Keeping It in the Family.

"Talk about luck in having office boys," said a well-known business man. "I have hit it great. Back in 1887 I took on my first boy and he was all that could be desired. After he had been with me for over three years and began to get nearly as tall as I was, he decided that he should learn a trade. Before he left he told me he had a younger brother, who would like to take up the job. 'If he does as well as you did, he will do all right,' I said. 'The second brother came, and after four years' service he decided on a trade. But before he left he brought his younger brother, who took up the work. He proved as good as the first two, and when he grew too large for a $3.50 a week job, he left and passed it along to the next in the family. Well, the fourth brother went to a trade and two more after him. I began to think that it was going to be perpetual. Then I learned something. The boys were all used up. There were no more to come. 'While I was wondering where to get another good boy, he spoke for his nephew. 'Who is your nephew?' I said. 'John's boy,' said he. It was then the son of the first boy that I had started in 25 years before, and he had grown up to the same age as his five uncles and his father when they began. 'Send him along,' I said. He has been with me for several months and is as good as any of his uncles. From last reports I understand I am good for a supply of good boys for the next 25 years.'" Philadelphia Record.

ASHLAND WINS 26 TO 12

Local High School Defeats Medford Saturday in Very Interesting Football Game.

Ready, Ashland? Ready, Medford? A pause—the ball sails high in the air, and the game which wrecked Medford's hopes of victory was on. Four touchdowns and two goals were Ashland's portion, while Medford scored two touchdowns, making the score 26 to 12. Ashland's team was clearly the better, but the large score on each side was due to the sloping field and the high wind, which gave the team having the south goal an immense advantage. As each team had these favoring conditions half the time the game was fair, but not so good as it would otherwise have been.

Ashland did all her scoring in the first and last quarters, while Medford scored a touchdown each in the third and fourth quarters. After receiving Medford's kickoff Ashland started down the field with a rush, Ashcraft and Phillips tearing off 10 and 12 yards at a down. In a few plays Ashland was down on the rival goal line but was sent back and started the march again. On a backward pass, Ashcraft to Moody, the latter went over for a touchdown. No goal. The next touchdown came on a forward pass from Phillips to Moody, across the goal line.

In the second and third quarters Medford came back strongly and were continually threatening the Ashland goal. The local boys, however, in spite of the hill were dangerous in these quarters. Medford scored twice, missing goal each time. There was nothing to it but Ashland in the fourth quarter, two touchdowns and two goals making the final score 26 to 12.

The game was hard fought throughout and was not as one-sided as the score would indicate. Medford's team was not at all weak, Beveridge being especially good in returning punts, Wilson, at fullback, also put up a good game. For Ashland it is hard to pick out the stars. Plymate, although missing a few tackles, more than made good at the end. Dews broke through his guard repeatedly, and Garrett played his usual solid game at guard. Phillips shone especially in the backfield with Ashcraft dividing honors. Brick Moody entered the hall of fame by a 70-yard punt. There was nothing weak about the line on this game.

Coach Butterfield deserves much credit for putting out such a well-balanced team. Every play went off like clockwork and the boys showed remarkable physical condition.

A fair-sized crowd viewed the contest. The students were out in force, and the air was filled with hideous noises and yelling.

Referee Jamieson, U. of O., '12, received much praise for his fairness and the way in which he kept things moving.

FOR NEW LITERATURE

Commercial Club Makes Arrangements With S. P. Publicity Bureau.

Mr. Fred Lockley of Portland, representative of the Sunset Magazine, is in the city for the purpose of making arrangements with the Commercial Club looking toward the publication of more literature respecting this particular locality. Whatever is done along this line will be somewhat different than heretofore. It is proposed to exploit Ashland to the fullest extent along climatic and scenic lines, its desirableness as an ideal home and resort center both as regards health and pleasure, its educational advantages, etc., not forgetting, however, other opportunities in the way of ranching and fruit-raising, which still continue to be the prime factors. Dry farming methods will come in for its due share of description, and the various industries already centered here will be given a liberal recognition, in addition to which incentives will be offered for the establishment of others.

Mr. Lockley has had abundant experience along these lines, and his written opinions are always enthusiastic, yet coming within conservative limits. It is the purpose to make this new literature a compendium of information as to conditions which actually exist here, and the opportunities offered to the person of moderate means in addition to the man of independent circumstances who is seeking a home in the midst of a delightful environment. Furthermore, Mr. Lockley wields a ready and trenchant pen, and will supplement this major literature with minor features of a general nature respecting conditions hereabouts as he notes them from personal observation. For instance, the article on dry farming in a recent issue of the Record, as copied from the Portland Journal, was written by him, and it is his further purpose to note, from time to time, the progress of events hereabouts and give them the widest latitude, not of notoriety, but substantial exploitation in a manner that will aid in good measure to Ashland's greater development.

No Speakership Contest.

Washington, Nov. 14.—When the new democratic house of representatives is organized after March 4, Champ Clark, present speaker, will not be opposed by Representative Henry of Texas, according to the latter's announcement here today. Henry, who is chairman of the rules committee, was a candidate for speaker two years ago.

William J. Bryan, it is said, favors Clark. Democratic members who have reached Washington have expressed themselves as in favor of Clark and little opposition is expected when the question of re-electing the speaker comes up.
