Ten More Days To Medford Game

Medford high school has now finished the preliminary playing season and has nothing on the boards for the remainder of the season but the two Ashland games. Ten days of hard work will be spent on the Jackson grounds in that city or we miss our guess.

Ashland high school's gridiron warriors go to Grants Pass Saturday and should win from the Josephine county boys. The score is a matter for conjecture. Medford won from Grants Pass a week ago Saturday, 34-0, showing a wonderful improvement over the first game between those two schools when Medford barely nosed out a 12-7 victory. Whether Ashland will roll up even half as many points is purely problematical. Ashland footballists have not yet forgotten the come-back stunt pulled by the Pass lads not so very many moons ago, when after Ashland had overwhelmed them in the Granite City, the red and white were hard put to it to bring back a win from the Josephine town. The locals will go into the Pass game with no idea of an easy win.

The first Medford-Ashland game will be played on the Jackson school grounds in Medford on Saturday, October 13, according to present plans. The second and last game will be the football classic of southern Oregon, a crowd which will no doubt number several thousand on the Ashland field on Thanksgiving day.

DEPOT DOINGS.

The Southern Pacific examination car is due in Ashland this week with Dr. V. B. Murray in charge. All of the engineers, firemen and brakemen are required to undergo a test of their eyes and hearing. From here the car will go to Red Bluff.

Marion Hill of the Southern Pacific store department at Dunsmuir was a visitor in Ashland last week.

Three Dunsmuir men, all employees of the Southern Pacific at that place, got into trouble last week by causing a $3,000 fire in the Shasta national forest. They were taken to Redding and arraigned Monday, charged with negligence and carelessness in failing to put out a camp fire. The men were J. F. Carlson, D. A. Wheeler and Hans Nettleman. They were hunting deer on Little Tow Dow creek, eight miles east of Sims.

Dunsmuir News: Engineer Nelson and Mrs. Nelson were passengers on incoming 16 Sunday last, en route from the city. Mr. Nelson has been running between Ashland and Hornbrook, but for some time has been confined in the Southern Pacific Company hospital at San Francisco, undergoing medical treatment. He returns improved.

More men are now employed in the Southern Pacific shops in Sacramento than have been on the payroll for many months. This is due, in part, to the heavy traffic in both freight and passenger departments, the latter augmented by the tieup of the Panama canal. More men are being added to the force.

Success Meets Local Nimrods

J. E. Steel motored into the city Saturday and was the center of attraction for several minutes on the Plaza. As passengers in the back seat Mr. Steel had three big bucks (dead, of course), which he and another man secured in the Elk creek hunting grounds on the Umpqua divide. One of the deer was an especially big four-pointer and a magnificent specimen.

Messrs. Hast, George Barron and Cliff Jenkins were successful in bringing down the meat on a trip to Hyatt Prairie last week. The party brought back three nice ones.

Halloween Pranks Do Little Harm

Halloween was generally observed by the youth of the city last Saturday night, and as a result on Sunday morning the churchgoers beheld many wonderful sights. Of course everything movable on the main streets was moved, wagons were hoisted on ridge poles and all of the other stunts carried out. But few cases of property damage were reported. Many social events on Friday and Saturday evening brought out numbers of whiteclad ghosts.
