Dramatic Artist Here This Week.

Mme. Harriet Labadie, the noted dramatic artist, who is now on a second visit to the coast to fill a number of return engagements, has been engaged by the greater Medford Club to give a dramatic interpretation of Ibsen's play, "The Doll House," on Friday, November 29, at the Natatorium.

Mme. Labadie is making the longest tour of consecutive seasons, embracing the most extensive itinerary of the American continent ever undertaken by a dramatic interpreter. Particularly interesting is the fact that during her tour of Alaska in the summer of 1910, when the artist appeared in all the ports of call as far north as Nome, to which point she traveled 2,193 miles by boat down the Yukon, a trip that carries the voyager across the Arctic circle.

In August, 1910, Mme. Labadie visited the maritime provinces of Canada and appeared in St. John, New Brunswick, exactly one year and a day after her appearance in Nome, Alaska, having thus half circled the continent.

Apart from the interest attached to her unique tour, Mme. Labadie's engagement in this city promises to be a rare treat for all lovers of the highest dramatic art.
