Storm Hits Gotham.
New York, Feb. 16.—A snow storm said to rival in severity the great storm of 1888 raged in the upper Hudson Valley, Mohawk Valley and northern and western parts of the state all day Saturday, tying up many smaller railroads, trolley lines and paralyzing communication generally. All mail was delayed.

COULD REACH NO AGREEMENT

agreement or contract, and it seemed unreasonable to expect the city to expend a large amount of money for investigation by competent chemists and engineers without such agreement. In the hope of arriving at some definite understanding the committee then drafted a rough form of contract embodying the public statement as modified and explained during the discussion of the evening and asked that it or something like it be agreed upon. This was refused. Mr. Silver reiterated his adherence to his published statement, the promises of which would be carried into effect.

He was then asked if he would give a contract embodying the bare language of the statement. He said he would sign nothing. That the statement was an offer to give the city something without charge and it is now for the city to determine by the employment of competent chemists and engineers whether or not it is possible and desirable to accept the gift.

The results of the conference are: First—That the owners will sign or do nothing other or further than is contained in the published statement until the city shall decide whether or not to attempt to pipe the water.

Second—That the city will then be given an opportunity to excavate in the vicinity of the springs and if water of proper quality and sufficient quantity can be there found they will be permitted to confine it and pipe to the city enough to supply the two outlets.

No agreement will be given that the supply shall be constant or perpetual or that in the event of the subsequent failure of the flow any further development will be permitted.

Your committee finding it impossible to reach an agreement then adjourned. F. E. WATSON, Sec.

Gore Takes Stand In Own Behalf

Oklahoma City, Feb. 16.—United States Senator Gore probably will take the witness stand in his own defense today in the hearing of the $50,000 damage suit of Mrs. Minnie Bond.

Senator Gore had expected to tell his version of the meeting in the Washington hotel where Mrs. Bond alleges he attacked her Saturday, but his counsel at the last moment decided to call other witnesses.

Before adjournment Saturday William Bonner, an Oklahoma City banker, testified of an alleged offer made by James Jacobs, a witness whom the counsel for Mrs. Bond is holding for rebuttal.

"Jacobs told me," the witness said, "that for $25,000 he would see that the case against Senator Gore was dropped."

"Barkis" Finds Friends to Ask

Portland, Ore., Feb. 16.—Petitions are in circulation asking Jonathan Bourne, Jr., to become a candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator. About ten days ago Bourne announced he would become a candidate if it were the wish of the people.

Only Queen Bees By parcels Post

Washington, Feb. 16.—Babies cannot be sent by parcel post. Second Assistant Postmaster General Stewart ruled thus last week. The parcel post cannot, in fact, be added, except living beings, human or otherwise, of any age, with the single exception of queen bees.

The entertainment put on at Dreamland Friday evening under the title "Mirth and Mystery" drew a crowded house and was well received. Several gentlemen from Portland and Frisco declared the act equal to any put on in the big theatres there. Mr. Hicks is bringing many up-to-date attractions to the city and the more patronage he receives the more and better entertainments the people will have the privilege to witness.

Christian Church.

The services at this church yesterday were most helpful and interesting. The Bible school is gradually increasing in efficiency and attendance. The morning and evening services were well attended. Mr. Browning preached an educational sermon in the morning, and at the evening service his subject was "The Choice of Moses." The special music at each service had a great message. The day was made more sacred when one of the young ladies came forward as a volunteer for the mission field. Next Lord's day will be observed as "Church Attendance" day. The large choir is preparing appropriate music. Mr. Browning will preach a stirring sermon in the morning and his men will have charge of the evening patriotic service.
