proclaimed on October 1, 1914. No change has since been made in them, and no change is likely to be made until the constitutionality of the law has been passed on by the United States supreme court. As a matter of fact, the law provides that all changes in the regulations must be considered for a period of ninety days, and then must be approved and signed by the president before they become effective. It is thus evident that there is no possibility that the prohibition of spring shooting will be in any way modified this year.

The officials of the department who are intrusted with the enforcement of the law are anxious that these facts be impressed upon the people because it is the intention to investigate carefully all reports of violations made to the department's inspectors and wardens and to prosecute all such violations in the federal courts. In this connection it is pointed out that prosecutions may be instituted at any time within three years of the offense.

To Kill the Rodents.
 Time and experience have fully demonstrated the utility of virus as a rodent exterminator, particularly squirrels, gophers and mice pests. Nearly all forms of poison have given way to strychnine, and for this purpose there is nothing better than a strychnine-coated wheat. The cupid-ity of manufacturers has in many cases led them to diminish the amount of poison below the safety point, with the result that it has proven worthless in use. Disappointment has also arisen through improper coating. Farmers today are depending more and more on the well-tried, tested brands of coated wheat for the destruction of squirrels and gophers. No stock, fruit, grain or alfalfa grower should jeopardize his crop by failure to act promptly this season.

These rodents are now asleep;

SPRING SHOOTING IS PROHIBITED

From the number of letters which they have received on the subject recently, officials of the department believe that sportsmen may unintentionally violate the provisions of the federal migratory bird law, which it is the purpose of the government to enforce rigidly. Under the provisions of this law no waterfowl can be shot in the northern or breeding zone after January 15, except in New Jersey, where the season extends to February 1. In most of the southern or wintering zone the season closes February 1, but extends to February 15 in Florida, Georgia and South Carolina. These regulations were soon, with the warm sun's rays, their whistle will be heard, and this is the psychological moment to sprinkle the poisoned wheat. A few grains in the early morning, dropped down each burrow, will turn the trick. The long fast makes the creatures ravenous and the poison is immediately effective. Fields have been shown where thousands of these rodents have been destroyed in twenty-four hours, by this method.
