Mock Wedding.

Tuesday afternoon the ladies of the Valley View neighborhood gathered at the home of Miss Ethelyn Hurley and assisted her in sewing. A bountiful basket lunch was provided, to which all did justice. During the afternoon a mock marriage took place in which Mrs. A. H. Davenport, dressed in conventional black, took the part of the bridegroom. Miss Hurley, attired in white with a bridal veil which bore some resemblance to a window curtain, and with a wealth of mock orange blossoms in her hair and carrying a bouquet of the same, made a charming bride. Mrs. William Glenn officiated as minister and performed the ceremony with much solemnity on her part and much hilarity on the part of the guests.

After the ceremony the bridal bouquet was caught by Miss Elizabeth Lennox and toasts were drunk to the health and happiness of the bride and groom.

Those present besides the principals were Mrs. W. A. Stratton and daughter Jean, Mrs. Leach, Mrs. D. O. Hurley, Mrs. John Budgeon, Mrs. Horn, Mrs. Grant Davis, Mrs. V. A call to the dining room revealed one of Mrs. Powell's chicken dinners for which she is famous. In due time the gentlemen took a stroll down town, while the ladies enjoyed a pleasant afternoon with conversation and candy. The time passed far too quickly. The guests departed with the one thought uppermost in their minds, that it was good to have been there.
