J. E. Weaver's renewal to the Tidings has just been received from Eugene, Ore. He says that he frequently sees some one from here and all bring reports of Ashland's progress. He reports that he and his family are all well and getting along nicely in their new home. Mr. Weaver was formerly interested in the Plaza grocery here.

Fred Putnam has returned from the Lamkin ranch near Montague, where he has been employed during the summer. The equipment on the Lamkin wheat ranch is of the latest, including a caterpillar engine and combined harvester, which together handle 30 to 35 acres a day. The Lamkin tract consists of about 1,000 acres. There is a good wheat crop this year.

Ralph Salsbury, who has been working with his father at Blairdsen during the past summer, has gone to Berkeley, where he will attend the University of California. Mrs. Salsbury and daughter Blanche will leave the first of next month for Berkeley, where they will make their home during the coming winter. Miss Blanche will also attend the university.

Old soldiers of southern Oregon will assemble at their annual encampment from September 13 to 17, inclusive, in the Hills grove south of Medford. It is estimated that 300 veterans will be in attendance. The musical program is promised as exceptionally fine, while G. A. R. veterans will follow the old-time popular custom of relating historic yarns around the campfire.

Elmer Ashcraft, driver of the Interurban car between Ashland and Medford, and Herbert Poor left Sunday morning in the former's car for the head of Elk creek. They will proceed as far as possible with the car and then pack into the mountains in the region of the Umpqua divide. Perry Ashcraft expects to join them later in the week. They will spend two weeks in pursuit of deer and other game.

While in the city she will also visit her sons Phillip and Leslie Rose. Phil Rose is now teaching in the model business school on the fair grounds. The model school is entirely surrounded with glass and is an object of much interest to the visitors at the exposition. He will teach in Riverside, Cal., when school starts this fall.

Gold Hill News: Ralph Darling, who took Al Peterson and Jay Davidson to the head of Pleasant creek Wednesday, in quest of six fat bucks, reports having met a rancher of that district who claims the honor of being the first victim of the season on sportmen. He was shot through the left thigh early Wednesday morning by a boy member of his party. The ball missed the bone and passed completely through, inflicting a clean wound. Friends were conveying him to Rogue River in a hack. Mr. Darling did not learn his name, but observed that he was about fifty years of age and chock full of philosophic grit.

Suppose your property had burned last night, without being insured? Would it have hurt you or almost "broken you up"? Safe, sure way is to insure with the Billings Agency. Let us tell you about the low cost. 23-4t

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Herrick, daughter Luella and son Burton arrived last week and may decide to remain in Ashland. Mr. Herrick owns a residence on the Boulevard. The family moved away from Ashland several years ago. Mr. Herrick expressed himself as being greatly pleased with improvements made here and stated that although he had been over the coast states and a large portion of the east he failed to find a place which suited him better than Ashland for a home city. That conditions here are better than in almost any section of the country and the equal of any section, was Mr. Herrick's opinion.

Ex-Mayor Don E. Yoran of Eugene and family stoped at the Ashland auto camp grounds Thursday evening. Mr. Yoran is en route home from an extended trip through eastern Oregon. From Eugene he drove through McKenzie Pass to eastern Oregon, visited the scenic wonders of that section and the Klamath Falls district, went from Klamath Falls to Crater Lake and made the trip up from Medford especially to camp at the Ashland camp. He is an old friend and fellow booster of Publicity Manager Duryea of Ashland, who was associated with him in development work in Eugene and proclaims him to be one of Eugene's liveliest boosters.

Dunsmuir News: Engineer John Micander returned from San Francisco last Saturday, where he went to visit his wife, who has been seriously ill for some time past. He reports that she is doing nicely, which is delightful news to her many friends, who hope for a speedy recovery and a safe return home.

Obituary.

Mr. Isaac Deardorf was born November 5, 1857, in Cumberland county, Pennsylvania. At the age of sixteen he was left homeless by the death of his mother and came west to Illinois, where he lived until 1874, when he moved to Nebraska. On October 27, 1885, he was married to Edith Welmer, and to this union were born six children, four of whom are living, two daughters, Eula and Mary, and two sons, Earl and Louis. About three years ago the family came to Oregon, where they have since made their home.

Pall of Smoke Hangs Over Valley

A pall of smoke hangs over the valley as a result of a number of forest fires. On Friday a grass and brush fire on the hills northeast of town, in the neighborhood of the Patterson orchard and Suncrest properties, destroyed several miles of fence and burned over a large area but did little damage of consequence. The fire was fought by the Jackson county patrol and ranchers of the district and was put under control Friday evening.

The woods are becoming drier every day and increased vigilance will be in order until after the first heavy rain. The fire on the Applegate that threatened 500 acres of timber in the Crater national forest reserve was placed under control Saturday. A large brush fire is burning on both sides of Fish lake, but is being kept from the heavy timber. A number of isolated fires, believed to have been started by incendiaries, are burning in the Butte Falls district. A small fire started near Trail on Thursday is under control.

Fires in the Siskiyou reserve are still burning on Horse, Selad and Cougar creeks. Over 100 men are fighting these flames. A small brush fire is burning near Rogue River on Evans creek.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Connor of Klamath Falls are here visiting friends and attending to business matters. The former is an engineer on the S. P. branch from Weed to Klamath.

Superintendent J. W. Metcalf of the Shasta division was in the city Tuesday.

NOTICE.
