A Good Advertiser Can Sell Good Property—Any Time, Anywhere

He must keep his ad at work. It must be THERE when the possible buyer looks—and he might not look more than one day out of ten. Of course, he might see and investigate it on its first publication, or, perhaps, the fifth or sixth time it appears. The good advertiser knows that, however persistent a campaign may be required, the cost will be an easily forgettable thing when the sale is made!

Love In the Stock Market

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

About the close of the last century, when shares on the stock market were rising and falling like the waves of the sea under a storm, James Rigdon was for a time a power in Wall street. When it was reported that Rigdon was selling a stock everybody rushed to sell. When he bought the price would rise like the thermometer on a July morning.

Rigdon was a bachelor, and as soon as it became known among his women friends that he knew what stocks were going up and what were going down he received more attention than the handsomest man in New York. One of these ladies, Miss Martindale, he wished to claim as his own, but despite all he could do he couldn't find out whether she had any use for him other than to learn how to make money in stocks.

One evening while with her she impertuned him to give her a tip on some stock that was about to be "put up." He explained to her that when he boomed a stock, if it were known that he was booming it, it would rise in value, but the trouble was that, when he wished to unload, the moment it was known that he had begun to sell, down would go the market and he would be left with a lot of "undigested securities" on his hands. He was about to put up the market price on a certain stock, but he could not take her into his scheme, for if it were known that she was buying and selling by his advice it would result disastrously for him.

"But I won't tell," she said. "Can I rely on you?" "Certainly." "Very well. Buy Onanora Copper. It is selling at 7 cents a share." "How awfully kind of you!" "I can rely on you?" "Surely." She gave him a special pressure when he left her and, running to the telephone, ordered him to purchase 1,000 shares of Onanora Copper. He did so without disturbing the market price of the stock half a point. Then she fell to thinking that her father and her brother and her sister would be delighted to participate in her good fortune, so she told them she had bought Onanora. There was no need for them to ask her why, because they knew she had for a long while been endeavoring to get a tip out of Mr. Rigdon. Surely there was no breach of confidence in this.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE.

Ashland People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are many. Disordered kidneys often excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back may ache, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighted down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger. Delay often proves fatal. You can use no better endorsed kidney remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Ashland proof of their merit:

Mrs. H. A. Creighton, 441 B street, Ashland, Ore., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used with fine results in our family. I have noted their good effects in cases of back-ache and kidney weakness. I don't think they have an equal."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Only Dared Think It.

"Father," said a little boy, "had Solomon seven hundred wives?" "I believe so, my son," said the father.

"Well, father, was he the man who said, 'Give me liberty or give me death?'"—Town Topics.
