OFFICIALS ARE WANTED

Warren Construction Co. Officers Sought as Witnesses to Prove Existence of Paving Trust.

"If we can get the officers of the Warren Construction Company on the witness stand, we believe we can prove that a paving combine exists which has been operating in Oregon and Washington, and through these officers an expose of the inner workings of the combination will be made," announces S. B. Huston, who with Bagley & Hare is representing property owners of Forest Grove who are remonstrating against the awarding of a street contract in that city.

The first gun against the alleged paving trust was fired Thursday in Hillsboro before Circuit Judge J. U. Campbell, when in an additional paragraph attached to the complaint the charge was boldly made of the conspiracy. Richard W. Montague, counsel for the Warren Construction Company, battled against the added paragraph on behalf of the city officials of Forest Grove, but Judge Campbell allowed the amendment to stand.

Hoyt, McDevitt and Lynch, in the Warren Construction Company's office, are wanted by the plaintiffs, but service was not obtained on them. Sheriff Hancock tried to serve a subpoena on Hoyt last Thursday, but was tricked. The story goes that Hoyt was waiting for someone else would do, stating that he was Hoyt's brother. The sheriff handed the paper to the alleged brother and asked him to give it to Hoyt. Later in the day the sheriff returned and, seeing Hoyt, asked him if he had received the paper that had been left with his brother. Hoyt replied that he had not, and then, while the sheriff walked over to the desk of the supposed brother, Hoyt disappeared and has been invisible to the sheriff's men ever since. It is said that Hoyt was furious when someone in the office gave him the subpoena, but that he called up Richard Montague and the lawyer advised him not to worry as Hoyt had not been personally served with the paper by the sheriff.

"What the officers are trying to do," says Huston, "is to keep under cover until after the date of the trial and then the paving people will try to stir up public sentiment in Forest Grove for the immediate paying of Second avenue and try to make a showing so the court will not keep postponing the case. Without the officers of the company we cannot make as good a showing as we otherwise would, and the officers realize this.

"Providing we can get the officers and the books of the Warren Construction Company into court we expect to uncover a paving combination which has controlled the state for several years and which has dictated the price taxpayers must pay for the hard-surface streets. We know what we want to ask if we can land those officers in the witness box."

HENLEY NEW MANAGER.

Norling Mine Secures Services of Experienced Man.

James H. Henley, former manager of the Granite Mountain and Drum Lumond mines in Montana, has been secured to manage the Medford Mining & Milling Company's mine near Jacksonville, the Norling mine. The contract with Mr. Henley was made Friday afternoon. He is one of the most prominent and successful mining men in the country, having had charge of a number of very large producers in various mining camps.

The Granite Mountain mine, which he managed for several years, was the largest silver mine in the world, producing over $12,000,000 in dividends. It is located at Granite, Mont.

The securing of the services of a mining man with the experience and ability of Mr. Henley means much for the successful operation of a property which is considered one of the most valuable prospects in this vicinity. Several cars of high grade ore are at present blocked out there, also a considerable quantity of pay ore. The successful operation and development of so favorable a property as this is, under Mr. Henley's management, will do more to attract mining attention to this section than scarcely anything else that could be done.

BENTON GETS TROUT.

200,000 Eastern Fry Planted in Streams of County.

Corvallis.—Two hundred thousand rainbow and eastern trout fry, hatched from Colorado, Montana and Vermont spawn on January 3, 1912, and destined to grow to 12 to 14 inches in length in two years, were dumped into the streams of Benton county last week, and anglers are happy.

This shipment of trout fry constituted a full car sent here by State Game Warden Finley from the state fish hatchery, the car being in charge of Chief Deputy T. J. Craig, I. H. Wilson and three others. The 225 10-gallon cans, carrying from 750 to 1,000 fry two inches and under in length, were packed in ice, and contained ice enough to keep the temperature at 40 degrees. The shipment was in perfect condition when it reached here, and it is believed that few if any of the fry were lost in getting them into the streams.

CASE IS DISMISSED.

Decatur Davis Did Not Violate Game Laws.

The case against Decatur Davis for violation of the game laws was dismissed in Justice Hurt's court last Saturday, Attorney Mulkey deciding the arrest of Davis was unwarranted. Game Warden McCorkle found venison in the possession of Mr. Davis on August 1 and promptly arrested him. The evidence showed that Davis had received the venison from another as a gift and had not killed the deer himself.
