

News of the Klamath Team

That the football team of the local high school may have a team to play against for practice before its regular schedule of games with outside schools begins, the boys of the alumni of the school are planning formation of a team, says the Klamath Falls Northwestern. A call has been issued to every male member of the alumni living in or near Klamath Falls to be at Modoc Park next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock prepared to enjoy the first practice.

Owing to the isolated location of Klamath Falls the football team representing the school has no chance for practice against another team before the real games of the season commence. As is the custom in nearly all prominent schools, the alumni boys are planning to come to the rescue and help those who now play for their alma mater to experience some good hard games in preparation for the opening struggle with another school.

Not all the alumni boys now living in and near Klamath Falls won a "K" in football when attending Klamath high school, but nearly all had some experience at the great college game. Those who will turn out for the team are Rinehart Motschenbacher, Clarence Motschenbacher, Forrest Peil, Virgil DeLap, Theodore Case, William Hagestein, Wilbur Telford, Ralph Hurn, Will Hurn, Leon Boller, Glenn Garrett, Fritz Markwardt, Howard Boggs, Harry Mesner, Earl McCoy and possibly Louis McClure.

All fears that Klamath high might not have a good football team this season because of graduation of eleven letter men last spring were dispelled after the first practice of Athletic Manager Motschenbacher's proteges Tuesday evening. Over twenty men were on the field and all are zealous for a place on the eleven. Although only four letter men, Kelhl, L. Motschenbacher, Melhase and Noel, are in the squad, several new men have the weight and the form for good players. Jacob Stieger, a freshman from Wisconsin, shows up well in practice, as does Gus Page, from Fort Klamath, Earl Everett, Bill McMillan, "Slim" Graves, Ira Orem, Lawrence Sanderson and other recruits.

—Time for winter underwear? See the best line at Enders'.

—Cliff Payne makes special sash.

Army Lieutenant Coaches Football

Many will remember Thomas W. Hammond, a former Ashland boy, son of A. P. Hammond, deceased, who was postmaster here for three successive terms. "Tom" is now first lieutenant of Company H, Sixth Regiment U. S. Infantry, which has recently been doing guard duty on the Mexican border. He has just been detailed to coach the army football squad at the National Military Academy, preliminary to the big game between the army and navy teams later in the season. Undoubtedly he has been called upon to do this by virtue of a reputation as being an all-around athlete, gained during his cadetship days. He graduated from West Point in 1905, and for two years was instructor in mathematics at that institution. Since receiving his commission he has seen service in Alaska, and has also been stationed at the Presidio, San Francisco, and at other military posts up and down the coast. His regiment is under waiting orders to proceed to the Philippines early in December. Lieutenant Hammond is a brother of Mrs. J. H. Turner of this city, residing at 59 Union street. He paid Ashland a visit two years ago.

Lodge Men Gather On Thursday 24th

Thursday of this week will be celebrated by a conclave of the Knights Templar and Nobles of the Mystic Shrine from all over the state. They will give a big street parade and expose their trembling candidates to the eyes of the public. Many new and gorgeous robes have been ordered for the occasion, and the parade will be a showy affair.

The evening of the 23rd both gentlemen and ladies will be entertained by a reception and banquet in the Masonic hall. On the 24th the big conclave and ceremonial will be held. In the evening while the men are finishing up their business the ladies will attend the Vining, returning to the Masonic hall, where a big banquet will be in waiting. All Shriner and Templars are looking forward to this event.

This is to be a big week for Ashland people as both a lodge gathering and a Normal picnic are going to take place.

—Phoenix silk hose at Enders'.

Camping Sites in National Forest

Did you know that you could rent, at a nominal fee per annum, half an acre of ground within the national forest of Ashland or Wagner Butte for a summer home and live there indefinitely?

According to the National Forest Manual, "the fullest use of the national forest lands and resources is desired and encouraged." Few people realize what this means. So much has been said of the commercial side of the national forest resources, of their worth to the nation as a business proposition, that little heed has been given to their value as a people's playground. Where can one find a more delightful recreation spot than in the beautiful forest?

Many a "sylvan scene" within the national forest boundary may be permanently enjoyed almost for the asking. Go into the forest and pick out your camping site along some stream or by the side of some lake or in the high mountains; then apply to the nearest supervisor for a permit to use half an acre or so of land on which to establish your camp. If your choice of a site does not interfere with other forest uses or users, he will grant it to you upon the payment of the annual rental, which rental runs from $5 to $25, according to the location and the size of the camp site. Your permit is good indefinitely, the only requirement being that you comply with forest service regulations, chiefly in regard to sanitation and fire prevention.

Some few people have become wise to the possibilities of national forest camp sites and are already enjoying their summer home.

There are scattered lots and some surveyed tracts in other national forests of Washington and Oregon. In fact, there are splendid opportunities for summer camps in such localities as Klamath Lake, Oregon.

