

In the Social Realm

Some Hike.

(By one of the Hikers.)

If you had looked out on Granite street Monday, August 9, about 3 p. m. you would have seen a bunch of hikers in bloomers and middies with camp outfit over their shoulders, starting for Mt. Ashland. Being anxious to show the men that we could make the round trip without man or beast, we started alone, carrying everything, and continued to do so the whole trip. Arriving at Long's cabin about 6 p. m., tired and hungry, we quickly made a campfire, fried bacon and flapjacks and made camp coffee, which was consumed with dispatch in order that we might look around for a real nice soft rock to sleep on. Soon the whole bunch of eleven were in dreamland, some with a rock for a pillow, others with a pair of shoes, while the writer had a real nice soft board under her head. But if we imagined we would get any sleep we were mistaken, for we were just snoring nicely when there arose a most hideous noise, followed by a scrambling horde who rushed through our camp like Indians, but were just a bunch of Boy Scouts who were camping on the other side of the trees, and they finding sleep impossible, thought they would entertain the rest of the camp. But their efforts were not very highly appreciated and they were at last persuaded to return to their blankets to rest up for the climb in the morning. And O, that climb! "Say, I wouldn't miss that trip for $50, but I wouldn't make it again for $100," said one of the party. We started from Long's cabin about 6 a. m. Tuesday, arriving at Gribble's spring at 11 a. m., where we had dinner and rested, then started for the summit, reaching it about 1 p. m., where we had a grand frolic, throwing snowballs, sliding down the snowbanks and tearing around in general, then about 2 p. m., after registering our names, we started on the return trip, reaching Long's cabin at 4:35 p. m., where we rested, then went on down about two miles and cooked our supper, and, oh, my, such a supper. Yum! yum! Then all aboard for home and mother, where we arrived about 8 p. m., tired, hungry and so dirty our own mothers wouldn't know us, but perfectly satisfied that the trip was worth it.

Those taking the trip were Mrs. C. A. Brown, Mrs. Harry Simpson, Marguerite Moore, Lillian Arant, Panny Doran, Ivern Keller, Phileman Arant, Delphia Biegel, Capitola Biegel, Wilbur Biegel and Earl Brown.

Thanks From Australians.

The Ladies' Civic Improvement Club, through its press secretary, Mrs. E. C. Gard, is in receipt of the following letter from Lieut. J. J. Simons, in charge of the Australian boys who recently visited Ashland. He says:

"On behalf of the officers and boys of our party, I desire to ask you to accept an expression of sincere thanks for the kind hospitality you made us the recipients of during the very happy visit to your locality.

"We deeply appreciate the many kindnesses received from your hands and will carry back to our country the kindest remembrances of our American tour which has been built up chiefly because of the consideration such as you have extended to our movement.

"We rejoice to have had the opportunity of bringing into closer friendly relationship the sympathies of our respective countries."

Engineer Married.

Roseburg News: A quiet wedding took place this morning at 10 o'clock in the parsonage of the M. E. church, South, Rev. C. H. Cleaves officiating, in which the interested parties were Vernon Bartlett and Miss Marguerita Irwin. Mr. Bartlett is one of the well known and popular engineers on the Southern Pacific, with headquarters at Roseburg, and the bride is a charming and social favorite in Portland. It is understood that the newly-wed couple will locate here in the city. As witnesses, H. M. Blandford and Otto L. Dotson of train crews 53 and 54 officiated.

Entertainment at County House.

The entertainment given here Tuesday evening under the direction of L. E. Stennett of Ashland was far beyond our expectations and was certainly appreciated by all who attended. Something of this order is very helpful to the inmates and they will not forget the kindness shown.

In talking with Mr. Stennett he tells us that this makes an even fifty of these entertainments and they have all been without one cent of pay, as they were for the benefit of "shut-ins," those who are unable to pay, etc. But at the same time he wishes to say that had it not have been for the kindness of the car owners and the good talent that assisted, the show would have been very much "on the weak."

In the absence of Dr. Hart I wish to thank Mr. Stennett and his company, and our doors stand open for them at any time.

W. N. WELLS,
Assistant Superintendent.

Many Thanks.

The ladies of the Auxiliary Club take this opportunity to thank Mr. Roy Hale, Mrs. Shirley Keene, Miss Ruby Palmer, Mrs. Henry Provost and all others who so kindly gave their time and talent in helping to make the entertainment recently staged at the Lyric theatre a success. Thanks are also extended to Manager Lawrence of the theatre for his co-operation.

Surprise.

