Mrs. Blalock Entertains for Guests.

A delightful "500" party was given by Mrs. W. W. Blalock at her home on B street, Saturday evening, the affair being in honor of her nieces, the Misses Belle and Lydia Hosler, of Madero, Cal., who are her house-guests. First prizes were awarded to Miss Ethlyn Sanford and Harry Casey. Consolations were presented to Miss Anna Mattern and Tom McInerney, the latter receiving a beautiful singing top.

After the evening's games a dainty collation was served by the hostess, and at a late hour the guests departed, with many expressions of pleasure for the hospitality extended them. Those in attendance were Misses Anna Mattern, Floy McNeill, Pearl Johnson, Elsie Reames, Mamie Grainger, Angle Nell, Edna Nell, Lena Casey and Ethlyn Sanford; Messrs. Charles Christeson, Charles Strange, Bert Matern, Jesse Neil, Rush Grieve, Frank Dougherty, Murray Murphy, Harry Casey, Tom McInerney and Harry Bates.

Free Methodist Quarterly Meeting.

A large crowd attended the first quarterly meeting of the new Medford District Women's Foreign Missionary Society, held at the Free Methodist church last week in connection with the district quarterly meeting. The following district officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. W. Sharp of Medford; first vice-president, Mrs. B. F. Smalley of Medford; second vice-president, Mrs. Frances Smith of Grants Pass; recording secretary, Miss Mary Ashcraft of Ashland; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Myers of Medford; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Ashcraft. Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock District Elder B. F. Smalley of Medford gave an excellent missionary address, which was followed by a short missionary program in charge of the first vice-president, Mrs. Smalley.

The program as presented was as follows:

- Missionary song—By congregation.
- Duet—Misses Ethel Freeman and Mildred Dunlap.
- Recitation—Miss Pearl Gill.
- Missionary song—Congregation.
- The next meeting will be held in Grants Pass.

Birthday Party.

Fourteen little girls were delightfully entertained by Mrs. C. W. Chattin at her home on Hargadine street last Monday afternoon at a Fourth of July party, the happy event being given in honor of the eleventh birthday of her daughter Wilma. A jolly peanut hunt caused the young guests to race merrily to and fro during the first part of the afternoon. A huge "spider web" next held their attention, each little maid striving hard to unwind her string and gain the prize attached to each—a pretty Fourth of July fan.

The house and porches were prettily decorated with the national colors, the porch in which were placed the serving tables being especially attractive. The place cards bore dainty hand-paintings symbolic of July 4.

The merriest time of the afternoon was had as the children gathered around the tables, where an appetizing repast was served. Each guest was required to do all her talking while at the table, in rhyme, and many hitherto unknown poetesses were thus brought to light. Miss Wilma was presented with many pretty remembrances by those in attendance, who were Laura Wenner, Viletta Willison, Harriet Trask, Pauline Clift, Dot Clift, Pearl Ruger, Harriet Ruger, Dorothy Jones, Bessie Mackey, Mary Denison, Irene Erickson, Ruth Hemphill and Edith Herlin.

Mrs. Chattin was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. W. J. Saviers.

PLANT IN OPERATION

Hygienol Chemical Company Made First Shipment of Goods Last Friday—Is Modern Institution.

The Hygienol-Chemical Company is in full operation, the first shipments of their products having been sent out last Friday. The plant is located in the Swedenburg building and is fully equipped for the manufacture of peroxide of hydrogen, tooth powders, mouth washes, antiseptic solutions, liquid soaps and disinfectants, while in addition to these, lime-sulphur spray will be made in the old White Sulphur Hotel, which is now undergoing repairs and changes. The company was incorporated some time ago, with Dr. Swedenburg as president, Dr. Boslogh vice-president and Dr. Endelman secretary.

Mr. F. A. Kormann, who is in charge of the laboratory, is an analytical chemist of national reputation, having been in the service of the government for four years in the Philippines and having occupied several important positions in this country. He came here directly from the laboratories of the Blumauer-Frank Drug Company in Portland, a thorough investigation of the possibilities of this field having convinced him that the future would bring large developments. He is thoroughly familiar with the needs of orchardists in this vicinity and will be of great benefit to them in the way of soil analysis and any other matters pertaining to the perplexities of fruit raising. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota with the degree of doctor of philosophy.

