man, so far as known, to have come face to face with a large bruin about the woods of the Clover creek country.

Reports have it that he was out early one morning a few days ago to round up his horses. He had crossed Clover creek and gone through a low, boggy place when he heard a crashing of brush and splashing of water off to one side. Thinking this noise was made by his horses, he walked in the direction from whence the noise came. He had gone only a short distance when he suddenly confronted a large black bear. It was coming toward him. The bear disarmed Mr. Lashua just about the same time he spied the bear. It is very probable that the astonishment on the part of both bruin and man was mutual. After one good look at Lashua the bear turned and started in the opposite direction. Lashua fired several shots at him with his revolver but failed to do any damage to the animal.—Klamath Northwestern.

The above-mentioned district has a number of homestead cabins, among them that of Mr. Paul Lambert, who is now there with his family.

MODOC BILLY GONE. Well-Known Indian Passes Away at Age of 80 Years.

Modoc Billy, one of the best known Indians on the Klamath Indian reservation, has passed to the happy hunting grounds. He died at his home near Yainax recently. Modoc Billy's American name was William Marding. His Indian name was Billy Milloenkotz. He was a powerful man among the Indians of the local reservation and was a man of about 80 years of age. Captain Applegate knew him for years. He first met Modoc Billy near what was known as Stone Bridge, on Lost river, near where this stream empties into Tule lake, at the commencement of the Modoc Indian war in the early '70s. Captain Applegate was prominent in the early settlement of this country and in close touch with the Klamath Indians. He went to Modoc Billy at the time of the uprising that ended in the complete conquering of the troublesome followers of Captain Jack, the leader of the Modoc outbreak, and told him he had better return to his home and take no part in the impending clash between the whites and Indians. Billy left his Indian companions and returned to the Indian station at Yainax. He took no active part in the outbreak.

WANT FOREST CLERK. Civil Service Commission Will Hold Examination.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an examination on August 3, 1912, for the position of forest clerk (male), to secure eligibles to fill vacancies as they may occur at an entrance salary of $1,100 or $1,200 in the forest service. Applicants for this examination must have a knowledge of stenography, typewriting and the elements of bookkeeping, and have had at least one year's actual experience in clerical work in a business office. The age limits are 18 to 40 years. Considerable difficulty has been experienced in securing eligibles for these positions, and all qualified persons are urged to make application for and take the coming examination. For application blank and full information apply to the Secretary, Eleventh Civil Service District, 224 Federal building, Seattle, Wash.

WHALES DISAPPEARING.

Many Species Rapidly Becoming Extinct Because of Oil Industry.

The speedy extinction of the whale is predicted. The Greenland right whale has already been practically if not totally exterminated. This has been due to the fact that alone among the large whales its range is restricted to the Arctic ocean.

Of the porpoises the chief is the blue whale, the bulkiest creature that has ever existed on this globe. Until about twenty years ago this animal was exempt from human persecution on account of its formidable strength. But since the invention of the bomb harpoon, fired from a gun and exploding in the beast's vitals, it has been hunted as diligently as other whales, and steam whalers with explosive armament are likely to make soon work of the greatest known inhabitant of the globe.

R. Lydekker says that in 1911 the total number of whales killed in the world was reckoned at 23,500, yielding 620,000 barrels of oil valued at between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000. This was double the catch of 1910, and that for the current year is expected to exceed it by 10 or 15 per cent. The chief field of whale killing is now in the southern hemisphere, where in 1911 17,500 of the world's total of 22,500 were accounted for.

When it is considered that gravid cows and nursing mothers are included in this wholesale slaughter and that whales breed very slowly, seldom bearing more than one calf at a birth and requiring 2 1/2 years to attain maturity, it is obvious that the whale population of the ocean cannot long survive.

MAY CALL STRIKE.

Railroads West of Chicago Would Be Effected by Order.

