

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

E. E. Bagley returned Wednesday from a trip down the valley.
Cliff Payne makes plate rails.
A. W. Flackus transacted business in Grants Pass Tuesday.
Buggies at Piel's for $39.90.
W. W. Ussher was at Medford Tuesday on business.
Coming—May Manton 10-cent dress patterns.
Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Ashcraft were up from Medford yesterday.
Wanted, apprentice girls at Mrs. Simon's.
Attorney George W. Trefren went to Jacksonville Wednesday on business.
One-half off on all lines of millinery at Mrs. Simons'.
Lloyd Turner of Talent returned home Wednesday afternoon after visiting friends in Ashland for a couple of days.
The May Manton patterns are coming to town. Any pattern for 10 cents. Watch for it.
G. G. Eubanks returned Wednesday afternoon from a two days' outing at Henley, Cal., his old home and birthplace.
Mrs. A. Belle Anderson is adding a large porch to one of her residence properties on B street and otherwise improving it.
Every woman will be interested in the May Manton dress pattern. Nothing over 10 cents in the line. Watch for it.
A party of young ladies headed by Misses Casey and McCall of the post-office force left yesterday on a trip to Crater Lake.
No need shipping in barley grain when it is grown here this season in the valley. J. J. Morton's mill has just taken in 450 sacks.
D. D. Boyle, who has been pastor of the Christian church at Medford for the past two years, has resigned, to take effect September 1.
An interesting report of the Sunday School League baseball game Tuesday night was unfortunately crowded over till Monday's issue.
Yes, ma'am, you will be able to buy May Manton patterns before long. Any pattern for 10 cents. Watch for it.
Fire, fire, fire. It may be you next. Get insured. See Cliff Payne—he will save you about 40 per cent on the cost of your fire insurance.
Don't forget the Ashland Mills' home-grown barley rolled, $30 per ton, making the price nearly $5 less on the ton. All millstuffs at like low prices.
Dale Smith, son of Prof. B. E. Smith, who resides at Albany, and is employed as a Wells-Fargo express messenger, is visiting at the home of his parents in this city.
A. B. Cavin was over from Hungry creek the first of the week, returning to that bustling mining camp Tuesday evening. He reports many good prospects over there.
H. W. Frame and son, D. S. Frame, from near Phoenix, were up between trains on business Tuesday forenoon. D. S. Frame is a well known and popular student of the Ashland high school.
Ed Unger, who has been spending the past six months working in Ashland and vicinity, left Tuesday evening for his home in Hillsboro, Ore. Mr. Unger has been in poor health recently and is going home for a good rest.

Sacrifice sale of a large east-front lot on Alida street, adjoining lots held at $450 and $500. I will sell this lot this week for $166 cash. F. G. McWilliams, 73 Oak St. 10-1f
Dr. J. K. Reader went to Medford to attend the meeting of the pension examining board, of which he is a member, Wednesday. E. N. Peters went down also to be examined for an increase of pension.
Ladies, send your combings and have them made into the latest styles, also hair matched with switches, or anything wanted, and satisfaction guaranteed. Mrs. Z. M. Lun, North Powder, Ore. 15-4t*Thur.
The Tidings was in error Monday in stating that Mr. Hinman had retired part of the E. J. Thornton residence on Oak street. It is the Thornton residence at the corner of North Main and Manzanita streets which he will occupy.
From Weston, Ore., comes news of the first returns of the 1913 harvest season. From a field measuring 38 acres, J. N. York, a farmer at that point, harvested 1,103 sacks of extra fine wheat, indicating an average yield of a fraction over 77 bushels per acre.
Friends of the family will regret to learn of the death of Miss Marguerite C. Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Barnes, former residents of Ashland, which occurred July 16 at Minneapolis, Minn. Miss Barnes was a promising young woman, and her untimely death brings sorrow to a wide circle of friends.
Armine Lamb a former Ashland boy is renewing old acquaintances in Ashland this week. Mr. Lamb is a theatrical man and is playing the vaudeville houses of the coast this season. He was at the Page in Medford for three days last week. His many friends here will be glad to know that he is meeting with considerable success in his chosen profession.
Captain I. D. Applegate of Klamath Falls, father of Mrs. Emil Piel, left for his home today after a few days' visit here and at Medford, where he has two sisters, Mrs. H. H. Sargent and Mrs. M. L. Alford. Mr. Applegate at one time resided on the location now occupied by the Elks temple and after considerable trouble found the old house, which had been moved to Third street.
Mr. and Mrs. Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Butler of the Buckeye returned from a trip to Crater Lake Wednesday. They drove from Ashland to the lake, where they stopped for a time, and then on to Fort Klamath the same day. They returned over the Green Springs road, which they found exceedingly rough. However, the trip was made without a mishap except one puncture.

