League Hike to Mt. Wagner.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church is planning another of their popular mountain-climbing trips. This year they expect to scale Mt. Wagner, having ascended Mt. Ashland last year and the year before. The start will be made from the Plaza at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Those who cannot go at this hour will make up another party to start at 6 o'clock. The members and their friends will furnish their own eats and sleeps, but the league will provide coffee and toothpicks and free transportation for food and blankets, providing the duffie is left at the Plaza not later than 2:30 Saturday afternoon. The committee requests that no more baggage be brought than is absolutely necessary.

Saturday night and Sunday will be spent at Long's, where Sunday school and league services will be held at the usual hours, 9:45 a. m. and 6:45 p. m. There will be a song service, with special music, at 4 p. m. At 12:01 Monday morning the last lap of the journey will begin, the climbers lighting their pathway with "bugs"—lard pails with candles inside. At the top of the mountain a real sunrise prayer meeting will be held. Mr. Hunter will read Van Dyke's "God of the Open Air" and Miss Cherry will sing "Higher Ground." After a good rest the return trip will be made, Ashland being reached some time Monday evening.

Arrangements were made for the above trip by the social committee of the league at a meeting held Tuesday evening of last week at the home of the fourth vice-president, Mrs. O. H. Barnhill. After business was disposed of a very enjoyable hour was spent in the orchard by a big bonfire, singing, eating cherries and doing other stunts. Those present, besides Mr. and Mrs. Barnhill, were Everett Smith, Ross Eliason, Granville Dalzell, Maple Payne, Jennie Tooker, Mary Weisenburger, Elizabeth Wilson and Edna Dahuff.

Brown-Icenhower.

Miss Silva Greta Brown, one of the popular teachers in the Ashland public schools, was quietly married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Roy Davis, in Medford, Wednesday evening, June 13, 1915, at 5:30 o'clock, to Mr. George B. Icenhower. The wedding was a very quiet one, only the Davis family and Mr. Icenhower's brother being present.

The bride, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman A. Brown of this city, was born in Storm Lake, Iowa, was educated in the schools of Storm Lake, in Buena Vista College, Storm Lake, and in the Iowa State Normal School. She taught two years in Wall Lake, Iowa, and for the past four years has been a primary teacher in the schools of Ashland, where she has done excellent work and was a favorite with pupils and fellow teachers alike. She has a host of friends in Ashland who wish her much joy and prosperity.

The groom is a son of J. B. Icenhower of this city. He is a self-made young man, having worked his way through college at Fulton, Mo., and now holds a position under the United States government as a civil engineer, having been recently employed on the Klamath Lake irrigation project. He does not yet know where he will be assigned if work is stopped on the Klamath project, so the young people are uncertain as to their future home. He has visited in Ashland considerable since his parents moved here and has become well and favorably known among the young people.

Newlyweds to Montague.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hollibaugh were bid farewell by a bevy of friends at the station Tuesday evening, the couple leaving for Montague, where they will make their home, Mr. Hollibaugh being employed by the railroad company in northern California. Mrs. Hollibaugh was formerly Miss Ethelyn Hurley.

The Auxiliary Adjourns for Chautauqua.

The Auxiliary will keep open house, as usual, this coming Friday, but there will be no other regular club meeting at Ivy Cottage until Monday evening, July 19. The club is taking this short vacation in order to celebrate the Fourth properly, and also that the members may have leisure for attending Chautauqua. As soon as this holiday is over the Auxiliary expects to organize classes and to open a sketchy sort of "summer school" of its own in both handicraft and study. Certain afternoons of each week will be devoted to this work. The specialties to be taken up will be announced later.

Surprise.

Mrs. George Monroe was most pleasantly surprised at her home on Sixth street Wednesday afternoon by an inundation of a number of her friends in honor of her birthday anniversary. The afternoon was delightfully spent in conversation, fancy work and doing justice to the excellent viands which Mrs. Monroe's uninvited guests thoughtfully provided for the occasion. The following ladies were present: Mesdames G. Monroe, E. Monroe, Cain, Tildsley, Cusick, Stevens, Stengel, Miller, Ellis, Mowat, Dodge and Parsley.

Visitors at the Fair.

Mrs. E. Finley and daughter Alice returned Tuesday evening from San Francisco, where they visited the exposition, which they report to be fine. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Finley of Oakland. The latter have visited in Ashland several times and have spent the past five years in travel. They are expected to arrive in Ashland within the next few days and are thinking of locating.

Kansas.

Kansas day at the Chautauqua will be July 8. A big picnic dinner in the park with free lemonade and coffee, to which all former residents of Kansas are invited, will be followed with a brief business meeting. The speaker in the afternoon is a Kansas man and additional Kansas features will be added to the program. All Kansas residents are urged to turn out and bring a regular Kansas dinner in their baskets.

Ashland Young Lady Law School Graduate.

Teresa Melkie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Melkie, former residents here, and a member of the alumni of the Ashland high school, has recently graduated with honors from the law department of the University of California at Berkeley with the degree of A. B. She will pursue post-graduate studies in the Hastings Law School of San Francisco.

McNabb-Shepherd.

Miss Pearl Sheppard and John McNabb were married Tuesday afternoon in the parlors of McWilliams & Edgington's real estate office. The young people are both former Ashlanders and attended school here. They will make their home in Turlock, Cal. Mr. McNabb is a nephew of Robert P. Edgington.

Club Tent for Ladies.

The club women of Ashland will have a tent in the Chautauqua park during the coming session of the Chautauqua, with rest room privileges, which will be open to the women of Ashland and visitors. Any of the local club women who can lend furnishings for the tent to help make it attractive are urged to do so.

There is no formal organization of Iowans here, but all natives of the state are requested to join with the visitors at the picnic, the date of which will be announced as soon as the Medford people have made final arrangements.