The firm bears the distinction of being the only chemical industry in Oregon embracing scientific investigations and turning out products second to none. The apparatus and machinery for the manipulation of the products is strictly modern and up-to-date, guaranteeing everything manufactured to be everything that is claimed for it in the label. Daily shipments will be made and the territory will extend from San Francisco to Portland. Two salesmen are on the road and are meeting with signal success. The first shipment embraced several gross, including articles in every line manufactured by the company.

The new company is the only one on the coast north of San Francisco which makes peroxide of hydrogen, and Denver is the nearest point to the east. Peroxide is to the druggist what bread and butter is to the housewife, so that the field for this product is an extensive one. The laboratory requires the services of six men at present.

The old White Sulphur Hotel has been acquired by the company. The building is now undergoing changes and machinery is being installed for the manufacture of lime-sulphur spray. Orchardists need have no difficulties in the future in the matter of sprays due to special processes to be used by the company in the manufacture of lime-sulphur, lead arsenate and zinc arsenate, giving orchardists assurance of standard chemical compounds. They expect to ship in the neighborhood of 200,000 gallons of lime-sulphur spray this season. The plans of the company contemplate the erection later of a concrete warehouse on the site of the present hotel property.

Rescue Mission Planned by Medford.

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted Prof. H. Isaac of this city at the Medford Opera House last Sunday evening. All the churches dismissed evening service and many other organizations were represented. The program was well arranged by the ministers of Medford, consisting of congregational singing led by choir and orchestra, three selections by orchestra, a vocal duet and solo. The music was well rendered and appropriate to the occasion.

Mr. Isaac explained in detail "How to Organize, Maintain and Conduct a City Rescue Mission and Home for Girls." The plan was heartily endorsed by the ministers, and the audience manifested its approval several times, once breaking out in applause.

Attorney Lemery of Ashland gave his views regarding the work done in Ashland under the direction of Mr. Isaac, and highly commended the plan in practice as he had observed it.

Mr. Isaac highly commended those who had helped in the work, to make it a success. It is expected that the plan will be worked out at once and a permanent institution organized upon a larger scale than that done in Ashland. After the service the party took lunch with some of the good people of Medford and returned home the same evening.

HORN BROOK NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Chase, who live five miles down the river below Hornbrook, entertained a picnic party at their home Saturday, June 30. Those in the party were Mr. Clay Morton and Mrs. Morton, Mr. Frank Niles and Mrs. Niles, Mr. Lewis Niles, Mrs. Joe Niles, Henry Walters, Miss Edna Mae Walters, Elmer Walters, Mr. Martin Striker, Mrs. Alice Walters, Mr. Robert Striker, Miss Ruth Chase and Arthur Chase. The younger portion of the crowd climbed into the cherry trees, of which there are 30, and they are well loaded with fruit. The rest of the party contented themselves with sitting under the trees and eating cherries and admiring the beautiful surroundings. A table was spread in the yard under an immense cherry tree, and after partaking of a splendid dinner provided by Mrs. Chase, Mrs. Niles and Mrs. Walters, the party went to see the mine on the place—the mine that is to go under the river. The party broke up regretfully at 5 p. m. and returned to Hornbrook and vicinity.

Mrs. Harvey Hill returned to Hill Saturday after spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Tranan, of Hornbrook. The two missionaries to the Indians, Mr. Shey and Mrs. Shey, arrived at this place Saturday. Mr. Shey held service at the Episcopal church Sunday afternoon. They are to go down the river Tuesday, over one hundred miles down, to the Indian reservation. They will have the religious training of seven hundred Indian men, women and children.

Jack Sholtz, who was hurt in a runaway, is improving rapidly.

Rev. A. W. Walters and his eldest son, Henry Walters, were in Hill Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Strobeck, who is teaching school in a nearby district, is at home in Hornbrook for a few days.

Mr. Crombach and Mrs. Crombach of Sacramento visited Hornbrook on their way to Portland. They left their little daughter to visit friends at Hornbrook.