Several summer hotels have been established within the forests, but there is still room for many individual camps or summer homes.

—John Kelly shoes at Enders'.

$2 THE YEAR $2
Strictly in Advance
Southern Oregon's Big Twice-a-Week newspaper

THE Ashland Tidings
STRICTLY IN ADVANCE. D

News of the Fruit Market

The local fruit association is now shipping much fruit and vegetables grown in the vicinity of Ashland. Most of these go out by express as shipments of this nature cannot be held long enough to make up a carload. Many peaches were also sent in the same way. Three carloads were made up at one time, however, and shipped. Fruit so far has been bringing a fair price. The average at present is about 250 boxes a day. Much celery, tomatoes and other vegetables are being sent. Parcel post is serving many of the growers well this year. A. C. Joy has made good use of this, shipping hundreds of boxes in this manner to all points in the west.

The coming apple crop will be quite large, but the fruit will not as an average be as large as usual, on account of the extreme dry weather experienced this summer. "The apple market is in the air at present," states A. C. Briggs, "and nothing can be predicted as to prices."

An Idiotic Amendment.

The eight-hour law, Nos. 320 and 321, upon which the people are to vote in November, is a classic example of half-baked initiation.

According to the provisions of this extraordinary measure, no rancher in the Rogue River Valley could hire a packing crew, or packing crew, or harvesting crew for more than eight consecutive hours in the twenty-four.

If work should start at 7 a. m., for example, it would have to stop at 4 p. m., with an hour for "lunch and rest." No extra time, even at double pay, is allowed, except in case of accident, breakdown, fire, flood or storm.

The domestic assistant who arises at 6 a. m. to prepare the family breakfast would be forced to fold her hands at 3 p. m., or go on a joy ride, to save the mistress of the house from the punishment of a fine of "not less than $100 nor more than $1000, or not less than thirty days nor more than one year in jail, or both."

The passage of this law would put every rancher in southern Oregon out of business, disrupt the internal management of hundreds of homes, and make Oregon the laughing stock of the entire country.

Only the miscellaneous or feeble-minded could be expected to mark this amendment anything but 321 No.—Medford Sun.

LAST CALL

$20.00 SUITS For $9.95

One more week to buy a $20 Ladies' Suit for $9.95. Still a good assortment of sizes and patterns in winter weight suits. You can't afford to overlook this opportunity and our regular guarantee with every suit.

A nice assortment of Ladies' Gabardine and Balmacaan Coats at popular prices.

New fall goods arriving daily.

H. G. Enders & Son
"WHERE YOU DO BETTER"

$2 THE YEAR $2
Strictly in Advance
Southern Oregon's Big Twice-a-Week newspaper

The Ashland Tidings
STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

Classified Advertisements
(Continued from Page Seven.)

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY.

FOR SALE—A young cow and two heifer calves, cheap. W. D. Booth, phone 291-R, 996 Oak street.

FOR SALE OR TRADE—One heavy team, one light horse, one organ, new. Will trade for auto, cows or offers. Ashland Transfer & Storage Co. 34-3t

I WILL PAY CASH for apples and pears. Call at 575 Liberty street, or telephone 419-J. W. E. Pearson. 34-3t

FOR SALE—Rabbits, high-grade Belgian hares. Extra fine breeding does for early October litters. Will sell at sacrifice. Call 115 Church street. 34-2t*

LOST—Gray plaid overcoat, between Neil creek road and Ashland. Deliver 143 Third. Receive reward. 34-2t

FOR SALE—A three years' correspondence course in Lincoln-Jefferson Law School, dirt cheap. See Henry Enders.

FOR EXCHANGE—A small improved ranch with all farm implements, good house and barn, for clear Ashland property. See McWilliams & Edgington. 34-1f

Gold Hill Gives Fine Celebration

Conversation with those who attended the fair at Gold Hill Saturday reveal the fact that the celebration was a success from the word "go." About twenty attended from Ashland. A large number had planned on going, but stayed at home on account of the pouring rain here, not knowing that it was clear and the sun shining in Gold Hill. The weather there was exceptionally fine for a celebration.

Many stunts were pulled off, including a prize fight. Great piles of salmon and salad were served to the visitors.

Political Announcements
[Paid, Adv.]

For County Clerk.

I am a candidate for county clerk, subject to the will of the voters at the polls on November 3. My service in this capacity during the last two years is the sole basis of seeking your support.

G. A. GARDNER,
Jacksonville, Ore.

Miss Porter
MILLINER
36 SECOND STREET

WE Are Going to Normal Picnic, ARE YOU?

NORMAL GROUNDS

From 2:00 Until 5:30

September 25

Melon Barbecue, Bucking Exhibition, Roman Ride, Football Game, Sack Race, Calithumpian Performance Stump Speeches, Etc.

Admission Free

Autos to and from Grounds 10c each way

(Inserted Complimentary by the Ladies' Civic Improvement Club.)

