CAREFUL OF THEIR COWS. SHE WAS A CREOLE.

isle of Jersey Sees to It That the Breed Is Kept Absolutely Pure.

Undoubtedly the little island of Jersey has been enriched by the profit of its cows. In modern days potato raising and fruit culture have helped, but it is the solid, continual profit of the cattle that has made the island rich.

So carefully do they tend them there and so frugal are they of waste in trodden pastures, says Our Dumb Anlmais, that they actually tether their animals, and the children or indoor servants shift them at morn, noon and night.

Gentleness is their cue in handling the calf, which, after a dose of mother's milk, has to be content with skimand fed by hand and becomes docile and gentle and when two years old yields indoors or out her bountiful bucketful of frothy, rich milk to the quiet women folk who milk her. The Jersey breed is kept pure by stringent laws against the importation of foreign stock. The summer pasturage is very rich, and cattle remain out from May till October, but during the winter they are always comfortably housed.

The milk is used almost exclusively in making butter. A good Jersey will make an average of a pound of butter every day in the year. The Jersey is a word that is universally misunderbeautiful in form, and her abounding stood. "How good this creole coffee is!" said a young man.

"I make it," said the bostess. "I am, you know, a creole.

The young man looked shocked, hurt. 'Well, after all," he said in a low voice, "you can't help that, and I'm sure no sensible person thinks any the worse of you. His hostess, who was very beautiful, milk, or skillegalee. She is haltered with hair and eyes like night, laughed merrily.

"Define the word 'creole,' " she said. And the young man replied. "A creole is a descendant of French or Spanish immigrants, with a touch of negro blood in his or her veins."

"And the word means just the opposite!" the woman cried. "A creole is a descendant of French or Spanish immigrants whose veins hold not a drop of negro blood."

"Well, well! I didn't know that." "No!" she said. "Nobody from the north does. The word creole is probably the unique word of the dictionary,

What They Stole.

To Waiter Damrosch at the end of one of his concerts at Aeolian hall, in New York, an admirer showed a piece of music that had been paipably plagiarized from one of the numbers in "The Dove of Peace."

But Mr. Damrosch took the plagiarism with good humor: "They've only stolen a march on me,"

People with kidney ills want to be When one suffers the torcured. tures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but not permanently. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands, Here is proof of merit from this vicinity,

William Charley, Grape Mrs. street, Medford, Ore., says: "The public statement I gave in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills in 1907 still holds good. I occasionally take this remedy and find that it keeps my kidneys in proper working order. A fall was the cause of kidney complaint in my case. The kidney secretions were unnatural and sometimes I had such acute pains in my back that I could hardly bend over. I did not sleep well and despite the use of plasters, liniments and remedies of various kinds, I continued to suffer. While in that condition, Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attenman, after visiting the country in 1889, | tion and, procuring a box, I comwrote that the people "take very little menced taking them.