The Tidings is advised that the Benedictine Fathers of Mt. Angel Oregon, who have worked in this state since 1882, are to publish a Special Edition Number in which Ashland is to have a conspicuous position. "The Mt. Angel Magazine" circulates all over the Union and Europe and in previous years has done much to advertise Oregon and bring progressive citizens to the West. It is announced that F. L. Ransdall, the field editor, will call here and take up the work with the Commercial Club.
Mrs. I. N. Shook returned Monday from a month's visit at northern points. She is quite enthusiastic over the ranch of her son Clyde Payne at Mount Pleasant, Washington. Mr. Payne has a large acreage and is operating it himself with the assistance of extra men during haying. The house overlooks the Columbia river at Horse Tail Falls and is beautifully located for scenery as well as for the pursuit of farming. Mr. Payne is well pleased with his location. Mrs. Shook visited also at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. A. Jurgewitz in Portland.

There's a kind of Reciprocity which has an important bearing on the personal welfare of every man, woman and child in this community.

It is an exchange of equivalents between this bank and every individual, with profit on both sides. Your profit is in having a safe place to keep your surplus, and a strong financial institution interested in the development of your affairs. Ours is gained from the moderate fees received from countless transactions. Come and establish reciprocal relations with us.

Citizens Banking and Trust Co.
The Bank That Helps the People.
ASHLAND, OREGON.
Capital $50,000 Surplus $5,000
H. F. POHLAND, Pres. R. F. NEIL, Vice Pres.
V. O. N. SMITH, Cashier. W. A. TURNER, Sec.
E. L. DAVENPORT, Asst. Cash.
ROY G. WALKER, Asst. Cash

CAMPERS, ATTENTION!

Here are a few of the necessary things you should take on your trip:
Toilet Soap.....5c and 10c
Wash Cloths.....5c
Floral Cream.....25c and 50c
Poley's Cold Cream.....25c
Mosquito Lotion.....25c
Talcum Powder.....15c and 25c
Blackberry Cordial.....25c
Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.....25c
Alcohol Stoves.....25c to 75c
Brushes, Combs, Colored Glasses, Toilet Paper, etc., all in abundance at

Poley's Drug Store

A BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.

A Maiden's Heart Damaged and Repaired.
Editor Tidings: An English lord (Lord Northampton) has by mutual consent agreed to pay a quarter of a million dollars to an actress—Miss Daisy Markham—as compensation for "wounding her heart and lacerating her feelings" by neglecting to marry her according to promise. The case was brought into a London divorce court in which Sir Edward Carson was for the plaintiff and King's Counsel Sir Walter Duke appeared in the interest of the English lord. Caste in the social makeup of English life is a very real thing indeed and the objection to the match by Lord Northampton's father was based entirely upon placing this prospective bride in a position where she would be subjected to the "rebuffs and contemptuous treatment" of the grandes of society. There was no question whatever about the promise of marriage and Lord Northampton, through his counsel, offered in open court to repair the injury done, by the payment of a round quarter of a million. The offer was accepted by the counsel of the young lady and she is now at perfect liberty to make whatever further conquests "come her way."

The judge remarked in court that there was no doubt of the "marriage" warm, deep and sincere affection for the plaintiff" and that the decision arrived at had "his fullest approval."
The young men and maiden's of Ashland and the Rogue River Valley will read with interest the following letter from the pen of an English lord:

"Castle Ashby, Northampton.
"Dearest Daisy: I must just write you a line as I am so wretchedly miserable. I want to assure you that I am trying to do the right thing, and though you will perhaps find it difficult now, I am going to ask you to believe that I always have, and do at the present moment, love and respect you more than any one in this world, and that you are absolutely my ideal of perfect womanhood. But, Daisy, that ways of the world are hard, and I want you to believe that what I am now doing I am doing from a sense of duty, genuinely believing it to be the best for both of us. Darling, I have known it all along. I have tried to smother my reason, to stifle my thoughts for your sake. But when my father talked to me on Friday he only faced me with the same thoughts that I told you of when I first loved you, and which I have ever since been trying to suppress. Daisy, you don't know how these so-called 'ladies' would treat you, and I really couldn't bear to see you suffering it, and with your sweet sensitive nature it would be torture to you. Oh! if I could only escape from my position! Daisy, I want to beg your forgiveness for the way in which I have done it. I was so distracted between my feelings for you and my convictions of what was really best, that I am afraid I wavered in a way that was most unfair to you. I must also apologize for that hurried scrawl that I sent you this morning (it seems ages ago). I am quite mad, Daisy. I feel that I have nothing left to live for. Writing that note was killing the last hope of my heart of conquering my reason. I did it in a hurry for fear of changing my mind. And, although I can't remember what I said, I believed after sending it that I had said something of extremely bad taste and brutally cruel to you. Daisy, I did not mean it, old girl.
"Well, darling, I really have nothing more to say. You will always be my ideal and you will always be my beautiful dream.
"Darling, write me one line later on when you feel inclined to tell me that you have some respect for me left.
"God bless you, darling, and give

Let Me Sell You
320 acres of farming land 2 1/2 miles from Montague (the coming metropolis of northern California). This land will if sown to grain come near paying for itself the first season. Will take Ashland residence property to the amount of one-third in part payment and allow a like amount to stand against the property for one or two years at 7 per cent interest. This land is in the proposed Shasta Valley irrigation district and will when irrigated be worth $150 an acre.
T. J. NOLTON,
21-2t Montague, Cal.