A very enjoyable evening was spent Tuesday at a surprise party given at the home of Mrs. J. W. Rogers in honor of her mother, sister and niece of Milwaukie, Ore., who were spending the week. Refreshments were served, after which Mr. Rogers entertained the party with stories of the earlier days.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Klum and daughter of Medford have returned from San Francisco, where they visited the exposition. They made the trip by auto. Mr. and Mrs. Van Gasser of San Francisco returned with them and went with them on a trip to Crater Lake. Blaine says: "We have looked upon the greatest works of mankind and of nature and only deplore the fact that life is so short." The party were visitors in Ashland yesterday. Mrs. Van Gasser was formerly Miss Verna Force of this city.

Miss Alvina Haraldson died at a Portland hospital Saturday and was buried at Newberg Monday. Deceased was 19 years old and death was due to hemorrhage following an operation for adenoids, which was performed February 20. Her folks moved here from Newberg last September to relieve Mr. Haraldson's asthma, and have a home on Mountain avenue. Her mother and two sisters who teach in the northern part of the state have been with her at Portland. Mr. Haraldson and daughter Miss Lula went to Portland Saturday evening.

AT THE CHURCHES

Baptist Church Notes.
On Sunday morning, August 15, the Sunday school session will begin at 9:45. Morning worship begins at 11. As usual, the pastor will have a short, interesting sermon for the children, then he will speak to the subject, "The Bible, the Word of God." This is an old, old theme, but perhaps it will be treated in a new way. Strangers in the city are invited to come and worship with us at the corner of First and Hargadine streets.

The B. Y. P. U. will meet at 7 o'clock in the evening. The union service is at 8 o'clock in the Chautauqua building.

Congregational Church.
On the coming Sabbath Sunday school will be held as usual at 9:45. Teacher training class conducted by the pastor. Morning worship at 11. Theme, "Our Debtorship." Y. P. S. C. E. at 7. Union service at 8 in the Chautauqua building. Rev. R. W. Farquhar, minister.

Presbyterian Church.
In the absence of the Presbyterian pastor Rev. William Johnson will preach at 11 a. m. Sunday on the topic, "The Message That Saves People." Mr. Razor will render a solo.

A. B. O. F.
Several members of the A. B. O. F. Club enjoyed a pleasant afternoon in the park Tuesday with sewing and conversation and light refreshments.

Swimming Parties.

A swimming party at the Natatorium or Helman's baths is becoming one of the most popular methods of entertaining this summer. Not only have there been many parties of local people, but every week sees many parties from down the valley.

Auxiliary.

Mrs. Frank Jordan and Miss Joorfetz are to be the hostesses tomorrow evening at Ivy Cottage. A program is in order and light refreshments will be served. Everybody come.

Green Spring People to Picnic.

The residents of Green Spring mountain will hold a picnic at the Hendricks place in the near future.

Chautauqua Park Club.

The Chautauqua Park Club met in the grove Tuesday afternoon and transacted considerable business.

Epworths Will Picnic.

The Epworth Leaguers of the Methodist church will hold a social on the lawn tomorrow evening.

Local and Personal

J. H. Fulmer of Ely, Nev., wife and two daughters have been visiting in the city during the past week. Mrs. Fulmer is a sister of Mrs. David Castleh, who is occupying the Presbyterian manse during the absence of Pastor Carnahan, who is enjoying a vacation at Crescent City. Mr. Fulmer is a prominent railroad man of Nevada and is a member of the state senate.

Ladies, our new Fall styles are in. You are invited to come in and look at the beautiful styles and woolsens for your new suit or coat at Orres' Shop.

An inclusive and, to the fruit grower, interesting article on "Selling Apples by Auction" appeared in the August 1 issue of the Western Farmer, a semi-monthly magazine devoted to the farming and allied interests in the Pacific northwest. The article is from the pen of Arthur M. Geary of Medford. Mr. Geary has been in the east for the past two years studying the problem of disposition of fruit.

ASHLAND PUBLIC MARKET opens Saturday, August 14, in the Stoner building, 349 E. Main street. Stalls may be rented reasonable by day or month. Bring your baskets and load up with market produce.

Are you a Knocker or a Booster?

When the Creator had made all the good and beautiful things, in order that they might be truly appreciated, He then made the reptiles, beasts and poisonous insects. When He had finished he had left over scraps that were too bad to put into the rattlesnake, the hyena, the scorpion or the skunk, so He placed all these together, covered it with suspicion, wrapped it with jealousy, marked it with a yellow streak and called it a KNOCKER.

Then as a compensation for His fearful product, He took a sunbeam and put it in the brain of a man, wrapped these in civic pride, covered it with brotherly love, gave it a mask of velvet and a grasp of steel and called it a BOOSTER.

If you see the beautiful Fall styles and patterns in woolsens at Orres' Tailor Shop and the way they are tailored to your handsome form, and at the very low prices, you will never be a knocker, but an everlasting booster.
