SIX-PIECE ORCHESTRA

Orchestra Concert 7:00 to 7:30

Overture—"Norma" and "Alice Where Art Thou."

Local and Personal

A. L. Lamb autoed up to the Shorty Hope mine Wednesday and encountered some very muddy roads. He reports considerable development work going on at the mine, the crew which is working there having some fine specimens and some nice looking ore.

Nice sweet oranges, all sizes, at Ashland Trading Company, phone 122.

As yet Christmas decorating has been confined to a few of the more progressive stores who are pushing the sale of their holiday stock. This week marks the real beginning of the holiday business, which will continue without letup until 10 o'clock Christmas eve.

Mrs. Mary J. Davis, wife of W. R. Davis, died in this city December 9, 1915, aged 52 years, ten months and one day. Funeral services were held Saturday forenoon at the family residence, 453 Allison street, and the body taken to Yreka, Cal., for interment.

Alex Alexander, formerly employed as driver on the Interurban line between Ashland and Medford and who made his home in Medford, has returned from an extended visit in Butte Falls, Mont. Alec has many friends in Ashland who will be glad to see him back in the valley.

M. G. Lawrence, who is in a critical condition at the Granite City hospital following an attack of paralysis which occurred recently, is slightly improved and hopes are held out for his recovery. He experienced a slight setback Saturday when he underwent a fainting spell which for a time was thought to be another stroke.

There are 1,615 children of school age in Medford, according to a recently compiled census. There are 1,332 in Ashland. This gives a fair basis for a comparison of the actual present population of the two cities. Medford has 140 less than last year, while Ashland has 23 more children of school age.

No disappointment at Studio Ashland. It

These cold nights are busy ones for the Fourth street hobo hotel. Every night sees a fair sized gathering of side-door Pullman tourists domiciled in the city-provided abode. There are fewer travellers of this nature this winter than last owing, is thought, to improved conditions throughout the northwest, the mills and lumber camps being especially busy.

In Monday's issue of the Tidings Dickerson's wallpaper, paint and glass store announced a big sale of wallpaper and other commodities. Through an error in proof-reading the ad was allowed to appear in the paper reading "For four days," when it should have been "For a few days." The sale will continue for a few days longer.

Cincinnatians Send Resolution

Secretary Norris of the Commercial Club has received from the Cincinnati Retail Grocers' Panama-Frisco Club, Cincinnati, Ohio, a very unique and attractive piece of work in the way of resolutions of appreciation elaborately lithographed. This organization was through Ashland on Sunday, July 11, and it will be remembered that Mr. Norris had arranged to take them out to the springs, but owing to the rain which fell on that date they were brought to the park and around the drive. There were 150 people in the party. Ashland is the only place on the Southern Pacific mentioned after leaving Sacramento. The resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, we, the members of the Cincinnati Retail Grocers' Panama-Frisco Club, fully realizing that no inconsiderable part of the pleasure and enjoyment connected with our recent trip to San Francisco and return was due in a great measure to courtesies extended to us by the several organizations in the cities of Kansas City, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, Redwood City, Santa Barbara, Sacramento, Ashland, Hood River, Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane, Butte, Miles City, Minneapolis and Milwaukee,

"Therefore be it resolved, that we tender to the various organizations in the above named cities our sincere appreciation and our most hearty thanks for the many favors received, which were on so magnificent a scale that their pleasant memory will remain with us so long as life itself, and we, each and all, hereby pledge ourselves and our heirs forever to full and complete payment of the debt we owe should opportunity ever present.

"Be it also resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to each of the several organizations in the different named cities which gave so cordial a welcome to the stranger within their gates."

Unknown Driver Smashes Buggy

The county and city police officials throughout Jackson county are busy trying to locate a car and its driver which smashed a buggy to smithereens on the Pacific Highway Saturday night and left without so much as stopping to see if anyone was hurt. A man and woman were in the buggy and were thrown out but escaped uninjured. They describe the car as being a big gray runabout and said it was from Ashland, but there is no gray runabout owned in the city which can not be accounted for at the time of the accident, which was about 10 o'clock. It is thought possible that the couple may have mistaken mud for color. The car is said to have had but one light.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Miss Mary E. Ingersoll of Cleveland is a descendant of Jonathan Edwards.

Miss Claire Greason, a law clerk in the office of the comptroller of the currency at Washington, began her career as a stenographer.

Mary Pickford came awfully near being a failure in the movies. If her hair were a shade lighter and if her eyes were a shade more blue she wouldn't take a good picture at all.

Mrs. Beulah E. Jay tired of commercialized drama, and, all unaided, she built a $100,000 playhouse in Philadelphia to produce plays that the regular managers would allow to go begging. She was the first to show the Quaker City Ibsen's "Ghosts."

Miss Reah M. Whitehead of Seattle is said to be the prettiest judge in the United States. She is one of the five judges of the city court at Seattle, and, though when she was elected it was expected that she would handle cases involving women and children, so far her work has been about the same as that of her four colleagues.

The board of inquiry which met for the purpose of determining the cause of the wreck when the engine under the management of M. E. Davis jumped the track at a derailing switch in Sisson a week ago Sunday, decided that the accident was due to the switch being thrown by some unknown person while switching was under way. Davis, who suffered a broken leg, was taken to San Francisco.

Grants Pass' public library is making new records. Last Friday the patrons of the reading room numbered 62, the largest ever recorded, and Saturday the circulation reached its highest point with 186. Sunday showed an attendance of 46 at the reading tables, also a record. Miss Maude Barnes, formerly assistant librarian in Ashland and now in charge of the Grants Pass library, is no doubt responsible for a great part of the larger scope of the Grants Pass library.