The Hornbrook baseball boys went to Ward to play with that team Sunday. The Hornbrook boys carried off the honors. The score was 15 to 4 in favor of the Hornbrook boys.

Rev. A. W. Walters was visiting in Ashland Monday evening and Tuesday.

A surprise was tendered to Mr. N. A. Buckner on the occasion of his birthday Monday night. He is a band man and the band boys gave him a rousing serenade, which was indeed a real surprise. He knew nothing about until he heard the first strains of music in front of his house. This was also the occasion of his wedding anniversary. He has been married 22 years.

Dr. Richardson is visiting down on the coast about Oakland for a few days.

Mrs. I. O. Jillson of San Francisco is visiting friends in Hornbrook.

Edwin Clawson and Walt McCreary left town to take positions on the Postal Telegraph.

EDEN PRECINCT.

Mr. and Mrs. B. N. French of North Talent were trading in Medford last Thursday.

J. D. Chisholm, chief gardner at the experiment station in North Talent, went to Medford Monday to move Professor Reimer and family out.

George Alford, Mr. Howe and Mr. Schook, who reside in Fern Valley, were recent callers at C. Carey's.

Mrs. J. E. Roberts and daughter, Miss Lullia, were trading in Medford last Thursday.

Mrs. G. C. McClain and Mrs. Maggie Wright returned Saturday from a visit with friends and relatives at Myrtle Creek.

Mrs. Dan Combs and her niece, Miss Bernice Combs, were visiting Mrs. B. N. French of North Talent Friday.

There were about twenty Talent people who joined the excursion Sunday and all voted it one of the best ever given this valley to any nearby resort.

Mrs. O. Hammond and two sons are visiting Mrs. Hammond's sister, Mrs. Joshua Patterson, of North Talent. Mrs. Hammond's home is in Sonoma county, California.

Those who went to Colectin from Phoenix station Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Houston and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Carey, James Norton, George McClain, John Beeson, Miss Virgie Houston.

LIGHTNING STRIKES THREE.

Storm at Riddle Last Week Caused Considerable Damage.

Tom Rondeau, of Tiller, and his sons and daughter were stunned by lightning and one boy and the girl were knocked down by the shock Wednesday about 10 a. m., while they were riding along the road between Canyonville and Myrtle Creek. While not seriously injured, it was some time before the sickening effects of the shock passed away. Lightning did some mischief with the phones at Canyonville, Riddle and Myrtle Creek during the storm. A bolt which apparently struck north of town and ran in on the lines used by J. S. Cherrington, O. V. Logsdon, G. L. Grant and others, burned out the connections at the central cable in Riddle and the fire and smoke made quite a display for a few seconds. The armatures in the phones mentioned were all burned out.—Riddle Tribune.

VALUABLE PUBLIC SERVANT.

Life of Fred T. Sanderson Praised by Klamath Paper.

In commenting upon the untimely death of ex-Mayor Sanderson of Klamath Falls, the Klamath Northwestern says editorially:

"Yesterday, Fred T. Sanderson, who was mayor of this city for two and a-half years, passed behind the veil through which no living man has been permitted to see. His death comes as a shock to his legion of friends in Klamath Falls. Because, no matter how many there are who may have differed with him on political questions, he had a host of real friends here.

"He was kind and generous to a fault. Rarely did he say ought but good of his brother man. Shrewd and far-seeing, Mayor Sanderson was one of the most public-spirited men who ever served this city in an official capacity.

During the short two and a half years in which he directed the destinies of the city, more public improvements were made than had been made in many years previously. No part of the city was to his entitled to any more consideration than any other part. He knew no "end" of town, but saw only the whole city of Klamath Falls, improved and beautified as he knew it would be before many years had elapsed.

"Almost one of his last official acts was to give unstintingly of his days and his nights to the framing of a new instrument of government for this city, calculated to settle the troublesome questions that were keeping back public and private improvement. Whether people agree or not with the tenets of this instrument, they all laud the spirit that prompted its drafting by the late mayor.

"Now he is no more. But for all time, Klamath Falls will be a better city because it was permitted that he should spend some of his years here and give some of his labor to the study of our municipal problems."
