Miss Sander Enters Convent

(Contributed.)

Again Our Lady of the Mountain has offered to God the life of one of its dearest daughters. Miss Sander began her probation the morning of November first. Her mother was present at the ceremony of reception and saw the doors swing on their hinges as they closed on the darling of her heart.

Carmel is the strictest order in the Catholic church. Among its members are numbered ex-queens, duchesses, scions of noble houses and ladies from some of the first families in America. This order has furnished to the cause of Christianity the greatest number of illustrious women and to the Catholic church the greatest number of saints. Their life is a martyrdom of charity—offering without ceasing their life, their prayers, their penances for the salvation of a humanity which thinks little of its own soul.

Tuesday before leaving, Miss Sander was tendered a farewell party by the young ladies of the parish. Wednesday morning one of the most touching incidents occurred in the chapel when all the young ladies received the Holy Eucharist and together knelt for the last time with their dear companion for the Benediction of the most Blessed Sacrament.

ARE TWO SALVATIONS BUT NO SECOND CHANCE

Evangelist Toole Preaches a Striking Sermon—Says There Is a Salvation Provided for the World as Well as for Church

Filled with enthusiasm over God's future provision for the world, Pastor Daniel Toole of New York city spoke here last night to an audience which showed intense interest in what he revealed from the Scriptures as to the Two Salvations. The speaker made it very emphatic that none will get a second chance, though every one will get one full chance for salvation, either in this world or in the world to come.

Pastor Toole pointed out that many, who think of the Divine Program as merely an endeavor to rescue mankind from sin and death to righteousness and eternal life in the present time, are much confused, because it must be acknowledged that comparatively little has been done, or is now being done for man's uplift. After six thousand years it is still true that "the whole world lieth in the wicked one;" "darkness covers the earth and gross darkness the heathen." In order to have any confidence at all in this theory, those who hold it are obliged to greatly lower their standards. They are forced to hope that God will admit millions of unfit people, crude, rude, ignorant and wicked, to eternal life and happiness or else provide for them purgatorial experiences, to make them fit for life eternal. He maintained that, as a whole, Christian people are greatly bewildered and that the tendency of their bewilderment is toward doubt, skepticism, atheism.

He pointed out, also, that others believe that God never intended the salvation of the world, but merely the salvation of the Church, "elect according to the foreknowledge of God through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the Truth." Those who hold this theory are greatly confused, also, because it seems incomprehensible that God would make no provision for the "thousands of millions" of Adam's race, but allow them to be born in sin, shapen in iniquity, and to go down to the tomb with almost no knowledge of their Creator, to suffer, according to this theory, an eternity of unspeakable torments.

The Church's Salvation.

The speaker then showed that the Scriptures clearly set forth two salvations, entirely separate and distinct. They are different as respects time, in that the one salvation "began to be spoken by our Lord" at His first advent, and began to be applicable to the Church at Pentecost and will wholly cease at His second coming in the end of this age. The other salvation neither applied before our Lord's first advent nor during this Gospel age, but will apply to all mankind, except the Church, during the millennium—the thousand years of the reign of Christ and the Church, especially designed for the world's blessing and uplift.

These two salvations were shown to be distinctly different as to kind. The salvation of the Church during this Gospel age, since Pentecost, means not only a deliverance from sin and death conditions to eternal life, but provides that their eternal life will be on the heavenly or spiritual plane and not on the earthly or human plane of existence. Thus the Apostle declares that our "inheritance is incorruptible and undefiled and fadeeth not away and is reserved in heaven for us who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation."—1 Pet. 1:4, 5. Our Lord also stated that in the resurrection we shall be as the angels. The Apostle says that we shall then be partakers of the Divine nature and like our Lord and Redeemer.

The World's Salvation.

The world's salvation which will follow will not include a change from the earthly to the spirit nature. It will mean a rescue from sin and death to the earthly perfection of the original man, in the image and likeness of his Creator, and surrounded by every necessity, blessing and comfort. Human perfection and the Eden home were lost through disobedience to God. The divine arrangement is that the merit of the Lord's sacrifice, when ultimately applied for mankind, shall fully cancel the death sentence upon him, as the Apostle declares: "He is a propitiation for our (the Church's) sins; and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world." (1 John 2:2.) The New Covenant, which was sealed by Jesus' blood, will go into effect under Him as Mediator, and under its provisions mankind are to be resurrected to life and perfection, and will gradually be brought back to all the glorious conditions lost in Eden. Paradise Lost will then be Paradise Restored. So we read that "God will have all men to be saved (from sin and death and the blinding influences of Satan) and to come unto a knowledge of the Truth," for the purpose of furnishing every child of Adam a fair chance to be saved and to gain eternal life. This restored earth will be the eternal home of mankind.

In conclusion, the speaker urged upon his hearers the necessity of "giving more earnest heed" to the diligent study of God's Word rather than to the creeds originated during the Dark Ages, that thus their faith in God might be increased and their joys made full.

Pastor Toole was most emphatic in his assertions that none need expect a second chance. A chance of salvation is now being afforded the Church; and in the age to come each individual of the world will be given his chance to believe and attain perfect life. This will include all the heathen; not that all will gain eternal life, but that all will be given a chance to hear and accept if they will. Those who disobey the Lord will be destroyed in the Second Death.—Adv.

12 Water Meters Ordered by City

The city recorder was authorized to accept the proposition of the representative of the Westinghouse people to ship 12 water meters at a cost of about $100, the meters to be shipped January 1, 1913, and billed October 1, 1914, the city to have free trial for nine months. If the meters proved satisfactory the city is to pay for them. If not, the company will take them back.

The council feel that it is only a matter of time until it will be necessary to install meters to prevent undue waste of water and believed this a good chance to try them out and see if the mica in the water would clog the meters.
