THE ONE-ATTEMPT MAN OR WOMAN

who, for example, publishes a Want ad once, and if it does not bring the result desired decides that "advertising does not pay," should study the practical results, in all lines of endeavor, of perseverance. The law of "try again" is as potent in want advertising as in any other effort or enterprise.

Classified Rates: One cent per word, first insertion; 1/2 cent per word for each insertion thereafter; 30 words or less $1 per month. No advertisement inserted for less than 25 cents. Classified ads are cash with order except to parties having ledger accounts with the office.

THE CLASSIFIED ADV. THAT IS Important to You at All IS APT TO BE Very Important

You MIGHT overlook the classified ads for a month without missing a really valuable opportunity. And yet on any day of that month there might be printed THE ONE ADVERTISEMENT which you could not afford to miss under any circumstances.

FOR out of the complex world of "offer and quest" there is apt to come, on any day, a clear and unmistakable message for YOU.

AND that message may be more important to you than any that has ever come to you by letter, by telephone, telegraph or messenger.

IT may be a call to higher business opportunities. It may be a chance to buy or to rent property such as you alone can fully appreciate. It may be a business opening that would lead you to the realization of your plans and purposes in life. It may be a chance to buy just what you are looking for or sell something you have no use for.

IT may be that, years ago, you "missed" some particular classified advertisement which would have changed the course of your life, greatly for the better, or made you considerable money.

IT may be that such an advertisement is printed today—or that it will appear some day within the course of a month or so.

When it DOES appear, FIND IT.

Bellevue and Vicinity

The first of last week the seventh grade of Bellevue challenged the eighth grade for a debate. The question was, "Resolved, that the country school is of more benefit to a child than the city school." The seventh graders took the negative. The following are the ones that took part: Negative, Bertha Howard, Mr. Joy, Olive Howard, James Gibson; affirmative, Miss Milam, Merritt Randles, Capitola Beagle, Lee Mow. After the debate, in which the negative won, a literary society was organized. The following were elected: Robert Gibson, president; Lee Mow, vice-president; Bertha Howard, secretary. The literary society will meet Thursday, February 11.

We heard last week that the tent of Jim Beagle, who is trapping beyond Tolo, burned up, together with all the things inside.

J. E. Miller spent a few days in Sams Valley with Mr. Gibson, who owns a 160-acre farm there.

Miss Elizabeth King entertained Walter Gibson and family to dinner Sunday.

The wind did a great amount of damage. Several barns in the district are flat, also chicken houses and woodsheds. The big pine tree in front of the F. C. Homes, Jr., house was uprooted. This tree will be missed very much. Other big trees are either split off or uprooted. All of the telephones in the district are out of commission since this terrible wind.

After the wind had ceased somewhat Sunday a few of the small boys around here got an old wagon with both wheels off and fastened on a wheelbarrow instead, and took a joy ride down the Boulevard. It is a good thing there are no police in this part of the country, or these boys would have been "pinched" for speeding.

Last Wednesday morning N. C. Dozier fell just as he was going up the steps into his barn, and hurt his chest quite a little.

Bellevue has added two new scholars to its already good-sized number.

Charles Homes has about completed the bridge across Emigrant creek, on the Lewis place, where he is living.

There was no Endeavor meeting at the school house Sunday evening, although seven members came over.

While the wind was blowing so hard Sunday a limb from the large pine near M. M. Tucker's soda spring broke off and struck a calf, killing the calf.

A. C. Briggs of Ashland has been out to his place several times lately. The Parent-Teacher Circle will meet Friday evening. A professor from the state university will lecture on the subject of Canada. A turnout is desired as this will undoubtedly be of interest and instruction.

What to Feed is Farmers' Problem

Wheat soars and keeps on soaring. It went to a dollar and the farmers were glad. But it didn't stop there. So rapid has been its advance that farmer and speculator alike have been dazed. They don't know where it will stop, and such a sudden and tremendous rise—up to and even past $1.50—makes 'em fear bad breaks later. However, everybody may be sure that wheat is going to be high. We wouldn't presume to say how high it will go or where it will stop, but as long as Europe spends its time with machine guns instead of farm machinery, just so long will wheat command a premium.

It follows very naturally that the farmers who own wheat land are going to put every acre they can spare in wheat. They are going to stretch their individual wheat belts and begrudge everything else even standing room this season. They are not raising this wheat for feed, either, but to sell. There is going to be money in wheat and they are doing their best to get their share.

And the farmer who has no wheat land feels somewhat disconsolate. He can't grow wheat and wheat is so high that he can't raise his usual quota of livestock, for what is for the hungry soldiers in Europe, for women and children deprived of their natural support. When human beings demand flour, hogs, cattle and chickens must get along without wheat.

There is both danger and an opportunity for the farmer right now. If he has wheat land he is in luck and he knows it. If he has no wheat land, if he is a small farmer, he is apt to sell off every hoof on his place and try to get along without stock. This is the peril, for if nobody raises pigs, beef cattle and chickens, where are our pork chops, sausage, beefsteaks and eggs coming from? Prices will go sky-high after wheat and there will not be enough to anywhere near meet the demand.

It is a problem, this meat question, in view of the price of wheat, and it is up to the farmer to solve it, and to the farm paper to help him. It needs thought, and if it is solved it is going to mean a big profit for the meat raiser.

"Wheat is out of the question," said William H. Daughtrey, president of the Portland Union Stockyards Company, when he was asked about it. "The next thing is to find something else. For a time the farmer will have to buy some feed for fattening. We are in the same shape ourselves and are making a few experiments."

"I have purchased some cracked corn. Corn has as great a feeding value as wheat and probably more, and there is no question but what we can buy it in Nebraska and Kansas and lay it down here cheaper than we can buy wheat. One difficulty we experience is that the animals here have not eaten corn and it is hard to get them to relish it at once. Whole corn is more economical than cracked corn."

"Kaffir corn is said to be an excellent substitute. I am negotiating with parties now, and will know in a few days how much it will cost laid down. It is particularly good for chickens and hogs, I am told."