Chicago.—Representatives of the International Union of Shop Employees on all railroads running west of Chicago have addressed a joint letter to W. A. Garrett, chairman of the General Managers' Association, asking for a conference to present certain demands. In the event that a conference is denied, the officers have been authorized to order a general strike.

At a conference in St. Louis, June 24-25, the recent vote taken among the shopmen on the western railroads was canvassed by the international officers, and showed an overwhelming majority in favor of a strike, unless immediate settlement is reached on the Illinois Central and Harriman lines, where the shopmen have been on strike for nine months.

While the vote of the men is for a strike, the matter has been left in the hands of the executive council of the Federation of Federations, which is composed of the international presidents of the nine crafts involved.

Some of the general managers are taking the situation seriously, while others profess to believe that there will be no trouble. One manager said that "it is a case of pure bluff," and added that if the men should strike, the roads are prepared to meet the situation.

Should the strike be called, it will involve about 100,000 men on the different railroads, but the managers believe that many will refuse to obey the order.

AUSTRIA HAS EYE ON WEST.

Officials Prophecy Canal Opening Will Develop Direct Relations.

Los Angeles.—Direct trade relations will be established between Austria-Hungary and the Pacific coast states by means of the opening of the Panama canal, according to N. de Szabo and Z. de Kohouyl, Austrian government officials, who have arrived in Los Angeles and intend to visit San Francisco, Portland and Seattle in the interest of their country's commerce.

De Szabo is commissioner of commerce in the ministry and De Kohouyl is commissioner of the department of agriculture at Budapest. They came from Philadelphia, where they represented their government at the International Congress of Navigation.

"The opening of the Panama canal will mean that California, Oregon and Washington will find a vast market in our country for their products," De Szabo declared. "Our tour is for the purpose of estimating the possibilities of an exchange of commerce with these states, for it is assured that the Pacific ports will receive hundreds of Austrian vessels as soon as communication is established across the isthmus."

AVIATRESS KILLED.

First Woman to Receive License Falls 1,000 Feet.

Boston, Mass.—Miss Harriet Quimby of New York, the first woman to win an aviator's license and the first woman to cross the English channel in an aeroplane, was instantly killed Monday evening with her passenger, W. A. Willard, manager of the Boston aviation meet at Atlantic City, when her Bleriot monoplane fell into Dorchester bay from a height of 1,000 feet. The couple was on a return trip after circling Boston harbor.

With the wind gusty and blowing about eight miles an hour, Miss Quimby started to volplane. The angle was too sharp and one of the guests caught the tail of the monoplane, throwing the machine up perpendicular. For an instant it poised there, then Willard pitched clear of the chassis, followed almost immediately by Miss Quimby. Hurling over and over, the two figures dropped downward, striking the water 20 feet from shore. It was low tide and the water only five feet deep. Both bodies were badly crushed. Both were dead when taken from the water.

IMPRISONED SEVEN DAYS.

Chicago Man Spends Week in Attic, Sick and Starving.

Chicago.—While search for him was being conducted all over the city, Louis Haver, aged 34, a painter, for seven days lay sick and helpless, walled in the attic of his own home, unable to summon assistance and facing starvation. Monday he was rescued, almost dead from hunger and thirst and raving in delirium. Physicians are doubtful of his recovery. Haver had just arisen from a long illness on the day he disappeared. Roofers were mending a hole in the roof and Haver climbed to the attic to watch them. He was exhausted by the effort and sank into sleep on a bundle of carpet in a dark corner. The roofers completed their work and descended through the attic trap door, fastening it from below. Then they closed the stairway door leading to the attic from the upper story, and departed.

Meanwhile the family had missed Haver, but thought he had gone for a walk. When night came and he did not return, the police were appealed to and a search for him began. It was feared he had wandered to the lake and fallen because of his weakened condition. All this time he lay, half conscious and feverish in the attic.

In rational moments he told how he had beaten vainly upon the floor and tried to tear a hole through the roof on the first day. The family was absent searching for him and no one heard him. Shrieks finally led to his release.
