WILL DEDICATE SOON

New Christian Church Rapidly Approaching Completion—A Fine House of Worship.

The new Christian church is rapidly approaching completion. Rev. A. J. Whiddon, the pastor, is a hustler, working alongside the carpenters every day in an effort to hasten the completion and aid in the work of the church. It is expected that the church will be almost if not quite complete by the last of the week, and it is hoped to dedicate it Sunday, March 30, though this is as yet uncertain.

The church will have a seating capacity of about 200 people and will have a Sunday school room which can be thrown with the main room when necessary by folding doors. The building will cost about $1,200 in cash, most of the labor having been donated by members of the congregation. The entire value of the edifice will be not far from $2,000.

That $500 Proof Text.

Three cheers for the Nazarene pastor. It is refreshing to see a person with the courage of his convictions. Here is the $500 proof text: "No man can come unto me except the Father which hath sent me draw him; and I will raise him up at the last day. It is written in the prophets, and they shall be all taught of God. Every man, therefore, that hath heard and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me." There it is. I will raise him up and teach him, and when he hath heard and learned he will come to Christ. This text is given only by John. One can imagine, as Christ breathed this wonderful message into the air, that his fathomless eyes held John's eyes for an instant while the truth went home. Yes, John understood. Yes, John would write it in a book with an "iron pen and lead in the rock forever." What a wonderful power of suggestion is here expressed. This text stands out like Mt. Shasta, alone, unique and unapproachable.

A BIG TIME.

The Next Meeting of the Commercial Club to Be Important.

The next meeting of the Talent Commercial Club, which will be held Tuesday, April 1, will be one of the most important in the history of the club and everyone is invited to attend, whether or not they are members of the club.

Dr. Witcombe, in charge of the experimental farm at Corvallis, will be the principal speaker of the evening, and the matter of the organization of a co-operative creamery company will be taken up at that meeting. It is hoped that it will be possible to get the race well upon its feet at that time. Be sure to come and to tell your neighbors to come also.

TALENT NEWS NOTES.

H. Lisle of San Jose, Cal., was in the city Tuesday looking after the sale of additional machinery to the Bagley Canning Company.

Mrs. A. T. McMahon left Monday for Denver, Colo., where she will visit for several weeks with relatives in Denver.

The Talent Gun Club is beginning to show signs of activity for the coming season and expects to have a number of tournaments during the summer.

Fishing in Bear creek is reported the best of any time in the history of Talent, many good catches being made.

William Casey has purchased the old Christian church and had it moved across the street and will use it for a dance hall and theatre. Some of the boys express doubts whether or not it will be safe to dance in a building that was formerly a church. They are afraid the two won't mix.

John Burgan left Monday night for his home in St. Cloud, Minn. He will stop and visit several days at Seattle en route.

Albert Ames of Duluth, Minn., is visiting Dr. Bagley on his ranch near this town.

The revival meetings at the Baptist church are being continued this week. It was expected that they would close Sunday, but the great interest induced a continuation of the meetings.

George A. Fox went to Grants Pass Monday to spend several days looking after his property interests there.

John Murray of the Applegate country came over and spent Easter with his sister, Mrs. Peter Vanderluis.

Talent begins to feel the need of a sewer system. With the advent of city water there will need to be many private septic tanks put in unless there be a sewer system and one big tank put in.

Vandersluis & Burgan have just completed putting a car of feed and seed into their warehouse. It came from Klamath county and was purchased through the Ashland-Klamath Exchange, of Ashland.

Miss Callie Vogill went to Ashland Monday to enter the Polytechnic school for additional training in bookkeeping and commercial work.

Mrs. Ed Foss, who has been spending the winter in Los Angeles, returned home a few days ago.

Mrs. Nyswaner suffered a stroke of paralysis Sunday at the W. H. Houston home, where she is staying. She is reported to be in a critical condition.

Mrs. H. C. Johnson left Monday for Portland to join Mr. Johnson, who has secured a position as motor-man on the Portland street railway system. They expect to make the Rose City their future home.

"FATHER" FLYNN HONORED.

Ninety-Sixth Birthday Celebrated by Large Party of Friends.

Portland, March 25.—"Father" John Flynn, dean of Portland's Methodist Episcopal clergymen, was honored yesterday when his 96th birthday was celebrated by 30 ministers of the denomination and their wives, who went to St. Johns for their regular association meeting instead of holding it at the First Methodist Episcopal church.

The venerable preacher went with the party, enjoying the ride in a trolley car and showing no signs of fatigue. A month ago "Father" Flynn fell down his cellar stairs, and though he was ill for a while, he fully recovered. Yesterday he made an address at the business meeting.

The following officers were elected at the meeting: President, Rev. B. J. Larsen; vice-president, Rev. J. K. Hawkins; secretary-treasurer, Rev. C. F. Hopkins. The women of the church served a luncheon.

QUEER SPORT IN CHINA.

Dropping a Pheasant With a Twenty-four Pound Gun.

Foreign sportsmen in China always observe with curious interest the maneuvers of native hunters.

An English sportsman tells of an incident he witnessed at the well known Shaba, or lower barrier, of Nadoo creek, in north China. A native shooter had his ginsal with him—a most uncanny looking weapon. That there might be no question as to its length, it was placed upright alongside the Briton. It exceeded his height by two feet two inches, making the piece of ordnance over eight feet in length. Englishmen sometimes complain of the weight of their own guns—six and a half to seven and a half pounds. So it is astonishing to behold a Chinese hunter carrying a twenty-four pound gun all day long.

This particular native was accompanied by a small, odd looking animal, which the foreigner was assured was a dog. Observation of the hunter and dog at work made a deep impression upon the stranger.

A hen pheasant happened to drop into a furrowed field at feeding time. The native took her bearings, crept up as closely as he safely could, put down his gun on a bit of higher ground, and kept it trained on the bird. Meantime the dog lay down across the barrel of the gun, thus serving as a screen for his master. When the proper moment had arrived, the man fired, the bird was killed upon the ground, and the dog remained on the barrel until his master took up the gun to reload.—Youth's Companion.

When Join Rimed With Vine.

Some mispronunciations of today once enjoyed the highest standing. We must not think that Shakespeare was sinning when he rimed groin, swine, indeed, or like long i (as in ice), survived regularly through the eighteenth century. When a countrywoman of our time watches the kettle bble or jines the church she has behind her Cowley's join, vine; Gray's shine, join; Pope's join, divine; Dryden's join, design; Addison's find, joined; Coleridge's joined, mind; Wordsworth's joined, kind, and Byron's aisles, toils. Indeed, so late a writer as Bulwer gives us mind, enjoined, which sounds as dialectal as Gray's toll, smile. It is no wonder that Joel Barlow, the author of our own great typographical epic, "The Columbiad," jined join and divine.—Yale Review.

Absentminded La Fontaine.

La Fontaine, whose fables are the delight of adult Frenchmen and their children's earliest task, was very absentminded. He went to the court of Louis XVI. to present a copy of his fables to the king. And he forgot the book. Fortunately, the king knew La Fontaine, his fables and his foibles and gave him a thousand pistoles (about $250). Unfortunately, though, La Fontaine left the money in his hired carriage on his way back to Paris.

Accounted For.

"The baby's awful bad," said Mabel "Yes; they come bad on purpose. If they had hair they'd pull it all out, and then all that hair would be wasted," said Tommy.—Philadelphia Record.
