Bulletin of Fruit Buds.

A new bulletin, Station Bulletin 129, has just been issued by the Oregon Agricultural College experiment station. It is devoted chiefly to the development of the fruit bud of the apple and was prepared, from original investigations, by F. C. Bradford, under the supervision of the head of the horticultural department, Professor C. I. Lewis. A few of the instructive facts noted, either original or credited, are the following: Fruit buds are formed on one, two and three year old wood, but there are some exceptions; both leaf bud and fruit bud grow from undifferentiated crowns, and the first evidence of fruit bud development is the rapid elevation of the crown into a narrow, conical form, rounded at the apex and having fibro-vascular connections and pith areas advancing concurrently. In the Newtown variety the earliest differentiation is visible during the first ten days of June. Many other points of interest to fruit men are found in the bulletin, copies of which may be had by writing to the Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis.

Froman & High Carpenter Shop Destroyed by Fire.

At 10 o'clock Thursday morning the Froman & High carpenter shop was completely destroyed by fire, caused by an explosion from a machine Carl Froman was working with. The shop was situated directly across from the Talent depot and was owned by Mr. Cameron of Ashland. Carl Froman caught on fire, and on this account the alarm was not given as soon, for power was very good and thus the buildings were saved.

Froman & High had just installed some very fine machinery, which was valued at $2,000. Luck seemed to be against them, for nothing was insured, so all is a total loss, including all of Mr. Froman's bachelor furniture. Some boxes and trunks belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bonham of Minneapolis were destroyed, but they were insured property.

H. C. High had to fight for some time for the life of his partner. Mr. Froman is burned quite badly, but not seriously, although he is suffering considerably, and is being attended by his aunt, Mrs. Davis, of Wagner Creek.

For some time the men of Talent had a hard tussle to save the home of Peter Vandersluis, which was next door to the burning building; also the Talent Hotel, which is vacant, and another small building was endangered.

Ashland Schoolmen Attend Conference

University of Oregon, Eugene, July 12.—The state educational conference which is held each summer on the grounds of the university has just come to an end. This conference has been in session ten days, and from 1 o'clock to 5 every afternoon from sixty to eighty superintendents and high school teachers have been in constant attendance, listening to closely argued technical professional papers, in which not the slightest attempt was made to entertain or amuse but only to present professional information.

Much of the time of the conference during the ten days was devoted to a critical discussion of the books that have been adopted during the last few years into the high schools of the state. Several days were principally devoted to the review of texts. According to Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the State University School of Education, this study has been effective, and will be productive of interesting results.

Each day, also, methods and experiments in secondary education, as tried out in various high schools of the state, were reported on and discussed.

An investigation of "The Study Habits of High School Students" was reported on by Principal Burt A. Adams of Gold Hill and Principal H. M. James of Silverton.

The Big Gray Car

May Send Fruit Crates By Mail

Washington, July 13.—Postmaster General Burleson has ordered that the size limit of packages for parcel post shipment be increased to a combined length and girth of 84 inches, which will permit the mailing of standard sized fruit and berry crates. The old limit was 72 inches length and girth and there has been a widespread demand for its increase.

The postmaster general also authorized the establishment of a receipt system for parcel post packages similar to that employed by express companies.

"The new regulations," says a department statement, "provide that on payment of one cent, the postmaster at the mailing office may give the sender of an ordinary parcel of fourth class mail a receipt therefor. A postage stamp to cover the charge for the receipt will be affixed to the parcel and the name and address of the addressee shall be written in the receipt by the sender."

Standard legal blank forms of every kind may be procured at the Tidings office in any quantity.

The Tidings is on sale at Poley's drug store, 17 East Main street.

Belmont School
(For Boys)
21 miles south of San Francisco
We think that we give to our boys what thoughtful parents wish. Our graduates enter, on recommendation, institutions that admit on certificate and an examination (see page 24 of our catalogue) to Harvard, The Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Yale, whose admission requirements are most severe. Send for beautifully illustrated catalogue, which gives not only a very good idea of the spirit and purposes of the school, but of its equipment and its attractive school home. Nothing, however, can quite take the place of a visit to the school.
