In the Social Realm

Mistletoe Hikers.

Another hikers club has been organized, named the Mistletoe. Miss Elsie Potter is president, Mrs. Pearl Trefren secretary, Miss Grace Potter treasurer. The initial hike began with a railway trip to Mistletoe last Saturday evening, the officials being accompanied by Frank Trefren and George Hoxie as guides. After a dance the party stopped at the Trefren ranch until Sunday morning, from which point at 5:30 a. m. they started up Nell creek to the granite quarry now being developed, thence 1,500 feet up a 30 per cent grade until they reached the divide, from which the view was inspiring. After lunch and taking of sundry pictures, the party returned to the ranch, arriving at 1:30 p. m., having lost their bearings on the way. Including the walk to depot from the ranch the hike covered about nine miles. They reached Ashland on No. 16 Sunday afternoon and have planned another walk covering different territory next Sunday.

Young Ladies' Auxiliary.

The "coming out" party of the Auxiliary, given Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. H. McNair, with Mrs. Boslough, Mrs. Henry Provost and Mrs. S. B. McNair acting as assistant hostesses, was a most delightful social event. About fifty ladies were present to enjoy the hospitality of the charming home and hostesses. The rooms were lovely with spring flowers. A fine program of music and readings was rendered as follows: Instrumental solo, Mrs. Henry Enders; vocal solo, Mrs. Provost; two instrumental solos, Miss Verna Haight; reading, Miss Nellie Briggs; vocal solo, Mrs. D. D. Norris. Coffee and delicious cakes formed the tempting refreshments. With such a large and growing membership and such enthusiasm as was shown at this most successful social session, the future of the Auxiliary looks bright.

Mrs. A. H. Pracht will entertain the Auxiliary at another social session at her home on Vista street on the evening of April 7, with Mrs. Sylvan Provost, Mrs. F. G. Dean and Mrs. W. Y. Crowson as assistant hostesses.

Among the coming events planned for the financial benefit of the Auxiliary is a May day festival and dance which is expected to be a very chic affair.

Birthday.

Lanlice, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Metcalf, celebrated her eleventh birthday Saturday, entertaining a number of her little friends during the afternoon. Games of the sort dear to girlish hearts were indulged in and Mrs. Metcalf served a two-course luncheon. Guests besides Louise, sister of the hostess, were Bess and Joyce Johnson, Constance Caldwell, Ruth Kennard, Hazel and Mildred Erickson and Margaret Johnson.

Mrs. Mattern Entertains.

Mrs. Herman Mattern entertained a card club at her beautiful Hargadine street residence this week. Mrs. G. S. Butler and Mr. Thomas Simpson carried off the high score prizes. Dainty refreshments were served.

Dramatic Club.

About fifteen members of the Ashland Dramatic Club met at the home of Miss Bertha Calkins last Wednesday evening. Plans were laid for the series of entertainments which will be given later in the spring.

Pythian Sisters.

The Pythian Sisters Embroidery Club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Emma Earle at the Hotel Oregon. Light refreshments were served in the dining room and were enjoyed by all.

Those present were: Mesdames Louise McNair, Carrie Hargadine, E. T. Staples, J. R. Casey, Rosa Patty, Emma L. Clute, Maggie Beagle, Ruby Prescott, Hazel Daggett, Emma Earle, Marie Stock, and the Misses Bernia Haight, Emma Earle, Elnora Beagle and Mary Virginia Hargadine.

At the table the hostess read a number of original verses depicting various characteristics of the Pythian Sisters present and absent. The verses were clever and artistic and only lack of space prevents their publication.

Roseburg Railroad Ball.

A number of local railroaders running out of Ashland on the north end attended the St. Patrick's day ball given by the trainmen and engineers in Roseburg. The ball was given in the armory, which was beautifully and appropriately decorated for the occasion. Hundreds of lanterns, flags and much other railroad paraphernalia was used. In one corner of the room was a miniature tunnel from which emerged a small locomotive. The dance was well attended.

Moose Lodge.

Members of the Moose lodge and their ladies spent an enjoyable evening at Moose hall Monday night. Old-time dances were features of the evening's fun. The Moose socials are becoming very popular with lodge members as each affair is more jolly than the preceding one.

On Tuesday evening the younger members and a number of outsiders enjoyed the regular weekly dance.

April First Affair.

Invitations are out for an elaborate social affair to be given in Moose hall on the evening of April Fool's day. Over one hundred invitations were issued and the event promises to be one of the most enjoyable of the present social season.

The hostesses for the evening are: Mesdames O. Winter, Wilmer Poley, L. S. Brown, August Schuerman, W. H. Smith and C. B. Lamkin.

Stubbs-Gowland.

Mrs. Alice Stubbs was united in marriage to James E. Gowland at the Smith residence by Rev. Smith last evening. After the ceremony the party adjourned to the Miller home, where a reception was held and light refreshments served. Only a few immediate friends and relatives were present. The couple will make their home on a ranch in the Bellevue district.

U-Go-I-Go.

Mrs. G. C. McAllister entertained the members and invited guests of the U-Go-I-Go Club one day last week. Embroidery furnished amusement and the hostess served light refreshments. Those present were Mesdames Milam, Boyd, Calfee, Hoag, Norwood, Ware, Metcalf, James and Weaver.

Congregational Sunday School.

The members of the Congregational Sunday school were entertained Monday afternoon by their teachers. Games and amusements suitable to the ages of the little folks were indulged in and light refreshments served.

Presbyterian Church Endeavor Social.

The young people of the Presbyterian Christian Endeavor spent a very enjoyable evening on Friday last at the Heer residence on High street. After a short and enthusiastic business meeting a few original stunts made up the program. An impromptu mock wedding with George Icenhower as groom and Miss Bertha Browell as blushing bride was the first number. Miss Sylvia Brown officiated. Winn Hayes gave the bride away and Victor Flint acted as best man. Misses Priscilla Carnahan, Fern O'Donahue and Minnie Rickman were bridesmaids. The company then attempted to save the situation by instituting a divorce case for the bride on the grounds of non-support and inhuman treatment, in which an Easter hat held a prominent part. The case was tried before Judge Hayes with Miss Brower as sheriff and Rev. Sylvia Brown as chief witness. However, the legal logic and masterful oratory of Victor Flint for the plaintiff and Winning for the defendant went for naught when the chief actors in this tragedy settled the case with many tears. With a few well-chosen words from the court on the duties of married life and a promise from the reunited couple to be more mutually considerate hereafter, the court was closed. After refreshments of doughnuts and coffee a game of forfeits closed a most pleasant evening.

Hikers' Club.

On last Friday the Hikers' Club spent the afternoon planting vines and plants along Glenview drive. All of the women's organizations of the city are taking an intense interest in the "city beautiful" movement and are lending valuable assistance.

Pleasant Surprise.

There was a pleasant surprise party on Gladys Sutton in honor of her sixteenth birthday at her home on East Main street last Friday. They were the freshmen class. Games and dancing passed the evening. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Albert Sheard and Mrs. Ed Lucas.

Birthday Surprise.

Miss Madeline Silver was agreeably surprised at her home Friday evening by a party of young friends, the affair being occasioned by her birthday. Games were played and refreshments were served. Twenty-one guests were present.