Even Exchange.

Eggs and produce taken in exchange for dry goods, shoes, groceries, etc., at the Ashland Trading Company. 71-tf you all the pluck you will need. I can't write any more.
"Your broken-hearted
"BIM."
Yours truly,
H. G. GILMORE.
Newport, R. I., July 30, 1913.

OREGON NEWS IN BRIEF

Items of Interest Regarding Matters in Various Parts of the State.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 5.—The following notice has just been received from A. P. Bateman, president of the Oregon State Horticultural Society: "Representatives of the U. S. Bureau of Plant Industry and fruit growers of the northwest will hold a series of meetings to discuss in a general way the subject of apple storage and refrigeration and to report something of the government's progress in investigations as to the behavior of fruit in cold storage. This is a timely topic and one that will interest the live fruit growers who appreciate the value of the work that is being done to develop the subject."
The meeting places and dates are scheduled as follows: Medford, August 2; North Yakima, August 4; Prosser, August 5; Wenatchee, August 7; Freewater, August 9; Payette, August 11; Hood River, August 12 or 13; Portland, August 14.

Her health broken by many years of school teaching in the middle west, Miss M. E. Wheeler came to the Willamette Valley a little more than a year ago, bought about 25 acres of wild land a few miles south of Milwaukie and commenced clearing it with her own hands. By this spring she had grubbed out the brush and trees and dynamited the stumps on seven acres. A part of this land was planted to oats, which at the present time are more than seven feet tall, and on another tract she is raising every kind of vegetable that can be grown in Oregon. As a result of her strenuous outdoor life Miss Wheeler has completely regained her health and says she cannot understand why everyone in Oregon does not take up farming.

At the present time a farmer in the Molalla district, about 20 miles from Oregon City, is harvesting a crop probably not grown by any other rancher in the Willamette Valley—teasels. His present crop consists of about 70 acres and during the harvest season he will employ about 40 hands at $2.50 to $3 per day. The teasel is a burr for which the manufacturers of cloth find a use in raising the nap of the goods, a process for which no inventor has ever been able to invent a mechanical substitute.
SUNSET MAGAZINE and Ashland Tidings one year $2.75 to old or new subscribers. Regular price of Sunset magazine is $1.50 per year.

WHEN you think of "First National," you think of "banking." Why not, when you think of "banking," think of "First National?" We grant every accommodation consistent with a safe and conservative yet progressive business policy.

First National Bank
Oldest National Bank in Jackson County
Depository of the United States, State of Oregon, County of Jackson and City of Ashland.

LOCAL S. P. TIME CARD.
Table with columns: Northbound, Leave, Southbound, Arrive. Lists train numbers and times for various routes.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT!

OWING to the continuous increasing demand for 5, 10 and 15c goods, and to enable us to serve you better and give you an up-to-date 5, 10 and 15c store, we have decided to discontinue the 25c line. Beginning SATURDAY, AUG. 9th, our price limit will be not over 15 cents for one piece, and all 25c goods will be sold out at 15 cents.

Now for the Bargains

We have a big line of 25c goods. Many of them were bought for special 25c values and are usually sold for more. ALL WILL GO AT 15 CENTS.
A big line of grey enamel ware just received to sell at 25 cents. It will go at 15 cents—and right in the canning season when these goods are needed, too.
10 dozen men's neckties, big 25c values often sold as 35c specials, will go at 15c.
Men's and ladies' handkerchiefs. Men's and boys' suspenders.
Men's heavy wool sox. Buy them now at 15 cents.

- Dishes, Whisk Brooms, Tooth Paste, Razor Straps
Glassware, Brushes, Tooth Powder, Shaving Brushes
Tinware, Combs, Tooth Brushes, Shaving Sticks
All 25c Values at 15 cents

All 25c Jewelry at 15 cents : All 15c Jewelry at 10 cents
All Ladies' 15c Vests at 10 cents.

There will be many additional bargains not mentioned here.

MUSIC We carry a big line of 10c and 15c music in the latest hits and standard compositions, and as there is no other music house in the city and to save you the inconvenience of sending away, we will continue to supply our customers with the higher grades, regardless of our 15c price limit on all other goods. We have a big line of technic books at cut prices, such as Matthews' Graded Course, Presser's First Steps, Beyer's Elementary Method, Root's Conservatory, etc., etc.

The store will be closed all day Friday
To arrange the goods and get ready for the big sale. Doors open Saturday at 9 A.M. Be on hand to get some of the plums. Do not ask us to deliver these goods.

Kohagen's 5-10-15c Store
" He Who Gives Most Gets Most."